

MAY 19 TO 26 TO BE GALA WEEK

One Hundred Stores in Portland Will Show in Windows Goods Made in Oregon.

ON OPENING DAY THERE WILL BE BIG PARADE

Likewise There Will Be Social and Other Features—Idea Is to Show People of State the Great Variety of Products Produced in Oregon.

That the people of the state may know something of the vast resources of Oregon, the week of May 19 to 26 will be devoted to a gigantic display in Portland of the various products of the state.

"Made in Oregon" will placard the state. In a hundred stores in Portland windows will be crowded with displays which will bear the label; it will be placed on every article that was brought into existence within the boundaries of Oregon.

The week will be in the nature of a carnival. It is a decided innovation in exploiting Oregon's goods, but has met with such spontaneous and hearty support that the entire state has been included.

The movement was inaugurated by the Portland Admen's league. The idea was conceived by H. C. Whittier, advertising manager for Olds, Wortman & King, and was submitted to the league.

PALE PEOPLE

Wonder why they feel so debilitated—why their cheeks, lips and tongues are almost colorless.

The reason is easy to find. The blood is in an abnormal condition, and is deficient in red corpuscles.

It may be produced by dyspepsia, malaria or hemorrhage; but the most common cause is insufficient nutrition.

What is wanted is a nutrient which will increase the vital force and put the blood in a normal condition.

The Cod Liver Oil Emulsion "For Everyone" does this as no other remedy can. It supplies the nourishment to build up the tissue and increase the red corpuscles of the blood.

These destroy the germs of disease and create appetite.

The Cod Liver Oil supplies the food that puts on the flesh and makes strength.

This means health; and health means happiness, contentment and wealth.

"Made in Oregon" the Tag. During the week May 19 to 26 Oregon-made goods will be displayed in practically every show window in the city.

On the first day of the week there will be a monster parade, in which products of the state in every line will be exhibited.

There will be several bands in the parade and city officials and representatives of the various organizations which contributed in making the event a success will ride in it.

A complete program for the week will be arranged by the general committee that is to be selected this week. It will include not only street parades, but social and many other events.

The purpose of the movement is to exploit Oregon-made goods," said a member of the Admen's league. "It is not proposed to exploit the products of any one section of the state more than those of another, and every effort is being made to induce factories, firms and individuals from every part of Oregon to participate."

Articles that are made in this state will be placed in all the conspicuous show windows in the city for one week. It is believed that every line of industry in the state will be represented and the people of the state have a big surprise in store for them.

"It is generally believed outside the state that the Oregon country is a vast farming district and that few articles are produced besides butter and eggs and other farm products. But this proposed exhibition will dispel any such ideas. It will give the people of the state an opportunity to see and realize what the state is actually doing towards contributing to the world's needs.

As a manufacturing center, Portland is rapidly taking a prominent place among the cities of America, and other cities of Oregon are also gaining big reputations.

The entertainment program, aside from the regular exhibition features of the event, will be completed by the general committee that is to be selected this week. It will be a gala event in Portland and will draw thousands of people here."

LIEUTENANT QUINLAN GIVEN TESTIMONIAL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Corvallis, Or., March 29.—In view of the conflicting rumors that have gone abroad relative to the relief of Lieutenant D. P. Quinlan, military instructor at the Oregon Agricultural college, a testimonial has been given Lieutenant Quinlan signed by the following student officers:

E. L. Damsen, A. L. Bradley, Philip Gearhart, Carl M. Stehinger, J. W. Finn, P. H. Cole, Earl V. Hawley, R. M. Walker, H. B. Auld, G. J. Dodson, C. V. Wann, George A. Cathey, Robert C. Jackson, D. R. Groves, George B. von der Hillen, David Little, Albert P. Tedrow, Kenneth L. Cooper.

TRADE EMBARGOES MUST CEASE

Grand Avenue Business Men Combine to Finish Delayed Street Improvements.

SINGLE CONTRACTOR BLOCKADES TRAFFIC

While He Waits for Cellar to Be Dug Thousands of Dollars in Trade Are Diverted From Central District—Program to Be Changed.

The east side office of The Journal is in the store of J. M. C. Miller, 290 East Morrison street. Telephone East 270.

Whether the fault lies with the city executive board, the council, the street inspector or the contractor, has not been determined, but the Grand avenue business men are united in demanding an explanation of the condition of East Alder street, which for about a month has been kept closed, though apparently the improvement was completed 30 days ago.

At present the Grand avenue business district is shut off on the north by the half-completed Grand avenue fill, on the south by bad streets, on the east by an absence of improved highways leading to suburban residence districts and on the west by the delayed improvement of East Morrison street.

The finishing of the work on East Alder would open a highway to the center of the east side proper, and would enable traffic to reach the Grand avenue business district. With this idea in view, the residents of the district agreed to the assessment for the rebuilding of the elevated roadway and the improving of the street with macadam from Union avenue to East Tenth street, where permanent improvements already exist.

While the work did not proceed rapidly, constant progress was made until the final stretch of elevated roadway was reached. It has been in an uncompleted state for four weeks or more. The only explanation forthcoming is that the contractor desired a few loads of dirt to complete the job, and was waiting until he had a cellar to excavate in the neighborhood so that he could secure the earth cheaply. That the entire Grand avenue business district has been kept whistling for trade for a month because one man wanted a cellar-digging job does not appeal to the merchants of the central east side, and a committee representing their interests is in the field seeking to force the immediate completion of the work.

