(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., May 7.—Dell L. McCarty, a member of the class of '04, whose home is at Pendleton, has been appointed to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of F. L. Stockwell. The selection will be ratified by the athletic council in a few days and then McCarty will be in line for the position of manager next year.

POOR BOY SOLD AT AUCTION NOW RICHEST MAN IN TOWN

(Journal Special Service.) Danbury, N. H., May 7.—By the purchase of valuable farm property here this week Dexter J. Perkins became Danbury's heaviest taxpayer. Perkins was one of the last town charges sold under the old pitiless system of auctioning off little boys. That was 50 years ago. He was one of six children. His mother died and his father being ill and unable to provide for his little flock, appealed to the selectmen. The auction of the lad was advertised by the town crier throughout the village as a town charge.

FORGES HIS OWN NAME TO CHECK TO PAY WAGER LOST

(Journal Special Service.) Pittsburg, May 7.—Whether or not a man can forge his own name is a question the local courts have to decide. All clubmen in Pittsburg are taking a case which grew out of a pool game played at the Duquesne club between Byron Robertson, a wealthy iron broker, and Kennedy Ewing, equally well known and wealthy. The game had been going for some time and was getting slow, when one player suggested they play 25 points for $1,000. Ewing lost the game and he promptly drew his check for $1,000 on the second National bank.

STATE ROAD LAW IS CENSURED

Lewis County Pomona Grange Holds Enthusiastic Meeting at Cowlitz, Wash.

EQUITABLE TOWNSHIP STATUTE IS DEMANDED

Change in the Method of Electing County Commissioners So That Only Electors Residing in a District Can Vote Is Asked.

(Journal Special Service.) Winlock, Wash., May 7.—The Lewis County Pomona Grange has closed its second day's session at Cowlitz, five miles east of this place. The attendance was unusually large and enthusiastic. Matters of local and state interest were taken up and discussed, the farmers proving that they are close students of political movements and current events, and many of them displayed marked talent as speakers and reasoners.

UNCLE SAM ENGAGES IN CEMENT MANUFACTURE

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, May 7.—The irrigation policy is driving the United States government into the cement-making business. It has been making cement in a quiet way and seems likely to extend operations in that line. To construct the dams for the 24 irrigation projects under way in the far west the government is either compelled to ship cement from Europe or from the far eastern seaboard or manufacture its own product.

TO SOON BEGIN WORK ON HOT LAKE HOTEL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hot Lake, Or., May 7.—Architect J. V. Barnes of Baker City, who has the $100,000 contract for building the new hotel at Hot Lake, is completing the plans and has called for bids for sub-contractors and will begin construction work June 1.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Ashland, Or., May 7.—A collision at Chico yesterday delayed all trains. Two sections of No. 16 passed through here at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

TUNNELS COST MILLIONS

Fourteen Tubes Being Constructed Under Hudson and East Rivers That Are Experiments.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, May 7.—One hundred million dollars are being expended in New York City on an experiment that nobody is certain will be wholly successful. Fourteen tunnels are in course of construction under the Hudson and East rivers to give Manhattan island direct connection with adjoining shores. Master minds of the engineering world are directing the work. They feel confident of results, but they have no precedents to guide them, nor certainty that conditions of today will be the same tomorrow deep under the rivers.

MILLMEN AND RAILROADS DIFFER IN OPINION

Proposed New Lumber Rate Is Causing Much Agitation Among Factory Men.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., May 7.—A committee of lumber manufacturers here has had a conference with Henry Blakely, general manager of the Northern Pacific, relative to the new tariffs, which the manufacturers declare will destroy the wood working factories of the northwest.

OLDEST BAPTIST IS AT THE CENTURY MARK

(Journal Special Service.) Windham Center, Conn., May 7.—Miss Caroline Brown, who is believed to be the oldest Baptist in America, celebrated her one hundredth birthday today at her home here, near a quiet spot in this town. Miss Brown was born in Lisbon, Connecticut, May 7, 1806, and there she spent the greater part of her life.

TELEGRAPHERS' UNION IN BIENNIAL MEETING

(Journal Special Service.) Cincinnati, May 7.—Three hundred delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada were present today at the opening of the biennial convention of the Union of Commercial Telegraph Operators. President S. J. Small of Chicago is presiding over the sessions, which probably will continue a week or 10 days, as a number of matters of importance to the order are to come up for discussion and action.

GOVERNMENT VICTORIOUS IN FRENCH ELECTIONS

(Journal Special Service.) Paris, May 7.—The general election passed off quietly yesterday, most of the former deputies being reelected. An extraordinary number of second ballots will be necessary in Paris. The present vote gives the opposition a majority, but the second ballot on May 12 is expected to reproduce the results of the 1902 election. The government has so far gained one seat in Paris and 18 seats in France.

TEN MILES GRADED FOR GRAND RONDE TROLLEY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., May 7.—The Central Railroad company, which is building a belt line through the Grand Ronde valley, now has 10 miles of the grade completed and the grading forces are now working less than a mile from Cove. A large number of ties are now coming out of the timber, and the force is being increased as rapidly as men can be secured for the work. The Central company is making good as rapidly as right of way can be secured and men can be had to do the work. It is the intention of the company to have the road so far completed that it will be able to handle the greater part of the fruit crop this season.
