NEW STATE OF OKLAHOMA WILL BE ADMITTED NOW

Question to Be Submitted at November Election Is, "Shall Arizona and New Mexico Be United to Form One State?"

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, June 12.—The statehood conference committee's report was withdrawn by the senate today. Foraker wins his fight and the bill will now be changed to admit Oklahoma and the Indian Territory jointly. In November the people of Arizona and New Mexico will vote upon joint or separate statehood.

The compromise presented by Senator Carter provides for the rejection of the Furrows amendment striking from the bill all reference to the admission of Arizona and New Mexico and the adoption in lieu of section 24 of the original bill of an amendment providing the following:

"That at the general election to be held on November 4, 1906, all the electors of said territories respectively qualified to vote at such election are hereby authorized to vote for and choose delegates to form a convention for said territories. The said convention shall consist of 110 delegates, 66 of which delegates shall be elected to said convention by the people of the territory of New Mexico and 44 by the people of the territory of Arizona. The governor, chief justice and secretaries of each of said territories respectively shall apportion the delegates to be thus elected from their respective territories as nearly as may be equitably done, among the several counties thereof, in accordance with the population as shown by the federal census of 1900.

That at the said general election, and on the same ballots on which the names of candidates to the said convention are printed there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of each of said territories a question which shall be stated on the ballot in substance and form as follows:

POLICE ARRIVE AND PREVENT THE CRIME

Wife Swears Out Warrant Charging Her Husband With Threatening to Kill—Kuehn to Be Examined, as Insanity Is Feared.

In an outburst of uncontrovertible passion last evening William Kuehn, residing at 225 1/2 Arthur street, attacked his wife with a pair of shears and then securing a shotgun declared his intention of exterminating the entire family. It was only by the arrival of Patrolman Stuart and Detective Joe Day that the infuriated man was prevented from carrying out his murderous purpose. He was locked up in the city prison and was booked on a complaint sworn to by Mrs. Kuehn this morning charging him with threatening to kill. There is some question as to his sanity and an investigation of his mental condition by the insanity commission may be necessary.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Patrolman Stuart was informed that a man was attempting to murder his family at the Arthur street address. Stuart called up police headquarters and was soon reinforced by Detective Joe Day. They proceeded to the house and were met at the gate by Mrs. Kuehn and notified that her husband was threatening to kill those who entered the house. The policemen forced an entrance and found Kuehn in the kitchen preparing a meal. He offered no resistance and was taken into custody. Behind the stove was found the shotgun and a large butcher knife.

Mind Has Been Weakened.

The Kuehn family, consisting of the parents and six children, came to Portland about a year ago from Missouri. The youngest child is 2 years of age and the eldest 20. For several years Kuehn has been afflicted with fits of rage and although threatening murder, never attempted to do so.

The motion was on this morning's calendar, but when the court announced that Judge Wolvorton would not be present until the 10-story office building on the northwest corner of Seventh and Oak streets.
