

THE season is fast drawing to a close and people are beginning to talk of a summer in the mountains or at the beach. Many are already making their preparations for the hot season out of town and some have heard to give a sign of relief that the strenuous summer of last year when Portlanders remained at home and entertained their guests will not have to be repeated. This may have something to do with the early start of the summer season this year, for some have left already and others are remaining only for the children to get out of school or for the marriage of some friend which will take place soon.

Admiral Goodrich gave a luncheon on the Chicago Tuesday for the young women acquaintances of his son, Caspar Goodrich. Mrs. C. A. Dolph chaperoned for the men. The guests were Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Nan Wood, Miss Katharine Brown, Miss May Montgomery, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Grace Warren, Mr. Goodrich, Mr. Sargent, Mr. Graves, Mr. Wood, Captain Badger, Paymaster Hicks and Caspar Goodrich.

Friday evening the admiral gave a dinner. Pink roses and white lilies were the decorations. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Goode, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dolph, Major and Mrs. James McWood, Captain Badger, Paymaster Hicks and Caspar Goodrich.

Miss Etta Honeyman and David C. Lewis were the guests at a dinner Wednesday evening given by Mrs. H. W. Goode. Red poppies and Marguerites were the table decorations and a bunch of bride roses was laid at each lady's place. There were boutonnières for the men. Covers were laid for 14 and among the guests were Miss Inez Barrett, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Hazel Crocker, Mrs. Smith, Miss Nan Wood, Marion Dolph, Scott Brooke, Doctor O'Rourke, Lieutenant Sargent and Dave Honeyman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Goode entertained with a dinner of 16 covers Monday evening in honor of Admiral Goodrich of the cruiser Chicago. This is the first entertaining Mrs. Goode has done since her return from the east, and the reopening of her pretty home was welcome to many who received her hospitality so often during the exposition last summer. Her table was beautiful with a gorgeous bunch of deep pink peonies for the centerpiece. Mrs. Goode was handsome in white lace. Her guests were the admiral, Captain Badger, Mr. and Mrs. John Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hibbard, Miss Katharine Brown and Miss Nan Wood. The admiral has been entertained much, informally, and has received a number of his friends on board. Friday evening the admiral dined with him on the Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Goode left for the east this morning.

A charming linen shower was given in honor of Miss Edna Hatfield, a June bride at the home of Mrs. J. M. Berry on East Flanders street Thursday afternoon. After a delightful musical program, a dainty luncheon was served in the dining room, which was profusely decorated with marguerites and long garlands of marguerites were hung in festoons from the chandelier to the ends of the table, and large baskets of the same flower were placed throughout the parlors and hall. The place was decorated in keeping with the general idea of decoration, being dainty marguerites done in relief. The hostess received many compliments on the artistic arrangement of the place, being complimented by Hatfield, Mrs. Fred Dunham, Mrs. Elizabeth Welch, Miss Carrie Ford, Mrs. George A. McNeil, Miss Ivy Ford, Mrs. E. Everts, Mrs. Bert Stevens, Mrs. Fred Goodwin, Miss Sadie Ford, Miss Marguerite Ehlen and Mrs. John B. Hibbard.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Steel returned Wednesday morning from their wedding tour through the Yosemite valley. They will for a time be at home with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cotton, at 212 North Twentieth street.

The current topics department was entertained Monday by Mrs. D. M. Watson, Twenty-fourth and Marshall streets. The summary was given by Mrs. B. E. G. Carter, by the Priscilla Girls, a club of which she is a member. Miss Wilson will be one of the June brides.

Commencement is demanding a good deal of attention now and a number of young people are being entertained in honor of their graduation. Many families are expecting their sons and daughters home from college in a few weeks. Commencement at the University of Oregon takes place June 23 to 25, and a number of prominent people from here will attend. There are 11 graduates this year whose homes are in Portland: Miss Alice Bretherton, Miss Ella Dobie, Miss Jeanie Gray, Miss Katherine Crawford, Earl Abbott, Harry Dale, Horace Fenton, Seth Kerron, Arthur Leach, Ralph E. Poppleton and Charles E. Reid.

The Oregon Yacht club was a lovely picture Saturday evening a week ago for the dance given by the Alpha club of Trinity church. There were nearly 800 of the representative young people of Portland, all brimful of appreciation and fun, and from the time they started it was one continual good time. The hostesses under Mrs. Alice A. Morrison, Mrs. J. Couch Flanders, Mrs. J. W. Cook, Mrs. George F. Russell, Mrs. W. Lewis and Mrs. F. D. Chamberlain. The programs were unique, being the dancing, the singing, the playing of the orchestra of six pieces was there.

