DEALERS THREATEN TO STOP BUYS

Say They Cannot Compete With Hops That Are Sent on Consignment Abroad.

GROWERS TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Egg Market Begins to Slide Downward With Lack of Outside Orders—Poultry Very Firm With Receipts Nominal—Prices Generally Up.

Front Street, Feb. 12.—The principal features of the Portland wholesale markets today are:
Egg market begins to drop.
Poultry situation very stiff.
Hop market continues active.
All fresh meats are in demand.
Car California cabbage in.
Several cars bananas due Wednesday.
Some potatoes go to Arizona.
Good prospects for canned salmon.

Hop Market Continues Active.

A continuance of the activity in the hop market is shown today. A number of sales are reported around 10¼c for strictly choice goods. The proposition of Durst, the California grower and dealer, is receiving considerable attention by the trade. Some of the most prominent dealers say that if Mr. Durst secures his consignments they will withdraw from the market, as they cannot possibly compete with consigned goods. Mr. Durst, on the other hand, takes this as an indication that the dealers are threatening the growers because they want to help themselves. Mr. Durst has called a meeting of the growers for Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, in the Allsky building, corner of Third and Morrison streets. There the plans of the proposed deal will be fully ventilated. Until the meeting is held there will not likely be much to the market, because the dealers want to know what is doing. There are a considerable number of foreign orders in this market awaiting purchases. There are still a considerable number of short sales to be covered and this will take practically every bale of hops left unsold in this state at the present time. The demand is for Oregon hops. These have the quality and the brewing trade wants that quality. Never has such a season been seen in the hop market as the present one. With a record-breaking English crop of practically 700,000 cwt., and larger crops in every hop-producing country nearly out of the hands of producers, dealers and growers are at a loss what to expect for the future. Short sellers are getting very uneasy. Something is going to happen to the hop market during the next few weeks. But what?

Egg Market Begins to Drop.

As was forecasted in The Journal the latter part of the previous week, the egg market began to slide off this morning, most of the sales being made at 25c. Once in awhile a sale was made fractionally higher. Receipts are again increasing and the general impression of the trade is that the price will go lower.

Very Stiff in Poultry.

A very stiff feeling is shown in the poultry market. Receipts are still of a nominal character and demand is very good. Higher prices are quoted all around with the possible exception of in geese, which remain stationary. Turkeys are in excellent call. The heaviest demand remains in broilers and fryers.

Some Potatoes Go to Arizona.

Some few cars of potatoes are now moving toward Arizona. The demand from there is a trifle better. The southern markets, however, are generally slow with prices inactive. The onion market is dull under screen of fast decaying No. 2s.

Good Prospects for Canned Salmon.

The canned salmon market is better today than at any recent season. The markets of the world are cleaned up almost to a can and prices are fluctuating badly. Columbia river packers are now considering the price of opening. Generally speaking the opinion is that values should be 10c higher than a year ago, but some canners now say an advance of but 5c will be asked.

The trade pays the following prices to Front street dealers for choice quality in round lots. Prices paid producers are less the usual rate of commission:

GRAYS HARBOR HAS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Aberdeen, Wash., Feb. 12.—Although the run of fish on Grays harbor for the season of 1906 was considered light, it proved a successful year for the canneries, the total pack of the two companies, the Forbes cannery at Aberdeen and the Hoquiam Packing company at Hoquiam, being close to 40,000 cases. The Hoquiam company packed close to 4,000 cases of the fine Quinault salmon and 14,000 of the fall run of fish, the latter pack being valued at $50,000. The run of the Quinault fish is not given, as it was in the nature of an experiment, but the trial proved a success. The Hoquiam company did its fishing mainly with boats, having more than 80 in its employ.

The fish traps located in the bay, where the greatest run of fish has been during previous seasons, were almost entire failures this year. In the north channel, near the Humptulips river, many fish were caught with traps. The owners of the Hoquiam plant put about $4,000 worth of improvements into the business last year. Preparations are already making to care for the Quinault salmon run, which is expected to be good this year.

Robert Forbes, who has sold his cannery to S. E. Elmore of Astoria, will probably go to Alaska and open another cannery at some favorable location there.

