New York, June 11.—In the old days, used to be "Snapper" Garrison and 'red Taral at each other's throats in which has ever occurred in the history of Pacific coast yachting—a trans-Pacific race from this port to Honoidulu, which started today. For months yachting people the world over have looked forward to this event, which promises to rival the famous trans-Atlantic races and the cruises for the America's cup.

It was the original intention to make the start from Sausalite, in San Francisco bay, but the recent calamity which overtook the metropolis caused a change in the program and San Pedro was selected as the point of starting.

Two cups, valued at $500 and $300 reapentively, are offered as first and second prizes. These prizes were made in San Francisco and passed safely through the firs. The four boats which made the start today under the most at Yacht club, but now sailing under the colors of the South Coast Yacht club, the Larline, Commodore H. H. The combined Hawailan yacht clubs are the originators and sponsors fof the great race and nothing is being left undone to make the race not only a successful one from a yachting standpoint, but a pleasant experience for the sallors who participate. Plans have been made for a royal entertainment at the Hawailan end of the course, and the initial race will be something to remember by all who are permitted to take part. It is probable that the starts in future races, for it is hoped that there will be many will be alternated, the next being from Honolulu. The finishing point being either San Pedro or San Diego.

Today is to Hawaii what Independence day is to the United States and this fact has helped to kindle the interest of the islanders in the big event. Hundreds of craft of all sorts dotted the bay today and their decks were crowded with yachtsmen and others anxious to see the graceful racers cross the line and make the start on their long contest.

Chicago. June 11.—Battling Nelson arrived here tonight for a week's stay, and announced that he was willing to give Kid Herman a fight at any time the money was posted and a suitable purse offered by any responsible club. He declared that he had given up looking for a match since the Herrera fiasco, but would take another suitable one whenever offered.

"All that talk about my being matched with Joe Gans is talk and nothing else," says Nelson, "and I am not going to fight Gans now or at any other time. I am willing to meet Herman, however at any time." Nelson's explanation of the Los Angeles fiasco was that Herrera had "cold feet." "I think he was afraid. That's all there is to it."

pick of the very best horses owned by the millionaires friendly with Andrew Miller. Miller is a short, squatty chap but with a natural deftness for anything of an athiette turn. For instance, early this week. Tom Welsh, when discussing the riding prodigy, said: "Here is something about Miller: Before he took to race riding he was the best kid bail player in Brooklýn, and no boy of his weight could outbox him. Then, again, he was only roller skating down at Coney Island three nights until he was doing spin wheels and fancy tricks. In other words, good jockeys and high-class athletes are born, not made." Radtke is a lean-faced, tall, dignified sort of hoy. The money-mad Raineyx bought the contract on his services from J. O. Keene of Lexington, Kentucky, for $25,000 hast April. He is under the direct tutelage of "Bud" May. Like Miller he is a deft manipulator of the race horse in action. With hands as soft as those of a woman, with intuition akin to that of an inspired artist, this boy can make horses win which would be 50 to 1 outside chances in this boy can make horses win which would be 50 to 1 outside chances in the hands of another Jockey. He is a native of Boegin, Germany, and was discovered by Keene two years ago.

The golf tournament for the championship of Oregon will begin on Thursday of this week at the Waverly golf links and continues until Saturday, when the finals will be played. The local links were never in finer condition than at the present and the followers of the festive bail will enjoy to their heart's content the beautiful greens during the tournament. Sixteen costly trophies will be given to the winners:

The list of events is as follows: Men's open championship of the state, ladies open championship of the state, ladies open championship of the state, mixed foursomes (handicap) men's open handicap, men's approaching contest, men's driving contest, ladies driving contest, putting contests (daily), three-hole compellion contests (daily), three-hole compellion contests (daily). the adherents of Miller had a chance to laugh back at the followers of Radtke, for Miller on Minta clearly outgeneraled the Rainey jockey on Entree in a stretch duel which brough 10,000 racegoers to foot. From now on, the striving of these star jockeys will stand as one of the big sidelights of the routine of racing hereabouts.

The Suburban handicap, like the Brooklyn handicap, is worth $20,000, this amount of money being divided among the owners of the first three horses. These fixtures are two of a trio, the Brighton handicap, the richest of them all, it being $25,000 in value, standing as third of the geries. They are at a mile and a quarter for horses, i-year-olds and up, the Brooklyn handicap being the feature event at the annual opening of the Brooklyn Jockey club's spring meeting at Gravesend, the Suburban handicap doing the same service for the mid-summer meeting of the Coney Island Jockey club at Sheepehead Bay, and the Brighton handicap lending the hurrah effect on the first day of the always welcome meeting at Brighton Beach, down by the rolling ocean surf. The running of any one of them is the signal for an exodus of anywhere from 40,000 to 70,000 persons from the city to the Long Island racing grounds. The turf, is keeping pace with the growing life of the country and cach year sees a greater number of racegoers in attendance. For instance, 65,000 paid admissions were recorded at Belmont park on Decoration day this season—a record crowd for an American race track—and fully 50,000 admirers of the thoroughbred will probably look on the finish of the coming Suburban handicap.

