

GRAND JURY SCADDING WILL BEGIN OF ILLINOIS ON MONDAY IS BISHOP

Investigation of Election Frauds Expected to Result in at Least Forty Indictments

More Evidence Being Unearthed to Show Complicity of Oregon Water Power Company—Sellwood Election Official May Also Be Asked to Explain.

The details of the frauds in Sellwood precinct, now coming out as the result of persistent investigation, make it evident that John A. Miller, chairman of the election board, has as much to explain as the property owners and the one-night stand voters who committed the perjury in order to get ballots in the box against prohibition and Sheriff Wood. Miller knows Sellwood well, having lived there for many years, but he ran the day election board in a way that must have been highly pleasing to the stuffer, and when protest was made against his affidavit votes that were apparently fraudulent he showed his desire for an honest election by saying, "To hell with the law. We'll swear them in anyway."

Miller's conduct and as part of the Oregon Water Power & Railway company took in the election frauds are soon to be made the subject of official inquiry. The granting of a non-suit in the Pacific Mill company damage case which has been on trial before Judge Sears, has cleared the way for a grand jury, and the names of the seven men who will constitute the new inquisitorial body will be drawn from the box next Monday by County Clerk Fields in the courtroom of department 1, of the circuit court. Organization will probably be effected at once, and it is expected that the jury will be at work on the Sellwood frauds within 24 hours after it is organized. Out of this inquiry it is believed will come 30 or 40 indictments, possibly more, an evidence is to be presented against practically every man who ran an illegal ballot or committed perjury in vouching for an illegal voter. If there are any exceptions they will be confined to offenders who furnish evidence against their fellow conspirators. It is said that affidavit voters have been found who do not know even the names of the property owners who swore to their identity and residence.

No Lack of Evidence.

Such men as W. C. Boynton, assistant superintendent of the O. W. P., Jack A. R. Dismick and T. R. Baldwin, also of the O. W. P., and G. Plann, secretary of the Mount Hood Brewing company, who are known to have signed the affidavits of a number

Episcopalians Elected Him After Contest Between High and Low Church Advocates

Dissatisfaction Is Expressed at Outcome of Contest—High Church Men Accused of Taking Advantage—Routine Matters Considered Today.

Rev. Charles Scadding of La Grange, Illinois, was elected bishop for the diocese of Oregon to succeed the late Dr. Wistar Morris, D. D., after a hot contest last night, and though the vote was made unanimous and everything in its power was done by the convention to give a calm and peaceful appearance to the final outcome, there is still a low rumble of dissatisfaction among the ranks.

Dr. Scadding is professionally the candidate of the high church element, and though the members of the convention took pains to stamp their contest as bearing no feeling on the difference between high and low church, the subsequent proceedings and subsequent remarks show that it was the point of difference.

How the Vote Resulted.

When the final vote was taken last night among the clergy after hours of discussion, and not a few glittering personalities between the champions of the two leading candidates, Dr. Scadding of Illinois and Dr. Clappet of California, the vote resulted in 13 for Dr. Scadding, 11 for Dr. Clappet and 1 for Mr. Stuck of Alaska.

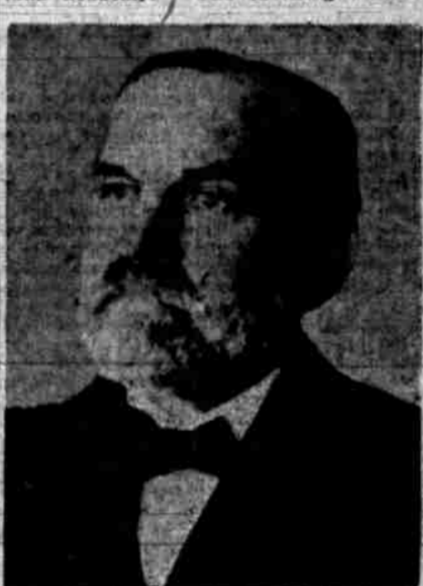

OREGON HONORS MEMORY OF JASON LEE

Dr. John H. Coleman, Chairman.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 15.—Public men, educators, clergymen and other representative citizens of three states, united today in paying tribute to the memory of Rev. Dr. Jason Lee, the first Presbyterian missionary in the Pacific northwest. The memorial exercises were held under the auspices of Willamette university, of which Dr. Lee was the founder. The particular occasion of the ceremonies was the reinterment of the remains of Dr. Lee in the Lee memorial cemetery near this city. The famous missionary was originally buried in Canada.

