Preparations for the observance of Memorial day have been made by a memorial committee representing the four G. A. R. posts of Portland. A meeting of the committee was held in the Morrison street Grand Army hall. F. L. Wiegant was selected chairman and D. J. Haynes secretary. Each G. A. R. post was appointed a committee to prepare the graves of veterans for decoration and a committee of three was appointed to arrange a programme for the occasion. Another committee was appointed to select speakers to address the various schools on Friday before Decoration day.

Mrs. Caroline Rasmus, aged 81 years, is dead at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Lena Bradbury, 335 Third street. Her death was due to injuries received about four months ago, when she had a bad fall. Since that time she had been confined to her bed. Her death was hastened by a severe attack of pneumonia. Besides the daughter with whom she lived, Mrs. Rasmus is survived by three children, Rev. Henry I. Rasmus, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church of Spokane; William M. Rasmus of the Western Academy of Music, and John Rasmus of Heppner.

Charles Daniels, composer of "Hiawatha" under the pseudonym of Neil Moret, is in the city with his bride, spending his honeymoon. He leaves today for the east. Mr. Daniels is also the composer of "Moonlight," "Poppies" and other popular pieces. He has just completed a new song, entitled "Autumn," which will soon be on the market. Mr. Daniels has spent some time in viewing the scenic wonders of Oregon.

Henry W. Fries, Mark O'Neill and Martin W. Gorman, appraisers of the estate of the late Colonel L. L. Hawkins, have filed their inventory and appraisement with County Judge Lionel R. Webster. They report that Colonel Hawkins left property valued at $118,174, of which the real property is valued at $60,310. The bulk of the personal property is 272 shares of stock in the Portland General Electric company.

Alleging that she aided her husband in making his little fortune, Katie J. Wilson has sued Joshua E. Wilson for a divorce and asks the court to award her a share of their property. Mrs. Wilson alleges cruelty as grounds for a divorce, declaring that her husband threatened to kill her and that she was forced to take her children and leave. The couple were married in 1894.

Twenty-eight men of foreign birth took out full citizenship papers in the local state circuit court in April. Denmark contributed five, Germany was next with four, Switzerland, Sweden, Austria, Norway, Roumania and Scotland each sent two of the new citizens, while Russia is the fatherland of three, Ireland, Canada, Spain and Italy sent one each.

In the county court yesterday was filed the will of the late Stephen C. Bunting. The property is left to the widow and daughter for life, on the condition that Miss Bunting cares for her mother and does not send her to an asylum. The daughter is also given $150. A nephew, Frank L. Bunting, is given a watch and several other small articles.

A. L. Kronenburg, who recently acquired that portion of the Odd Fellows' tract upon which stands a building intended to be used as an orphans' home, is having the incompleted building torn down preparatory to using the material in the construction of a barn. The structure was partially erected some twenty years ago, but was never completed owing to the fact that another home was built in Portland.

The Milwaukie brass band has removed the old town hall from the school grounds to the lot recently purchased from Richard Scott, and the building is now being fitted up for headquarters. The building was the pioneer schoolhouse of that place, and will be preserved by the band, which is expending about $300 in repairing it.

The Unitarian Woman's Alliance will meet in the Unitarian chapel tomorrow afternoon and after a business session commencing at 2 o'clock Miss Jessie Goddard, teacher at the high school, will deliver a talk on the subject "The Charm of Henry W. Longfellow's Poems."

Oswald Lohan, German consul in Portland, left last night for San Francisco, where he will spend some time assisting the consul at that city. After completing his work there he will go to Europe on a trip for five months. During his absence the German consul at Seattle will have charge of the local office.

E. S. Cole of St. Johns heard yesterday from Emuel Johnson, a San Francisco refugee, for whom he inquired through The Journal. Johnson is now in a town near the ruined city. He is uninjured but lost everything he had except a few pictures.

If you have real estate for sale at reasonable prices it will be to your advantage to see F. Abraham at 113 Second street. Established 16 years. He knows how to get the buyers and sells strictly on commission.

President W. H. Snashall of the Farmers' Independent Telephone line of Multnomah and Clackamas counties, has placed the first order for wire, and construction work will be begun at once. An extensive system of lines has been planned. The company has been having trouble getting men to do its work and the delivery of poles ordered has been slow, but it is expected that from this time there will be no trouble. The farmers are enthusiastic over the project and hope to put a telephone on every farm and ranch in the two counties.

This world is full of honey if we'll only be the bees,
And sip it from the blossoms of the clovers and the trees.
Oh, why will human beings all their hours fume and fret,
Fearing there may be a pleasure of the world they will not get?

As for us, we just keep busy as the busy, busy ant,
And in our vocabulary there is no such word as "can't."
Every day we're washing linen at six humble cents a pound,
And thus making others happy, pleasure for ourselves we've found.

