

TREMENDOUS OVATION FOR CHAMBERLAIN

MIGHTY CROWD CHEERS A STRAIGHT, SOUND TALK

Governor Pokes Holes Into Flimsy Contentions of Critics by Telling Facts.

Gives Vigorous Answer to Former Governor Gear and Proves That His Predecessor Failed to Bring About Legislation Demanded by the People.

On account of the floods interfering with the train service in eastern Oregon, Governor Chamberlain will be unable to go to Madras, where he was to spend tomorrow night, and will close his campaign with two more speeches in Multnomah county. Tonight he will speak in Geneva hall, Astoria, with Miss Mary Graham, nominee for congress, who had already made arrangements for a meeting at that place. Tomorrow night the governor will make his last address of the campaign, but the details for this meeting, which will also be held in Portland, have not yet been arranged.

There was an air of victory to last night's big meeting in behalf of Governor Chamberlain. Never in the history of Oregon politics has a candidate for a state office been given a more rousing greeting. Never has a candidate addressed a larger audience of been given closer attention. From every precinct in Portland people crowded into the Empire theatre. Many had to stand, but all stayed to prove that George H. Chamberlain is a man to be proud of. He greeted him with long-continued cheering when he arose, they applauded vigorously as he punched holes in the flimsy arguments of his critics, and at the close of the speech they cheered him again and again just to let him know that they approved every word he had said and were going to vote to keep him in the governor's chair.

Stories by Judge Bailey. Chairman Thomas of the Democratic county committee, called the meeting to order, the Oregon quartet won applause with two well-rendered songs and then Supreme Judge T. G. Halley told a few good stories. He did not talk particularly and explained that he had come down off the bench to be marked as an exhibit in the great court of the common people. In arguing that politics should be kept out of the temples of justice, he recalled that Abraham Lincoln and Benjamin Harrison had both appointed Democrats to the supreme court of the United States. Mrs. Rose Bloch-Sauer sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" with a sweetness and fervor that set the pulses tingling. The audience arose as she began and remained standing until the last note had died away. The singer was accompanied on the piano by Miss Leonora Fisher.

Henry Quotes Oregonian. Charles K. Henry was introduced to speak in behalf of United States Senator John M. Gearin. The hit of his address was the reading of an editorial from the Oregonian of December 14 last, lauding Senator Gearin as "a high-minded American citizen, who will under no circumstances disgrace himself or the state of Oregon."

Senator Gearin was further commended by the writer as one who would support the policies advocated by President Roosevelt. In commenting on the editorial Mr. Henry said: "Remember, ladies and gentlemen, that this was not written by C. K. Henry, but by the editor of the Oregonian in last December, at a time when the proud name of Oregon was being trampled in the dust by reason of the indictment of a then United States senator, two Republican congressmen and a United States surveyor-general, as well as several lesser Republican officials." Mr. Henry heartily indorsed state-

CONGRESSMAN KILLS HIMSELF

Robert Adams Jr., Pennsylvania Representative, Puts Bullet Through Brain Because of Financial Embarrassment.

Washington, June 1.—Congressman Robert Adams Jr. of Pennsylvania, author of the whipping-post bill, shot himself with suicidal intent this morning. He was taken to a hospital and died shortly afterward. The weapon was discharged in his mouth, the bullet going through the brain. In the house the service was brief. Adams' desk was draped and banked with flowers. The chaplain referred to the tragedy in his prayer, the Pennsylvania delegation made the announcement of death and Speaker Cannon then read the following letter, received by him written by Congressman Adams:

"The fact that my personal obligations exceed my resources is the only excuse I have for abandoning the responsible position I occupy in the house. I am willing to be buried at the house."

STEUNENBERG TRIAL GOES TO FEBRUARY TERM

Long Delay in Prospect for Trial of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Boise, Idaho, June 1.—The attorneys for Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone prepared an application for a writ of habeas corpus last night, expecting to file the same in the supreme court this morning with an application for bail for the defendants.

The plan was to make such a showing that the court would direct that a hearing be held compelling the prosecution to show that proof of guilt was evident or its presumption great in order to justify the court in denying the bail privilege or else waive the matter and consent to bonds being fixed for the defendants.