The electric wire between Silverton and Salem will be retained so the current can be supplied from the latter town in case of accident at this end of the line.

OUTSIDE MARKETS ARE HONORING LINCOLN DAY

Today is Lincoln's birthday and all eastern stock and grain exchanges are closed. The New York coffee and cotton exchanges were closed on Saturday and will remain closed until Tuesday morning. On this account there is but little doing in financial affairs in other parts of the country.

JOURNAL'S DAILY TIPS ON MARKETS

By Pearson-Page Company.

It is rather early in the week to have any decided opinion on the poultry situation, but on account of the extreme shortage Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when anything in the shape of a live chicken sold at 13½ to 14 cents per pound, we should say "send them along for top prices," as we don't look for the market to fall below these figures this week. The demand for live turkeys, geese and ducks is nominal, but there is some call for fancy dry picked turkeys. This is the only sensible way to send them in at this season, as shippers get top prices for fancy stock and no shrinkage. The egg market is a little "panicky," but we look for no slump until we have warmer weather.

DEATH CAUSED BY BLOW ON NOSE

Barroom Fight at Baker City Ends Fatally for One of Participants.

QUARREL ARISES OVER PEDIGREE OF DOGS

Fred Newhaus Struck on Nose by Henry Schwartz, Causing Flow of Blood, and Physicians Unable to Stop Hemorrhage.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Baker City, Or., Feb. 12.—Fred Newhaus, 40 years of age, well off financially, and long a resident of Baker City, died here at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His death was caused from a blow struck by Henry Schwartz, a sheepherder, in a drunken quarrel in the Bar saloon, about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. At the coroner's inquest held yesterday afternoon the facts of the affair as brought out were as follows:

Both men were in the saloon drinking and became involved in a quarrel over the pedigrees of their respective dogs, words followed and according to witnesses Newhaus struck the first blow. Schwartz then struck Newhaus on the nose, staggering him and starting blood. The scrimmage was stopped, and those present tried to stop the bleeding with ice and water, but were unable to do so. Dr. Dodson was called about an hour after the blow was struck. Newhaus was very weak and was taken to the hospital, where he continued to bleed despite all efforts to relieve the flow and at 1 o'clock breathed his last.

During the time Newhaus was bleeding to death, Schwartz was sitting in a chair near by, sleeping in a drunken stupor. When it was found that Newhaus was dangerously hurt Schwartz was arrested and is now in jail.

After hearing the testimony of some dozen witnesses, the jury found a verdict that the deceased came to his death of a hemorrhage caused by a blow struck by Henry Schwartz.

SPOKANE WANTS N. P. TO VACATE STREETS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 12.—The business men in general are opposed to the Northern Pacific's avowed intention of keeping its tracks on the present right of way through the center of the city. The refusal of President Elliott to consider a plan of joining with the Great Northern in the use of the latter's station, is particularly condemned. This move is greatly desired so that the present right of way of the Northern Pacific may be used for a business thoroughfare.

Prominent property owners south of the Northern Pacific tracks called on Mayor Daggett recently and demanded that the city be no longer imposed upon by the N. P. company through the company persistently keeping Browne street blocked. The committee was referred to the board of public works, who will see that the street is immediately graded. A special officer is now stationed at the crossing to see that the street is kept open.

COTTAGE GROVE SAWMILL TO REGIN OPERATIONS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Cottage Grove, Or., Feb. 12.—The Brown Lumber company, that now owns the Long & Bingham mill of this place, has completely overhauled the machinery and made a test run of the plant. All parts work well and Manager Fisher states that he will have the plant running to capacity in a few days. The log pond is being filled up with good logs, which are hauled from the Oregon & Southeastern railroad right of way at the end of the road.

It is the intention of the management to greatly enlarge this mill and construct timber yards and docks so all lumber can be easily handled. The company has purchased timber lands at Wildwood near the forest reserve and will have any amount of timber when the Oregon & Southeastern railroad is extended a distance of two miles.

