Committee on Permanent Location of Chinatown Fails to Find Any Suitable Site.

CHINESE MINISTER TO SETTLE THE DISPUTE

Hunter's Point Rejected and Waterfront Region Unsatisfactory-All Would Return to Old Location and Have It Rebuilt.

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, May 12.—The commit-tee on permanent location of Chinatown has about made up its mind that the task of establishing a new site for the Chinese quarters is involved in complex difficulties, and that it will be impos-sible to make the Chinese establish themselves in any location against their will.

At a meeting of the committee of 40. A. Ruef, chairman of the Chinatown committee, announced that the commit-tee had been working diligently, but in the face of considerable antagonism. the face of considerable antigonism. He said that a meeting of the Chinese had been held the previous day, and that they decided they would not move from their former locations in the burned dis-trict. Rusef added that there was no way to prevent them from returning to their old quarters except through the exercise of arbitrary restrictions or il-legal discriminations, which was far-thest from the thoughts of the commit-ies and all interests concerned. The Chinese declared they would not ronsider the proposed site at Hunter's Point, which, in the committee's opin-tori, was the most ideal from a sanitary, climatic and commercial point of view. Rusef asid the committee had decided so recommend a location in the northern pection of the town, in the hope that the Chinese would agree to scorpt it. This Camese would agree to accept it. This Bocality is within the district bounded by Sameome and Front streets, north of Pacific to the bay. It was decided to postpone action on the éntire question until the arrival of the Chinese minister from Washington on May 16.

STATE CONVENTION NAMING MEN WHO KNOW SAY STATE PRINTER SENATORIAL CANDIDATE

Opposition to Senator Wetmore in Rhode Island Culminates in Popular Action.

(Journal Special Service.) Providence, R. I. May 12.—Demo-strats and others opposed to the repub-lican control of Rhode Island met in state convention today to choose a can-didate for United States senator to suc-ceed George P. Wetmore, whose term expires with the conclusion of the pres-ent ession.

ent session. The convention is the first of its kind ever held in Rhode Island. Owing to the peculiar registration provisions the Democrats determined this year to force the fighting and decided upon the novel expedient of selecting their can-didate in advance of the election of the members of the legislature and appeal-ing to the people to support him against any candidate the Republicans may se-lect.

In the coming election voters of Ore-tion will have opportunity to so amend net-a very flattering compensation for a printer to whom $25 a week looked on will the state constitutionance of the huge excuse for a continuance of the huge graft in the state printer's office. As nights d prior to that time chances are exceedingly bright of win-ning the seat in the senate, Senator Weimore is a candidate for re-election. mighty good prior to that time. I thought then that a decent respect for the taxpayers of Oregon should prompt the legislature to place the state printer on a fair salary and save to the state excuse for a continuance of the huge graft in the state printer's office. As the constitution now stands, it provides that the compensation of the state printer shall not be increased nor di-minished during the term for which he shall have been elected. This provision has been made the excuse at successive measions of the legislature for failing to exact a law placing the state printer on Wetmore is a candidate for re-election, but he is opposed by a triple alliance in his own party, consisting of three millionaires—Senator Nelson W. Ald-rich, Colonel Samuel P. Colt and Mar-den J. Perry. It is expected that Col-onel Colt will be named for the senate and the Democrats are of the opinion that the split thus caused in the re-publican ranks will revert to their ben-efit. the unusual profits of the office, but it was argued that (quoting the constitu-tion of the state as it now stands) "the rates to be paid him shall neither be in-oreased nor diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected"; ensities of the legislature for failing to enact a law placing the state printer on a flat salary, as has been done in the case of other state officials. The pro-posed amendment provides that the state for which he shall have been elected ; so the legislature did nothing (quot-ing a certain chairman of one of the joint committees on printing): What-ever is done will not affect the present incumbent. And thus the greatest printer's compensation may be regu-lated at any time by act of the legised in con nection with the Democratic-Indepen nomination. One of these is ex-Gov-ernor Lucius E. C. Garvin, who origsinecure within the memory of the old-est inhabitant has continued. HAS GREATEST SINECURE Editor of The Journal—I have read with some interest in the columns of The Journal several articles regarding the state printing and the large profits that are made out of it by the state printer. As there is now a genuine opportunity and a sincere effort on the part of the taxpayers to cut these excessive legal allowances down, perhaps I can give facts germane to the agitation over an amendment to Oregon's constitution, allowing the legislature or the people to regulate the state printer's office at any time, to be voted on by the people at the general effection next month. (Spec'al Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendision Or. May 12 The Humatilla County Development league convention which is being held in this city today is well attended and the convention is a rousing success. The matter of agitat-ing better irrigation laws was brought up in the meeting, as Umatilla county is one of the leading irrigation districts in the state. The following program is being carried out: Judge Stephen A. Lowell, "Columbia River Basin Irrigation Interests"; Dr. C. J. Smith, "Agricultural Fair"; A. L. Craig, "Immigration and Advertising"; William McMurray, "Local Meetings and Their Results"; State Engineer John H. Lewis, "Irrigation Interests in Ore-son", Justice T. G. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) John Day, Or., May 12.—A reminder of the lats winter weather of March was observed by Senator Laylock on his farm near town. In looking over his left-over hay he discovered a mutitude of dead birds, mostly meadow larks, snow birds and robins, lying in heaps and rows along the edge of the stack and piled up on the ground near by. It is believed that the little birds had crawled into the hay for shelter as far as possible, and had there starved and frozen to death. The little creatures were piled up on each other in heaps numbering thousands. It is believed that pests will be much more troublesome this sea-son, than heretofore as the birds are far more scarce on this account. Dr. Reavis had been a resident of this city for a number of years practicing his profession of dentistry. He was 29 years of age and leaves a widow and one child, a girl aged 7, also three broth-er, two of whom reside in Walls Walls and one in Hood River, and his father, who resides in Wallows county.

Dear Sirs :- "I have suffered more than twenty years from Indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. My heart would beat so fast I could not sleep, at times I would almost draw double with pain in the pit of my stomach. I lost twenty-five pounds; in fact, I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I consented to try it to please him and I was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited." Yours very truly,

JAKE C. MOORE.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only digestant or combination of digestants that will digest all classes of food. In addition to this fact, it contains, in assimilative form, the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. All other digestants and dyspepsia rem-edies digest certain classes of food only, and are lacking in reconstructive properties.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is prepared at the laboratory of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, and is sold by leading druggists everywhere.
