

$5 FOR EACH JEW MURDERED

Award Offered in Russia for Slaughter of Hebrews—One Dollar for Each Male Infant Slaughtered

(Journal Special Service.)
Warsaw, June 19.—It is reported that a regiment of artillery and a regiment of infantry in Moscow have been ordered to have mutilated. The Zavadski estate in Siedlce has been attacked by terrorists, who escaped with 75,000 roubles.
Prominent Jews are receiving details of massacres and plundering of Jews in various parts of Russia. At Carok the authorities posted a telegram alleged to have been received from the czar ordering all Jews killed and the peasants attacked the Jews and slaughtered many.

Wealthy Gentiles at Nishin offered $5 for each Jew killed, $2 for each one wounded and $1 for each male infant killed.
Peasants are arming to enrich themselves. Massacres have occurred at Odessa, Kishineff, Gomel and Kiev. The participants were not inspired by motives of loot, but of murder and destruction.
Normal life is being resumed at Bialystok. A few stores have opened, provisions have arrived and a few cabs are appearing in the streets.

QUARTER-BLOCK IS NOW CLOSED

Will Occupy Upstairs Premises in Same Block in the Fall—A New Eilers Piano House Retail Before Winter—Improvements and Alterations to Make It Best Appointed Store in the Union-City Offices in Old Location but on Mezzanine Floor.

Things around the old Eilers Piano House presented a rather topsy-turvy appearance yesterday, when the remainder of the many pianos and organs sold during the closing-out sale of the retail department were being delivered. The big warehouses occupied during the past six years were formally vacated yesterday, though distribution and delivery of instruments will have to be carried on for another 48 hours.
It does not seem to be generally understood that Eilers Piano House is now practically out of the retail city business. As stated, we were fortunate in securing at the very last moment a new five-year lease on the upstairs of the old piano store, which is now occupied by Portland's leading business college, for which institution a fine new building is now being erected on the corner of Tenth and Morrison streets. When the new building is completed we are to take possession of the old piano store, which is to be converted into the most beautiful, most convenient and best lighted piano salesrooms in the United States.

Out Until Then.

But until those many changes are completed, possession has been secured. Eilers Piano House is compelled to remain out of the retail piano trade. As soon as possible after October 1 we shall commence work on the upstairs premises. Convenient stairways and a modern elevator will be installed. Every inch of the old piano store or single will also be provided. We shall have a fine rental hall, twice as large as our former one; a fine Aeolian and Pianos library room, and also talking machine parlors will be some of the noteworthy features.

Union Labor Bank Must Change Its Plan

Cannot Do Business as a Savings Institution Under the Laws of Illinois.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, June 19.—Charles W. Vail and Attorney Fairchild held a conference with State Attorney McCullough in Springfield with reference to the conduct of the Commonwealth Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, known as the Union Labor bank.
They advised that the bank could not do business in Illinois as a state bank unless it complied with the banking laws of the state. The Commonwealth was chartered in Arizona, and under its charter has the right to sell 45 shares of stock. Under the Illinois law the shares of stock must not be less than $100.
In order to avoid a conflict in the courts with the state authorities a drastic change in the methods of the Union Labor bank is planned by the promoters.
The new plan provides for the abolition of the savings feature of the bank and to confine its business strictly to investments in the form of loans on real estate mortgages.

Southern Fair to Be in September

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., June 19.—The directors of the Second Southern Oregon District Agricultural society met today for their annual meeting. The dates set for the district fair are September 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. The racing program was arranged for the fair, the prizes for which aggregate $2,000.
The following officers for the society were elected for the ensuing year: President, Charles W. Parrott of Roseburg; first vice-president, J. C. Alken of Roseburg; second vice-president, H. L. Traver of Eugene; treasurer, J. H. Booth of Roseburg; secretary, E. A. McCall of Roseburg; assistant secretary, J. M. Williams of Eugene. The board of directors for the various counties are: Lane county, H. L. Traver and C. Young; Douglas county, C. W. Parrott; J. C. Alken and E. Dixon; Coos county, S. B. Herrmann and John Bear; Curry county, H. S. Stewart.

League of Clubs in City of Quakers

Philadelphia, June 19.—The convention of the National League of Republican clubs held a brief session this morning, adjourning early to permit the delegates and other visitors to take a ride down the Delaware river. The parade of Republican clubs takes place tonight and promises to be one of the most notable affairs of its kind that the Quaker City has seen in a long time. Numerous organizations of Philadelphia and from Washington, Wilmington and other cities will be in line. Adjutant-General Thomas J. Stewart is to act as grand marshal and the procession will be reviewed by Speaker Cannon and other prominent party leaders from Washington. One of the features of the parade will be the presence in line of several hundred men who voted for Fremont and Dayton in 1856.

The police who are accused of anarchistic teachings in this city are of comparatively recent arrival in this country, though the officers have as yet been unable to determine just how long they have been here. In case it is definitely ascertained that a band of anarchists exists here, it is said that no effort will be overlooked to deport those who are members.
The cases of the seven men arrested upon complaint of Walter Sealowitz, were continued by Judge Cameron in the afternoon.
Henry Lopacki, who claims to have been threatened with death at the hands of the alleged anarchists, applied to the police this morning for protection. He fears that the reds intend to mete out a terrible vengeance to him. He was assured that they were undoubtedly only trying to frighten him and left the station in company with several of his courtmen.