It was believed that the prosecution would refuse to show its hand by submitting the evidence on which conviction is expected and thus permit the federation officials to secure their temporary release. The movement was abandoned for some reason this morning. Attorney Richardson left for Denver this morning, Darrow returned to Chicago this afternoon. Nugent remains in Boise to look after anything that may arise. The trials cannot take place before February next.

BOISE CARPENTERS OUT TO SECURE CLOSED SHOP

(Journal Special Service.) Boise, Idaho, June 1.—Carpenters struck this morning against the demand of the Master Builders' association for an open shop. The carpenters are asked to sign an agreement not to work for non-members of the association. One hundred and fifty men are affected. The strike may extend to the Building Trades alliance.

CASTRO AS SECRETARY TO PRESIDENT GOMEZ

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, June 1.—The state department is advised that Gomez has asked President Castro to resume the presidency of Venezuela. Castro refused, but is willing to act as Gomez' secretary. Gomez will now call the legislature to accept Castro's resignation.

AS THE TALL TOWER SAW SENATOR GEARIN LAST DECEMBER

When John M. Gearin was appointed a United States senator there was no political campaign in progress and the Oregonian of December 14, 1905, commended him in an editorial that read as follows:

"It was to be expected that Governor Chamberlain would appoint a Democrat to the United States senate; and it was to be hoped that he would select a Democrat who would go to the senate as no mere partisan. John M. Gearin is a Democrat and a partisan, but he is first a high-minded American citizen who will under no circumstances dishonor himself or the state of Oregon; and he will make no factitious opposition to any great national policy because it happens to be supported by a Republican president and to be in favor with a Republican congress. At this time, when many grave matters are to be solved by the Republican national administration, it might have been deemed a misfortune that any senator be sent by Oregon who by his political antecedents and affiliations would seem to be not entirely in accord with President Roosevelt. But we already know that Senator Gearin is for regulation of railway rates, for correction of trust evils, for free trade with the Philippines, for the Panama canal and for all the essential Roosevelt policies. We could ask no more from any Democrat; we might get less from many Republicans.

"It is singular that Senator Gearin should be able to declare that he is for these things without his Democracy, being in the slightest measure impugned by anybody; yet it is true. The reason is that he has never taken part in politics for any personal end. More could not be said for any other important Democrat in Oregon; and it cannot be said of all Republicans.

"Senator Gearin was born in Oregon and knows all about its history, traditions, needs and ambitions. He will endeavor to promote unduly the interest of no locality, but he will be, we are sure, equally concerned for the development and welfare of every section of Oregon. He will labor no less diligently for a 30-foot channel at Coos Bay than for a 40-foot channel at the Columbia entrance. He will do what he can to promote the government's irrigation plans in Klamath and in Umatilla; and, so far as he has a voice in federal appointments, fitness alone will determine his choice and his attitude on senate confirmations after choice shall have been made.

"Senator Gearin is one of the younger generation of public men who are rapidly coming forward in Oregon to guide its affairs. He is a good lawyer and an unusually attractive and convincing public speaker. He has tact, good manners, an easy and graceful address, great industry and ready command of all his mental resources. He has, besides, the confidence, respect, good will and friendship of all who know him.

"The Oregonian extends to him its congratulations that his merits have brought him this distinction, and to the public its felicitations that out of a greivous situation of difficulty and embarrassment the state has emerged into light. Above all, Oregon will have in Mr. Gearin a senator of honorable life, record and character."

SMOOT LOSSES ANARCHIST IS SHOT IN SEAT

Senate Committee Votes That Mormon Senator Is Not Entitled to a Seat in the U. S. Senate.

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, June 1.—After dragging along for more than three years, the much-discussed case of Senator Reed Smoot of Utah came to an end today with the final vote of the senate committee on privileges and elections in the matter. As has been foreseen all along, the decision of the committee is to the effect that Mr. Smoot is not entitled to his seat as a senator of the United States from the state of Utah. The decision is based on the charge that his oath of allegiance to the Mormon church prevented him from giving complete allegiance to the United States. The vote was 7 to 5. Senator Burrows will report the decision to the committee.

With the end of the famous case it is interesting to note that in the three years of the trial one senator—Hear of Massachusetts—has died; another, McComas of Maryland, has retired from the senate, and a third, Clarke of Arkansas, refused to serve and was displaced by Patterson of Colorado. It has been freely said that the committee was not at all anxious to come to any agreement during Smoot's term, but pressure from the anti-Mormon element of Idaho, Utah and the Pacific slope finally forced the eight to vote for expulsion.

