

DENVER STIRRED BY WEDDING

Denver Society Knew Wilson Mizner as the Husband of Miss Edith Crater.

NOT KNOWN WHETHER THERE WAS DIVORCE

Whether a Real Ceremony Was Performed With the Colorado Woman Is Not Known but Her Father Was Convinced of It.

(General Special Service.) Denver, Feb. 15.—Denver society folk, who for three years knew Wilson Mizner and Edith Crater as man and wife, are wondering just what are the marital relations between the couple and in what way Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes, the rich widow whom Mizner has just married, became involved. Whether or not a real marriage ceremony was ever performed between Mizner and Miss Crater, they lived together for years, and Edith Crater was introduced to the society in the name of Mrs. Mizner, wife of Wilson Mizner.

Not even the most intimate friends know whether there has ever been divorce proceedings or whether the recent marriage of Mizner and the wealthy widow of a month ago was by agreement with the girl who so long passed as Mizner's wife. She has gone east, perhaps to take legal action in the matter. Relatives here refuse to discuss the case.

There are a dozen or more witnesses willing to testify in behalf of Edith Crater, that Mizner lived with her in Denver for three years and recognized her as his wife. Whenever Mizner visited Denver he presented Miss Crater as his wife and the two received socially as such.

Although the girl's father refuses to discuss the matter, those who know the family intimately say that the blow has been a hard one for him, as he was firm in the belief of the legality of the marriage of his daughter and the California man. He received the two in his home and spoke of Mizner as his son-in-law.

BROWN OF BAKER ASPIRES TO GOVERNORSHIP

Reform Sheriff Latest Republican to Announce Candidacy and Platform.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Baker City, Or., Feb. 15.—The platform of Harvey K. Brown of Baker City, the latest Republican to announce his candidacy for the governorship, advocates the primary law and the election of all officers by direct vote of the people; abolishment of machines and of the use of money for campaign purposes by any candidate, faction or corporation; enforcement of all laws, federal, state and municipal and the repealing of such laws as may, after a fair trial, be found not proper laws for the people; and last, but not least, woman's suffrage—these are some of the planks which "Harve" Brown has nailed into his platform. Brown is the present sheriff of Baker county—the reform sheriff. For two

Harvey Brown.

SUFFERING FROM A SERIOUS LONG STANDING THROAT TROUBLE

Had an Extremely Hard Cough

Consulting Physicians With No Permanent Results.

No secret society in the world stands higher in noble aims and charitable activities than the Knights of Pythias. That Order is doing great good, and one of its finest institutions is the Ohio Pythian Home, at Springfield, Ohio, which is ably presided over by Superintendent Le Fevre and his wife, Callie L. Le Fevre, the matron. The latter has recently written a letter which will command widespread attention because of the prominence of the writer. It is as follows: "Last year I used Dr. Acker's English Remedy at the suggestion of a friend, for a serious, long-standing throat difficulty and extremely hard cough. Had used many small bottles of preparations without relief. My doctor said that Dr. Acker's English Remedy removed the difficulty and stopped the cough. I do not purchase or use more than three bottles, and at least one half of the last is still on hand. I also consulted physicians with no permanent results. (Signed) Callie L. Le Fevre.

The friend to whom Mrs. Le Fevre referred is Dr. A. E. Acker, a prominent physician, and the president of the Pythian Home, and the father of this remedy has accomplished what other cures in Throat and Lung Troubles. In conversation with an acquaintance, Mrs. Le Fevre said: "If you will call on Mr. W. L. Schauss, a prominent china and glass merchant of Portland, you will find that this remedy had many years of experience with Dr. Acker's English Remedy in this family, and that they cannot keep the house without it." Dr. Acker's English Remedy is truly a family safeguard. We feel proud to know that such prominent people consider it their duty to help suffering humanity by telling them only means to cure their throats. Dr. Acker's English Remedy is an old tried and true preparation, and its use is guaranteed to cure all Throat and Lung troubles. It is the only remedy that means that it MUST do as we say or it will cost you nothing. If the people only knew the full value of Dr. Acker's English Remedy, the great "White Plague" (Consumption) would lose its terrors and there would be countless thousands of happy homes that are now miserable. We are trying to get you to save yourself and to tell your friends and neighbors. We don't ask you to rely on what we say, we do ask you to buy just one bottle of Dr. Acker's English Remedy and give it a fair trial and if it fails your money awaits you at the drugist from whom you purchased. Do you want anything more than we can do to convince you? Try it today, and be happy the rest of your life.

