HONEYMOON IN ARCTIC REGIONS

Photographs of Colonel Max Fleischmann, the Cincinnati millionaire, and his bride who had just left for Europe. Sailing in their own vessel, the Arctic Laura, they will spend their honeymoon exploring the Arctic regions.

CAMP WILL TEACH FOOTBALL GAME

Yale's Famous Coach Will Instruct in All Parts of the Country.

ELABORATE CAMPAIGN HAS BEEN OUTLINED

Big Conference of Officials and Managers Planned to Be Held in October When the New Rules Will Be Interpreted.

(Journal Special Service.)

New York, June 7.—The effort of the revisers of the football rules to secure the eradication of all the evils complained of in the game will not fail by reason of the lack of competent officials to properly interpret and enforce the new code if the central board of officials appointed by the American intercollegiate football rules committee can prevent it. The plans outlined by the central committee are most thorough and complete as at present laid down, and it is proceeding to formulate schemes for their further extension. Chairman Babbitt of the central board announced the appointment of the personnel of the sectional boards which are to serve in the four districts apportioned at the last meeting of his committee and made public the instructions issued to the new boards.

The committee named are incomplete, and have the power to appoint other members, but these will be named at once, so that the work can be formally organized in each district, and may be carried to early completion. In New York five men are to serve on the sectional board. These are to provide for the states of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland as well. Three have been named, Professor J. R. Fine of Princeton, John H. Minds of Pennsylvania and Professor Babbitt of Haverford. One of the two to be named will be a representative of Cornell, and will be appointed by Professor L. M. Dennis, while the other will be a resident of New York City.

In New England two members of the committee will be Walter Camp of Yale and E. K. Hall of Dartmouth. Three other institutions will be represented. In Ohio and West Virginia, C. W. Savage will serve and will name his own committee from a list of names to be nominated by the Ohio conference of colleges, while in the western states the committee will be named by the conference colleges, including the nine leading universities in the section. The central board, however, recommends the appointment of Professor Waldo of Purdue as chairman, of Professor Raycroft of Chicago, Professor Adams of Wisconsin and Professor Jameson of Michigan. No provision is made for either the south or far west, but suggestions as to the best method of dealing with these sections are invited.

Selection of Officials.

In its instructions to the sectional committees the central board directs them to organize at once and to prepare lists of accredited officials in their sections, which they shall forward to the central board for promulgation. To these lists at the next meeting of the central board other officials will be added from the other section not represented and these lists will be distributed to all football managers throughout the country, so that there will be no excuse for any institution failing to secure competent officials who will enforce the rules.

Then the committee is directed to devise plans to supervise the actions of officials on the field; to arrange for local and general conferences of officials upon the new rules and their interpretation, and to arrange for the appointment of officials for all games along the lines laid down by the central board at its last meeting. To this end meetings will be arranged in each section of all the football managers in the section at which suggestions will be solicited as to the best method of carrying out these provisions. Walter Camp has been directed to meet each of these sectional committees in turn and confer with them and with the officials in that section, so that the whole scope of the new rules may be gone over and opinions be secured on the proper interpretations of their various provisions preparatory to a general conference of a similar nature to be held later in New York. These preliminary conferences, which Walter Camp is to attend and instruct, are to be held prior to the end of the present college year.

General Conference.

The general conference will be a huge affair, and will be held in the early fall, prior to October 1, before the starting of actual play by any of the colleges. All the members of the American intercollegiate football rules committee will attend this conference, and all the officials in the country that can be gotten together. The meeting will be held in New York, and the rules will there be discussed and properly interpreted for the instruction of officials. The decisions reached here on all points in dispute will be final.

Letters were received from prominent officials and college authorities all over the country with reference to methods of carrying on the work. Some 30 replies were sent yesterday, soliciting further expressions, especially from the districts not covered in the subdivisions provided for. This correspondence will be followed up until the whole ground is covered and fully developed plans provided.

No stone will be left unturned to secure the purposes of the rules committee in the revision of the code, which the committee feels now depends on the enforcement of the spirit and the letter of the law. If its schemes for the education of competent officials are wholly successful, it believes that there will be no further cause to complaint of the spirit of participants in the games or of any of the old evils that marred the sport.

PLAIN STATEMENT REGARDING THE CLOSING OUT SALE OF EILERS PIANO HOUSE.

What More Can Be Said—Chance to Educate the Whole Family in Music at Eilers Piano House Expense—Sale of Everything Connected With the Big Establishment Continues, Including Rugs, Carpets, Etc., Etc.—Will End in Few Days.

Did you ever see a really good new piano sold for $157 heretofore? You can get it now at Eilers closing out sale.

Did you ever see choicest Chickerings, Webers, Kimballs, Crowns, Hazeltons and Deckers sold at an average saving of enough on each and every instrument to fairly educate the whole family in music? You can do this at Eilers closing-out sale.

