Incarceration that he had to be watched almost continually. Hospitals are obliged to refuse delirious patients because their ravings disturb other inmates. The police do not censure the management of these institutions, but merely insist that a city receiving hospital has grown to be a necessity. It was agreed this morning by Captain Moore that a man may be employed to watch Smith at the hospital, and that if he is found to be a disturbing factor there he may be removed.

"Smith has almost $100, and that money can be used to pay for an attendant," said Captain Moore. "I don't believe he will live longer than a day or two. If he had died here the police would have been censured by an unthinking public. Dr. Spencer did everything possible for him while he was here, but this is not the place for a sick man."

MORTALLY SICK IN CITY PRISON

W. D. Smith, in Dying Condition, Spends Three Days in Noisome Jail.

HOSPITAL FINALLY TAKES THE MAN IN

Case Held to Show Need of City Receiving Hospital—Other Institutions Are Obligated to Refuse Delirious Tremens Patients.

For almost three days W. D. Smith, a laborer, lay in a dying condition at the city prison, the last place where a man whose physical condition is critical should be kept. Powerless to do anything more for him than to make him as comfortable as possible with the limited means at hand, the police appealed to the hospitals for relief, but a deaf ear was turned to them.

Captain Moore called up Good Samaritan hospital this morning and made an eloquent appeal in the man's behalf, with the result that he was accepted as a patient under certain conditions.

Never before, say the police, has the need of a city receiving hospital been so plainly demonstrated as in the case of Smith. If he should die at the hospital, it is maintained, his demise will be due, without doubt, to his being kept at the city prison so long amid the noise and clamor made by drunken men and without proper facilities for treatment.

Smith was picked up at Fourth and Davis streets while in an intoxicated condition early Thursday morning by Patrolmen Jackson and Klenen and sent to the city prison. During the day he developed delirium tremens. The city physician was notified and on making an examination pronounced the man's condition serious. He prescribed for him and medicine was obtained and given him regularly by the jailer.

Since that time the police have had all kinds of trouble with Smith. He would leave his bed and stand in his bare feet on the damp, cold stone floor of his cell. At other times he would be found lying full length on the floor. Finally he became so violent on account of the natural development of the disease and the circumstances attending his

MURDERER RELEASED AFTER 19 YEARS IN PRISON

C. Graves to Be Given Freedom—Killed Two Game Wardens.

(Journal Special Service.) Thomaston, Maine, March 3.—Tomorrow the doors of the Maine state prison here will be swung open and Calvin Graves will walk forth a free man after 19 years spent behind the prison bars. The crime for which Graves was sent to prison was committed in 1886 and at the time of its commission was the sensation of the state. It was a double murder, the victims being two game wardens named Hill and Miles. On the day of the tragedy Graves was with a companion went hunting near his home in Washington county. The hunters were stopped by the game wardens and in an altercation that ensued Graves shot and killed both the wardens. He fled to California where he was arrested some months later and returned to Maine for trial. The verdict of guilty brought with it a sentence of life imprisonment.

For more than 16 years persistent efforts were made by the family and friends of the imprisoned man to secure his release. These efforts finally resulted in the sentence being commuted to 25 years in 1904. The allowance for good time reduced the term to 19 years. His family will meet him upon his release and escort him home.

RELIGION WORKS CHANGE IN COUNTESS OF CLANCARTY

Narrow Escape From Death Takes All the Storm Out of Former Actress' Life.

(Journal Special Service.) Dublin, March 3.—It is understood that My Lady of Garbally court, to wit, the Countess of Clancarty, sometimes known as Belle Bliton, is developing strong religious tendencies. Ever since she was saved from an awful death from cancer by the unremitting care and splendid skill of Dr. Doyen, when she supposed she had but a three weeks' lease of life, Lady Clancarty has been a very subdued person. All the storm seems to have gone out of her career and she is spending an idle life in rustic seclusion among her husband's Irish tenants in Galway. Not only has the former concert hall singer become Lady Bountiful to all poor people on her estate—and their name is legion—but she has recently ministered to their spiritual comfort.

The time she does not give to the care of the peasantry she devotes to the education of her children, three sons and a daughter. She does not neglect entertaining and seems perfectly contented with the peaceful routine she has laid out as her standard of life.

BELIEVE KAISER IS TRYING TO FORCE WAR

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, March 3.—Pessimism over the European political situation is growing. It is believed that the German emperor wants war. It is felt that war is bound to result between France and Germany as a result of the Moroccan difficulties. High officials here are quoted as saying that the bellicose proclivity is temperamental in Germany just now.

Both France and Germany are prepared for a contest, warlike arrangements having been made for two years.

PRISONERS PUT UP TO JUDGE

Forty Sign Petition Demanding Investigation of Guard James Johnson's Conduct.

REFUSE TO WORK WITH JOHNSON OVER THEM

Are Not Put on Bread and Water Diet, However—Judge Webster Says He Will Investigate Accusations That Guard Abuses Men.

A petition to County Judge L. R. Webster asking that he order an investigation into the conduct of Guard James Johnson, accused of brutality to county prisoners and incompetence as an administrator, was filed with the judge this morning and presented to the court this afternoon. The document was signed by 40 prisoners, 37 of whom mutilated on the street yesterday morning, refusing to go to work on the Lianon roadbeds under Johnson. Judge Webster will probably take some action on the petition Monday.