Be sure to ask for DR. ACKER'S ENGLISH REMEDY For the Sore. All Druggists, 25c, 50c, $1.00.

years he has been standing firm in the enforcement of the statutes of this state. As a result open gambling is a thing of the past, and all Baker City saloons remain closed on the Sabbath day. "Harve" Brown's incumbency of the office of sheriff of Baker county has been one continual fight. He began the enforcement of all the laws by his hands on. On his own initiative he brought about the indictment, trial and conviction of 153 Baker county saloonmen. Harvey K. Brown is a native Oregonian. He was born 35 years ago in Pocahontas, a village near Baker City. His father was one of the builders of the west, crossing the ocean from Ireland in 1841 and the plain is 1861. His son spent that portion of his early life which counts the most as a character-former on the cattle range. When 13 years old he was one of the best known cowboys in eastern Oregon. In 1891 he began shipping horses to the eastern markets, making frequent trips as far east as the Atlantic seaboard. Later he forsook the horse and cattle business for mining. Outside of his charming wife and 11-year-old daughter, and a mother, Mr. Brown has no relatives of that name west of the Missouri river. Sheriff Brown is an Elk, a Workman and a Knight of Pythias.

See Nature in Her Winter Garb.

To see the far-famed Rocky mountains in their wonderful winter garb is the treat of a lifetime. The canyons, peaks and gorges are even more attractive in winter than in summer. The Denver & Rio Grande, popularly known as "The Scenic Line of the World," pierces the very heart of the Rockies, and besides is the only transcontinental line passing directly through Salt Lake City, the quaint and picturesque Mormon capital. Stopovers granted on all classes of tickets. For rates to all eastern points call upon or write W. C. McBride, 124 Third Street.

Ontario Legislature Meets.

(General Special Service.) Toronto, Ont., Feb. 15.—The Ontario legislature assembled this afternoon and was formally opened by the lieutenant-governor. The outlook is for a brief but busy session, with adjournment fixed for the second week of April.

The DEALM FEMINE

THE BANARJEE RECEPTION.

In all the history of the world there was never a time when it was as glorious to be a woman as it is now. All doors of achievement are swung open and "push" and "open" to her will.

There was never a time when companionship among women was so full of charm and interest as now, and we like to believe there was never a time when women took such genuine pride and pleasure in each other's attainments and achievements—when personal spite and jealousies and rivalries were so effectually relegated to the background.

Just in proportion as this becomes more and more the case will the work of women become effective and beautiful.

That time will come, never to pass away, as soon as we realize the fact that no one can rob us of what is really, intrinsically ours. No one woman is made the poorer by any grace or gifts some other woman possesses, but rather richer, for the more of truth or beauty or graciousness there is in the world of women, by that much is the world of women enriched.

Let no woman underestimate the tact or talent or beauty of some other woman, but at the same time let her have a wholesome respect for her own capacities and powers and find her pleasure not in attempting to outdo another but in making the best and the most possible of herself.

Women (if there are any such) who do not love and admire other women, miss much of the best there is in life.

This thought came to me as a result of studying some of the valuable things and some of the beautiful things women are doing right here in Portland, a good example of which was shown at the White Temple Tuesday afternoon at the reception given by the Ladies Aid society of that church and the Banarjee circle to little Mrs. Sukhoda Banarjee of Calcutta. The meeting opened with a violin solo by Miss Elphara Harris followed by a song by Mrs. J. S. Hamilton, both beautifully rendered.