Artful won the Brighton handicap last year, but is said to be not quite herself just now. She may be withdrawn. On the other hand, Burgomaster strikes one as another Sysonby, the more you get to know of his capabilities. Originally assigned 105 pounds by the handicappen, he must take up a 12-pound penalty for winning the Belmont stakes at Belmont park and the Carlton stakes at Gravesend. With Burgomaster it is a case of taking a good, big colt against a good, smaller but older horse, Dandelton. The Vancouvers, under the leadership of Arthur Pender, the clever southpaw slab artist, took the Brainard Maroons down the line Sunday afternoon in a hard-fought battle, to the tune of 5 to 6. And to think that the Maroons had to go over to Vancouver to get theirs! Well, it's galling to say the least. The Vancouver boys played the game, hit hard and often, stole bases and conducted themselves scandalously until the scoreboard told the direful tale. The attendance of redhot fans was large, but, unfortunately, for the players, the stiendance was mostly outside the fence, where no admission was charged. The Vancouver team is a good one and deserves better support from the fans. Pender was in fine fettle and was given good support throughout the game. A return match will be played on the professional diamond soon. The score: mond soon.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

In the story of the spiendid meet of the Portland Hunt club printed in this paper yesterday were some errors that show the linotype machine to be almost human in its fertility of distortion. A writer whose skill in chirography has won him encomiums, wrote of the quar-ter mile dash for riders over 200 pounds that it was irreverently termed "the fat man's log." The sentence read: "The man's jog." The sentence read: "The fat man's 109." That is much worse than 23. The other errors were of a nature to prove that the linotype machine jokes with the facility of a sweet-natured pessimist in a Sunday morning pany. The ex-webrooter bats 27a and is second on the list of run-getters for the Washington team. He has crossed the rubber 19 times in 24 games. Besides this he has stolen seven bases. Garland Stahl says of him: "This Coast league product has shown much aptitude in big league circles, and I look for him to make good. He covers ground nicely, hits well, is not 'tied to the bases,' and acts like a major league performer. Right now I think he is as good as any youngster in the American league."

Jess Stovall is batting at the rate of .295 since he began playing the outfield for Louisville, and will soon be in the charmed .300 circle at this rate. He has proven himself a valuable man for Colonels.

Boston writers are demanding the release of Stahl and Buck Freeman. They are also hot foot after Hob Ferris, who is neither hitting nor fielding. Grimshaw, the supposedly only weak spot on the team is the only one doing good work and hitting the ball, although Collins himself is fighting hard every day and playing well. "Fire em all and get a new team." is the cry that is beginning to go up in certain quarters, although many of the old guard are still loyal.

The American Kennel club has stirred up a discussion in dogdom by its latest circular regarding the cataloguing of exhibits at bench shows.

Many of the members of the kennel clubs think that it should have left this matter in the hands of the individual clubs.

The following is a notice sent out by the American Kennel club: "To Bench show committees—As many errors and much confusion has been caused through the breeds in show catalogues not being published in the same order, it has been decided by the executive board that hereafter classifications, in order to meet approval, must conform with the forms adopted by this office. For the convenience of exhibitors and the public, as well as show committees, all breeds must appear in the prise lists as follows: Sporting dogs, non-sporting dogs, terriers and foreign dogs (name each variety in alphabetical order).

"Bench show committees are notified that classifications will not be approved unless they conform with the above. To go into effect June 1.

With Bases Full Emerick Drives Out a Double, Sending Three Men Home.

The O. R. & N. boys had another hole punched in their ticket by the East Portland Grays yesterday morning on the Hawthorne diamond. The railroaders put up a great fight, however, and the red light was cut for the Grays in the ninth inning, but you can't always sometimes tell how a ball game will end. The Grays went to bat in the last half of the ninth and before the railroad boys knew it had the switches full and the mainline clear. The fast mail hovs in sight in the person of "Dunk" Emerick, and he smashed out a corker to left field, clearing the yard and leaving himself perched on second, with no one out. That smash broke up the game. The train dispatcher gave the railroaders 23 orders and the big crowd went home. The game in detail:
