

HAMBURG'S GREAT CATHEDRAL OF SAINT MICHAEL DESTROYED

Flaming Tower Over Four Hundred Feet High Crashes to the Ground—Fire Spreads Threatening City.

(Journal Special Service.)
Berlin, July 11.—The magnificent cathedral of St. Michael (St. Michaelis-Kirche), the pride and glory of Hamburg, has been totally destroyed by fire. The structure was one of the finest edifices in Germany and its loss is universally mourned.
The vast nave and aisles—it could hold 4,000 persons—and its magnificent spire, which towered 428 feet in the air, are now but heaps of smoking ruins.
In falling, the tower crashed several neighboring houses and set them on fire. The whole fire department of the city was summoned, and with hundreds of volunteers tried to stop the progress of the flames, but the high wind and the inflammable character of the old buildings seemed for a time to render the fight a hopeless one.
Rows of buildings on Engelsheppank, Boemische and Krakenkampff streets soon were ablaze, and the whole city was threatened. After a hard fight, the fire was brought under control, but St. Michael's is gone.

By a coincidence of fate this is the second St. Michael's that has been destroyed by electricity. The original edifice was struck by lightning in 1780 and burned to the ground. This second St. Michael's erected on the same spot during the years 1780-1842 was set on fire today by the electric lighting apparatus.
The electric plant had given the church authorities trouble for some days past, and four workmen were set to remedy the defect. In some way—the exact facts will never be learned now, for all four workmen are dead—a short circuit was created and the resulting flames set fire to the building.
There was a strong wind blowing and the whole church was soon blazing fiercely. Immense crowds gathered in the surrounding streets and squares, and when the great tower fell with a roar, the people cried out together as though in pain.

PENNSYLVANIA SUED FOR DISCRIMINATION

(Journal Special Service.)
Altoona, Pa., July 11.—The $40,000 damage suit brought by Charles L. Greck, an Altoona contractor, against the Pennsylvania railroad for alleged discrimination in furnishing cars, came up for hearing today before a board of arbitrators composed of leading citizens of Altoona. The hearing is expected to occupy several days. Among the witnesses who have been subpoenaed are A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and Alexander C. Shand, chief engineer, who is said to have issued orders to the railroad contractor, from whom Greck was to get stone, not to ship stone to Altoona excepting through another agency.

INDIAN IS ARRESTED FOR BEATING WIFE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Vancouver, B. C., July 11.—Sampson Allen, an Indian fisherman, has been lodged in the provincial jail charged with attempted murder for having cut and slashed his wife. The woman suffered terribly and for many days her life was despaired of.
Allen had a disagreement with his wife, and driving her into a corner of the room, brutally slashed her. Three days after the affair the woman railed from her wounds and gave birth to a son. The victim of the affray is in a precarious condition, but expects to recover. The husband will come up for trial this week.

JU NUN GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Jury in Circuit Court So Decides After Seven Hours' Deliberation.

After nearly seven hours' deliberation the jury in Judge Fraser's department of the circuit court that heard the trial of Ju Nun for the murder of Lee Yeck-Lee returned a verdict at 10:45 o'clock last night, finding Ju Nun guilty of manslaughter and recommending that the full penalty of the law be inflicted. Under our laws he can be sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5,000 under this verdict. The law provides both imprisonment and fine.

It is said that the jury did not finally determine whether Kwai Heung, the woman in the case, was the wife of Ju Nun. It is said that there were some of the jury who voted for a verdict of murder in the first degree, some for second degree, some for manslaughter and some for acquittal. It is understood that the verdict of manslaughter was agreed upon as a compromise.
Deputy District Attorney Gus C. Moser, who conducted the prosecution, said this morning that he expected the jury to convict Ju Nun of murder in the first degree, but after they had been out so long had thought they would compromise on second degree murder.
"But I would rather have a verdict of manslaughter than another disagreement," he continued, "for another trial would entail considerable expense."
Henry E. McGinn, one of Ju Nun's attorneys, said that he was not altogether satisfied with the verdict, and that it has not yet been decided whether an appeal will be taken.
"I want to pay a high tribute to Judge Fraser," said Mr. McGinn, "for the magnificent way in which the trial was conducted. His honor's charge to the jury was one to which exceptions could not possibly have been taken."
It was charged that Ju Nun shot and killed Lee Yeck Lee on January 19. The defense admitted that Ju Nun did the shooting, but contended that she was a slave and that she had been bought by Ju Nun for $500 about three years ago.
Attorney R. E. Moody, associated with McGinn in the defense, said he thought the jury ought to have acquitted Ju Nun, and that it was probable that an appeal would be taken, though it will not be determined until a conference is had with the accused and his family. Sentence will be pronounced later.

