

GEER MAKES ATTEMPTS TO DELUDE ALL VOTERS

Ends His Campaign on Behalf of Withycombe In Burst of Mendacity and by Peddling Out Tons of Falsehood

The Withycombe campaign closed last night in a burst of mendacity. Orally, by circular and in the organs, hired by Governor Chamberlain's opponents, the lies flared and spattered like sparks from a skyrocket. The spellbinders believed that for their purposes a ton of falsehood was worth more than an ounce of fact.

Mr. Withycombe reiterated his deliberate misstatement to the effect that he had been attacked because of his English birth. This misrepresentation was made by him in an effort to get the sympathy of a few people who, he thinks, do not read the papers. What was said of Mr. Withycombe was that he was in this country for many years before he thought it was good enough to give up for it his allegiance to England, and that the change of heart and citizenship were nearly synchronous with his desire for office.

WITHYCOMBE CAMPAIGN CLOSES WITH MEETING AT EMPIRE THEATRE

Judge Williams Pleads With Listeners to Vote Republican Ticket From Top to Bottom Without a Miss and Geer Follows With Similar Plea—Crowd Applauds Candidate.

James Withycombe closed his campaign for governor last night with a speech at the Empire theatre. His audience was not nearly so large as the one that cheered Governor Chamberlain last Thursday night, in the same place, but he was given enthusiastic greetings and was frequently applauded.

Former Mayor George H. Williams was chairman. And made the opening speech. Although a better with a record going back many years, particularly distinguishing himself in the Portland municipal campaign of 1897, he pleaded with his listeners to vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom without a miss. He did not fail to mention President Roosevelt's anxiety, and when he discussed the fight against the one that cheated Governor Chamberlain last Thursday night, he pleaded with his listeners to vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom without a miss.

Comments Direct Primary Law. The direct primary law has come to stay, and it ought to stay. It imposes burdens upon the candidates greater than those of any other system, but it also lodges political power with the voters, where it rightfully belongs. I believe the law will be increasingly popular with the people, and while some changes in detail may prove to be desirable in the light of experience, the plan of nominating public officers by direct vote of the people must not be disturbed.

Revocation of Franchise. Where a franchise has been unfairly secured from the people or where it has been granted to a franchisee in consideration for the special privileges granted. There is a widespread belief that franchises in the past have been secured by debauching city councils and paying to the greater compensation which rightfully belongs to the people. I believe that with every franchise there should be a condition requiring the owner of the franchise to pay to the public a proportionate part of the earnings for each year, by way of compensation for the special privileges granted.

The eminent tragedian writes the following complimentary letter to the Oregon Optical Co.

Victoria, B. C., April 27, 1909.
Dr. R. A. Thompson,
Oregon Optical Co., Portland, Or.
My Dear Sir:
I have found the eyeglasses you provided for me the most comfortable and effective that I have ever worn. I believe you retain a keen eye for all size and strength of vision, so please send me another set to above address that I may have a ready substitute in case of loss or accident.
Yours faithfully,
FREDERICK WARDE.

You can do no better than Mr. Warde with his eye troubles—come to us. Will please you as we did him.

properties which the state now owns can properly be looked after by the clerk of the state land board. One of the first duties of a public servant is that of economy in the expenditure of the public money.

No public official should wink at the waste of the people's resources. If I shall be elected governor it will be my effort to fight all extravagance and promote a careful and economical administration of the state's affairs.

Discusses Pardoning Power. The pardoning power of the governor should be exercised with extreme caution. When a man has been convicted of a crime by a jury of his fellow citizens and when a court has sentenced him to a term in the penitentiary, public justice and the public safety require that in all ordinary cases he should remain there during the term for which he has been sentenced.

Governor a Public Servant. The governor of Oregon should be the servant of the people. The people should have his ear and it should be his endeavor to serve the people. If I shall be chosen to the office of governor, I shall endeavor to administer the office along these lines.

Big Rally for the Governor at Astoria. (Journal Special Service.) Astoria, Or., June 2.—Governor Chamberlain was the principal speaker at the Democratic rally here tonight, which pleased a very large audience. More enthusiastic was the speaker tonight than ever before.

