

ASHEN PALOR ON GOVERNOR SPEAKS PONTIFF'S FACE ON INITIATIVE

His Holiness is a Very Sick Man—Fever is Increasing and Doctors Are Worried.
TOLD HE MUST TAKE A PROTRACTED VACATION
Pope Has Suffered Several Sharp Attacks of Heart Failure and It is Feared at Vatican That He is Not Long to Live.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal)
Rome, May 19.—The pope's fever is increasing and this has added to the anxiety of his doctors. His doctors have insisted upon being allowed to nurse him. The pope was stricken with a sudden attack of heart failure today and Dr. Lippini, the physician to the Vatican, was hurriedly summoned. The physician administered restoratives, after which the pope revived. Dr. Lippini has ordered that his holiness must take a complete rest. The pontiff's condition is causing his entourage great uneasiness. His holiness has been suffering since Thursday of gout in the right knee. Despite his illness he received a number of Dominican friars in audience a few days ago.

His holiness is a very sick man. His face has assumed an ashen pallor, is lined in every direction with deep furrows, and instead of the bristliness which formerly characterized his movement, he now seems to drag himself wearily. There is a painful impression at the Vatican that he has not long to live.

Plus X has suffered several attacks of heart failure since his elevation. It is known for some time that he has a weak heart. The close confinement of the Vatican, after the tranquil life at Venice before his elevation has not agreed with his health. It is reported that he has suffered have always been regarded as due to overwork and the lack of exercise.

August 21, 1905, shortly after the pope's election, he collapsed at mass while administering the communion to a delegation of Venetian pilgrims. He soon recovered from the fainting fit, however. This, and the fact that he had knowledge of the world had the pontiff's weakness.

In December the same year he suffered an attack of gout. In February, 1904, his holiness' health was so unsatisfactory that Dr. Venetia, his family physician at Venice, was summoned to examine him, as the pope believed Dr. Lippini might not fully understand his case. In November, 1904, the pontiff was reported as having suffered another attack of heart failure. On December 11, the same year, he almost fainted in church at the ceremony of the canonization of Saints Marcella and Sulpice.

ALASKA-YUKON EXPOSITION OFFICERS ELECTED

J. E. Chilberg Chosen President—State University Grounds To Be Site.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
Seattle, May 19.—J. E. Chilberg was tonight elected president of the Alaska-Yukon exposition to be held in Seattle in the summer of 1907. Mr. Chilberg is president of the Chilberg company that erected the Alaska building in Seattle, a 14-story skyscraper. His nomination, as was those of the other officials, was unanimous.

It was feared for a time that his business interests would make it impossible for him to take the position.

The other officers elected are: I. A. Nadeau, director-general; W. M. Sheffield, secretary; A. S. Kerr, vice-president; John H. McGraw, vice-president; Ex-Mayor H. A. Ballinger, vice-president; C. R. Collins, treasurer. It is believed that the campus of the State university will be secured as the exposition grounds.

Mr. Chilberg will shortly appoint an executive committee of five that will devote their time to getting the preliminary work of the exposition under way.

CRUSHED TO DEATH IN REAR END COLLISION

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal)
New York, May 19.—One man was crushed to death and three injured in a rear end collision between the Luna Park express and a local of the Sea Beach line, 200 feet from the bridge over Conner Island creek.

The dead: George Forman, address unknown. A moment after the crash, fire sprang from the motor boxes of the cars and panic seized the men, women and children crowded in the cars. In the midst of the horror employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit snatched the lifeless body of their victim from the ruins of a platform, hurried into a car and rushed it to the terminal of the road, and not until the police went to the place in force and peremptorily demanded the return of the corpse was it placed in charge of the proper authorities.

Following the body snatching, not only lumber servants of the road but the general superintendent worked like trojans to whisk the injured and the witnesses away.

CONDEMN GRAFT ON STATE SCHOOL FUNDS
Advocates Forestry Protection Measures, but Refuses to Permit Legislation to Pile Up Claims Against the State—Greeted by Big Crowd.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
Gilliam, Or., May 19.—Threatening weather did not keep a very large and interested audience from greeting Governor Chamberlain when he delivered a speech at the court house here tonight. He discussed at length the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution and his successful efforts to compel the legislature to observe it.

He showed that when the legislature met in 1901 no question was raised as to leaving off the emergency clause, because it was generally understood that the legislature could not nullify the effect of the referendum by declaring an emergency, least the members of the court first of the referendum by declaring emergency the legislature could prevent a referendum, and hence, in 1905, he insisted that emergency clauses should be left off bills vitally affecting public interests.

He showed how, when he was inaugurated as governor, there was over $500,000 irreducible school fund over-looked and that such condition no longer exists. The motive for allowing large sums to accumulate in the hands of the state treasurer was to be found in the generally accepted belief that the money of the state, pocketed the state.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal)
New York, May 19.—The balloon ascension planned for today by Dr. J. P. Thomas was abandoned because of the high wind. The balloon was taken to the launch at North, and as the wind would have carried them in the direction of Long Island along the line of Paul Nocuquet's flight, it was decided to give up the trip. Dr. Thomas was unable to make a flight today, as he was anxious to test his new balloon, which is about the biggest thing of its kind in the country.
