Students Expect Faculty to Make Announcement This Week to That Effect School Has Been Leader in Game

Students of the Portland academy expect that this week the principals will announce their intention to abolish football in the institution.

No denial of the report was made by Rev. J. R. Wilson, D. D., and Dr. S. R. Johnston, the principals of the academy, when they were seen yesterday afternoon.

"We have reached a decision and it will be announced in the next number of the 'Tribune,' the academy paper," said Dr. Johnston. "We prefer that the announcement be made in the school paper, and I do not care to say anything before that appears."

For several weeks the students of the academy have been talking of the disturbing rumor. Athletics is one of the most prominent features of student life at the school and a large percentage of the boys and a number of the girls as well take an active interest or participation in one sport or another.

Columbia may be to blame. While the principals decline just now to discuss what influenced them to make the decision, it is believed that the ruling of the other faculty of Columbia university and other eastern colleges is responsible. Portland academy is primarily a preparatory school for college work and is naturally influenced by any movement among the larger educational institutions of the country.

For five years the academy team has won the pennant in the interscholastic league. Some of the members of these teams have brought honor to the school by their playing upon college teams. Plowden Stott, Willie Chandler and Kenneth Fenton have been among the strongest men on the Stanford team for the past two years. The school is deeply rooted in the student traditions of the school. And it's the football team that occupies the place of honor.

Hamilton Corbett, who played on the seven all-star teams, has already been elected football captain for next season. Other members of last fall's team who will return to the academy next September are Ralph Hurlbut, Jerome Thorne, Vernon Cook and William Ford.

The next issue of the 'Tribune,' which will contain the announcement of the principals, is expected to appear during the latter part of the present week and every student in the school is eagerly awaiting its appearance. Much disappointment is expressed, of course, but there is no doubt that the ruling once made will be strictly adhered to by the faculty.

SCHMITZ SCORED REORGANIZED

Giving Away of Franchises for Overhead Trolley Systems Roundly Denounced.

ADMINISTRATION DOES NOT REPRESENT LABOR

Servitude to Corporations Brings Forth Censure of Central Labor Body—Live-Wire System Declared Antiquated and Dangerous.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) San Francisco, May 26.—The San Francisco Labor council, which consists of over 100 affiliated unions and represents more than 20,000 wage-earners, last night denounced by resolution the Schmitz administration for its servitude to the public service corporations. The turning over of the streets of the city to the United Railroads by the mayor and his board of supervisors was the subject of the denunciatory resolutions which were drafted and introduced by Andrew J. Furuseth, secretary of the Coast Seaman's Journal.

Speeches flaying the administration for its flagrant betrayal of the trust reposed in it by the people were delivered by Walter MacArthur, editor of the Coast Seaman's Journal; Andrew Furuseth, T. E. Zant, F. Scharrenberg, A. Seaman and others.

The gist of the speeches were to the effect that since going over body and soul to the United railroads and the kindred monopolies, the Schmitz administration no longer represents the laboring people of this city.

The overhead trolley system was strongly denounced by the speakers, all of whom declared the antiquated overhead live-wire system was notorious throughout this country and Europe. The keynote of the prevailing sentiment at the meeting was expressed by Andrew Furuseth when he said:

"The reason I am offering these resolutions is to stop, if possible, the tendency of the administration to give away the rights of the people. I know you are considerate, but even mudsills have some brains and had brains enough to elect this city government."

Walter MacArthur, editor of the Coast Seaman's Journal, also scored the administration.

NO CONCESSIONS MADE TO MINERS SAY OPERATORS

Mitchell's Statement of Victory Gained is Flatly Denied by Coal Owners.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) New York, May 26.—The anthracite coal operators issued a statement today in reference to assertions made by President Mitchell, in addressing the mine workers' convention at Scranton on May 8. The miners' leader then said:

"You have taken a most advanced step, and have secured for yourselves advantages never before enjoyed in the history of your movement. You have an agreement not only with the United Mine Workers of America but with its officers."

The operators in their statement today said:

"Nothing in the form of the recent settlement of the anthracite coal controversy constitutes even a remote degree of recognition of the Mine Workers' union."

The negotiations between the anthracite coal operators and their employees showed that the arrangement recently concluded involved no further concessions to the union mine workers regarding its standing than was involved in the strike settlement of 1902.

This arrangement does not constitute an agreement with that organization or with any one professing to represent it. At no point whatever was the existence of the union recognized and even when the final arrangement was made there was merely one between the respective companies and their own employees."

DEMOCRATIC RALLIES DRAW LARGE AUDIENCES

Meetings at Montavilla, Sylvan and on Street Corners Are Well Attended.

Several rallies were held last evening under the auspices of the Democratic county committee. One of them was a meeting at Montavilla. The principal speakers were Robert A. Miller, candidate for attorney-general, and A. F. Fliegel, candidate for joint senator.

Short addresses were made by E. N. Emery, George L. Hutchin, John Van Zante and Orlesby Young.

Still another meeting was held at Sylvan. This gathering was addressed by J. A. Jeffrey and T. J. Concanon, candidate for representative. Princess W. Robbins and his wife are making the trip for fame and the prize.

