OWES MUCH MONEY TO CREDITORS

Receiver Asked for Snake River Irrigation and Continental Companies.

BIG STOCKHOLDER MAKES APPLICATION

Portland and Walla Walla Firms Have Extended Big Credit—Promoters Ask Two Weeks' Time and Say Can Then Clean Up All Debts.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., April 7.—Application for a receiver for the Snake River Irrigation Company and Continental Construction Company, promoters of the Two Rivers Irrigation project, was taken up before Judge Brents today and continued over until next Wednesday. A. B. Frame, general manager and one of the big stockholders of the two companies, was on the stand most of the day, and gave some interesting inside information of the financial condition of the two companies. Frame admitted the company owed between $30,000 and $40,000 it was unable to meet at present, but claimed if given two weeks' time when the big power plant at North Two Rivers can be repaired, water will be turned into the canals and deferred payments on the land sold under the ditch collected and the indebtedness cleaned up. The company owes some $12,000 to different parties and firms in Portland and $13,000 to Walla Walla firms for merchandise and supplies. The company sold lands at Two Rivers aggregating $155,000 and collected $62,000 as first payments. Nearly $100,000 has been expended in constructing the power canal, erecting pumping plant, and installing machinery. Application for receiver was made by E. M. Warner, one of the big stockholders, who alleged irregularities in handling the finances of the two companies. In open court today Will De Barry, offered to purchase Warner's interest for $20,000, but the offer was not accepted.

the fumes of an onion would spell death to the most virulent of the poisonous germs.

"I gradually evolved my theory so as to affect the treatment of tuberculosis and success has crowned my labors." Dr. Gonilsky declares that within the short time he has been practicing onion treatment he has not had a patient die, and he has taken them in every stage of the disease, even when death seemed to have claimed the victim.

A Pre-Easter Opening.

Martin & Forbes, the Washington street florists, plan a floral display, commencing April 9 and lasting throughout the week, at their new store, 347 Washington street, which for artistic arrangement of beautiful flowers and plants, they say, will surpass anything of its kind ever attempted in this city.

This firm has been in business in this city for 15 years or more and on account of their growing business have been obliged to secure more commodious quarters. They wish to announce, however, that they will still conduct their old store at 250 Washington street until June 1.

If a lover of flowers, call at their store this week and examine what they say will be the most gorgeous, beautiful display of flowers ever made, even in this state of prolific bloom.

Development Continues Here for the Benefit of Discerning Customers

The store front has been painted and neat signs grace the lower sash of each of our large plate glass windows. The carpenters have been busy reconstructing some of the shelves, etc., in the store, and they are busily engaged in various parts of our showrooms, which comprise the entire floor space in the two buildings which we occupy. Regular customers are pleasantly surprised and new ones find this indeed "A Good Place to Trade," for every courtesy is extended to those who visit this store. A large volume of business was the result of last week's advertising, and all went away satisfied. Some purchased the Furniture for their new homes, while others bought only a few pieces, but they all found that here

Courteous Treatment Is the Policy for All

As progress is being made in the improvements and likewise in the inspection of our reserve stocks in the warehouse, we find, daily, some pieces of Furniture of which but one or two besides the sample are left. We know what it means to show a prospective customer a sample of an article of which he or she may require a half dozen or more. So we are determined to dispose of every line, not up to the dozen or more quantity, and which has not been reordered, for various reasons.

We don't hesitate to say that some of these goods may be slightly marred or defective in finish, while other pieces may, upon complete inspection of our Spring stock, be considered a little obsolete by our manager, and of still others there may be none but the sample, making it almost useless to show to some intending purchasers.

But We Do Say That Every Piece Is Worth Considerably More Than We Ask for It

GOLD BULLION BAR STOLEN ON SHIP

Metal Shipment Made From South African Mine Disappears While in Transit.

CHUNK OF STEEL IS FOUND AS SUBSTITUTE

Clever Thieves Reap Profit of Seventeen Thousand Dollars—Insurance Company Is the Loser—Pinkerton on the Case.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal.) New York, April 7.—A bar of gold bullion weighing 550 ounces and valued at about $17,000, was stolen in shipment between Georgetown, British Guiana, and New York. The discovery of the theft was made shortly after the steamship Karoma, which carried the bullion, arrived in this port today. Pinkerton detectives are at work on the case. The British Guiana Gold Concessions company, limited, with offices in the Mills building, recently ordered a shipment of 150 ounces of gold bullion from their mines in Demerara, British Guiana. The gold was to be used as a sample of the product of their extensive gold mining properties. The gold was carefully incased in a strong box and placed aboard the Karoma of the Quebec Steamship company. The bullion was in one bar when it was placed aboard the steamship at Georgetown, according to the local officials of the mining company, but when the box reached the offices of the company it was found that a bar of steel had been substituted. Customs Inspector Worthington visited the office and looked over the box. On the box was found the seal of the customs inspectors, which was placed when the box landed here. The mining company will not lose anything by the theft, as the steamship company is held responsible. The steamship in turn, is insured against such thefts by the Atlantic Mutual Insurance company.

Loss of Appetite

Is common when the blood needs purifying and enriching, for then the blood fails to give the digestive organs the stimulus necessary for the proper performance of their functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is pre-eminently the medicine to take. It makes the blood pure and rich, and strengthens all the digestive organs.

"I was all run down and had no appetite. After taking one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could eat anything I wished." Mrs. Amanda Fenner, Oneo, Conn.

GEORGIA WOMAN KISSED BY ANDREW CARNEGIE

Iron Monger Shows His Appreciation of Compliment by Osculatory Tactics.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal.) Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—Andrew Carnegie is not yet so far advanced in years nor weighed down with financial deals, nor bothered in giving away libraries as to have forgotten the deliciousness of a kiss and a fond embrace.

As a rule old men place their affections upon young girls, but Mr. Carnegie plays no favorites.

Mrs. J. T. Eichborg and another lady were recipients of old-time Georgia osculation this afternoon at the Carnegie library in the presence of a large number of people.

Mrs. Eichborg and her friend were introduced to Mr. Carnegie by Mr. Phelps Stokes. Mrs. Eichborg congratulated Mr. Carnegie enthusiastically upon the speech he made on the south and upon southern women.

"You are such a fine-looking lady," said Mr. Carnegie with enthusiasm, "that I am going to kiss you for all the rest here."

And with that, before Mrs. Eichborg knew what was happening, he kissed her fair and square. Then Mrs. Eichborg's friend was kissed, while a distinct flutter was noticed among the younger beauties.

"I would not take anything for it," proudly said Mrs. Eichborg. "When I congratulated him upon his speech he just threw his arms around my neck and kissed me before I could think. Oh, he's a fine fellow." Until Mr. Carnegie left for the governor's mansion the two ladies who had been kissed were the cynosure of all eyes.

BOY SHOTS BROTHER

for allowing a loaded rifle to remain in the house while he was absent. He said he had not the least idea that the children would play with it, as he kept it in a corner behind the cupboard.

The rifle, which is of 12-gauge caliber, and a shotgun, inclosed in a canvas case, were taken to police headquarters by the detectives.

Both detectives affirmed their intention of acquitting Judge Frazer with the conditions prevailing in the Mable home.