A vote was also taken as to whether the committee should recommend to the senate to exclude or expel Smoot. Exclusion was voted down. The vote on the motion for expelling was divided evenly.

The votes favoring expulsion were Burrows, Pettibone, Dally, Overman, Frasier, Negative, Foraker, Beveridge, Dillingham, Hopkins, Knox and Doolittle. Dwyer's vote was not counted. Under the rules, a tie vote defeats any proposition except in an expulsion vote, when it stands as the sense of the committee. If Smoot be retired, it must be by the constitutional method of expulsion by a two-thirds vote of the whole senate.

MOTION TO EXPELL BURTON FROM THE SENATE

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, D. C., June 1.—In the senate committee on privileges and elections today, Senator Bailey of Texas offered a resolution to the committee calling for the expulsion of Senator Burton of Kansas, under conviction for having accepted a salary from the Rialto Grain company of St. Louis for appearing in its behalf before the post-office department and securing the release of its mail from fraud order while occupying a seat in the senate. Action will be postponed until Tuesday.

The senate passed a bill granting a right of way for the construction of a ship canal from Lake Washington to Puget sound, near Seattle.

ANARCHIST IS CAUGHT

Bomb-Thrower Who Tried to Kill King Alfonso and Queen Victoria Confesses—Queen Is Given Ovation.

(Journal Special Service.) Madrid, June 1.—The bomb thrower who caused the tragedy during the wedding procession of the king and Queen Victoria yesterday has confessed, according to a high police official. He has been closely confined in the Madrid jail. King Alfonso was so close to death that a ribbon on his coat was torn by a flying splinter from the carriage. Queen Victoria is indisposed today as a result of the bomb throwing, although not seriously ill. Crowds are participating in the festivities half-heartedly today. King Alfonso and his attendants are to attend the funerals of the victims.

The government maintains that 14 are dead as the result of the deadly bomb. General Weyler was among those who was injured seriously by the explosion. The bomb, which was thrown from an upper window, in falling struck an electric light wire and was deflected. Otherwise the marriage festivities would have been converted into general mourning for the young ruler and his bride. The list of dead, officially placed at 14, is said to be greater. The following are the killed:

The Marquise Colosa, her daughter, Don Antonio Cairo, his wife Jose Solis, Louis Ponceca, Captain Barossa, commander of the king's escort; Lieutenant Reywinet, Lieutenant Prendergast, six soldiers and royal groom.

King Alfonso and Queen Victoria drove unscathed through the streets of Madrid today in an automobile. Thousands of subjects and visitors from all parts of Europe cheered them frantically.

Anarchists state that two attempts were made to assassinate Alfonso and his bride yesterday. The first bomb, which was thrown when the procession was starting on its march from the church where the ceremony took place, failed to explode.

An Englishman, Robert Hamilton, has been arrested as accomplice of the would-be assassin. The crowd tried to lynch him. Hamilton has been identified as the man on the balcony with the bomb thrower.

REFUSE TO PAY FORTUNE TO SECURE A TITLE

Magee Family Deny Published Statements of Dowry Settled on Nobleman.

(Journal Special Service.) Pittsburgh, Pa., June 1.—Because of a statement that has been published throughout the country that Baron Reid, who is to marry Louise Magee, his niece and ward of the late Senator Chris L. Magee, had demanded a dowry of $100,000, much unpleasant notoriety has resulted.

The family of the late senator has caused to be given out a denial that any such demand was made. It is also stated that Mrs. Magee would under no circumstances consent to the payment of a marriage portion, if such were demanded, as it would be at variance with her principles. The payment of a dowry, however, is made impossible for the reason that the Magee estate was left in trust by the senator at Mrs. Magee's suggestion.

DIRT TO BEGIN TO FLY IN ABOUT FOUR WEEKS ON NEW RAILROAD GRADE

Actual Construction on Oregon Trunk Line From Mouth of Deschutes River to Madras, a Distance of One Hundred Ten Miles, to Start Soon.