The wedding will take place at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. Miss Daisy Freeman will be the maid of honor and Walter Irving will be the best man. The bridesmaid will be Miss Hazel Reed, Miss Semole Groat, Miss Minnie Inman, Miss Lucia Gillespie, Miss Fay Killingsworth and Miss Ella Strong. The ushers, Arthur Honeyman, Floyd Warren, Clifford Warren and Edwin Jorgensen.

The Los Angeles Times of May 25 has a detailed account of a card party given by Mrs. Charles R. Skinner in honor of Mrs. Charles R. Skinner, who lives at the Hill in this city. Mrs. Skinner's home was formerly in Los Angeles. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. J. Jorgensen, Mrs. J. J. Davis and Miss Josie F. Kendrick. There were 12 tables of cards. The home was filled with sweet peas of varying shades. In the parlor, pink was used while in the reception room soft-toned lavender was arranged with grace, in the dining room, where refreshments were served, yellow appeared. The first prize was a hand-painted vase, and the second a pack of playing cards with hand-painted heads of pretty girls.

The last meeting of the year of the New England Conservatory club was a social meeting Tuesday evening at the Irvington club, and had it tastefully decorated in woodland growths, sweetbriar and ferns were massed about the rooms and wild marguerites banked the mantles. Mrs. Schults was gowned in white, and the members of the club assisted in receiving. The "Kindergarten" orchestra gave a delightful program, under the direction of Mrs. John H. Hall. The orchestra consists of a piano, violin, cello, nightingale, quail, trumpet, triangle, drum and rattle, and the following numbers were given: "Symphony" (Rombert); "Lander Waltzes" (Von Holten); "Symphony" (Haydn); "Jolly Singing Party" (P. Schwanke); "Miss Forsythe gave a reading. There were about 40 present, and dainty refreshments were served at tete-a-tete tables after the program.

At the annual business meeting of the club held Thursday morning the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. John H. Hall; vice-president, Mrs. Edgar Piper; secretary, Mrs. J. M. Berry; treasurer, Mrs. D. E. Mackie; librarian, Mrs. Rudolph Prall.

The junior class of St. Mary's academy entertained the class of '08 with a launching party Tuesday evening. After spending several hours on the river, the party returned to the academy, where an elaborate supper was served, covers being laid for 14. The dining hall was tastefully decorated in pale blue. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing in Recreation hall. Those present were Mrs. A. L. Dieker, Miss Grace N'Neil, Miss Grace Eppes, Miss Catherine O'Hara, Miss Madge Imbrie, Miss Mary Springer, Miss Geraldine Kirk, Miss Stella McKay, Miss Eugenie Snelling, Miss Pearl Jennings, Miss Ethel Marsh, Miss Catherine E. Wells, Miss Hattie Lillian Ingalls, Miss Josephine Stapleton, Miss Luella Dunne, Miss Mildred Waitt, Miss Katharine Kern, Miss Lucia Barton, Miss Minnie Stevens, Miss Catherine Stevens, Miss Cordelia Stevens, Miss Golda Goulet and Miss Edna Smith.

The next week will be full of interesting weddings and the past week has been full of entertaining for the prospective brides. There seems to have been little energy for much else. The marriage of Miss Georgia Giltner and Pink Charles Patterson will take place Thursday. Miss Giltner has been struggling with the grippe the past week and has not been able to receive the attentions which would otherwise have been given her. The marriage of Miss Frankie Ribbet and Dr. Ralph Walker is set for Wednesday of this week, and will be an elaborate affair. At the First Presbyterian church, Miss Edna Bailey will become the bride of Charles A. Elaver the same day. The marriage of Miss Rose Pflunder follows on the 17th, and Miss Etta Honeyman to David Lewis on the 20th. Several other engagements have been announced with the weddings to take place this month, but the definite dates have not been announced.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Beebe entertained a few of the general friends at dinner Monday evening in honor of his birthday.

The Monday bridge club has given up its meetings for the year. It will be reorganized next season.

Madame Von Bolton has cards out for an informal afternoon of cards June 14.

Miss Katherine Brown, who has been the most popular guest in town for the past few weeks, left Friday afternoon for Seattle, where she joined her father and went on to New York. She will sail shortly for Europe and many good wishes go with her. Miss Brown must certainly carry away pleasant memories of Portland, for during the time she has been a guest at the beautiful Walter E. Burrell home at Hawthorne Park she has been constantly entertained by her hostess and the many friends she has made here. The dance given for her by Mrs. Burrell a fortnight ago was the prettiest and most elaborate home affair since the Lenten season.

At the commencement hop will be given at Hill Military academy a week from Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles E. Curry entertained with bridge for Miss Honeyman at the links yesterday.