By nightfall the Gauntlet was alone far out in the ocean, because of a serious accident to the Lila, and the consequent stupor turning back of the Tammerlane.

New Rules Adopted, Regulation and Inspection Provided for and Relations With Embassies of Other Lands Looked After.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) Washington, May 26.—Secretary of State Root has made public an order intended to make a great advance in the consular service of the United States and to carry out the most important feature of the plans for the reorganization of that service which were not dealt with in the act recently passed by congress.

That board is charged with the consideration of several topics, the first being "regulations for the new inspection service."

The second topic to be considered is "The relations between consulates and the various legations in the countries where they are located."

The third topic is "The rules which should govern the promotion and appointment."

Other topics for the good of the service will be gone into. The board is ordered to report to and consult with W. J. Carr, chief of the consular bureau, state department.

The board detailed is: Frank M. Mason, consul-general at Paris; Charles M. Dickinson, consul-general at Constantinople; Robert S. Chilton, consul at Toronto; Edward Osman, consul at Stuttgart; and George H. Murphy, consul agent at St. Catherine's.

PRINCESS IS SPANKED BY OPERA SINGER SPOUSE

British Guinea Peeress Tells Her Story of Marital Woes in New York Court.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) New York, May 26.—The Princess Marie de Galowitz of Hungary told their life history to Magistrate Wahle in Harlem court yesterday. The princess is now the baroness for the couple are married. She had the baron arrested for abusing her, said abuse consisting of tying knots in her shoe strings and corset strings, so she could not dress to go out. Whenever she wore the knots, she said, he spanked her in American style.

After much talking and tears by both she relented, withdrew the complaint and went out with him, leading her 12-year-old son.

When the baron was arrested it was as plain Victor de Gal, and it was not until later that his wife told of his being a baron. He is one of Conrad's singers.

She married the baron on April 17 last, for I loved him and love him now," said the princess. "But I am a princess of the true South American blood and I will not be ill-treated. He did not want to go to bed. If I did he would spank me, and if I sat by the window to look out on the street, he would spank me."

Magistrate Wahle said he would hold the baron in $500 to keep the peace for six months. The princess was overcome and withdrew the complaint.

SENATOR DRYDEN'S HOME RANSACKED BY THIEVES

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) New York, May 26.—Burglars entered the residence of United States Senator Dryden at Newark on Friday morning and rifled a safe containing jewelry. They literally cut their way to the second floor, turned over the safe and with their tools, which they supposed were the latest things in that line, removed a large section from the bottom, thus gaining access to the contents.

The safe contained many valuable jewels. They case in which they had been placed was found on the floor empty. The burglary was discovered by an employe of a local burglary company, who went to Senator Dryden's residence to see that the burglar alarm wires were in proper condition. He discovered that in order to get to the safe the men had forced an iron grating in the rear, had gone down an arway and in some way manipulated the wires to get the alarm to stop so that they did not give the alarm.

WOMAN SKIPPER LEADS IN LIPTON CUP RACE

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) New York, May 26.—The woman skipper in the ocean yacht race, to whom sailing her male competitors so strenuously objected because of the alleged danger to her, got a good grip on tonight and proved that she was the most alert sailor in the race. The yacht left Gravesend bay at 3 o'clock this evening for a 480-mile run to Bermuda for the Sir Thomas Lipton $1,000 cup—the Lila, the Tammerlane and the Gauntlet. It is on the latter that George W. Robbins and his wife are making the trip for fame and the prize.

By nightfall the Gauntlet was alone far out in the ocean, because of a serious accident to the Lila, and the consequent stupor turning back of the Tammerlane.

THINKS EVEN BENTON WILL FAIL WITHYCOMBE

C. W. Eyre, Who is a Republican, Feels Sorry for Party's Nominee.

G. W. Eyre and J. A. Simpson, prominent business men of Salem, were in Portland yesterday en-route to Seattle with a carload of fine horses purchased in the Willamette counties. They spent several weeks in the upper Willamette valley and took particular notice of political conditions.

"What surprised me," said Mr. Eyre, "is the manner in which the country people of Benton county treat Withycombe's candidacy. I felt that he would carry his home county by a great majority, but after I made a trip through there it looked different. Of course, I am a Republican, but if the other portions of Oregon are going to treat the Republican nominee like his own county will do, I really feel sorry for him. Chamberlain seems to have no enemies in the district except a few politicians."

Mr. Simpson, who is also a Republican, agreed with Mr. Eyre in every particular. He added that he had made several trips into the upper Willamette valley and each time had been impressed by the strong Chamberlain sentiment he found there.

JOSEPH CHAMBREAU IS STABBED BY ASSAILANT

Joseph J. Chambréau, a bookkeeper for the Lada Metal company, was stabbed in the neck before the saloon at 149 Fourth street at midnight last night. He declares that his assailant was "Bud" Thomas, a well-known character about town.

Chambréau and Thomas, between whom there is said to be a feud of long standing, entered the saloon together, and a little later went out into the street again. A few minutes afterwards passers-by found Chambréau on the walk, blood flowing from a wound in his neck. The police were notified, and to them he declared that Thomas had stabbed him, but refused to give particulars. He was removed to the Good Samaritan hospital for treatment.

The gash in his neck is three inches long but not deep and is not considered serious.