The services opened this morning at 10 o'clock. The morning service was under the auspices of the Methodist church and was presided over by Rev. Dr. Turner. It was opened by reading of the scripture which was followed by a prayer. At the conclusion of a hymn Hon. W. D. Fenton delivered an address. A vocal solo was followed by an address by Rev. Dr. S. R. Wilson of Portland academy. The morning service

Dr. J. R. Wilson.

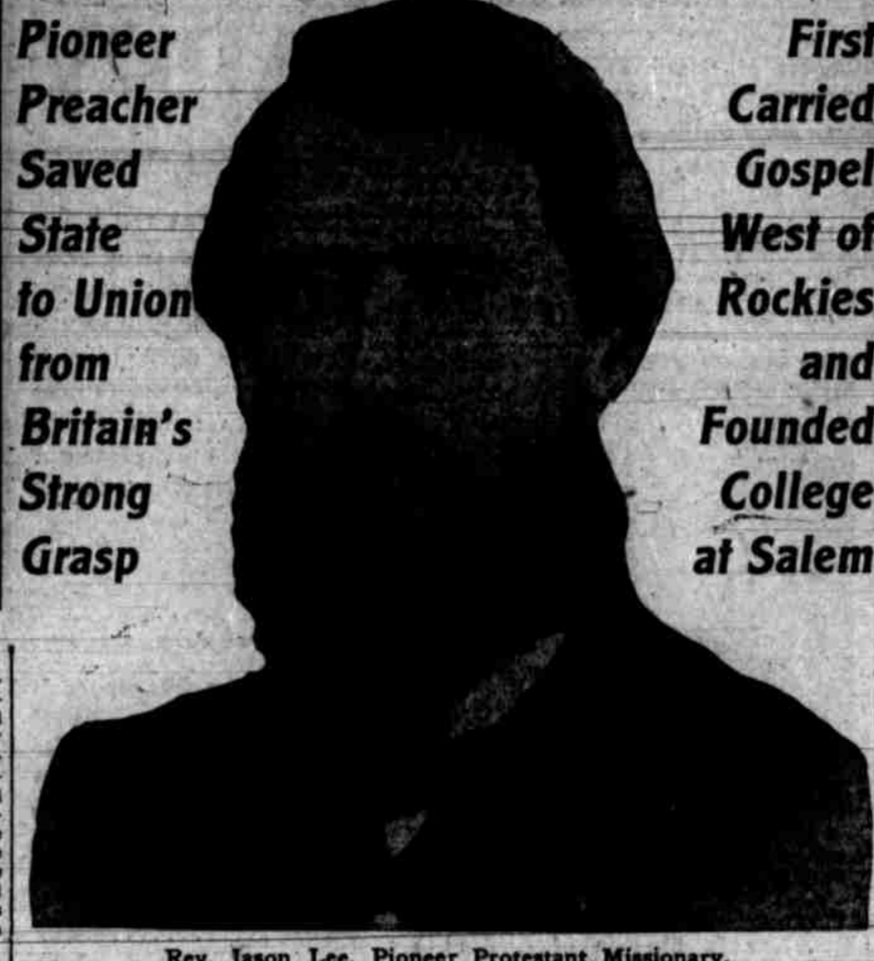

ROOSEVELT VS. CONGRESS

Clash Between President and House Likely to Follow Meat Inspection Question—Minority Report.

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, June 15.—A contest between the house and the president is likely. The president has sent a letter of keen disapproval of the Wadsworth amendment for the packers' inspection bill. The president's friends tried to tell him that his disapproval would result in a misapprehension. Even Speaker Cannon this morning called at the White House and told the executive that he was in error. Following Cannon's visit the president issued another statement reiterating his disapproval of the bill as the house committee now approves it. It is said that the question as to who will bear the cost of the inspection is the least of the president's objections.

IS OIL TRUST TRYING TO KILL OFF BRYAN?

(Journal Special Service.)
Cleveland, June 15.—Virgil P. Kilne, personal attorney of John D. Rockefeller, and prominent among the Standard Oil counsel, today declared himself in favor of Bryan for president.

Rev. Jason Lee, Pioneer Protestant Missionary.

then closed with a hymn and benediction.

Afternoon Service.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock a service was held under the auspices of the Pioneer association. Hon. J. C. Moreland presiding. Reading of the scripture, a prayer and hymn were followed by an able address by Hon. Harvey W. Scott. A vocal solo followed Mr. Scott's address and Hon. Reuben P. Boise delivered an address. After a hymn was sung the benediction was pronounced and the interment was held.

Honorary Pallbearers.

Honorary pallbearers were: Rev. I. D. Driver, D. D., Rev. Robert Booth, Rev. T. F. Royal, Rev. J. H. B. Royal, Rev. Nelson Clark, Rev. John Flynn, Rev. A. J. Joslyn, Rev. John Atwood, Rev. M. S. Anderson, Rev. W. J. White, Rev. W. B. Turner, Rev. W. W. Van Dusen, D. D., Rev. J. D. Gilliland and Rev. Abraham Endes.