Complaint is also made that it takes longer to plank East Morrison street than it did to make the big fill between Union avenue and the river. Two or three blocks of this planking was laid before the fill was completed, but for some weeks the lower portion of the street has been barricaded, while a few workmen leisurely laid a couple of plank every hour or so. The end of the planking job is almost in sight, but property owners on the street are able to discover no reason why the thoroughfare of the most important on the east side, should not have opened to traffic two weeks or more ago, and why it was necessary to complete both sides of the street before traffic was admitted.

The policy that permits contractors to kill a business district for an indefinite period, that makes property owners desiring an improvement wait the pleasure of the overworked inspectors and that places an embargo on commercial traffic for no especial reason is being complained of, and after for two years struggling to combat the repeated blockades that have cost them thousands of dollars in trade and lost patronage, the Grand avenue business men are out for satisfaction.

OLD CASE SETTLED.

Justice Seton Decides in Favor of Defense in Hall-Melkie Suit.

A much involved case was settled by Justice Seton yesterday morning in the east side court after the attorneys for the opposing sides had engaged in a heated controversy. The case was started last October. The E. O. Hall lumber company claimed $132 from D. E. Melkie and A. J. Heuneman for apple boxes. The contention of the defense was that Melkie was not a partner. Attorney Flegal represented Melkie, Oglesby Young represented Heuneman and Eimmons & Eimmons presented the case for Hall.

Involved in the testimony was evidence regarding a shipment of apples that was sent to the sound by boat, was lost at sea and which was sued for by Melkie personally. At that time, it is alleged, he denied the partnership with Heuneman, and the critical point in the local case was to secure his testimony on the stand concerning this partnership, his father and brother deposing to the effect that he was a partner in the firm. After a sharp legal scrimmage yesterday, Justice Seton denied a motion on the part of the plaintiff for judgment and allowed the motion of the defense for a non-suit. The case will be taken to the circuit court.

J. E. Alexander has brought suit in the east side court for $72.58, which he asserts is due him from the Mount Hood Brewing company. The complaint and petition for judgment asserts that Alexander sold to the brewing concern his unexpired saloon license, lease on the building and fixtures, but that he has not sold about the worth of cut glass and tools that were his personal property. The company refused to give up the dishes and tools, hence the suit.

WIDOW SECURES MONEY.

Insurance Policy of L. T. Dalley, Killed in East Side Fire, Promptly Paid.

The life insurance policy of L. T. Dalley, who was burned to death in the east side fire, together with two of his sons, was paid this week by Clerk Woodworth of Multnomah camp, Woodmen of the World. The money was received from the eastern office within 30 days from the time papers were forwarded from the home camp, and Mrs. Dalley got the $1,000 her husband's policy called for before she secured an adjustment and settlement of the fire insurance. Mrs. Dalley has been released from the hospital and within a few weeks will have recovered sufficiently to enable her to be about. Her eyesight will probably not be affected, as was at first feared, and the disfigurement which she feared will not be serious. Two boys remain in the family, one being with the mother, and the other on the road with an amusement company.

MAZAMAS ENTERTAIN.

Illustrated Mountain Lecture to Be Given at Multnomah Hall Tomorrow.

Multnomah camp, Woodmen of the World, will relinquish its regular session tomorrow night in favor of the Mazamas. The camp has arranged with Will G. Street a repetition of the illustrated lecture that has recently been given in the White Temple. The entertainment will be held in Multnomah hall, East Sixth and East Alder streets. The slides of the lecture are the best of the views secured by the mountain climbers on their many trips to the mountains of Oregon, Washington and California, and since the initial presentation of the lecture in Portland it has been given in Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma to large audiences. At Tacoma, Governor Mead presided and the city turned out to welcome the Portland visitors.

FIRE IN ALBINA STORE.

Proprietors and Firemen Differ as to Amount of Loss From Flames.

The Kennard & Adams store suffered last night from a blaze which might have proved serious had the Russell street engine company not promptly responded. How the fire started is not known, but it is supposed that a gas jet was left burning in the store. As the store is located in the center of the business district of Albina, the west side apparatus responded to the alarm, a record run being made across Burnside bridge.

The proprietors of the store differ from the firemen in their estimate of the damage done by the flames. The firemen assert that the loss will not exceed $500 both from fire and water. The proprietors believe that the loss will reach several thousand dollars. The building and stock were fully covered by insurance.

QUICK CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctor said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and it cured him. That was six years ago and since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Woodard, Clarke & Co.

EAST BELMONT STREET VIEWERS START WORK

J. P. Menefee, Oglesby Young and H. J. Morrison, the viewers who were appointed to survey the ground and assess the damages for the proposed opening of East Belmont street between Prettyman avenue and the eastern boundary of the city, began their work yesterday. They appeared at the city auditor's office, were sworn in and proceeded to go over the ground which will be condemned by the opening of the thoroughfare.

The proposed extension will include separate lots and parcels of land and the damages will amount to thousands of dollars. It is expected that the work of surveying the ground and making the assessments will take more than a week.

The improvement is greatly desired by the property-owners along the thoroughfare.

Division street, between East Twelfth and Marguerita streets, will be viewed by J. P. Menefee, J. S. Foss and H. J. Morrison for the purpose of opening it to the public. They will also view the property affected by the proposed opening of East Seventeenth, between East Morrison and East Belmont streets.

J. P. Menefee, Oglesby Young and H. J. Morrison, viewers on the proposed opening of East Hall, between East Ninth and East Eighth streets, will make a report to the city council at an early date.