JURY OF YOUNGSTERS DECIDES CASE IN THE JUVENILE COURT

The Smith and Jones families became involved in a backyard squabble over the quarrel of their children, and Willie Smith's mother thought her boy so badly abused that she had a complaint against the Jones children sworn to in the juvenile court.
Willie Smith said the bad Jones boys had thrown rocks at him, and brought three witnesses to the juvenile courtroom yesterday afternoon to prove it. From the testimony of the witnesses it seemed that Willie Smith, like "Pre-tending Percy," was deeper in the mud than Jimmy Jones was in the mire.
They testified that it was Willie who started the stone-throwing, and that he called Jimmy's mother bad names.
Judge Franer called on "Percy's" witnesses to act as a jury to say whether Jimmy should be punished. The vote stood two for acquittal and one for conviction.

"There is your verdict," said the judge to Jimmy Jones. "Mrs. Dargett, enter a verdict of not guilty. Now you fellows shake hands and be good friends."
"No," cried Willie Smith's mother, in virtuous indignation, "my boy shall never shake hands with those bad Jones boys."
"Oh, this is only a boys' row, such as all boys have," said the judge, "and if the parents had not taken it up, they would have forgotten it long ago. The trouble is that each mother thinks her own boys are good, and all the others are bad."
The verdict of acquittal for Jimmy Jones stood, but owing to the strenuous objections by "Percy's" mother, there was no handshaking.

DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY FACES PUZZLING QUESTION

Deputy District Attorney H. B. Adams is wondering whether a boat that one man could row from Astoria to St. Johns, carrying 1,100 pounds of pure lead, would be a skiff or a sea-going vessel. Foster Bradley was arrested on a charge of stealing that amount of lead from the Portland gas company, but he says the lead was brought to him from Astoria in a rowboat. The man who brought it was to have come to Portland with it, according to Bradley's story, but he seems to have become tired at St. Johns, and Bradley had to meet him there and bring the lead on to the city in a wagon.
It is charged that Bradley stole the lead from the gas company at night, in the shape of bars, which were marked. In order to sell the lead Bradley is said to have melted it, and the employees of the Pacific Metal works, who bought the lead, say they found it still hot when they stored it away. Bradley did not deny selling the lead, but said it was brought to him from Astoria. When asked what boat it came on he said a man had rowed up with it. He could not explain why it was hot.

He was arraigned before Judge Sears in the circuit court this morning and pleaded not guilty. He was released on $500 bail. The date of the trial has not been set.

LICENSE COMMITTEE COULD NOT REFUSE THIS PERMIT

If Charles Edward Russell of Everybody's Magazine staff had attended the meeting of the license committee of the council yesterday afternoon he might have gathered some new ideas on co-operation. Perhaps it wasn't quite an example of "soldiers of the Common Good," but it was cooperation all right.
The case was that of a man 80 years old, an old soldier, in partnership with a paralytic in a push chair. The man who could move only his hands was Frank Culver of 324 Gantenbein avenue.

The old man with the faded military hat and brass buttons was Charles B. Powell.
Culver wanted a permit to sell shoe strings. Powell would push the chair. The license committee has been trying to dodge permits to unfortunates for a long time, but the combination of helpless man and aged soldier was too much for any stony-hearted front and a permit for 90 days was granted. The pair are to keep outside the business section and sell only among residences, however.

GRAND JURY

could serve on the grand jury if he saw fit, the fact that he was from Sellwood might embarrass him while that precinct was under investigation. Akesson concluded that he didn't want to serve and asked to be excused.
Judge Sears called all the jurors into the courtroom.
"One of your members," he said, "has requested that he be excused from further service. He gives satisfactory reasons and his request to be excused will be allowed. We cannot draw another jury this morning. That will be done as soon as possible, but in the meantime the rest of you can proceed with your work."

The delay in selecting the seventh juror is due to the fact that a jury trial is on and that grand jurors can be drawn only from a box containing the names of all the jurors subject to service in the circuit court. Judge Sears is of the opinion that the vacancy cannot be filled before Thursday. However, as this does not prevent a quorum the investigation of election frauds will go on just as if the jury were complete and what is done will stand the test of law.

OREGON AND WASHINGTON FULL OF PRETTY BABES

Hundreds of proud mothers throughout Oregon and Washington have sent to The Sunday Journal pictures of their pretty children! No one man ever dreamed there were so many beautiful babies in seven states. Parents who desire to enter their children in the contest should send in the pictures. You should send us your pictures very soon, for it is only a little while till the end of June, when the chance to prove baby's sweetness beyond a doubt will be gone forever.
After June 20 a committee of judges appointed by The Sunday Journal is going to have its hands full awarding a $20 cash prize and three silver mugs. The contest will close on the stroke of 12 p. m. Saturday, June 20, when the work of separating the beautiful from the more beautiful, and the more beautiful from the most beautiful will begin. It will be no play for all the children are pretty—there is not an ugly one in the lot—and so you must not be impatient because you do not receive your award the next day. The awards will be made as quickly as possible. But before that time comes be sure to send your baby's picture with the name and age of the child and the address of the parents.

Pacific 'Varsity Juniors Give Seniors Unique Midnight Feast in Lovers' Lane.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pacific University, Forest Grove, Or., June 19.—Last night the Juniors launched the most unique event of the college year, by leading the seniors through the graveyard and "spooky" underbrush to a spot in "Lovers' Lane," about a mile and a half from town. Here an elaborate lunch was served at 1 o'clock this morning. The jolly party of funmakers gathered around a blazing fire, popped corn, toasted bread and told stories of college life, at the conclusion of which H. W. Sparks gave the senior class prophecy. Those present were: Messrs. Markel, Bump, Prideoaux, Rasmussen, Peterson, Wirtz, Sparks, and
