

GRAY LETS LIGHT INTO PROBLEM

Proposes Amendments to East Third Street Franchise Applications.

WOULD CHANGE ROUTE TO AVOID CONFLICTS

Measure Provides Also for Interchange of Business and Requires O. R. & N. to Build Roadway and Walks and Arrange for Switches.

At a meeting of the joint streets and judiciary and elections committees of the council yesterday, Councilman Gray submitted what is thought to be a solution of the East Third street railway franchise problem by introducing amendments to both the applications of the O. R. & N. Co. and the East Side Belt Line Railway company, by the terms of which the route of the belt line is changed so that it avoids interference with the O. R. & N. on East Third street.

In the amendments offered the route of the belt line is changed to read: "Thence west on Stephens street to Union avenue; thence north on Union avenue to East Ankeny street; thence west on East Ankeny to East Third; thence north on East Third as hereinbefore specified, instead of 'thence west on Stephens street to East Third; thence north on East Third to Pacific street; thence west on Pacific to Occident street; thence north on Occident to the intersection of Multnomah and Ross streets'."

The other amendments offered provide for an interchange of business between the belt line, the O. R. & N., the O. W. F., the Southern Pacific or any other company. The O. R. & N. must, within the next six months, make one, two-foot roadway on East Third street from East Oak street to Hawthorne avenue; it must build sidetracks for manufacturing and mercantile establishments on East Third street between East Oak and East Mill streets and must arrange for switches. There are also provisions regulating the transfer of carload lots to Southern Pacific or Northern Pacific tracks.

Whitney L. Boise said at the meeting that he thought the amendments a happy solution of the problem and the remark was greeted by applause by all line adherents. On behalf of the O. R. & N. W. D. Fenton moved that the matter be laid over two weeks on account of the absence of General Manager O'Brien and this action was taken. Joseph M. Healy, Thomas McCusker, Judge George J. Cameron, William C. Puffer and others interested in the belt line project expressed themselves as pleased with the outlook and said that all the amendments were acceptable, as they would prevent East Third street from being bottled up. Mr. Fenton said that the amendments came as a surprise to him.

His Only Scorch.

A 35-year tenant of the Occidental Hotel building got a hot farewell as he was moving out. There was one tenant in the Occidental Hotel building who had occupied one of the store compartments continuously for 26 years. This was Joe Senosky, and in all that time it is not recorded that he was absent from his shoe shop for any cause at all. Mr. Senosky has sons now in business who were born after he rented the quarters he occupied, one of them being part owner of Baron's shoe store and another engaged in the publishing business. Mr. Senosky has seen great transformations in the business conducted in the building, and in none of the numerous fires that seemed to haunt the place did he suffer any loss, until the one of this week which scorching most of the structure when "all but him had fled." Of all its tenants only the barber and the shoe man remained when the fire broke out, and both lost something by the lively conflagration. Mr. Senosky now has a place in Baron's shoe store, where he is serving his customers as usual.

OLD CHAMPOEG WILL CELEBRATE THE DAY

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Salem, Or., April 14.—The sixty-third anniversary of the adoption of the provisional government for Oregon and the sixth anniversary of the dedication of the monument that marks that historic spot will be fittingly celebrated at old Champeog May 2, under the auspices of E. X. Mathison, c. b. No. 12, Native Sons of Oregon. E. X. Mathison, the venerable survivor of that notable day, will take part in the meeting.