Mrs. C. A. Dolph, one of Portland's best known and best-loved matrons, presided and the guest of honor was introduced by Mrs. A. S. Dunaway, who lends a grace and charm to such occasions by her felicitous choice of thought and expression that many a man might envy. She, however, will be remembered that Mrs. Banarjee left here for India last October and with the funds then secured established a home in Calcutta for the care and education of the child-wives and widows of India.

She has already forty or more in her refuge and those who need help are legion so that all the funds she will be able to raise would be well employed and the meeting of last Tuesday was held for the purpose of increasing what she already has.

The little brown woman gave a very interesting talk outlining the work she had accomplished between the time of her departure last fall and her return. She also brought a great many curious and interesting facts and was kind enough to show and explain to her hearers.

For the present Mrs. Banarjee may be seen at 275 Twelfth Street, corner of Montgomery, where she makes her home while in Portland. She, however, intends to go east after she has made the canvass of the northwest coast and will endeavor to interest the people of that section in her work and to raise money for it.

Mrs. Banarjee will speak in the First Baptist church one week from next Sunday evening—February 25. Do not fail to hear and see her.

She will remain in America about a year. This little woman is a wonder to those who know what she has escaped from and the way in which she has been "led" to be the savior of that class of unfortunate, the child-wives of India. Her story is unpeakingly sad and still one that shows the strong soul and indomitable will in her frail body.

The reception of Tuesday was a very pleasant one. Even the stranger within in the gates felt the spirit of cordiality of the noble hostess.

A table was spread in the large bay window of the lecture room where tea and a dainty lunch were served. On the platform stood the tiny Indian women, clad in yellow, in some indefinable oriental fashion, part of the silk being draped from her head. The garment was bordered by silver embroidery and the sleeves of the costume were a sort of ruche.

The quaint mode was very becoming to Mrs. Banarjee, who is about the size of a half-grown American girl, indeed, there were little misses in short frocks on the platform with her as tall if not taller than she.

She is much darker than the Japanese or Chinese, and it was easy to understand the difficulty a white person has on first going to India to distinguish any difference in the dark faces;

HAPPINESS IN MARRIAGE.

Happiness is not the ultimate end of marriage and it is only a by-product.

"Happiness is a blessed incident and reward, but the real aim of marriage is to keep alive the flame of life, of mentality and morality in the world." So says the famous and tenable in the logic of Dr. Adler, says Louise Satterthwaite. Such is indeed the great final cause of love and marriage which is society's expectation of the breaking of love. That wild out which would be a little practical good unless it is harnessed, bitten and occasionally beaten into subjection.

But to say that happiness in marriage is a blessed incident and reward is expressing a refinement of hopeless cynicism.

What do I care, what do you care, as to the mental and morality and life of the world a hundred years from now? Strictly speaking, we should care and be much concerned therefor; strictly speaking, we should be broadminded enough to say that we would care and labor to leave the world a better place than we found it.

So we should think, and so live; but theory and practice are two things; and while we should have decided to live on dry bread, we take all the more delight in feasting on plum pudding.

Such is human nature; we want to be well and happy, and we don't determine to be happy, though every one else near us is weeping, or swearing or sighing.

Strong and unquenchable is this desire; it swears us that if circumstances indeed that it is so, else under the accumulated misery of the past and present generations all the world would go madly mad.

So when we love and marry we hope and expect to be happy, and if we are not we judge ourselves accordingly for the slight dealt us by the jealous fate, which is really a punishment; but if we determine to be happy, though every one else near us is weeping, or swearing or sighing.

A fig then for such philosophy which would tell us that the social end is higher than the individual end, which bids us escape from the world.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it. Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Happiness in marriage is not a blessed incident, it is a blessed rule with the large majority of earth creatures; faintly as they are, full of some while in the world, and stormy weather at home and abroad, still happiness in marriage where man is true and woman sweet, patient and lovable, is known as quite the best and most civilizing thing in existence.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

Let us do the best we can, and let philosophy go hang; let us hope to be happy, and when love comes let us be generous and give our whole heart to it.

