

PIBILBY KNOWN IN PORTLAND

First Step in Crime Was Passing Forged Check Thirty-Five Years Ago.

SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS BUT WAS PARDONED SOON

Local Police Remember Handsome Young Fellow Who, Now Old, Was Rejected Almost at Altar by Lena Rinaldo on Account of Past.

Louis Pillsbury, whom Lena Rinaldo, his bride-to-be, deserted almost at the altar because she was shown his picture in the rogues' gallery at the hall of justice, San Francisco, took his first step in crime in Portland 35 years ago.

Pillsbury's father was at one time superintendent of the Auburn penitentiary in New York and later general superintendent of all the penitentiaries and reformatories of that state.

"I was not on the police force at that time," said Detective Day, "but remember generally the facts in the case. Lepius was then chief of police. Pillsbury was a handsome young fellow and a great ladies' man. He had spent some time in Portland and was staying at a local hotel when arrested. This was, I think, in 1870, though it may have been in 1871.

"Pillsbury passed a forged check, was apprehended and, after a sensational trial, sent to the Salem penitentiary for either two or three years. The affair was given wide publicity throughout the country on account of the prominence of his father.

"The young fellow was about 21 or 22 years old then and served only a short time, being pardoned through the influence of his father and a number of powerful friends. He went from here to San Francisco and a year or two later was arrested there and sent to San Quentin penitentiary for forgery. He served a second term for the same offense in San Quentin."

Pillsbury became acquainted at a few weeks ago with Miss Rinaldo at 121 Toward street, San Francisco, where the girl, who is 31 years old, was employed as attendant. She is the daughter of reputable parents who live at Rocklin, California. Her marriage was to have taken place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, but she was taken to the hall of justice Friday evening by a friend, who had learned of the criminal record of her prospective husband, and shown his picture in the rogues' gallery afterward behind the violators of the law. The match was then broken off.

MAYOR CHAMPIONS CAUSE OF FISH HAWKERS

Vetoes Ordinance Requiring Transients to Pay Twenty-Five Dollars a Quarter.

Mayor Lane is of the opinion that transient fishdealers should not be prohibited by a high license to market fish in the city. Yesterday he vetoed the ordinance licensing them $25 a quarter.

The ordinance required to be paid for the license to do business as a transient fishdealer, by this ordinance, is $25 a quarter, which is the same amount that is required to be paid by one who is licensed to do business amounting to $200.00 a year, which would seem by comparison to make it inequitable, if not absolutely prohibitive in its terms.

"The amount of revenue to be derived by the enforcement of this measure would be but a bagatelle in comparison with the amount of money which would thus be squeezed out of the pockets of the persons who are licensed to do business and it would not compensate for the hardship enforced upon a large mass of the people."

TWO MILLION DOLLAR BLAZE IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Wabash Freight House Burns and Million Bushels of Wheat Go Up in Flames.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal.) St. Louis, Feb. 3.—The Union elevators in East St. Louis and the Wabash freight house burned tonight, entailing a loss of almost $2,000,000. The elevator was valued at $500,000 and it contained 1,000,000 bushels of wheat worth $1 a bushel. Several freight cars and a number of small residences were also burned and for a time the Burlington freight house was in danger. The fire was one of the most spectacular ever seen in St. Louis. The flames for two hours lit the heavens, leaping 75 to 100 feet higher than the elevator, which towered 125 feet in the air. They were seen from every part of St. Louis and for miles around.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal.) Holyoke, Feb. 3.—When Mrs. Clarence Mackay came to Holyoke yesterday to attend the monthly meeting of the board of education, of which she is a member, she brought several more handsome relatives to be hung upon the walls of the new addition to the building.

THINK THEY HAVE ASSAILANT

Police Detectives Arrest W. S. Egan on Complaint of Miss Petra Christopherson.

SAYS HE TIED HER TO POST AND GAGGED HER

Then Held Pistol to Her Head—Assailant Mistook Her for Woman Who Had Done Him Wrong—Egan's Boldness Leads to Arrest.

Accused as the man who bound and gagged Miss Petra Christopherson and left her in a semi-conscious condition in the cell of G. W. McPherson's home, 627 Marshall street, six weeks ago, W. S. Egan was taken into custody at 12:15 o'clock this morning by Detectives Mears, Welch and Murphy. A complaint was filed against him in the police court yesterday afternoon by Miss Christopherson, the charge being assault while armed with a deadly weapon, and a warrant of arrest issued.

Egan is said to have twice returned to the house where the girl lived, offering to sell coffee. He is employed as solicitor for Johnson's coffee house, 69 First street, and lives at 454 North Twenty-second street and has a wife and children.

Miss Christopherson is employed as domestic by Mr. McPherson. About six weeks ago a man entered the house and placing his hand over her mouth to stifle her screams carried her into the cellar and there bound her hands behind her back, gagged her with a handkerchief and laying her on the floor tied her feet to two posts and held a pistol to her head. A clothes line was used in binding her. The man took her for Miss Tillie Smith, who, he said, had done him an injury five years ago, and afterward found out his mistake.

While Detective Mears was at the McPherson home yesterday morning Egan rang the bell and asked the girl if she were alone. She said she was not, whereupon he again went to living room and followed him and discovered his name, occupation and residence.

The girl filed a complaint, and armed with the warrant of arrest, the detectives lay in wait for Egan near his house and secured the warrant on him when he went home.

HUBBY REFUSES TO BATHE DURING FOUR YEARS

Has Not Used Soap in Seven and Mrs. Mary Fredericksen Wants Divorce.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Wash., Feb. 3.—On the ground that her husband has not taken a bath for four years and has not married the seven years of their married life used soap to promote his personal cleanliness, Mrs. Fredericksen commenced suit against Kristian Fredericksen this afternoon in the superior court to obtain divorce.

The woman started a divorce action on the same grounds six months ago, but upon a promise of her husband to mend his slovenly ways she dropped the suit and again went to living with him. But he refused to mend his ways. The woman says she cannot longer live with him because of his objection to using soap and water. The first three years of their married life the husband occasionally took a bath, but he never did use soap.

BARNEY SCHREIBER TO LOSE WOODLANDS FARM

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal.) Seattle, Wash., Feb. 3.—Barney Schreiber will likely lose his famed Woodlands stock farm under the hammer.

The home will be sold at public auction at 8 o'clock, Feb. 24, under a deed of trust given to secure two notes aggregating $21,000. It will be conducted by the St. Louis Union Trust company, trustees for Charles W. Scudler, Edmund M. Hodgman and John T. Shepley, all of St. Louis, and will be held from the courthouse steps at Clayton, Missouri. The notes are for $10,000 each and were given by Schreiber on April 25, 1922. One of them was due within one year. The other had two years to run. Schreiber is now in California, where he has enjoyed an unusual season with his string of thoroughbred and bookmaking.

WATER PIRATE STEALS PENITENTIARY SOW

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Wash., Feb. 3.—Some water pirate last night stole a sowing from within 100 feet of the United States penitentiary on McNeil island. The sowing contained $2,000 worth of provisions intended for the prisoners.