Oh, there's nothing like the gladness that fills up the human heart,
Born of the perfect knowledge that each one has done his part.
So we gather in the morning and distribute ere it's night,
Banishing both gloom and sadness—filling homes with pure delight.

SOUTH PORTLAND WINS FIGHT

Council Liquor License Committee Recommends Taking Away Eschle's License.

FOUR HUNDRED FEET FROM HOLMAN SCHOOL

Dan Malarkey Makes Long Plea for Saloonkeeper, Arguing That He Should Be Given Chance to Fight Case in Courts.

August Eschle, who conducts a saloon in violation of the city charter at 1070 Corbett street, within 400 feet of the block on which the Holman school is located, will have his liquor license taken from him if the recommendations of the liquor license committee of the city council are approved by the council tomorrow night. Attorney E. C. Bronaugh and other citizens of South Portland who are opposed to the location of the saloon in their neighbrhood, and especially so near the school building, have been attempting to persuade the council to act. The liquor interests, however, have been making a determined fight to prevent any action on the part of the committee, on the ground that Eschle would have no opportunity to resort to the courts if the council took away his license. On the other hand they say if he retained his license the people who desired to rid the commmunity of the saloon could bring a suit against the proprietor and the city council for permitting the resort to run in violation of the city charter.

Attorney Dan J. Malarkey made a long plea yesterday in Eschle's behalf. He begged the committee not to take away the license but to permit him to run his saloon and force the objectors to resort to the courts if they desired the place removed. Malarkey argued that there was a question whether the saloon came under the provisions of the charter, as it was more than 400 feet away from the school property.

Attorney Bronaugh argued that the word "block" in the charter meant the block or parcel of land bounded by four streets on which a school building was located and was equivalent in its nature to a whole city block, whether owned by the school district or not.

"Is not this school building and are not the school children of this city of more consequence to this committee than a saloon?" he inquired. "We have come here day after day to argue with you and plead with you for the protection of our school children. To my mind this resolves itself into a question whether laws are passed to be enforced or whether they can be changed or overridden to suit conveniences."

When a vote on the question was taken all voted to take away the license except Councilman Annand. Gray could not vote, as he was chairman of the committee.

It is said that a minority report will be presented to the council meeting tomorrow night recommending that the license be not revoked and it is expected that another argument will be made by the opposing factions at that time.

PUPILS WITH LONG NAMES BOTHER TEACHERS

Colony of Russian Youth Seek Instruction at the Failing School.

A small colony of Russian school children who cannot speak or understand English has invaded the lower grades of the Failing school and crowded the rooms for the beginners to overflowing. So many made their appearance that for several days eight or ten of the newcomers were compelled to sit on the floor in one room until additional seats could be secured for them.

The teachers also had their hands full. The little Russians looked stolidly at their instructors and smiled when they attempted to teach them. Finally an appeal was made to Superintendent Rigler and he added another half-pay teacher to the force in the school to instruct the little foreigners.

At the next meeting of the school board a principal for the new east side high school will be elected. Further use of oil for oiling floors in the school buildings will be discontinued. Sawdust dampened with a solution of bichloride of mercury, a receipt recommended by Health Officer Wheeler, will hereafter be used in cleaning the floors of the school rooms.

Miss Kate Gordon succeeded last night in securing permission of the board to address the teachers on the question of woman suffrage after the next grade meetings.

Permission was granted the teachers and pupils to raise a relief fund in the public schools for the San Francisco sufferers. Heretofore the board has never permitted funds to be collected from pupils for any charity.

Patrolman Stark Lytle was ordered suspended 15 days without pay, from April 15, for becoming intoxicated while on duty.

A reprimand was administered to Patrolman Charles Porter, who was accused of intoxication while off duty.

Patrolman H. A. Galbraith was mildly censured for using harsh language toward Leonard Brock. The policeman's attention was directed to the rules of the department.

Simple Way to Cure Catarrh by Hyomei Without Stomach Dosing.

It is the height of folly to dose the stomach with internal medicines to cure nasal catarrh. It cannot be cured except the catarrhal germs that are present in the nose, throat and lungs have first been killed.

Direct local treatment by breathing Hyomei through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, is absolutely necessary to kill the catarrhal germs and prevent their growth and formation.

The soothing air of Hyomei heals the smarting and raw membrane of the air passages in the nose, throat and lungs, kills off the catarrhal germs and rids the system of the last traces of catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit consists of a hard rubber inhaler which can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs only one dollar, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents, thus making it the most economical treatment for the cure of catarrh, as well as the most reliable.

Woodard, Clarke & Co. positively guarantee a cure when Hyomei is used in accordance with the simple directions on the package, or they will refund the money. This certainly shows their faith and belief in the virtues of Hyomei.

If not convenient to obtain Hyomei at Woodard, Clarke & Co., or some other druggist, it will be forwarded from the laboratory by mail on receipt of price. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei bldg., Ithaca, New York.
