Business Universally Suspended While Thousands Pay Tribute to Heroic Dead.

GRAVES OF SILENT ARMY STREWN WITH FLOWERS

Quiet Day at Capital-Many March in Metropolis - Monument Dedicated at Minneapolis-Lincoln's Memory

Washington, May 30.—The national capital devoted fiself to the observance of Memorial day. Business was suspended, while thousands of citizens, veterans of three wars and their descendants paid tribute to the nation's heroic dead. The streets were filled with marching veterans, civic and military organizations, all moving toward Arlington cemetery, Soldiers' Home, Congressional and other cemeteries, where appropriate services were held and the graves of the silent army were strewn with flowers.

REPUBLIGAN PARTY

"The Oregonian never questioned the honesty of Mr. Bourne's motives."—Oregonian, May 26, 1966.

Not at all. Just a little kindly criticism, like the following:
"A very general demand is being made among Republicans of the state that Jonathan Bourne be at once retired from the position of secretary of the Republican state central committee. This sentiment is not confined to Portland, but permeates the entire state. A half-way promise, said to have been made by Chairman Hirsch, that Mr. Bourne will retire when the presidential campaign opens, next September, is not satisfactory to the great mass of Republicans who desire that the electoral vote of Oregon shall be cast for McKinley and sound money. It is realized that before that fime Mr. Bourne in his position as secretary of the state committee can, if he cries, work irretrievable harm upon the Republican party, and hearly every Republican recognizes the importunce of his being immediately stripped of all official power."—Oregonian, July 7, 1896.

SEE THE BABIES' PICTURES IN THE SUNDAY JOURNAL

Every mother in Oregon and Washington will be interested in at least one feature of The Sunday Journal next week: The page containing the first installment of pictures received in the pretty baby contest.

From all over the two states portraits of some of the handsomest children in the northwest have reached this office, and many of them will be reproduced on Sunday. It is doubtful if any other section of this country could show pictures of as many charming bables as have been received by this office since the announcement was made of the valuable prizes for the four prettiest children in Oregon and Washington.

The prizes are well worth winning. The first is a deposit of $20 in savings bank to the credit of the boy or girl under 6 years old who is eclared the handsomest; to three others beautiful silver mugs will be one thing has been clearly proved in this contest, and that is that the parents of the prettiest children in Oregon and Washington do not seem to care so much to get the valuable prizes as they do to have their bables recognized as the prettiest in the two states. The prizes, though, everyone knows are worth winning—a deposit in a savings bank of $70 to the credit of the prettiest babe, and beautiful silver cups for three others. No child under 8 years old is barred. If you think yours is the prettiest send a picture, with the name and age of the babe and the address of the parents on the back.

Till June 36 every mother in Oregon and Washington will be given the chance to prove conclusively that her baby is the prettiest. A committee of competent judges will study each picture sent in and pass judgment on it fairly and unflinchingly. All you have to do is to send in your baby's picture before June 30 to the Baby Contest editor of The Sunday Jagenal, with the name and age of the child and the parents address. All children under 8 years are eligible.

The pictures of some of the pretty babies in Oregon and Washington will be printed in next Sunday's Journal.

Young Jones was an expert rifle shot and was to have taken part in the target practice that is now being indulged in by the national guardsmen. He is said to have made the remark that he would like to be in the regular army and show what he could do toward obtaining the 100 per cent target button. The tendency of his remarks when among his companions of the guards was toward expression of longing to become a regular soldier. This strengthens the belief of his friends in the theory that he has enlisted.

The Portland General Electric company is making substantial improve-ments on its lines that supply light and power to the residents on the Mount Scott district. The largest poles used by the company are being set and a heavy feed cable strung.

At a recent meeting of the Lents and Arleta Commercial clubs it was an-nounced that the Portland Street Raliway company would at once double-track the Mount Scott car line from East Forty-eighth street to the terminus of the line at Lents, because the company could not further shorten the schedule on its single-track line, which begins at East Forty-sighth street. The travel on this line has increased so fast that all morning and evening cars carry one or more trailers without being able to accommodate the traffic.

The patrons of the Vancouver carline are loud in their complaint of the in-adequate service furnished by the streetcar company. The cars that leave the Columbia river after 5 o'clock in the afternoon are always filled to overflowing. The car that left the slip Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock carried over 80 passengers and nearly that number were left to wait for the next car, 40 minutes later.