Mukden Again Becomes Active Trade Center. (Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal.) Tokio, June 2.—Mukden was formally opened to world's trade Friday. Considerable traffic which has congested at Siberian coast points will now move forward.

Charged with Murder of His Benefactor. (Journal Special Service.) Spokane, Wash., June 2.—Adolph Feller, aged 21 years, was arrested tonight and charged with murdering Lewis Feller at Lewiston, Idaho, a month ago. The youth was adopted six years ago at Portland. It was claimed that his adopted father accidentally killed himself and the boy was the only witness at the inquest. He laid claim to the estate. He had bought a photograph gallery here and was spending money lavishly.

Put a MONARCH MALLEABLE RANGE Into Your Kitchen

$1.00 Down and $1.00 a Week Will Do It

The price of a Monarch Malleable is a little higher than of the general run of ranges, but the Monarch is in the lead, because economical housekeepers know that the first cost is warranted by the superior advantages of the Monarch Malleable Ranges. They last longer, require less repair, bake best and consume less fuel.

The use of malleable iron makes the Monarch a range that will not crack, warp, break or open up in the seams. Consequently there is no increase during the life of the range in the amount of the fuel required. The amount of fuel necessary the first year determines the amount it will use any other year.

Any range lacking the essential elements of strength given the Monarch by the use of malleable iron will increase in the amount of fuel required as time goes by. It will crack, break, warp, the stove fuel gradually burn out and the seams open and admit the air directly into the flues. This may not and seldom does take place all at once. It is gradual. At the end of the first year's use the range may require a gallon of coal each day more than was used to do the same work in the beginning without the housekeeper being conscious of an increase; yet this single gallon (10 lbs.) wasted each day would at the price of $7.50 per ton for anthracite coal make the waste 34 cents per day or a total of $13.69 for a year. If the comparison be made where soft coal or wood is used the same proportion of increase would make the loss amount to nearly, if not quite as much, as is shown for hard coal. Thus the difference in first cost cannot in any case be enough to offset the waste resulting from the first 15 months' use of any range that can be purchased at a lower price than a Monarch Malleable—Prices $45 to $125. We pay $30 for any Monarch Malleable Range, bought here at any time.

$2.50 Lace Curtains, $1.69

Instead of 70 pairs, we received last Friday a shipment of 370 pairs of lace curtains, the cut. We had ordered 70 pairs, for a large rooming-house, for which we are supplying the furniture and everything else in our line. They are made of good quality bobbinet, white and ecru, three yards long and 12 inches wide. A very serviceable pattern. Rather than keep them here subject to his orders, the manufacturer made us a price, worth our while. To move the curtains quickly, we are going to give you the benefit of our advantage—$2.50 Curtains this week, the pair..... $1.69

LONGWORTHS TO TASTE SPLENDORS OF COURT

(Journal Special Service.) New York, June 2.—Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati and his wife sailed today for Europe on the American line steamer St. Louis. They will be gone two months.

A trunk carrying a cigar box which he said contained an infernal machine created considerable excitement, but when the police looked for him he had disappeared.

The departure of the Longworths was unpretentious. They occupied two first cabin staterooms. It is supposed that besides being entertained by King Edward and Queen Alexandra of Great Britain, the Longworths will be received by the German emperor. It has been the wish of Mrs. Longworth to personally thank the Kaiser for the bracelet he sent her as a token of esteem for her christening of the yacht Meteor a few years ago at Shooter Island.

ROBBERS MURDER AN AMERICAN MANAGER

(Copyright, Hearst News Service, by Leased Wire to The Journal.) Berlin, June 2.—News reached here of an attack on the office at Riga, Russia, of the Dering Harvester company, an American concern, by six robbers. The manager, an American, resisted and was killed. The robbers made their escape with considerable booty. They were pursued, and after a running fight in which two of the pursuers were killed, they disappeared.

JOURNAL STORY GIVES MOTHER BACK TO SONS

After reading in yesterday's Journal of the disappearance of Mrs. Alice Killen, the members of a family living at Seventeenth and Northrup streets telephoned the police station that a woman answering her description and totally unable to give any account of herself had been in their house since Monday, the day when Mrs. Killen disappeared. He had bought a photograph gallery here and was spending money lavishly.

Mrs. Killen's sons went to the house at once and found their mother. On
