

REAL CHARACTER OF THAW IS BROUGHT OUT BY PRISON LIFE

Clara Morris Writes Entertainingly of Prisoner and Life in Tomb Cell.

POOR RICH BOY PURSUED BY SEEKERS OF WEALTH

Preyed Upon by Every Kind of Tempter and Temptress—Gilded by a Foolish Mother With Eighty Thousand Dollars a Year to Waste.

By Clara Morris. (Copyright, 1906, by W. H. Hearst.) New York, July 20.—Harry K. Thaw, sweltering in prison with other breakers of the law, has, by a sudden impulse, given us a glimpse of real character. When his first escape from prison, while not expressing in words the repulsion he felt for the degraded companionship forced upon him by prison etiquette, he did hold himself utterly aloof, answering spoken salutations with a savagely perfunctory nod, avoiding even the contact of their glances—that was a week ago. Ah, well, man does not live for himself alone! Beneath heavy lids the young spendthrift watched the men about him; they suffered physically and he saw it; he also suffered, and out of that experience there grew a tiny little tendril of sympathy for the pain of others, even the despised prison maids, and with a boyish impulse of generosity he stood a Fourth of July treat of ice cream and cake for the whole prison outfit. A small matter, but going to show that the headstrong boy is moved more readily by his emotions than by reason. Obstinately, his will is probably stronger than his intellect, and that being the case he will be likely to make things interesting for his lawyers.

"First Aid" to the Bowels

WHEN Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Headache, Bad Breath, coated Tongue, Belching of Stomach, Gas, or any of these forerunners of indigestion appear, Old Dr. Cascares wants to be right on the spot in your pocket. Dr. Cascares guarantees to cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation and Indigestion, without discomfort or inconvenience.

His medicine does not grip nor purge, but exercises naturally the muscles that line the walls of the Intestines and Bowels.

Want of Exercise weakens and relaxes the Bowel-Muscles, just as it weakens Arm and Leg muscles.

Old Dr. Cascares goes directly after these Bowel-Muscles. He wakes them up just as a cold bath would wake up a lazy person.

Then he works them (through the nerves) till they get so strong from that Exercise that they don't need any more help to do their duty.

Heavy dinners, late suppers, whiskey, wine or beer drinking, nervous excitement, sudden exposure to cold or heat and a dozen other everyday likelihoods tire the Bowel-Muscles.

In such cases a little Cascares in time is worth fifty dollars worth of Treatment later on, to say nothing of the suffering, discomfort, loss of Business Energy, and loss of Social Sunshine it causes.

Little thin Cascares Box, shaped so you don't notice its presence in purse or vest-pocket.

Contains six Candy tablets—Price Ten Cents a Box at any Druggist's.

Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "COC."

so foolishly glided him with a yearly $20,000 and straightway every hunter of the genus glided fool, at home or abroad, set a mark against the name of Thaw, and watched for his coming. By his father's will Harry might have pursued pleasure at a distance, but by his mother's folly he became the hunted, not the hunter, and was pursued by every belled folly, masked vice, painted pleasure that, vampire-like, drew from the victim all mentality, courage and honor.

Too Much Talk About Millions. So much for the boy's money, and now—ah, now—this same money threatens to do him a crowning wrong. Has it never occurred to those who are honestly interested in his welfare that there is too much money-talk; that it may seriously harm his case? How many times have we been told of the $40,000,000 of Thaw money behind this prisoner, "and every dollar at his service?"

BABY CONDOR SITS FOR A UNIQUE PHOTOGRAPH

W. L. Finley Tells How He Hunted Rarest Bird With Camera.

The condor is the largest and rarest bird in the world; he inhabits the most inaccessible mountains, and few people have seen him, yet M. L. Finley, after infinite labor and patience, was able to take photographs of a baby condor and its parents. These are the first photographs ever made of this bird, and Mr. Finley tells the readers of The Sunday Journal how he did it.

Camille Flammarion writes a fine article on freaks of lightning, illustrated in colors.

Among the most interesting matter presented Sunday is the story of W. J. Bryan's trip around the world, and this week's story of scenes mentioned in the Bible will prove one of the best he has written.

What killed the most exclusive club in the world is told by The Journal's London correspondent and throws a strong light on British society.

An interesting article is that of Professor J. B. Horner on the start of his trip from Portland to Palestine; he tells of some of the historic places of Canada.

The women have some full pages, the best means of preserving health, and how to be beautiful. For people who work with hand and brain there is an instructive page.

The boys and girls to whom The Sunday Journal is a welcome visitor, will find bright games invented especially for them and good stories written for them, and four pages of funnies.

These features, with many others, and with all the latest happenings in music, art, literature and science, and the news of the world, make The Sunday Journal the most instructive and interesting paper on the coast.

For large yields of hay and grain and sleek cattle the North Powder section cannot be best, says the Baker City Democrat.

is supported by his family's confidence and regard, but alas, up jumped the dollar mark, and we were told the entire family would back Harry to the last dollar of their individual fortunes. The public is growing irritable over this continual talk of money; the people ask, why are these millions so flaunted; what does it imply? A spirit of antagonism is being aroused. Perhaps it will be said that the public has nothing to do with the trial of a prisoner. But think a moment what a power is this public opinion. Does not a jury come from the people, and can it be absolutely unbiased in its judgment; dare it give the defendant the benefit of a doubt at the risk of being maljudged by the public? It will take a brave jury to bring in an absolutely unbiased verdict.

Feels Drawback of Wealth. Already the man in the Tombs has denied small privileges and comforts a poorer gentleman prisoner received there; those in authority are very anxious to show the public that they are not influenced by Thaw money. A fortune will help a man to the services of expensive lawyers—there its power stops; and it is to be hoped, for the prisoner's own sake, that the Thaw millions may be garnered into safes and vaults, where, in decent retirement, they may, for a time, cease working injury to the boy, whom they helped to destroy but cannot save. Then free him from the hall and chain of the Thaw wealth, and give him a fair fighting chance, such as all men claim before the law.

MEAT EXPOSURES INJURING CATTLE SHIPPERS

Falling Off of Foreign Trade Seriously Affects Both Packers and Cattlemen.

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, July 20.—Livestock men are seriously concerned over the immediate outlook of the Chicago meat trade. Delegates from all parts of the country have assembled for the eighteenth annual session of the National Livestock Exchange.

They discussed informally the effects of the recent disclosures. It is admitted the published reports on stockyard conditions have injured the trade.

It is evident, judging from some official remarks of cattle dealers made prior to the opening of the convention that the changed conditions of American meat markets throughout the world are beginning to strike home to the actual shippers. The exchange inquires into the condition of the trade brought out the complaint that orders for cattle for shipment to foreign countries are falling off rapidly, and serious conditions are said to be inevitable unless the people abroad are reassured.

Davis, the Olympia contractor, for violation of the eight-hour labor law on public contracts, in which Mr. Davis won a victory in the superior court upon appeal from the justice's court, the supreme court today handed down an opinion reversing the superior court and remanding the case for trial.
