Walter Jennings Will Ship His Best String of Horses East in Hopes of Carrying Away Some Rich Stakes

The Ascot race meeting closed Saturday afternoon after a somewhat sensational and stormy, but on the whole successful session.

Walter Jennings will ship his string, or the best of them, east next week or the week after.

Besides Proper, there will be several horses which have been racing at Ascot which will bear watching in the east.

It is understood that Brooks will return as manager of the Ascot track after this season.

The news that there is a demand for bronchos in New York at prices ranging from $85 to $200 is likely to cause a sensation on the ranges.

It's a sight worth seeing to witness Howard Brewer, the swimming champion of the coast, at work.

CROFOTH IS ANXIOUS TO PURIFY THE SPORT

President Harrison of Olympic Club Is in Favor of a Control of Fighting Contests That Would Be Absolute With a View of Punishing.

By Ruyler. San Francisco, March 21.—Even the most rabid of the devotees of the prize ring realize that something radical must be done to prevent the city of San Francisco, if not the state of California, from joining the "no-fight" brigade.

One of the plans which seems to meet with most favor is the placing of the sport under some competent authority which will see to the issuance of licenses to see how they are received by the eastern tracks in view of the suspension.

TO PUNISH BOLTERS FOR KNIFING TICKET

East Side Counties Lined Up Solidly Against Proposed Move—Punishment Heaviest for Farming Districts.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, March 21.—The big row is breaking out in the Republican party in Washington as a result of the attempt of E. H. Palmer, chairman of the state central committee, to appoint the delegates to the coming state Republican convention on the vote for Governor Mead two years ago.

The move is planned by Chairman Palmer as a means of at once rewarding loyal Republicans and lessening the power and influence of counties in the state that dared two years ago to support Senator George Turner for governor in place of Mead, the regular Republican nominee.

When Mead was nominated it was claimed that the convention was fixed by the railroads and the east side delegates came near bolting in a body.

The east side is against the move because it gave Turner a majority all over the state, and particularly in the east side districts and farming communities, tumbled into the Turner troubles.

The related reports from Lodi, California state that it required two hours and two minutes to play Sunday's game between Portland and Stockton.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., March 21.—Extensive preparations are being made by local veterans and citizens in general for the coming district and state G. A. R. encampment, both of which are to occur in Grant.
