Julius Padilla, official photographer for Sunset and the Southern Pacific company, arrived in Portland Wednesday and departed yesterday for Newport and other beach points to begin the work of photographing the Oregon country. He will remain in this state six weeks, and with a special photographic car and a corps of assistants will make pictures of everything that the railroad company can find available for illustration in its publications. The Southern Pacific lost in the San Francisco fire about 20,000 negatives, embracing scenes of Oregon and California. Mr. Padilla's task is to replace these, and add a great many more pictures to the collection. His list includes pictures of fisheries, forests, mills, buildings, cities, resorts, orchard and farm, all kinds of industries, and the state institutions.

The Dutch supper given at the Concordia club last night in honor of ladies' night was attended by fully 150 guests, who thoroughly enjoyed the informal function. The tables had attractive decorations of pretzels and steins, and flags were used with effect in the other rooms of the club. Progressive five hundred was played in the cardrooms, while the young people danced in the ballroom, others bowling. J. D. Meyer was chairman of the entertainment committee and Mrs. Marcus Fleischner, the wife of the president of the club, hostess.

May, 1906, will be remembered for some time as the banner month for building permits. The total cost given amounts to $1,087,765, which is an increase of 400 per cent over the amount of permits for May of last year. The largest sum given in any of the 278 permits issued last month is $320,000 for the big Wells-Fargo building at Sixth and Oak, and others are to come. The office of building inspector received in fees $960 during May, making the office far more than self-supporting.

The Sunset magazine for May is issued in the form of a folder, entitled "emergency edition." Its front page has a striking picture of San Francisco typified by a female figure rising out of the flames of a burning city. There is a lengthy statement by E. H. Harriman regarding the destruction and plans for regeneration of the California metropolis, an article by the editor, and a poem by Charles K. Field. These comprise the entire contents. The magazine's plant and all materials were destroyed in the fire.

Memorial services for the dead of the Woodmen of the World will be held by that order next Sunday at the Foresters' hall, Sixth and Washington streets. Sixteen members of the order have died during the past year. An interesting program has been arranged for the afternoon, consisting of musical selections and addresses by Governor Chamberlain and T. J. Murphy, consul-commander of the order. Though conducted under the auspices of the W. O. W., the services are public, and everybody is invited.

The Home Training association was addressed yesterday afternoon by Dr. J. Allen Gilbert on the "Mental and Physical Culture Development of Children." Charts were used by Dr. Gilbert to illustrate his address, and his presentation of facts regarding child development was unusually interesting. One chart showed the comparative height of boys and girls of the same age; another, weight and lung capacity. The necessity of proper recreation for children was strongly emphasized.

Harvey G. Starkweather, Democratic candidate for county judge of Clackamas county, will speak at Milwaukie tonight. This will be the first public meeting held in the new band hall, and a concert will be given by the Milwaukie band. Mr. Starkweather will tell how he proposes to take care of estates, if elected. Women are especially invited. Hon. O. D. Eby, for representative, and other candidates, will also speak.

Francis I. McKenna is determined that none of the piles of rubbish which were collected on "Clean-up day" shall remain in any part of the city, and at his own expense will send a wagon to remove such unsightly relics if he is notified. Telephone Main 1220. The street cleaning department has been unable to cope with the amount of rubbish piled up two weeks ago.

The civil service commission next Wednesday will hear the appeal of W. P. Lillis, who has been dismissed from his department by City Engineer Taylor. The appeal was filed yesterday afternoon. Lillis is accused of attempting to charge a suit of clothes to George Simon, whose sewer construction in Irvington he was inspecting for the city.

Water through hose for sprinkling yards or sidewalks, or washing porches or windows, must be paid for in advance and used only between the hours of 5 and 8 a. m. and 5 and 9 p. m. It must not be used for sprinkling streets. If used contrary to these rules, or wastefully, it will be shut off.

Cactus Dahlias.—They are the latest introductions in dahlias—flowers odd and fantastic—good bloomers—very popular and satisfactory. Ask Portland Seed Co. about them, Front and Yamhill streets. Phone Main 473.

Governor George E. Chamberlain will speak at Gomez hall, Albina, at the Democratic rally at 8:30 p. m. tonight.

An interesting change has taken place in the firm of M. Metzger & Co., jewelers and opticians, 111 Sixth street, between Washington and Stark. The firm has heretofore been composed of B. Metzger and M. Metzger, but G. A. Metzger of Chicago recently paid a visit to this western paradise and the country pleased him so well that he could not find it in his heart to return to the city of packing-houses and millionaire butchers, so he acquired the interest of B. Metzger in the business here and will remain in this prosperous metropolis. The name of the firm will not, however, be changed by this partial change of ownership.

