A Progressive Age

We are living in a most progressive age. If you begin to call to mind the many and valuable improvements that have been made within the last few years you will hardly know when to stop. One of the lines in which great progress has been made is shown in the manufacture of Women's Corsets. In place of the rigid, uncomfortable, pretty much all one shape corsets of past years we now have shapes to fit with ease all forms, whether stout or otherwise, and at the same time improving the figure of the wearer. A most striking illustration in point is the manner in which these latest ideas are brought out by the makers on the new models of the R. & G. Corsets.