No one in Portland will ever live long enough to again see choice, standard, brand new instruments actually sacrificed—slaughtered, if you please, by a responsible concern at what they cost, and in some instances at even less than what they cost at the factories that made them.

Remember every instrument we sell is guaranteed. Remember you can take your own time almost as to paying for one. Remember, too, that we agree to refund all money paid in case instrument after delivery is not found, in every respect satisfactory or as represented.

What more can be said? What more can we do? We have but a few days longer to remain here—possibly not over three days — and although the stock to commence with was probably the very largest ever offered in the Union, it is growing smaller day by day. Make your selection now, while you may still take your pick. Choice means something.

Beautiful pianola pianos, the wonderful little pianolas, the famous Orchestrelles, and little self-playing Aeolian organs, several beautiful baby grands, a superb parlor grand, a magnificent concert grand, two very fine and elaborate two manual church organs, numerous parlor and chapel reed organs, two Vocalions, besides numerous fine, high-grade and standard, regular upright pianos, in all of the various fancy woods known only in modern pianomaking — all go now on terms of payment little more than rent, and at prices far below what small dealers and agents usually pay for the same thing at the factory.

We are compelled to retire from the retail business. Have no further use for all kinds of store furnishings and fixings, including curtains, rugs, carpets, pictures, statues of noted composers, music cabinets, and everything else pertaining to the beautiful establishment heretofore known as Eilers Piano House. Remember store closes definitely within the next very few days. Come in this evening or any night, if impossible to attend during the day. It will surely mean the saving of a great, big, snug sum of money in the purchase of anything in our line if you'll participate in this closing-out sale now. Eilers Piano House, 351 Washington street.

DOUGLAS MADE MODERATOR BY THE BAPTISTS

West Willamette Association Ends Meeting With Election of Officers.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

McMinnville, Or., June 7.—Wednesday's session of the West Willamette Baptist association, which is being held in the First Baptist church, opened at 9 o'clock with devotional service, led by John McAllister. The morning was devoted to the Sunday school session, with addressed on its various phases by Professor F. G. Boughton of McMinnville college, Rev. C. H. Davis of Dallas and others.

The afternoon session opened with devotional service, led by Rev. C. H. McKee. The subject of the afternoon was "What Laymen Think of Christian Stewardship." The discussion proved very interesting and was participated in by various laymen.

At 3:30 o'clock the educational session, conducted by President L. W. Riley of McMinnville college, was held in the college chapel. Much interest was shown and the college glee club helped to enliven things.

The association closed last night with an address by President Riley and a sermon by F. G. Boughton of McMinnville college.

About 50 outside delegates and visitors have been present at the sessions.

The officers for the ensuing year are: Rev. J. H. Douglas, Independence, moderator; Rev. C. J. Scott, Carlton, assistant moderator; Rev. J. W. Stockton, Amity, clerk and treasurer.

REFORM SALOON STATUTE PASSES TACOMA COUNCIL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Tacoma, Wash., June 7.—Tacoma's reform saloon ordinance passed the council last night by a vote of 10 to 6. Mayor Wright is supposed to be against the measure, and if he vetoes it—and the liquor men claim he will—it will put a quietus upon it, as it will require 11 votes to pass it over his veto. Providing he does veto it such indignation will be stirred up as has rarely been manifested against a mayoralty executive, as thousands of people have been working for months to line up sufficient councilmen to pass the ordinance. The ordinance prohibits side-door entrances to saloons, limits license ownership to one saloon to one man or company, abolishes boxes and winerooms, prohibits gambling and theatricals in saloons, forbids female workers or visitors, raises license fee from $400 to $1,000 and requires saloonmen to give $1,500 bonds. For weeks past the saloonmen have been buying advertising space in newspapers and summing up their arguments against the passage of the ordinance in black-faced type half an inch long.

Forest Grove Rose Show.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Forest Grove, Or., June 7.—The fourth annual rose show of Forest Grove will take place on Saturday, June 9. Great interest has been manifested by the people of the town and vicinity and a large display of roses is expected to be exhibited. Prizes will be awarded for the best displays and specimens.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY TO HAVE CHERRY MEET

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Salem, Or., June 7.—The midsummer meeting of the State Horticultural society will be held in Salem, Oregon, July 6 and 7, 1906. It will be a special cherry meeting. Business men of Salem have donated cups for the best displays of cherries.

The program will include papers and talks by such men as Dr. Cardwell, Colonel Dosch, Professors Coote and Lewis, Commissioners Newell, Reid and Park, and Messrs. J. R. Shepard, E. H. Shepard, M. McDonald, Lloyd T. Reynolds, L. M. Gilbert, H. C. Atwell, George H. Lamberson, E. C. Armstrong, H. S. Gile, H. M. Williamson and others.

While the meeting is chiefly for the cherry, the walnut will receive no little attention