T. S. Endo, a Japanese convicted on the charge of having offered a bribe to Inspector Hissey of the immigration service, withdrew his motion for a new trial this morning and entered a plea of guilty before Judge Wolverton. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $30 and to serve six weeks in the county jail. Joseph Bennett and Alexander Vanderjames, both Indians from the Umatilla reservation, were fined $50 each and sentenced to three months in the Umatilla county jail for having whiskey in their possession on the reservation.

There will be special features at the Taylor Street Methodist Episcopal church Sunday. At 10:30 a. m. there will be a sermon on "Righteous Judgment." The Modern Woodmen of America will attend in a body. In the evening Dr. Short will give an illustrated lecture on "Oregon: Its Beauties and Products." Over 100 of the very finest views, taken from all parts of the state, will be put on the canvass.

The Eastern Order of Hibernians are planning to hold memorial services in honor of the Irish patriot, Michael Davitt, who died on Wednesday last. The services will be held in Hibernia hall, Second and Stark streets, Sunday evening. There will be an address, as well as musical and literary features. The meeting will be free to the public.

It is quite likely that we have made more than two thirds of the photos of candidates you have seen in the newspapers since the primary contest began. The quality of our work is seen in these. E. W. Moore, photographic studio, Elks' building, Seventh and Stark. Open Sundays, 10 to 4.

Detectives Vaughn and Hellyer arrested J. C. Bennett last night on a charge of larceny. Bennett was found in the home of H. E. Wemme, an east side capitalist, with a sack full of lead pipe. He had cut all of the pipes in the house and was about to depart with the plunder when the police caught him.

FRIGHTFULLY MANGLED BY HANDLE-BAR ON CAR

(Journal Special Service.)

San Bernardino, Cal., June 1.—Section Foreman George Graham of the Tonopah-Tidewater railroad was terribly hurt this morning while propelling a handcar north of Manvil.

Graham had given the car considerable speed when he fell to the floor of the car directly beneath the propelling handlebar. As it swiftly rose and fell this bar struck him repeatedly, the first blow rendering him insensible.

For three miles the car continued down grade, being finally stopped by a section crew, who found that Graham's nose had been torn away, one eye gouged out and his head badly gashed.

Expired Last Night.

The lease of the famous "Quarter Block" expired last night, but, owing to the inability of the landlord to secure a tenant to take immediate possession, Eilers Piano House will be permitted for a few days to remain from day to day on sufferance. We want to sell everything during the few remaining days of grace. Beautiful Baby Grands and Uprights, Pianolas, organs, etc.—all are included. Today is the time—tomorrow may be too late. MANY SECTIONS OF BUILDING ORDINANCE DEFECTIVE

Effort May Be Made to Force City Council to Act in the Matter.

Many sections of the existing building ordinance have been found fatally defective, and yesterday afternoon the executive board tried to take a hand in its revision. But because its powers are executive and not legislative, the members found they could do nothing.

As the law reads now, buildings are to be constructed of brick and stone. The building being erected for Mrs. C. H. Lewis, on Fourth street near Washington, will be of reinforced concrete, according to the plans. This material has proved more able to withstand fire than stone, and here a change must be made in the ordinance.

The oft-discussed case of the fire escapes on the Shaver school led to the discovery that the directors could not, according to the ordinance, erect the tubular slide escapes, the most improved pattern, even if they were willing to bear the additional expense.

Again the executive board heard of the disagreement between Building Inspector Mann and Edgar M. Lazarus, who owns the building at the northeast corner of Fourteenth and Washington streets. This is another case where the building ordinance is faulty.

The final determination of the executive board was to enforce the regulations as they stand so rigidly that complaints will force the council to take some action toward drawing up a new ordinance which will be suitable to the growth of the city. Thus far any amendments have been referred by the council to the health and police committee, where they are peacefully slumbering.

LARGE CROWDS APPLAUD STREET-CORNER ORATORS

After the Chamberlain rally was well started last night several Democratic campaigners opened up at various street corners. There were many people on the streets. At Fourth and Washington and Third and Burnside streets large crowds stopped to listen and applaud. T. J. McAllister and Isaac Swett spoke to 600 people at the first named place, while at Third and Burnside they were heard by a crowd of 1,000. William Horan also spoke at the latter place. McAllister made a strong plea for the reelection of Tom Word, while Swett and Horan spoke for the legislative ticket. The applause was frequent and the enthusiasm was unusual for a street meeting.

Isaac Swett, candidate for the legislature, called attention to the fact that the Democratic candidates were pledged to carry out certain principles which were calculated to confer a lasting benefit to the city of Portland. Statement No. 1, declared Swett, was intended to do away with party prejudice, as the most important factor in party legislation.