Mrs. R. P. Graham, 741 Tillamook, will entertain the Portia club Tuesday, June 12.

The favors were dainty rose fans which closed into a gorgeous bouquet. The assorted nuts were in receptacles that carried out the rose idea. Strawberries were served in little baskets and fruit salad in boats, and the entire menu presented unique features. Cov-

On Tuesday evening the east side Women's hall was filled with the friends of Mount Hood circle. Women of Woodcraft, to enjoy another of their popular military whist parties. Forty-five tables were set and 18 hands played, after which the floor was cleared and dancing was indulged in by those who desired. Ice cream and cake were served in the banquet hall. The prizes were handsome jardiniere and vases for the winners and a tiny box of "Oregon apples" and a sack of "family flour" for the poorest scorers. The prizes were all "Made in Oregon." Much credit is due the committee for the perfect arrangements. The committee consisted of Mrs. J. M. Woodworth, Mrs. M. Worthen, Miss Lizzie Evans, Mrs. Ora Brown, Mrs. N. Howe, Mrs. E. O'Brien. Upon urgent request, Mrs. G. J. R. was asked to have another whist party Tuesday evening, June 28.

The first large program at the Shaver school was given Tuesday in honor of Memorial day. The children did their best, especially in the several flag drills where marching and stinging were displayed with good effect. The hall was decorated with large plants and wild flowers. American shields and flags decorated the walls. Several members of the G. A. R. were among the many visitors who attended the exercises and they were presented with bouquets of roses gathered by pupils of the school. Though this is the first large program it is not the last, and with the coming term some entertainment will probably be given by which the library of the school can be enlarged.

Mrs. Mary Junkin of Tangent, Oregon, who has been very ill, is now convalescent at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Olive F. Stephens, 490 Vancouver avenue, this city. "Grandma" Junkin, as she is familiarly called, is an Oregon pioneer who located in Linn county, west of Astoria, in 1858. She is now celebrating the 85th anniversary of her birth friends and relatives joined in making the day a happy one for the venerable guest. Roses were in profusion in the parlor. Several vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. H. L. Vorse in a sweet manner. Mrs. Young and Mrs. Stephens also rendered several musical selections, after which refreshments were served.

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Esther Fairbrother and Harry Turner Humphrey took place Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Cumberland Presbyterian church by Rev. A. J. Montgomery. The altar was banked with wild daisies, ferns and other woodland growths gathered by the bride's girl friends. A lover's knot of white tulle was in the green canopy overhead.

The members and crew of the "Lady Jane" gave a pleasant launching party on Decoration day. Those present were: Miss Elsie Snyder, Miss Tom Taggart, Miss Molly Fitzgerald, Miss Lillian Powers, Miss Josephine Lenz, Miss Ida Steele, Miss Lena Hoyt, Miss Ida Berg, Miss Anna Glazie, George Mitchell, Lou Thompson, C. M. Peterson, B. Mitchell, J. P. Adams, W. B. Dresser, J. F. Douglas and W. Mitchell.

The home of Mrs. E. S. Ulrey of Portmouth was the scene of a pretty wedding on May 29, when her daughter, Clara Elmore, was united in marriage to Dr. William G. Amos of Lebanon, Oregon. The bride is a well-known teacher of this city. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Amos left for a short trip up the sound. They will reside in Lebanon.

On Memorial day at 3 o'clock Alfonso A. Phillips of Cornelius and Mrs. Leonia Craig of Manchester, New Hampshire, were married at 271 College street, Rev.

The recital given by the senior pupils of Mr. Clifford Nash and Miss Dorothy Nash Tuesday evening at Asotin hall showed some exceptionally good talent in training. All the performers played well and deserved the hearty applause they received, but the brilliant work of Miss Laura Fox concluding the program outlasted all the preceding numbers. The audience literally rose to its feet in demanding an encore—an uncommon thing at a pupil recital and the last number at the recital.

Following is the program as given: (a) "Barchetta" (Nevin), (b) "Caprice, opus 28" (Greig), Miss Jean Miller; (c) "Romance" (Chaminade), (d) "Minuetto from Sonata opus 19 number 3" (Beethoven), Miss Myra Abbott; (e) "Largo, from Sonata opus 10 number 3" (Beethoven), (f) "Fantasia Impromptu" (Chopin), Miss Tillie Klump; (g) "Prelude, 6 flat" (Chopin), (h) "Polonaise, 6 sharp minor" (Chopin), Miss Edna Rothelid; (i) "Butterfly" (Grieg), (j) "Grillen (Whims)" (Schumann), (k) "Pavillon Rose" (Thome), Miss Nora Durris; (l) "Mazurka, Op. 7 No. 1, Op.
