Sure death to the potato blight and every other parasite that preys upon the plant of the tuber is promised by the advocates of the new potato spraying machine. The first of these machines recently put into use in the east has been received by J. H. Reid, horticulture commissioner at Milwaukie. It is declared that the use of this machine will bring visible results in increased crop of potatoes. Mr. Reid will make an experiment with three 10-screttrats. Some rows will be aprayed three times, some twice and others not at all. Records will be kept and the difference in the amount and quality of the crop noted. Mr. Reid will also use the machine to spray a grape orchard.

J. M. Fagg, retired United States marine, died Saturday afternoon at the home of his son, Lawrence Fagg, 546 Spokane street, Sellwood. Mr. Fagg retired from the marine service several years ago, having spent most of his life in the service in Alaska. He was separated from his son for many years, each thinking the other dead. The son saw his father's name in an Alaska paper and wrote a letter of inquiry which resulted in their reunion several months ago. An escort of marines from the cruiser Chicago attended the funeral services, which were held at A. B. Hemstock's chapel yesterday afternoon. Interment was in Milwaukie cemetery.

A. D. Davidson, an employe of the Eastern & Western Logging company at camp No. 3, near Stella, Washington, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by being crushed between two cars of a logging train. The unfortunate man was riding on the bumpers and as the train started down a heavy grade the cars came together with great force, horribly crushing Davidson. The body was brought to this city last night on the Astoria train and taken in charge upon arrival by Coroner Finley. Davidson was 34 years of age and a resident of Eugene, Oregon. It is expected that of Eugene, Oregon. It is expected that the body will be shipped to that city for interment.

Annie Pike Alleged to Have Pilfered Drawer in Local Department Store.

Amnie Pike, a comely young woman il years of age, was arrested yesterday by Detective L. C. Hartman and booked at the city prison on a charge of larceny. It is alleged that Miss Pike stole a purse containing $17.55 and a book of car tickets belonging to. Ada Hastings, from a drawer in the millinery department of Meier & Frank's department ment store.

Miss Hastings is a milliner and om-ployed in the store in question. Ac-cording to her story, the Pike girl, in company with a friend, inspected a num-ber of hats and then left, declaring she would return later. She made her re-would return later. She made her reappearance in a short time and paid the purchase price of the hat. At closing time Miss Hastings discovered that her pocketbook had been stolen and notified

the police of her loss.

In Miss Hastings' purse was a badly battered coin and this the detectives have recovered from Doorkeeper Rice of Paniages theatre, to whom it was given by Miss Pike, in addition to other money, for safekeeping.

The accused woman has been in serious trouble before, having been arrested by Detective Vaughn for the larceny of a pair of diamond earrings stolen from the residence of her aunt. On that occasion, upon the recovery of the jewelry, the relatives of the girl would not prosecute and the charge was dismissed.
Miss Hastings swore to a complaint this

It was late Saturday night, or rather early Sunday morning, that the hack-driving episode occurred. Two young men who had plainly been looking upon the wine when it was red were sauntering by when one of them suddenly discovered that they needed "another."

They weren't well acquainted with that part of the city apparently, for, try as they would, they couldn't find a place that was open. It was after 1 o'clock. In despair they turned to the driver.

"Say, old chap," said one, in a patron-"cept takin' it away from a kid."

What Annexation Means. The annexation of Mount Tabor, South Mount Tabor, Woodstock and Arieta will mean the addition of some 1,200 pupils to the Portland schools. Montavilla has brought in another 425.

John Teuscher Jr., an attorney and teacher, has prepared the following explanation of several points in the school law:

Coasting from Spring street on Port- protest that the motorman released the brakes and permitted the car to start down the hill. Even without electrical power it went rapidly, and with brakes partially apcar in the city was delayed from 15 to 20 minutes. An engine at the company's power plant, near the Inman-Poulsen mill, went on strike for a brief time, and the power was consequently cut off, bringing cars in all parts of the city to a halt.

One of the giant Portland Heights cars had rounded the loop on the heights and was descending the hill. It had reached Spring street when the power suddenly stopped and the motorman, applied the brakes. The car stopped, as did others on the line, but passengers raised such a tumultuous and long enough to stop further progress.

Pupils Throughout United States Will Be Asked to Contribute for the Purpose.

School children throughout the country are working to reestablish the schools of San Francisco. In the fire following the earthquake 34 school buildings were burned, leaving 400 teachers and 20,000 pupils without classrooms. The movement to have the school children of the country help in reesablishing the classrooms started during the fire, when a telegram was received from Galvaston, Texas, stating that after the flood in that city the schools were rebuilt by contributions from the school children of the United from the school children of the United States, and offering the aid of the chil-
