CONSTRUCTION FORCES HAVE REPAIRED BREAK

Mail and Express Service Westbound Will Be Resumed Today—Spokane Trains Will Leave Portland on Time and Go Through.

News that will be welcomed by the traveling public was given out last night from the office of J. P. O'Brien, general manager of the O. R. & N. line. Repairs on the main line damaged by the flood between Echo and Meacham, in the Blue mountains, have reached a stage that will enable through trains to pass over the line, and traffic between Portland and Omaha will be resumed today.

Train No. 4 will leave Portland on time this evening at 8:15 o'clock, and go through to Huntington, making its regular connection for Omaha. The regular Spokane train will leave Portland on time at 6:15 this evening, and go through. Westbound trains will also resume operation, and passenger, express and mail service will be operated as promptly as possible under the difficulties attending permanent restoration of the washed-out bridges and tracks.

O. R. & N. officials and workmen are being congratulated on the dispatch with which the repairs have been effected. There were five bridge structures washed away at various points in the flooded district. For many hours the waters continued to come down from the mountains, and the men worked in floods that poured through the canyons and creek beds. The work was personally directed by the general manager, the general superintendent, chief engineer, division superintendent and dispatcher. It is said the Buckley—one general superintendent—and the other a dispatcher at La Grande distinguished themselves by reaching the storm center through great difficulties at the height of the flood. A force of 500 men was hurried to the scene and five pile-drivers have been continuously in operation day and night in construction of temporary bridges. The flood was the worst in the history of the Blue mountain division, and inflicted a loss of between $50,000 and $100,000 to the property of the company.

ORDINANCE SIGNED BY MAYOR

Question of Front Street Railway Franchise is Closed by His Action.

CITY MAY NOW BUY LINE WHEN IT PLEASES

Five-Dollar Gold Piece Used to Bind the Bargain Will Be Donated by Railway Officials to Some Deserving Charity.

A bright $5 gold piece changed hands late yesterday afternoon and the question of the front street franchise of the United Railways company was closed. Mayor Lane at 5 o'clock signed the ordinance passed at the special council meeting Friday afternoon authorizing him to enter into a contract with the railway company by which the latter agrees to sell the front street line instead of the entire system to the city of Portland whenever the city desires to make the purchase. To make the contract binding some money had to change hands, and $5 had been specified by the council as the token of good faith on the part of the city.

In the mayor's office were gathered J. Whyte Evans, president of the United Railways company; Mayor Lane and W. G. McPherson and R. L. Sabin of the executive board. City Auditor Devlin drew from the treasurer's office a $5 piece and took it to the mayor's office, where it was received by Mr. Evans, who inquired as to the best charity in town.

The original franchise ordinances of the United Railways company and the Willamette Valley Traction company passed by the council 19 days ago were returned to the auditor, and will become laws, as no veto was attached. So far as the United Railways franchise is concerned, however, it will be superseded by the ordinance embodying the new contract signed yesterday and which was authorized by the council Friday.

By the terms of its franchise the United Railways company is to pay the city $142,000 by an increasing scale during the 25 years it is effective. As the franchise becomes effective at once, the United Railways may begin the construction of its line, which in Portland is to extend from the southern city limits on the west side north on Front street to Irving.

Illegal Liquor Selling.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) The Dallas, Or., June 2.—Robert Witt of Hood River was sentenced yesterday afternoon to a fine of $150 before the justice of the peace in this city for selling liquor without a license in that town.

ARMED MEN ANXIOUS

(Continued from Page One.) have been exaggerated but that the casualties on both sides combined will exceed that number seems certain.

RIOT UNDER CONTROL.

General Yzabel Confident Backbone of Uprising is Broken. Tucson, Ariz., June 2.—The riot, which for a time threatened to result in the massacre of scores of Americans at Cananea, has been quelled by prompt responses to calls for aid by Americans along the international line and the prompt action of the Mexican authorities.

Although the situation at Cananea still has its alarming features, Governor Yzabel is confident that he has broken the backbone of the uprising. The leaders of the disturbance are being gathered in as fast as possible, and will immediately be shot. Colonel Kosterlitzky and a large force of rurales, en route from Magdalena overland, reached Cananea this morning and were of great service in quelling the riots. They have been sent into the hills, to search for rioters who have fled. Their instructions are to shoot them on sight.

General Luis Torres, the famed Yaquis fighter, with 1,000 troops, would have reached Cananea this noon but for a freight wreck, which delayed his special train at Fairbanks, Arizona. He will be met tonight by W. A. McGovern, superintendent of the Southern Pacific company at Tucson and rushed through to Cananea by morning.

Epes Randolph, who left Tucson on a special train at 11 o'clock this morning, reached Cananea this morning at 4 p. m. and immediately wired his offices here that telegraphic communication with Naco had been restored and that the railroad company had suffered practically no damage.

According to Randolph, less than 50 of the rioters were killed while less than a dozen Americans lost their lives. The loss to the Cananea company from the buildings and lumber yard to which rioters applied the torch or dynamite, will exceed $500,000.

Governor Yzabel would hardly have been able to cope with the rioters and preserve order today but for the American volunteers who joined him at Naco this morning. The presence of a force of fully 400 armed Americans in addition to the armed American population of the camp had a good effect on the rioters from the start and the leaders began to desert.

The American volunteers from Bisbee, Douglas and Naco gathered their arms and assembled at Naco last night, but were unable to cross the line until Governor Yzabel arrived this morning, when they joined his force and were allowed to proceed.

With the arrival of the troops under Torres, the need for the presence of the American volunteers will have ended and unless the rioting is resumed, they will return to their homes. Many of the refugees who came out of Cananea Friday night with the special train carrying women and children are returning today although the women and children will be cared for at Bisbee and Naco for several days until complete order is restored.

RAILROAD ORDERS ARMS.

Southwestern wires for two hundred Winchester rifles and ammunition. El Paso, Texas, June 2.—Wildest rumors of the number killed still come from Cananea, but authoritative statements declare that the number of Americans killed is between 10 and 15. These include George A. and William Metcalf, who were shot down while protecting the residence of Colonel W. C. Green, where the Americans gathered for protection. About 30 Mexicans, including a small baby were killed.

Colonel Green is reported to have patrolled the streets all night in an automobile surrounded by rangers. The Mexicans are short of arms, and the rioters used dynamite. It is reported that they did not destroy more than a dozen American houses.

METCALF BROTHERS DEAD.

Killed in Protecting Home of Colonel Green Near Cananea. (Journal Special Service.) El Paso, Texas, June 2.—Authentic reports state that two of the Americans killed in the rioting at Cananea were George A. Metcalf and his brother Will, who were shot down while protecting the residence of Colonel W. C. Green, where the Americans gathered for protection. About 30 Mexicans, including a small baby were killed.
