

CASTELLANES ASK AID OF GOULD

Parents of Debonair Count Boni Implore Intervention of Railroad Magnate.

TO AVOID SCANDAL OF DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS

Countess Anna Remains Obdurate and Finally Rejects All Overtures

—Has Proof to Convict Three Correspondents.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Feb. 3.—A cable from Marquis and Marchioness de Castellanes, parents of Count Boni de Castellanes, has been received by George Gould, imploring him to intervene to effect, if possible, a reconciliation between his sister Anna, Countess de Castellanes, and Boni. It is the hope of Count Boni and his family that the Goulds will prevail upon the countess to consent to a reconciliation, in form at least, and thus avoid the scandal of public divorce proceedings.

At the office of George J. Gould it was said this afternoon that neither he nor any member of the Gould family would discuss the rupture between the countess and Count Boni. New dispatches from Paris indicate that it will be difficult to influence the countess, who seems to be extremely bitter in her resentment of Boni's conduct. It is probable that there will be a family council of the Goulds held here and the countess will be advised of the views of the family. An American from Paris says:

"The arrest of the Castellanes scandal is rapidly widening and it is feared on the highest authority that Countess Anna has finally rejected all overtures of the count and interested friends for a reconciliation."
"The countess has secured absolute proof of the count's turpitude. Personal friends of the countess said last night that proof was so abundant that Count Boni did not dare to oppose the countess in her demand for a separation. Moreover, the countess has proof sufficient to convict three correspondents instead of the titled woman most intimately coupled by Parisian gossip with the countess's name."

"It is asserted that if the count opposed her the countess is determined to push the case to the limit. The countess declares she will not hesitate to initiate publication of the details of high society in Paris by exposing, if necessary, the indiscretions of several women by producing (if compelled) letters to the count which she intercepted."

FATHER OF BUSTER BROWN SUES FOR $100,000

Outcault Brings Case Against New York Herald for Heavy Damages for Libel.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, Feb. 3.—Richard F. Outcault, the famous creator of the series of comic pictures, "Buster Brown" and his dog "Tige," has brought suit against the New York Herald for $100,000. In the papers filed in the supreme court Outcault charges the Herald with having maliciously published the report that Outcault "had run out of ideas," and, "unlike Mr. Gibson, was not willing to attempt something new," and further, that Outcault had reached the serene and yellow leaf period.

Outcault, who recently began drawing the "Buster Brown" feature for the New York American and Journal and other Hearst newspapers throughout the country, declares he has been damaged to the extent of the above-named sum, since the statements made by the Herald are wholly false, as Outcault has every reason to believe that the popularity of the "Buster Brown" feature was never greater.

"Mr. Outcault has been an artist and cartoonist of national reputation for 10 years," said his attorney, "we will press the suit to the limit if the case were served on the Herald yesterday."

SHIPWRECKED CREW OF CHINESE VESSEL RESCUED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Seattle, Feb. 3.—A Chinese member of the crew of the Manchou, wrecked on False Bay on the Alaskan coast, who, together with 38 other members of the crew, was rescued and has just arrived in this city, tells a terrible tale of hardship endured after the vessel first sprung a leak 400 miles off Cape Flattery. For many days the crew worked with buckets owing to the pumps becoming clogged and drifted more than 800 miles until the vessel was swept into Chatham straits in a heavy gale and 39 of the crew, escaped to shore, where they almost died of exposure for four days, when they were rescued.

SPOKANE CHURCH TO BUILD NEW COLLEGE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Spokane, Wash., Feb. 3.—Plans are being prepared for the Spokane college to be built by the United Norwegian church in Manito Park. The college will be built on the highest point of the park, will be three stories high with basement and will accommodate 400 students, with dormitory accommodations for 50. The estimated cost for its construction is $20,000. It will be built of brick and stone in renaissance style of architecture.

The college is being built on a 10-acre tract donated by the Spokane Washington Improvement company, and the greater part of the funds necessary for its construction has been raised.

WILLIAM HULTI MAY NOT SURVIVE INJURIES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Aberdeen, Wash., Feb. 3.—William Hulti, who was brought down the Wishkah river from Hulti's camp Monday with both legs broken, is lying in a critical condition at the hospital. The accident was caused by his being hit with a grabhook.

He had to be taken on a stretcher 16 miles in a boat before his injuries could be dressed and the shock is proving too much for him. Much doubt is felt as to his recovery.

"Reorganization Sale" of Shoes for the Populace

A SENSATIONAL SLAUGHTER OF SMART FOOTWEAR STARTS TOMORROW ALONG THE "FAIR-WAY"—Sixth Street Annex—First Floor.

Webster says "reorganization" is to "organize anew," "to reduce again to an organized condition," "as to 'reorganize' an army." Exactly what happens tomorrow in the Shoe Stores. You see—we've changed management there—and whoever knew a manager who was entirely—and sometimes at all—satisfied with his predecessor's choosing or his methods? Each one thinks he can better things—and generally does. Each one has his own hobbies and his own favorite lines—good—that's progress. And two things happen—the house takes a big loss during reorganization (making it up after by better stocks and conditions) and the public makes big gains in buying under these—to them—favorable conditions. Our new manager says the Shoes are the best he's ever found in any stock—but too many of 'em. So reorganization starts tomorrow. Get your share of the bargains. Sale opens Friday at 8 a. m. Continues thro' the week. It contains—