SPOKANE MAN CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 12.—Following a complaint charging J. E. Clark of this city with the embezzlement of $127, a warrant has been issued for his arrest. Clark was interested with a number of Spokane men in mining properties in Nevada. It was the practice of those in the company to deposit $5 each month to carry on the prospecting. R. A. Hutchinson and A. B. Railton were trustees of the funds of the organization. This money it is alleged was improperly diverted. The matter came to a crisis recently at a meeting, during which Clark claims Hutchinson abused him. As a result Clark filed suit against Hutchinson to recover $25,000 for defamation of character. The prosecution of Clark under the embezzlement charge is an outgrowth of the lawsuit.

HILL'S NEW SEATTLE DEPOT NEARING COMPLETION

Many Prominent Railway Officials to Attend Opening of New Station.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 12.—Hill officials will open the new union passenger station here with eclat. There will be a celebration over the completion of the passenger terminals that will be the most important railroad function ever held in Seattle.

James J. Hill will not be able to come to the coast to open the new depot, but Louis Hill will be here. Howard Elliott of the Northern Pacific is to be on the coast whenever the station is ready for occupancy and the high officials of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Burlington and Canadian Pacific who can be spared from their eastern duties will take part in the celebration.

St. Paul officials thought the station would be ready for occupancy on February 1, and a recent guess has fixed the date at the middle of March. But Hill officials would not be surprised if it were not available before June 1. That is merely a speculative conjecture.

TILLAMOOK FARMER IS FOUND DEAD IN ORCHARD

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Tillamook, Or., Feb. 12.—James R. Harris, a prominent farmer, 60 years of age, who resided on Wilson creek, was found dead in his orchard yesterday. He was working about his ranch and using a rather spirited team in hauling manure. The horses were found with their harness in a tangled condition. It is thought Harris was seized with an attack of heart disease and fell from the wagon and was trampled by the team. The coroner will investigate.

AT THE THEATRES.

Nance O'Neil Tonight.

Beginning tonight at the Marquam Grand, America's greatest tragedienne, Nance O'Neil, will begin an engagement of four performances. The opening bill this evening will be Sudermann's "Fires of St. John"; tomorrow night, "Macbeth," on which occasion the curtain will rise promptly at five minutes past 8 o'clock; Wednesday afternoon, "Magda"; Wednesday night, "Monna Vanna," by Masterlinck. Both plays, "Fires of St. John" and "Monna Vanna," will have their first presentation in this city. Nance O'Neil is supported by an excellent company of players, and a most finished performance is promised. Seats now selling.

Advance Sale for Hanford.

The advance sale of seats for the eminent tragedian, Charles B. Hanford, will open tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Marquam box office. This distinguished actor, supported by Marie Drofnah and a capable company of players, will be the attraction for four performances, beginning Thursday night, February 15. The opening bill will be "The Taming of the Shrew"; Friday night, "Othello"; Saturday matinee, "The Merchant of Venice"; Saturday night, "Ingomar."

"Woodland" Coming.

"Woodland," as delightful a theatrical offering as ever bid for the patronage of the public, will be seen here for the first time at the Marquam Grand theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, February 19, 20 and 21. "Woodland" will be found to be the kind of musical extravaganza that people enjoy hearing more than once. It never loses its charm, its freshness or its decided novelty. No matter how many times one may listen to the music, the wit or the humor, a second visit will always reveal some hidden charm. The chorus is a big one and attractive. Besides the strong cast, headed by Harry Bulger, who has the leading comedy role, that of King Bine Jay, and the large chorus, the company carries its own orchestra.

Mind Reader at Star.

Little Lois Cotton, at the Star this week, as a mind reader is a wonder. Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, in "The Tie That Binds," are from New York. The Hawes sisters are bright and lively soubrettes and Mr. and Mrs. West present "A Stammered Proposal." Varden, Perry and Wilbur are singers, musicians and dancers. Will C. Hoyt, the new ballad singer, and the Starocope with "Train Wreckers" complete the Star's attractions.

Princess Trixie at Grand.

The feature of the recent Lewis and Clark exposition, Princess Trixie, the educated horse, is at the Grand this week. This will positively be the last engagement of Princess Trixie. Delphino and Delmore have a musical act with many novelties. The Tennis trio are jugglers, and Kenton and Lorraine are London star musicians. The three Wichers are singing comedians. Harold Hoff has a new ballad and the Grandiscope flashes "The Green Goods Man."