MISS MARMARA HENRY, CHICAGO.

Miss Henry says: "Before I began using Danderine my hair was falling out in great quantities, and I am pleased to say that Danderine not only stopped it, it has long as it ever was. I have written to my mother in Little Rock, Ark., saying: 'I am sure that Danderine has improved the hair. It has made my hair grow ten times longer in five months and it is getting thicker and longer all the time. I believe in giving credit to the hair, and you can use my name as reference if you so desire.'"

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, fertilizing and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. IT IS THE NATURAL FOOD OF THE HAIR, SCIENTIFICALLY CHARGED WITH NEW AND GENUINE LIFE-PRODUCING ESSENCES UNHEARD OF BY OTHER MAKERS OF HAIR TONIC. FOR all at all drugists in three sizes, 25 cent, 50 cent and $1.00 per bottle. FREE. To show how quick Danderine Co., Chicago, will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this advertisement with their name and address and ten cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

FOR SALE AND GUARANTEED BY WOODARD, CLARKE & CO.

NO GRAIN SHIPPED TO GERMANY

New Tariff in Effect in March Ties Up All Cargoes From United States.

INCREASES COST OF BREADSTUFFS ABROAD

Retailery Blow Caused by Dingley Tariff Discrimination Against Manufacturers of the Fatherland—Reciprocity Wanted.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Feb. 15.—All grain shipments to Germany from American ports have been tied up pending the settlement of the tariff question between the United States and Germany. The last shipments have gone out and no more contracts for American grain of any kind are unfilled and outstanding. The tariff agreement between the United States and Germany will expire on March 1 of this year and, unless congress in the meantime, takes some definite steps toward the establishment of reciprocal trade relations, the new high tariff on American grains will go into effect in Germany.

The German reichstag has accepted the proposed higher schedule on wheat, oats, rye and barley, but has not yet acted upon the proposed higher schedule for corn, expecting, probably, that the United States government would take some step toward preventing a tariff war between the two countries. Under the new law the duty on wheat will be 55 mark per 1,000 kilo, instead of 55 as heretofore; rye, 50 mark instead of 45; barley, 45 mark instead of 35 mark; and oats 50 instead of 25 mark. Should a tariff war between the two countries break out Germany would impose the maximum rates, which are still higher than the rates here give.

It has been a mystery to a great many people on this side of the ocean how the German government was able to secure the adoption of the new schedule, as its immediate effect would be a considerable increase in the price of bread in all parts of Germany. The Reichstag made the best use of that argument in opposing the new schedule, but they were appeased by the promise of the German government that the sum accruing from the higher duties would be transferred to the imperial pension fund.

The general sentiment in Germany is by no means one of unity toward the United States or its products. The people simply feel that they owe it to their country to resist against a country which discriminates against German products.

MANY GOVERNORS PAY RESPECTS TO HOLBROOK

(Journal Special Service.) Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 15.—Ex-Governor Frederick Holbrook of Vermont, who is celebrating his 83d birthday today, will be the central figure of one of the most interesting gatherings ever held in this city. Former Governor C. P. Page has originated the idea of a group of former governors of Vermont to honor Holbrook.

It will be held this evening and will be attended by a surprisingly large number of former governors of this state and of other states. Of Vermont alone there will be 14 former governors and five of New Jersey.

Governor Holbrook, served as Vermont's chief executive from 1861 to 1863 and he was one of the advisers of President Lincoln in the war. He keeps abreast of the times, spending part of the time reading and having others read to him, and his correspondence takes up a part of each day. He is vigorous in mind and his writings continue to be forceful and incisive. At the recent annual meeting of the Vermont Savings Bank Governor Holbrook presided as president, as he has done many years.

Oil on Waters Saves Ship From Foundering

Steamer Argyle and Barkentine Fullerton Narrowly Escape Destruction in Storm.