CARNEGIE MAKES ANOTHER OREGON PRESENT

Philanthropist Offers Congregational School at Forest Grove More Money.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Forest Grove, Or., July 11.—President Ferrin of Pacific university received a letter yesterday from Andrew Carnegie, Skibo, Scotland, stating that he would give $10,000 toward the new ladies' dormitory which is to cost in the neighborhood of $40,000. Mr. Carnegie has also given $25,000 for a library building with the condition that an additional $10,000 be raised. That amount has with the exception of a few hundred dollars been subscribed and Pacific will get $20,000 in all from the Scotch philanthropist. Work has been begun on the girls' hall. It is to be three stories high and modeled after the Marsh Memorial hall, as the trustees wish to keep the same style of architecture throughout all the buildings. The hall will accommodate about 70 girls.

UMATILLA PIONEER BURIED IN PENDELTON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., July 11.—J. J. McConnell, a Umatilla county pioneer, who died Saturday afternoon, was buried yesterday from the home of Mrs. Mrs. J. L. Vaughn. His death was caused by rheumatism.
J. J. McConnell had been a resident of Pendleton for 23 years. He crossed the plains to Wallawa county in 1872 and moved here in 1883. During his residence here he became well known among all old residents. He leaves five children: James and Robert, both of Pendleton; Mrs. J. L. Vaughn of this city; Mrs. C. E. Faugua of Spokane and Mrs. H. E. Weaver, also of Spokane.

CHAPMANS TO SPEND SUMMER IN EUROPE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Forest Grove, Or., July 11.—Professor F. T. Chapman, head of the conservatory of music at Pacific university, has left for the east where he will join Mrs. Pauline M. Chapman and together they will soon sail for Europe to study under the best vocal and instrumental artists of Italy, Hungary and Germany.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Arlington, July 11.—Commissioner B. T. Snell has just returned from a regular meeting of the board of county commissioners and reports that the vote on the location of the county high school resulted in a deadlock and Gilliam county will have no high school until after next election. Arlington offered a site for the building and a bonus of $2,000.

STEEL BRIDGES WILL CROSS WILD HORSE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Athena, Or., July 11.—It is now very probable that steel bridges will be built across Wild Horse creek, near this place, to take the place of the wooden ones washed out during the flood. Bids for steel structures across the Umatilla at Echo and Pendleton have also been asked for but the time for bidding is not yet up.

THE REALM FEMININE

By HILAN RAYBORNE

PERFECT MARRIAGE.

Perfect marriage implies perfect conditions of companionship. Each party to it must find comfort, uplift, spur, in association with its fellow, writes John Duncan Quackenbush, M. D., in Good Housekeeping magazine. Husband and wife should be physical, rational and spiritual companions.
Point is thus given to recent words of President Hyde of Bowdoin college: "The husband often holds in his hands the alternative of life or death for his wife, according as he is patient, forbearing, considerate and kind, or exacting, inconsiderate, cross and cruel. The wife, on the other hand, more often controls the future of her husband's character, making him sober and honest if she is winsome and sincere; driving him to drink if she is slovenly and querulous, leading him into dishonesty if she is extravagant and vain." Every attitude acts as a tact suggestion, as the determiner of the direction of life-currents.
Even in those cases where the love of early days has become chilled, and either husband or wife prefers another to the wedded partner, the aggrieved party is not without recourse. For it is possible to reawaken loyalty through the silent influence of specifically directed suggestion given with a look and a thought, or through the magnetic force of expressed superior quality that rebukes the carnal, recalls to sense and duty, and rivets the affections.
It is an old saying that no wife should allow another woman to be more thoughtful of her husband than she is herself, or to appear to better advantage in his eyes. The same principle applies to the man.