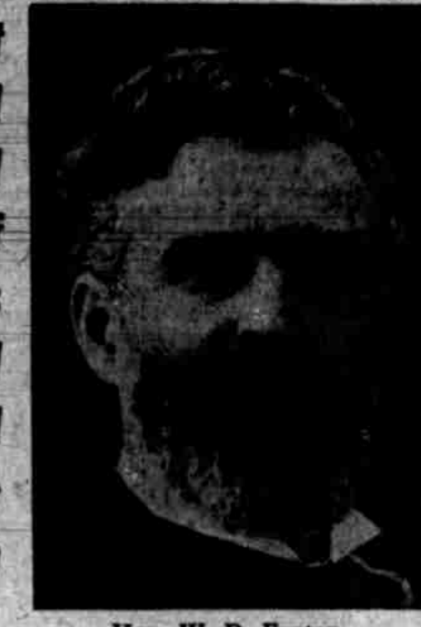

States Represented.

His excellency, Governor Chamberlain, was to deliver an address this evening on "Oregon," but being absent he was represented by Supreme Judge Halley.

Hon. Allen Weir will represent his state with an address on "Washington" and Lieutenant Governor B. L. Stevens will speak in behalf of "Idaho."

With the song "America" and a benediction the Jason Lee memorial will close.

Jason Lee died in Canada in 1845.

Hon. W. D. Fenton.

presented a memorial to congress asking for assistance that Oregon might be saved to the United States. Through the petition which was presented to the senate by Senator Linn of Missouri, the heroic missionary was granted $5,000 out of the secret service fund.

Moved Mission School.

In 1842 Jason Lee moved his mission school to the present site of the university campus in Salem. It was in this same year that Marcus Whitman set out on his "historic" ride to save Oregon.

From a school for the education of the Indians, it became a school for the whites, and in 1843 the Oregon institute was founded on Wallace Prairie, and the next year the institute moved

Hon. J. C. Moreland.

Story Made Impression.

The beautiful story of the Pacific coast Indians who journeyed to the east in quest of the "White man's book," made a strong impression upon Methodist councils, and Wilbur Fluke sent Jason Lee in 1834 to Oregon to convert the Indians to the Christian religion.

Story Made Impression.

Accompanied by Daniel Lee, Cyrus Shepard, Philip L. Edwards and Courtney M. Walker, he arrived at Fort Vancouver and was received kindly by Dr. John McLoughlin.

Subsequently the party came up the Willamette and built a log house 10 miles below the present site of Salem, near what now is Wheatland. That cabin was the cradle of Willamette civilization and marks an epoch in the settlement of the state.

Insurance Underwriters Admit That Increase Has Not Been Made, but Claim It Will Be in Near Future.

(Journal Special Service.)
Oakland, Cal., June 15.—The 50 insurance companies represented on the board of fire underwriters of the Pacific coast have taken action to recoup themselves for their San Francisco losses by raising rates approximately 25 per cent in California, Nevada, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Utah and Arizona.

The state of Washington is the only coast state outside the jurisdiction of the board. Several years ago this state enacted a law known as the anti-compact law, which prohibited insurance companies from uniting in fixing rates, or in any way controlling insurance affairs.

BRYAN'S SON RETURNS FROM TOUR OF WORLD

(Journal Special Service.)
Lincoln, Neb., June 15.—W. J. Bryan Jr. arrived this morning from a tour of the world. He left his parents in Vienna. He will spend a month on a Colorado ranch and then resume his studies at Culver academy.

DREYFUS SEEKING TO PROVE HIS INNOCENCE

(Journal Special Service.)
Paris, June 15.—The hearing for a revision of the Dreyfus trial opened today. Captain Dreyfus is endeavoring to quash the former judgment, presenting documents to prove beyond question that he is innocent.

TO RECLAIM UMATILLA ARID LAND

Secretary of Interior Orders That Work on the Project Be Started at Once

Million-Dollar Appropriation Will Be Used to Make Sand and Sagebrush Bloom With Alfalfa—Work on Project Simple—Will Be Completed Soon.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, June 15.—The secretary of the interior today authorized the reclamation service to proceed immediately with the East Umatilla irrigation project of eastern Oregon, for which $1,000,000 was set aside from the reclamation fund last fall. The secretary also executed a contract for 10,000 barrels of Portland cement to be used on the Klamath project, in southern Oregon. Unlike the East Umatilla project, which is to be the irrigation of an arid waste of sand, the Klamath project, for which $1,500,000 was set aside, is to consist of the draining of two large swamps.