(Journal Special Service.) Honolulu, Feb. 15.—The steamer Argyle, which arrived here today from Port Harford with the barkentine Fullerton in tow, encountered a terrific storm February 7 and nearly foundered in mid-ocean. The Fullerton was badly battered in the storm, her rudder post torn away by tremendous waves pounding her counter, and the Argyle was compelled to jettison more than 4,000 barrels of her cargo of oil to enable her to ride out the storm.

Both vessels left Port Harford with cargoes of oil for this port. The Argyle was in tow of the Fullerton, which struck a gale seven days from here, which increased to a hurricane, and during the night the towline of the Fullerton parted. The barkentine was helpless with her steering gear torn away, but the Argyle, heavily laden, could not give assistance for hours, as the steamer was in danger of being overwhelmed by the seas which swept her decks. Not until she was lightened by jettisoning oil could she assist the Fullerton, when she finally succeeded in getting a line to her. The crews of both vessels almost gave up hope of weathering the storm.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY IS EIGHTY-SIX TODAY

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, Feb. 15.—Susan B. Anthony, who appeared before the house committee on judiciary today as a member of a delegation from the National Woman Suffrage association to urge a constitutional amendment providing for woman's suffrage, was the recipient of innumerable congratulations from congressmen and others, this being the eighty-sixth birthday of the pioneer woman suffragist. Mrs. Anthony was born in Massachusetts February 15, 1820. Early in her career she became interested in temperance work. Since the war she has devoted herself exclusively to the woman suffrage movement.

Winter Garden Billiard Hall.

Third and Morrison. Finely equipped Eleven-high-grade pool and billiard tables. First class in every respect.

Danderine

CREW THIS MAN AND WE CAN PROVE IT.

MISS MARMARA HENRY, CHICAGO.

FLORENCE RUSSELL, Age 9 years, CHICAGO.

MRS. SHILMA HANSELL, 2728 North 49th Street, CHICAGO.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Pritchard.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

HYOMEL CURES CATARRH

Its Healing Salts Kill All Catarrhal Germs—Sold Under Guarantee by Woodard, Clarke & Co.

There is no more common disease than catarrh, and none that is more dangerous. It weakens and debilitates the whole system, if it is allowed to run, leads to serious, and sometimes fatal, complications. It is noteworthy fact that among the many medicines and treatments for catarrh there is only one which Woodard, Clarke & Co. sell under their positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure—Hyomel, Nature's remedy for the cure of catarrh.

No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach when Hyomel is used. Breathe through the small pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomel outfit; its healing balsams penetrate to the most remote cells of the throat, nose and lungs, killing the germs of catarrh, healing the irritated mucous membranes and making complete and lasting cures.

The complete Hyomel outfit, consisting of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel, costs only 25c. The inhaler will last a lifetime, while extra bottles of Hyomel can be procured, whenever needed, for only 10c each.

Woodard, Clarke & Co. are selling a good many Hyomel outfits at this season, and they have so much confidence in the remedy that they guarantee to refund the money in case it does not cure.

If not convenient to obtain Hyomel of Woodard, Clarke & Co., or some other drugist, it will be forwarded from the laboratory by mail on receipt of the money. Write to THE S. T. BUSH CO., Hyomel Bldg., Chicago, N. Y.

TEETH

For modern dental work. World-renowned specialists. Lowest prices consistent with first-class work.

80 SO. 7th

NEW YORK DENTISTS

FOURTH AND BROADWAY BLDG. Open day and night. From 10:30 A. M. to 11:30 P. M.

Specially Registered to You

Consider how the United States Government protects a letter registered to you, guaranteeing its delivery safe and in good order.

The NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY exercises even greater protecting foresight in delivering its Biscuit and Crackers to you. Fresh from the oven, they are enclosed in a dust tight, moisture proof package, on each end of which is affixed this trade mark in red and white.

ZU ZU CINER SNAPS—Crisp, delicious, golden-brown morsels of sweetness and spice that overcome lives.

CHEESE SANDWICHES—This combines encasing a layer of creamy cheese—a delicate bite to tempt an appetite.