

FILES PROVE GOVERNOR SAVED THE REFERENDUM

Legislators Hostile to Popular Supervision of Their Work Introduced Over a Hundred Bills That Had Clause Attached

If proof of the claim that Governor Chamberlain saved the referendum to the voters of Oregon is needed it can be found in abundance in the bill files of the last legislature. During the session of 1905 more than one hundred bills with the emergency clause attached were introduced in the senate and house. Many of the measures mentioned were of minor importance, in no way necessary to the "immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety," but their originators insisted that an emergency clause be attached to the bills excepted from submission to the voters piled up day by day. It became evident that an organized effort was on foot to nullify the referendum law, and on January 18, 1905, Governor Chamberlain warned the legislature that no such juggling with the constitution would be permitted. This stemmed the tide, but it required numerous votes, another warning message and a firm stand against emergency clauses before the legislature bucked down and agreed to leave the way open for the people to invoke the referendum.

Some of the Bills.
Among the bills to which the emergency clause was attached when they made their appearance in the legislature were the following:
S. B. 27—Authorizing the transfer of estates in guardianship from one county court to another.
S. B. 28—Amending the statute relating to the registration of titles to real property.
S. B. 29—Appropriating money to compensate volunteers in Indian wars of 1855-56.
S. B. 47—Providing for infliction of corporal punishment upon persons found guilty of wife-beating.
S. B. 48—Empowering executors and administrators to execute deeds or conveyances in cases where a deceased person had executed a bond for deed.
S. B. 49—Declaring the time when any tax levied for any purpose by any county shall be conclusively deemed to have been paid.
S. B. 75—Defining and regulating the treatment and control of dependent, neglected and delinquent children.
S. B. 74—Providing for the punishment of persons responsible for or contributing to the delinquency of children.
S. B. 81—Amending statute relative to investigations by grand juries.
S. B. 85—Amending act incorporating the city of John Day.
S. B. 94—Applying the death penalty to any person holding up a train, stage coach or farmers' wagon with intent to rob or destroy or injure the same, or for holding up an individual with intent to rob or injure said individual.
S. B. 118—Providing for construction, repair and maintenance of county roads and levying assessment on lands benefited thereby.
S. B. 136—Establishing the bureau of mines.
S. B. 146—Amending act incorporating the city of Astoria.
S. B. 158—Fixing salaries of prosecuting attorneys for first and second prosecuting attorney districts.
S. B. 198—Prohibiting sale or gift of cigarettes.
S. B. 213—Suppressing poolrooms and policy shops.
S. B. 236—Creating office of deputy constable in Portland district.
S. B. 241—Amending act incorporating city of McMinnville.
Senate's Elastic Definition.
The foregoing gives a clear idea of the senate's elastic definition of the word emergency. Somehow all manner of things were considered necessary to the "immediate preservation of the pub-

D. Chambers, 129 Seventh street, city.
Dear Sir: The glasses which you fitted me with have relieved my eyesight more than any I have worn for the last 16 years. As I stated to you when I consulted you, I could not read for more than 10 minutes without my eyes aching, and I had consulted three other eye specialists in Portland before coming to you, without obtaining any relief. The glasses you gave me relieved my eyes at once and I can now read for several hours without feeling them strained. I thank you the more as I came to you on the condition of no cure no pay. Yours truly,
P. R. RITCHIE.

WORKMEN DEMAND CONSTITUTION

Scene Created in Douma by Representative of Labor Who Demands Reforms.

BOLD PROTEST AGAINST WHOLE OF CZAR'S SPEECH

Demand Summoning of Popular Assembly for Establishment of Government—Leaders Fail in Suppressing Demonstration

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Petersburg, May 17.—Workmen's representatives in the douma today attacked the draft of the reply to the czar. They declared that the document was not strong enough to meet the situation, and in words unheeded the delegates declared that the douma should reply protesting against the whole of the czar's address and demanding the summoning of a popular assembly for the establishment of a constitution. This must be done first, the workmen claim. Conservative leaders in the douma made strenuous efforts to quiet the demonstration, but failed to silence the workmen.
The reply of parliament to the speech from the throne is regarded as exceedingly radical throughout the empire, and will probably precipitate a conflict with the czar, although not near strong enough to suit the revolutionary leaders.
In hopes of avoiding a conflict, it is stated that Emperor Nicholas will recede from his position to the extent that he is willing to grant political amnesty and to replace the Goremynin ministry with a cabinet chosen from among the conservative members of the douma. He is willing to permit the douma to select a premier.

EUGENE'S MAYOR SETS DATE TO CLEAN CITY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., May 17.—Eugene will have a cleaning-up day on Friday, May 25. Mayor Wilkins has issued the following proclamation:
"To the Citizens and Residents of Eugene—Friday, May 25, has been set apart for cleaning-up day in Eugene and I would recommend that all citizens clean up their premises in a manner befitting our home city. This is a day we can not afford to pass by and a work that should be neglected. Let us set the example by cleaning up our city as it has never been cleaned before. I would urge that the public schools be dismissed for that day and the children urged to take active part in this excellent work."
Mrs. Boyer took the poison about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and was found in misery a short time afterward by her little boy, whose screams attracted Frank Hale, a neighbor. He rushed for a doctor, but the latter arrived too late. She was dying when the doctor got there. She leaves a husband and three little children. Mr. Boyer was formerly a saloonman in this city, but lately has been running a skating rink in London. The cause for committing suicide is not known. The family was apparently a peaceable and happy one.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BOYER IS HELD AT HEPPNER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Heppner, Or., May 17.—The funeral of Mrs. J. C. Boyer was held at Heppner yesterday by taking a large dose of strychnine, took place at the Methodist church here yesterday.