Not Original Project.

The east Umatilla project embraces 20,000 acres of land. This is not the original project, embracing more than five times that area, but a reduced plan which was within the means at hand for the work.

Under the instructions of the secretary of the interior no further delay will be made in starting the work on the project. As the engineering work of the project is so simple that it will require but a short time to complete it, the troubles of the east Umatilla land owners are nearing their end.

Was Much Delay.

The residents of Echo and the surrounding country in the heart of the area have had a great deal of trouble in getting the project completed. Most of the difficulty arose from the fact that private companies had been formed to reclaim the land. These companies offered the water users a lower rate than would be possible if the government took hold of the project and many misunderstandings ensued.

Revel Won Out.

When Mr. Newell, head of the reclamation service, went out to Oregon last summer he placed the matter before the people plainly. He showed them that the government would put in permanent cement reservoirs, headgates and a first-class system throughout, while the private companies for the money they asked could not do so. He explained why the government permanent project would cost more, and finally won the people over to the point where they worked in harmony.

Work Is Simple.

Simple in the extreme is the project which is now to be completed. It consists of a feed canal from the Umatilla river to a big reservoir to be placed at Cold Springs. This reservoir will feed a ditch distributing system which will put 20,000 acres of level sagebrush land under water. This land, while absolutely worthless without quantities of water, has been proven invaluable when properly irrigated.

TRYING TO PROVE DOWIE IS INSANE

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, June 15.—As a result of John A. Dowie's appearance on the stand, Wilbur G. Voliva will try to prove him insane. Dowie was recalled this afternoon. A noted alienist has appeared at the trial each time Dowie was on the stand and noted carefully his actions and words.

TELEGRAPH COMPANIES SAY THEY ARE SAFE

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, June 15.—Western Union officials here say that all messages during the San Francisco troubles were subject to indefinite delay. They suppose the San Francisco and Oakland offices did the same. They say they cannot see how they can be prosecuted for false representation.

CHIEF BAMBAATA IS KILLED IN BATTLE

(Journal Special Service.)
Durban, June 15.—It is definitely learned that Bambaata, the chief of disturbances, was killed in the fighting on June 13. It is now expected the revolt will speedily die out.

THE LEADER

Sunday Journal is the only paper in Oregon to which the great Commoner, William J. Bryan, is a contributor. His letters descriptive of the habits, customs and conditions of the people whom he has met on his world tour are the best travel literature that has been produced in years. They have an especial interest, as they embody the views, opinions and philosophy of the foremost Democrat of America. Mr. Bryan's letter on India may be termed the

IN NORTHWEST

America, and can be found in no other paper on the coast. Among the women who are regular contributors to The Journal are Mrs. John A. Logan, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and each in her line has no superior in the world. Then there is a page of the prettiest babies in Oregon and Washington, contestants for The Sunday Journal's valuable prizes. These little ones are not the pick of the hundreds whose photographs have been sent to this office—they are the arrivals in one day's mail, and give the people a chance to see how beautiful the children of the Oregon country are. The story of the oldest living white man born in the

JOURNALISM

is its appeal to the boys and girls, and this paper devotes more space to the little ones than does any other on the Pacific coast. The "Funnies" are a source of never-ending enjoyment to the children—Happy Hoop, "Lulu and Leander," "Little Jimmy" and "Old Bach" are the children's friends, invented for their amusement. But the adventures of the quintette pleases the old folks, too, and that is why they have held their popularity. Aside from these colored funnies the boys and girls who read the SUNDAY JOURNAL

have a page of short stories, games, puzzles and other features that will interest them. An article from our Paris correspondent on French justice is worth reading, and for the seriously inclined are some unique inventions. The man who beat woman suffrage in Oregon tells The Journal readers how he did it and what it cost. A story by O. Henry, who is one of the best writers of the day, is among the literary features that, with a finely assorted collection of miscellany, make up a readable, entertaining and instructive

MAGAZINE

LONDON PACKERS JUST AS BAD AS AMERICAN

(Journal Special Service.)
London, June 15.—A local paper reveals that conditions in the Chicago packinghouses are duplicated here, that the packers evade inspection, sell diseased meats and adulterated and poisoned canned goods.

FULTON'S BILL PASSES TO PATENT LANDS

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, June 15.—Senator Fulton today secured in the senate the passage of the bill which has passed the house authorizing the secretary of the interior to issue patents for lands in the former Columbia basin reservation.

THIRTY HOURS' FAST IN PROSPECT

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, June 15.—The chief of disturbances, was killed in the fighting on June 13. It is now expected the revolt will speedily die out.