Within the next four weeks dirt will fly on the grade of another new railroad in Oregon. Surveys and final location have been completed for the Oregon Trunk line, 110 miles, from the mouth of the Deschutes river to Madras, the commercial center of the Willow Creek basin, in the south part of Crook county. The new road will open up a great region known as the Agency plains, Little Agency, the Haystack country, Lamona and all the region tributary to the Deschutes from its mouth to its junction with the Crooked river.

Promotion of the road has, it is said, been carried on with consummate skill and wonderful dispatch. In view of the various difficulties that attend any independent railroad project in Oregon, the company was incorporated a few months ago, with Seattle men as officers and directors. It was given little further attention, and in a few days was practically forgotten. Work was commenced quietly by the promoters, and the surveys were followed immediately by right of way work. Today it is said the company has secured nearly the entire right to begin construction. The engineers have secured a water level grade without any serious engineering problems or heavy tunnel work. It is said the company expects its main obstacles to arise from opposition by a rival railroad. It is preparing for trouble, and is expecting to encounter the same blockading tactics that have been going on along the north bank of the Columbia, and which were encountered last year by men who undertook to build a railroad in Wasco county tributary to the O. R. & N. company's line.

W. F. Nelson, president of the Oregon Trunk Line, arrived in Portland last night and is registered at the Oregon hotel. He has been continuously engaged in preliminary work on the route of the road since last fall and has made a record for rapid and effective action. Questioned about the company's plans, he said he was not ready to make any detailed announcement, and that 60 days later he would have something to say that would be of general public interest. Pressed for a statement, he said:

"I will say this much now: Between this date and June 26 dirt will begin to fly on the grade of the Oregon Trunk line. We have our preliminary work along to a point where we will be ready to commence actual construction within four weeks. The road will be built as rapidly as possible. It will be 100 miles long from the mouth of the Deschutes river to Madras. We do not expect to stop at Madras. We now have practically all of our rights of way purchased and deeds to the ground. In the few exceptions we have begun condemnation proceedings. As a rule the people along the route have been reasonably fair. There have been a few cases of holdup on rights of way. We have no complaint to make.

"Central Oregon is a country of great resources. The lands, when under irrigation, will be immensely fruitful. There are great deposits of nitrates and other commercial products. I predict that within the next few years there will be three transcontinental railroads built through central Oregon."

Regarding the financial of railroad connections back of the Oregon Trunk line, Mr. Nelson refused to talk. He was one of the principal builders and is now a part owner of the Great Southern, a road constructed last year under his supervision from The Dalles to Dufur. It is believed that there is a Hill relationship to these Oregon railroad projects and that ultimately they will become a part of the Hill lines now building down the north bank of the Columbia. The officers of the Oregon Trunk line are: President, W. F. Nelson, railroad contractor; vice-president, R. A. Ballinger, ex-mayor of Seattle and now practicing attorney in that city; secretary, L. Gregory of the Title Trust company, Seattle; treasurer, J. F. Lane, cashier of the Scandinavian National bank, Seattle. These men, with Malcolm Moody of The Dalles and Robert R. Fox, form the directory.

EMPLOYERS LIABILITY BILL PASSES SENATE

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, June 1.—The senate has passed the employers' liability bill urged by organized labor.

WILL BUILD TUNNEL BENEATH WATERS OF SAN FRANCISCO BAY

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, June 1.—William Muller yesterday filed a paper with Recorder Nelson, which is a notice of application for the right to tunnel under the bay of San Francisco for mining, domestic and transportation purposes, which he claims by right of location. The scheme includes a tunnel to extend under the bay across to Alameda. The projected tunnel is to begin at a point at the Alameda pier, 144 feet below low-water mark, to run 10,500 feet to the deepest part of the bay, 105 feet below the bottom. And then to the west shore of San Francisco bay, terminating at Townsend and Grand streets, with branches to distributing points on a level with the railroads, at which the branches are to terminate. The tunnel is to have double tracks, of standard gauge, upon which cars are to be operated by electric power. The upper half of the tunnel is to be equipped with roadways for teams, automobiles, bicycles and pedestrians.

REDS CURSE BIBLE AND TRAMPLE UPON AN AMERICAN FLAG

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, June 1.—With strict attraction in Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, who served a prison term for attempting to kill Henry C. Frick, Chicago anarchists have launched a campaign to secure more followers. At a rally of anarchists recently Berkman made a speech, in which he sought to impress on all present how much he had suffered and how great a martyr he should be considered by his fellow anarchists.