HARRIMAN REPLEVINS MERCEDES AUTOMOBILE

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, May 17.—Edward H. Harriman replevined a 48-horsepower Mercedes automobile, valued at $40,000, from the shop of L. Burghardt and F. Saant-hoffer, where it was sent for repairs in January last, when the doctor got executed the writ of replevin and took the automobile to another garage for keeping. The bill for repairs was $1,787, which Harriman deemed excessive and declined to pay. He said he was willing to pay a reasonable bill, but the concern refused to accept less than the sum demanded or deliver the automobile until the bill was paid. Harriman gave bond for $20,000 indemnity to the sheriff.

WITHCOMBE HAS SMALL CROWD AT PENDLETON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., May 17.—The Republican rally in this city last night was attended by 200 people. Dr. Withcombe was the principal speaker. Accompanied by Walter Toomey, he left today for eastern Oregon. Local speakers last night were Judge W. R. Ellis, candidate for congress, and Judge S. A. Lowell.
The principal burden of Dr. Withcombe's address was his long residence in Oregon. No outside people were here, and the audience was made up entirely of local people. While the meeting was fairly well attended, it did not have any features of a rally.

CRUSADERS FOR CITY

bers of the fire department will supervise the burning of this trash to see that there is no danger of damaging fires.

Directions Are Given.
The following announcement, issued by President McKenna of the general committee this morning, gives directions and instructions as to how the work is to be carried on. Appended to it is a list of the ward committeemen or superintendents who will direct the work in their respective districts:
Everybody is requested to begin work promptly at 1 o'clock Friday, May 18. School children will please report at home to their parents for duty immediately after being dismissed. Captains elected by the schools will see that all unburnable debris is put in piles not closer together than one pile in front of each block and where practicable put in sacks, boxes or barrels for quick handling by wagons. Captains of schools will also report to the ward committeemen whose names are given below in this article, where cards and wagons are needed. Every expressman and every business house that has delivery-wagons are requested to help by furnishing one or more vehicles to cart away rubbish. Such volunteer help is requested to report to the committeeman in the ward in which the volunteer lives or does business. We hope that every parent will endeavor to have a bonfire near his home at sundown for the enjoyment of his children. We all know how children delight in bonfires.

Ward Committeemen.
First ward—Louis Kuhn, Preston's drug store, Twenty-third and Thurman streets, Maine 1616.
Second ward—George W. Hoyt, Sixteenth and Gilliam.
Third ward—J. J. Selling, on Stark street in front of Public Library.

This $24 Solid Oak Table $17.00
$1.00 Down—50c a Week

No. 520. The above cut was made from a photo of this beautiful table and is therefore a good illustration of the article. The top is of quarter-sawn oak, beautifully flaked, wax filled, hand-rubbed and perfectly polished. It is supported by five shapely turned and fluted legs five inches in diameter. It is 48 inches across the top, is massively built of solid oak, showing an exceptionally fine top—matching of the grain being almost perfect. Additional leaves allow it to be lengthened to eight feet. Without doubt it is the finest table bargain ever offered in Portland.

FINED FOR SPEARING FISH AT HERMISTON DAM

New Ladder Now Completed and Many of Finny Tribe Will Be Spared.

(Journal Special Service.)
Echo, Or., May 17.—Charles Stevens of Hermiston was arrested on complaint of Deputy Fish Warden O. F. Turner of Pendleton for spearing fish below the Hermiston dam. He was taken in custody with the speared fish in his possession and taken before Justice of the Peace Estah of Echo, who fined him $10 and costs. Mr. Turner and his assistant yesterday completely rebuilt the fish ladder at Hermiston on the Umatilla river and in addition constructed a wing dam, thus affording the fish an opportunity to get over the dam, which they have been totally unable to do up to this time.
Thousands of the fish have died at the dam from beating themselves to death and from carrying their spawn too long. J. F. McNaught, manager of the company, declares the old ladder was built accurately according to the instructions of the state fish warden, but nevertheless it has been useless.

GRAYS HARBOR LUMBERMEN TO FIGHT RAILROADS

Bitter Fight Against New Freight Rules Recently Promulgated.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Aberdeen, May 17.—A bitter fight against the new freight rules recently promulgated by the transcontinental railroads will be put up by the lumbermen of Grays Harbor. It has been demonstrated that the shippers cannot get the necessary amount of lumber into the space specified, and they are prepared to fight for the life of the industry that they have worked so hard and long to build up.
At a meeting of the Grays Harbor Lumber association held recently, strong resolutions were unanimously adopted demanding that minimums shall be reduced so that dry lumber or shingles of sufficient weight can be loaded in any car to weigh up to the minimum demanded, and that whatever minimum is placed on any car by the railway company's rules, actual weight shall govern when the car is loaded to its full visible capacity.
The association is prepared to contribute funds for a legal contest.