The prisoners again this morning refused to go out to work under Johnson and are in the jail awaiting action on the part of the court. They are not on bread and water diet, nor in solitary confinement, the sheriff having received no orders from Judge Webster directing that such punishment be administered to them. Sheriff Word holds that the men, under the statutes, are not amenable to chastisement for their conduct.

"The don't refuse to work," said the sheriff, "but simply refuse to go out under the guardianship of Johnson. They all declare their willingness to labor if a satisfactory guard is placed over them in Johnson's place. The public interest in the prisoners is so great that the sheriff shall have the authority to punish prisoners by solitary confinement and placing them on rations of bread and water if they refuse to work. They are not objecting to the labor, but to the taskmaster, as I don't see that I have any authority to punish them."

Refuse to Go With Johnson. This morning at the usual hour for the chain gang to be sent out Guards Johnson, Briggs and Burke reported at the jail. The jailer turned the prisoners out into the corridor, but they flatly refused to leave the prison with Johnson as a guard. In consequence they were put back in their cells. One of the men then drafted the following petition, and it was signed by all the prisoners, on the charges of brutality and incompetence.

"The undersigned do not refuse to work and proper restrictions, but do object most strenuously to working under the aforesaid Johnson."

When the 40 names had been attached to the petition, it was delivered to Chief Deputy Sheriff Morden, who filed it before the county court this afternoon.

"All we want is justice," said Charles White, spokesman for the petitioners. "Johnson says we are simply playing for the sympathy of the public. Sympathy will do us no good. We don't want it. We are human though we are prisoners. We want the law and his treatment that we are entitled to, that's all."

Can Prove Charges. The members of the chain gang assert that every accusation made against Guard Johnson can be substantiated by unquestionable proof and that they are ready to produce the witnesses if the investigation asked for can be secured.

"There are witnesses, disinterested parties, who will swear to the truth of our charges," said White. "But let the humanitarian turn their backs and he would treat us like dogs, as he has done when there were no inspecting eyes to watch his brutality. Of course he would be good under the circumstances he speaks of. He always is when any one is around that he thinks might take him to task for his conduct. It is what he does when these people are not looking that we are complaining of, and that causes us to refuse to work under him any longer."

County Judge Lionel R. Webster this morning said that the first time he had heard that the rockpile prisoners had been beaten by Johnson was when he read the account of the trouble in The Journal yesterday. Judge Webster says that the affair will be given a right investigation, beginning next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Break in Big Sewer. A break was reported this morning in the large Sunnyside sewer at East Nineteenth and Belmont streets, and City Engineer Taylor detailed a force of men to repair the drain. A large amount of earth fill has been placed in the street at this point. Its great weight has caused the ground to settle and has broken the sewer pipe. The repairs will be difficult because of the depth of the sewer underground.

Dr. N. J. FULTON NATUROPATH

Twenty-seven months ago Dr. N. J. Fulton opened an office in Portland for the practice of his profession.

TODAY she is more widely known in Portland and throughout the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho than are many doctors who have given years to the upbuilding of their reputation as healers of the sick.

What is the secret? The answer is very simple. She has cured the sick. They have usually come to her after trying a great many other doctors, and in nearly every case they have been greatly benefited or completely cured.

Is it any wonder she is well known? Her patients from all over Portland, from various places in Oregon, Washington and Idaho go home cured. Their friends and relatives hear of it and thus her reputation grows.

About two weeks ago Dr. Fulton was called to the bedside of a man who has been constantly doctoring since about the first of June. He has had several different doctors, but he gradually grew worse all the time. His doctors finally wanted to perform an operation, but he would not consent to it. When Dr. Fulton was called she found him in a high fever, temperature 104 degrees. She treated him less than two weeks. He went home (he does not live in Portland) today, Dec. 7, nearly well.

THIS IS A SINGLE CASE of many similar ones.

AND TRUE HER REPUTATION GROWS.

Are You Sick?

If so, you would do well to go to Dr. Fulton, the great naturopath.

TRIBAL GOVERNMENT CEASES IN TERRITORY

(Journal Special Service.) Muskogee, I. T., March 3.—At midnight tonight, in accordance with the act of congress, the tribal governments in Indian territory cease to exist. The break-up of the governments means the distribution and allotment of large funds and great tracts of land heretofore held by the tribes in common. By the distribution the Indian becomes a full-fledged citizen of the United States. For the first time he will be entitled to vote and will enjoy also the privilege of paying taxes. He will be eligible to hold public office and consequently when the territories are admitted as states he is more than likely that the congressional delegation from Indian territory and Oklahoma will include one or more full-blood Indians. General Pleasant Porter, chief of the Creek nation, is prominently mentioned for the senate.

A CURE

For One of the Most Dreaded Diseases That Flesh is Heir to, the Great Crimson Dragon, the Cancer Plague.

The establishing of the Holly Branch Sanatorium for the treatment of one of the most dreaded diseases, cancer, brings relief to the minds of many a suffering humanity, as the patient is treated with what is known as "Blood Medicine" without the use of the knife, and what one dreads more than any other thing is the thought of being operated upon.

The management have secured a very desirable location, where the patient can be quiet, thereby helping Nature to do her part of the work toward the recovery from the disease, at the same time a place where a splendid view can be had of the city, the ever green hills, with a fine view of the Willamette river.

Patients while being treated can have a friend or relative with them if they so wish. The cost of treatment, board, room and nursing is based on the time taken, the material used and the attention required. For further particulars call or write The Holly Branch Sanatorium, city office 605 Dekum building, Portland, Oregon.