POSTAGE-STAMP HATS.

We fought out the hats-off-in-the-theatre battle long ago, but lol in a modified form it now rages in Paris. French women absolutely refuse to appear in the theatre without hats, and the Countess Grifulte, who has compassion for the person who has no desire to view a great parade plume to the exclusion of what is going on on the stage is trying to induce high society to form itself into a body called the League of Little Hats. Every member must promise to wear only millinery scope millinery when attending the play. Of course, the milliners are not entering heart and soul into this move, for if little hats really become the rage it will mean the passing of the picture hats, which the milliners prefer to make, and they will have to devote their attention to "postage stamp" millinery, as one of them disdainfully terms it.

FOR TIRED FEET.

Arnicas diluted with warm water will prove a simple and soothing application for tired, aching feet. After the lotion has dried in rub the feet gently, using a good toilet cream of oil of sweet almonds. Always draw the blood from the ankle or the instep toward the toes. Support the instep or ball of the foot with the left hand while rubbing with the right, using the downward motion on the outside of the foot or the ankle. A rotary motion on the instep is very restful.

NEW WEDDING RINGS.

Wedding rings are narrower, the most approved style being about one sixth of an inch in width, the shape being almost a semi-circle with the inner side plain. Where a few years ago the wider the ring the better, now anything that shows ostentation in wedding rings is ridiculed and the little golden circle is for no other purpose than symbolizing the pledge of truth or as a sign of wedlock.

FISH PIE.

The following costs about 10 cents: Butter a shallow pie dish and straw over it a few breadcrumbs. Flake the remains of any cold fish, and season it with cayenne and anchovy. Lay it in the dish, fill up with some mashed potatoes, and over them put a few more breadcrumbs and some pieces of butter. Bake for half an hour.

A KITCHEN NOTE.

The kitchen should never be without supplies of concentrated lye and washing soda. The lye ought to be used once a week to eat away the grease collected on the inside of the waste pipe of the sink. The proper way to apply it is to dissolve it in boiling water and pour down the pipe while it is hot.

TO COOK DRIED FRUIT.

Dried fruits should be washed scrupulously clean, then soaked over night in clear cold water, in which they should be stewed with sugar the next morning. Enough water should be added to make a large quantity of juice, as that is what makes dried fruits appetizing.

THE AMATEUR GARDENER.

If one wants to save seeds the poor blooms should be cut off of the plants reserved for that purpose. Poor blooms make poor seed.
Give the plants water in the evening, instead of in the morning, as by so doing the soil will retain the moisture until the plants have a chance to get the benefit of it.

FRENCH WILL RETURN TO WESTON NORMAL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., July 11.—The board of regents of the State Normal school at Weston, Umatilla county, has called Professor Robert C. French of Idaho to the presidency of the school and the offer has been accepted. Professor French was at one time connected with the Normal school at Monmouth and later was president of the Weston school. When the appropriation was held up last year he resigned and went to Idaho. He has the reputation of being one of the most accomplished educators in the state.

Hon. Jake Moore

Suffered Twenty Years With Indigestion. Cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

OFFICE OF
The Prison Commission of Georgia

Dear Sirs:—"I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. My heart would beat so fast I could not sleep, at times I would almost draw double with pain in the pit of my stomach. I lost twenty-five pounds; in fact, I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I consented to try it to please him and I was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited."
Yours very truly,
JAKE C. MOORE.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only digestant or combination of digestants that will digest all classes of food. In addition to this fact, it contains, in assimilative form, the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. All other digestants and dyspepsia remedies digest certain classes of food only, and are lacking in reconstructive properties.
Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is prepared at the laboratory of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, and is sold by leading druggists everywhere.
