A SILK SALE EXTRAORDINARY MONSTER BARGAIN SALE OF NEW SILKS

Dollar Silks 49 Cents Yard

Not since Si-Ling, wife of Hoang-Ti, Emperor of China, B.C. 2600, made the first piece of silk in the world, or its first mention among the Greeks by Aristotle (B. C. 384) or since its first cultivation in Europe, A. D. 530, when the first eggs were brought from India by monks, have such values as we shall put forward tomorrow been given by any store—to our knowledge—and we keep posted. The store's buyer of silks is just back from New York where a bit of good fortune befell him that he is anxious to share with you...

BLANKETS At Less Than Manufacturer's Cost of Making

A splendid lot of Blankets—hundreds of pairs—come to us under a contract made months ago with the miller. A price no manufacturer could possibly make them at today under the existing condition of the wool market. Cramped space precludes the mention this Sale deserves. The savings are important indeed. The regular prices quoted below are less than the mill prices today.

Table listing blanket prices: WHITE BLANKETS, Single Bed Sizes, Double Bed Sizes, COLORED BLANKETS. Includes prices for various sizes and materials like Eastern make, Oregon made, etc.
