

STELTZ WAS EASY FOR PORTLAND

Dillon's New Flinger Was Touched Along for a Dozen Merry Hits.

GOCHNAUER PLAYED A BRILLIANT ENGAGEMENT

Clever Shortstop Accepted Nine Chances Without an Error — Sweeney, McCredie and McLean Connect With Steltz's Curves.

Portland 7, Los Angeles 2. Batteries — Garvin and Donahue, Stelta and Eagar.

After a prolonged rest, due to the unruly elements, baseball was resumed yesterday at Recreation park, and as usual the Giants walked off with the game, 7 to 2. The diamond was not fit for fast baseball, and the miscues made by the locals in the ninth inning could be charged up to the softness of the infield.

The Angels presented Mr. Steltz in the box. This young man was received with open arms and swinging bats by the locals, and before the day was done he had been hammered for a dozen hard and safe hits, one of which was a triple. Steltz could not locate the plate in the first inning, and when he did the ball was sent to unprotected territory. In the opening chapter McLean was safe on a hit. Sweeney and Mitchell walked, McCredie hit safely, and so did McLean, securing two runs. One more came in the fourth on three hits and two in the fifth on two more drives. Four safe swats in the seventh and eighth innings netted two more.

The Angels' two runs came in the ninth on three hits and a very pretty combination of errors by Mitchell, Moore, Smith & Co.

Gochbauer played the star game of the occasion, having nine hard chances without a miscue. The lineup:

COCKSWAIN OF CHICAGO IS PRAISED FOR COURAGE

Secretary Bonaparte Addresses Letter Complimenting Him for Saving Refugee's Life.

Manuel J. Years, the cockswain of Admiral Goodrich's flagship Chicago, has received a letter of commendation from Secretary Bonaparte of the navy for gallant conduct in the rescue of an old man, a refugee from the San Francisco fire. The letter from the secretary tells the story:
"The commanding officer of the Chicago reports to the department that on April 29, while a large number of refugees were embarking at Fort Mason, an old man, loaded with two heavy suitcases, slung across his shoulders and around his neck, fell overboard between the dock and the steamer. It appears that there was a strong tide running at the time, that the night was very dark and that there was every probability that the man would be crushed between the dock and the side of the steamer. Notwithstanding these circumstances, you jumped down between the boat and the dock piers and succeeded in reaching the man and holding him until a rope could be lowered by which he was hauled safely upon the dock."
Cockswain Years is a young man, small of stature, but a thorough sailor, and is popular among his shipmates. He has been with the cruiser Chicago about 18 months.

HO! FOR HUNT CLUB RACING MEET

Fifth Annual Field Day of Local Club Will Be Held Tomorrow.

HORSES AND RIDERS READY FOR THE DAY

President Downing Announces Official List of Horses, Riders, Colors and Officials for the Event—Irrington Track Is in Good Condition.

The fifth annual field day of the Portland Hunt club will be held tomorrow afternoon at Irrington race track. The first race on the card will start at 1:15 and the program will be finished before 5 o'clock.

Local riders and the lovers of horse racing have been looking forward to this event with great expectations and the officials of the Hunt club announce that this year's card is the best ever offered to the public.

The track, while a trifle heavy, is in fairly good condition, the grandstand has been renovated and the horses have been trained carefully for the event. Brown's full band has been engaged for the occasion and will render a special program of music.

There is an intense rivalry among the different riders, and the spectators will have an opportunity of witnessing the clearest horsemanship of which the local club is capable of producing.

It will be an occasion for the belated horsemen "to shoot the soup" into their mounts in order to keep them in the going. President Downing has issued instructions to the officials that every event must be pulled off on time. Presiding Judge Hugh Hume and Associate Judges H. C. Bowers and J. W. Crutcher will see that there is no crowding nor rough work during the racing. E. M. O'Brien will act as starter and will see that every field will go off in a bunch. Riders who are not in the paddock 15 minutes before saddling time will not be allowed to start. This rule is necessary in order that the races will be started at the time set. The official list of horses, owners, riders and colors is as follows:

ATHLETES HOPE TO BREAK RECORDS

Intercollegiate Track Meet Tomorrow at Salem May Furnish Surprises.

CORVALLIS WILL GIVE OREGON A HARD RUN

Manner in Which Points Are Counted Will Give an Advantage to the Oregon Aggies—Sixteen Men From Eugene Will Enter Events.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 8.—Unless all signs fall there will be a record-breaking crowd at the intercollegiate field meet here tomorrow. Interest is at fever heat and there is considerable speculation as to the outcome. Although Oregon won her annual dual meet from O. A. C. by a score of 74 to 48, it is the prevailing opinion that the Corvallisites will make a much better showing tomorrow. Oregon depends upon five or six star performers, while Corvallis has a well-balanced team and is strong in second, third and fourth places. The system of counting points 5, 3 and 1 in order of finish will undoubtedly aid Corvallis, and the work of Lounsbury of Willamette and Peterson and Fletcher of Pacific will take points from Oregon in the jumps and runs. The Corvallis team is said to have shown considerable improvement since the meet at Eugene, and it is the general belief that the "Agiess" will crowd Trainer Hayward's men for first place. An estimate as to the result gives Oregon 66 points, Corvallis 58, Willamette 16 and Pacific 13. Any one of a half dozen things may happen that will give Corvallis the meet by two or three points. If Sullivan should win one of the sprints or hurdle races, or should Dunlap (O. A. C.) take the hammer-throw from Hug (U. of O.), victory will go to Corvallis.

Meulen (U. of O.) should break the intercollegiate record for the pole vault, and McKinley (U. of O.) will have no trouble breaking the record for the shotput. Friesell and Kelly (U. of O.) will undoubtedly break the record for the broad jump, and De Volt (O. A. C.) should set a new mark for the mile run, in fact many records will be broken unless weather conditions are unfavorable.

The University of Oregon team, consisting of 14 athletes, Manager W. C. Winslow and Trainer W. L. Hayward came down from Eugene yesterday afternoon. The teams from Forest Grove and Corvallis will arrive tomorrow morning. Unless rain falls today the track will be fast tomorrow.
