

INDIAN GIRL MET FATHER BY FATHER

After Remaining in Depot Alone All Day She is Found by Her Relative.

CRIES WITH DELIGHT WHEN HE APPEARS

Story in The Journal Meets Father's Eye—He Goes Quickly to Depot and Finds His Daughter—Did Not Know She Was Coming.

Mabel Hood, the 8-year-old Indian girl who traveled across the continent alone and sat in silence at the union depot here all day yesterday, refusing to eat or talk to white people, was made happy last night by the appearance at the depot of her father, Charles Hood. The latter did not know that his daughter was coming, but happening to be in Portland and seeing the story of her plight in The Journal, he immediately rushed to the depot and found her. When the father stepped in the door of the waiting-room the little girl's bright eyes spied him instantly. For the first time during the day she broke her stolid silence with an exclamation of delight uttered in her own native language, rushed to her father, wrapped her arms about his neck and cried in childish happiness. She loosed her tongue and poured a torrent of words into the father's ears, telling of her long and lonely trip across the country from the Carlisle Indian school in Pennsylvania. This morning the happy child and father took the early train to the father's ranch near Klamath Falls.

It was late in the evening before the father discovered his daughter. The little girl had sat about the waiting-room all day refusing to touch a mouthful of food and declining all assistance offered her by the women of the Travelers' Aid. Night came and still no father appeared. Sleep made her eyelids heavy but she seemed to feel that some one would come and she remained awake. Just as the Travelers' Aid was about to take her to a place of shelter for the night her father appeared.

Mr. Hood, who is a well educated and wealthy Indian, left his home in Klamath Falls before the message telling him that his daughter was coming reached there. He came to Portland on business and knew nothing about the arrival of the child until he bought an Evening Journal and saw the story of her predicament.

Little Mabel has been in ill health for some time past and she was sent to Oregon in hope that the climate would improve her condition. Mr. Hood told the women of the Travelers' Aid that as soon as he reached home he proposed to take a team and wagon and take his daughter on an overland trip through southern California and return home in the fall. He believes an outing of this sort will do more than anything else to restore her health.

DREDGE MEN TO GET MORE PAY

Port of Portland Votes Them Increase in Wages From First of May.

BIDS ARE INVITED FOR SHORE PIPE

Formal Acceptance of Port's Franchise for Bridge to Be Constructed Across Willamette by Seattle & Portland Railway Company.

All of the employees of the dredges Columbia and Portland are to receive a raise in wages dating from May 1. This action was taken at the regular meeting of the Port of Portland commission held yesterday. Captain A. L. Pease recommended that the regular pay of the employees for more be granted, and it was so ordered without any discussion. Superintendent Groves receives an increase of $25 per month and the foreman of the dredge Columbia has $15 added to his salary. J. H. Beeve, captain of the tug McCracken, will draw $100 instead of $80 and the foreman of the dredge Portland is to have $15 more. The pay of the mate was likewise increased $15 and an additional offer of $50 was provided for. Each of the foremen, deckhands and woodworkers is to receive $5 more a month.

A formal acceptance of the Port of Portland's franchise for the bridge to be constructed across the Willamette near St. Johns was filed by the Seattle & Portland Railway Company. Secretary Maher was instructed to secure bids for furnishing fuel to the dredges at the expiration of the contract with the Hamilton-Vesey Fuel company. Owing to a delay of two days in the dredging operations at the Portland Flour mills a reduction on the bill for the use of the dredge Columbia was ordered made in that corporation. Bids were invited for furnishing 2,000 feet of shore pipe for the dredge Columbia upon the request of Engineer Lockwood. Permission was granted to the Home Telephone Company to lay a submarine cable across the river and for the use of one of the dredges in this work. No action was taken on the application of Captain Conway of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company for $1.50 damages alleged to have been sustained by the schooner Crescent while being towed down the river by the tug Harvest Queen. Superintendent Groves has already presented a bill to Captain Conway of $60 for the sinking of a pennant buoy by the schooner.

MORE DUTY ON FLOUR.

Local shoppers say that the increase of 10 cents a barrel on the duty of flour to be levied by the Japanese government will not materially affect the local situation. The present rate is 55 cents per barrel and the new schedule goes into effect on October 1. The wheat supply has been exhausted here and consequently there is no flour on hand for export, even if it were desired to run several barrels to Japan before the inauguration of the new rate. The increase is to be made to raise additional revenue for the purpose of paying off some of the indebtedness contracted during the war with Russia.

QUITS THE SERVICE.

Pomeroy Leaves Transportation Work to Run for Sheriff. Owing to the fact that M. R. Pomeroy, agent of the Vancouver Transportation company at Astoria, has received the Republican nomination for sheriff of Clatsop county, he has severed his connection with the steamship company and C. M. Fowler, purser of the steamer Lurline, has been appointed to succeed him. John Moran, freight clerk, has been promoted to the position vacated by Fowler and Paul McCann of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company and formerly clerk at the Arlington club, takes Moran's place.

NICOMEDIA SAILS.

Steamer Departs for Hongkong With Very Valuable Cargo. The steamer Nicomedia sailed this morning for Hongkong via Yokohama with a cargo valued at $1,200,000, consisting of 20,000 barrels of flour, cotton, nails, lumber and general merchandise. Captain Meisner, who succeeded Captain Wagemann owing to the latter's illness, went in command of the vessel. The Numantis left Yokohama 10 days ago and is due here next week.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

The schooner Alvina has been towed from St. Helens to the Tongue Point mills by the Harvest Queen to finish loading a cargo of ties. Information was received from Keeper P. W. Harrison this morning that the post light on St. Helens Jetty is not in service on account of the high water. The water was within two feet of the post and the light was in danger of being swept away by a mass of wreckage which had accumulated just above.

United States Inspectors Edwards and Fuller leave for Yaquina bay tomorrow morning to inspect the steamer T. M. Richardson. They returned from Astoria last evening and will inspect the steamer tomorrow.

FIRST SENATORIAL PRIMARY HELD IN TENNESSEE

Democrats to Decide Whether to Return Carmack or Former Governor Taylor.

(Journal Special Service.) Nashville, Tenn., May 11.—The first senatorial primary in the history of Tennessee will be held tomorrow, and the Democrats will decide whether to return Edward M. Carmack to the senate, or to displace him with ex-Governor Robert L. Taylor. The outcome of the race is doubtful in the extreme. Both sides apparently are confident of victory.

Ex-Governor Taylor is one of the most prominent Democratic leaders of Tennessee, and is the only man who has been honored with the governorship three times since the war. He has been a candidate for the senate three times before, but always before the legislative general assembly. This time he has been honored with the primary and his supporters believe this will help him along to victory. But despite the fact that ex-Governor
