The east side office of The Journal is in the store of J. M. C. Miller, 300 East Morrison street. Telephone East 275,

Deputy Sheriff George Morden yesterday searched the saloon of Con Hilyer, at 282 North Seventeenth street, and found a bundle of cards upon which was obscene printing. The cards were taken by Morden, who examined the saloon on the authority of a search warrant issued by Judge Frazer. For some time Judge Frazer has been hearing of the cards issued by the Hilyers. Many boys between 14 and 16 years old have secured copies of them. It is thought that a crusade is to be made against saloonkeepers who print obscene stories on business cards.

J. D. Sharp of 342 Knott street has a hen which he thinks can best any hen in Portland for big eggs. His hen, a Black Langeban, recently has laid untisually large ones, two being the size of duck eggs. Yesterday the hen laid an egg as large as a goose egg. Mr. Sharp exhibited the egg at The Journal office and when measured it was found to be 7½ Inches in circumference one way and 6 3-8 inches the other.

Charges against Jack Grant, one of the proprietors of the sailor boarding-house, with reference to the part he is said to have taken in inducing five Portland boys to sign as sailors on the British ship Eskassoni, have not been made to any of the authorities. It is said that none will be entered against the sailor boarding-house people.

Grant denies absolutely any connection with the affair, except accompanying the boys to the office of British Gonsul Laidiaw. He mays that he did not accompany them to the ship and that charges that he struck any one abard the vessel are untrue.

"The boys knew very well what they were expected to do when they signed to go on the vessel," he said. "There was no subterfuge and no false repre-

In various precincts on the east side, attempts will be made at the coming June election to oust the saloon, and probably the closest contest will be in precinct 60, where the saloons were admitted by a slight majority last year, chiefly because many of the voters were not registered and so were prevented from casting their ballots. The district is bounded on the north by Klilingsworth avenue, on the south by Fremont street, on the east by Vancouver avenue and on the west by the Willamette river. It is the only one in the big seventh ward in which saloons are permitted, and it will be the endeavor of the local option supporters to win the precinct, insuring that all the territory from North Irvington to Woodlawn and from Woodlawn to Portsmouth shall be free of saloons for at least a year, with the best chance for the continued defeat of attempts to get a hold in the district for barrooms.

Practically the only saloon district

When the fire of last Sunday made every business man of the place think his store was going. Wilcox was on hand with his team and load after load of groceries, tools, barber shop fixtures and furnishings was taken to a place of safety. When the danger was past wilcox brought back the goods, working until after midnight. For his work at hoth fires he received not a cent at both fires he received not a cent, stoutly refusing all offers of pay. EAST SIDE NOTES.

Practically the only saloon district of the east side is on lower Union and Grand avenues. Many suburbs that once had two or three saloons now have a single one or none. Montavilla with two idle barrobms is an example of this sort, and outside the central business center there are ftw locations where a business man would be justified in building a structure solely for saloon purposes, the chances being that the property would be empty after the next election.

Portland, Or., March 17th.

It affords me great pleasure to write a word in prelace of Doctors Briggs & Stewart, 310-311, Stearns Block.

For the past six years I have been a constant sufferer of Locomotorataxia, together with this dread disease my spine was very badly affected.

I had tried many doctors and varied treatments, but all to no avail. The treatments failed completely and the doctors gave me up entirely.

Finally, and fortunately for myself, I consulted Doctors Briggs & Stewart. On February 8th they began their treatments upon me. And I can truthfully state that the results accomplished have been nothing less than marvelous. For years I had been a perfect invalid. Now I can walk about the house, and have even been out for a short walk.

I would be pleased to have any one call at my home. Burkhardt Block, 25 Grand Avenue, where I should be glad to further convince them that my case is a worthy recommendation of the ability of Doctors Briggs & Stewart. Very Respectfully, F. E. SAWYER, Burkhardt Block, 25 Grand Avenue.

WHY NOT CONSULT THE CHIROPRACTORS?

They have demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that ninety-five per cent of disease is caused by luxated vertebrae of the spine, by the many marvelous cures performed by them?
