

BOYS ARE PICKED FOR OUTING

Thirty-One Youngsters Drawn by Lot in the Juvenile Court to Go to Seaside.

WILL GO WEDNESDAY AND STAY TEN DAYS

When They Return Thirty More Will Be Sent Down to Enjoy Outing at Expense of Juvenile Improvement Association.

Thirty-one poor boys of this city from 8 to 14 years of age were selected in the juvenile court this morning to be the first lot to go to the camp near Gearhart Park at the beach for a free outing given by the Juvenile Improvement Association under the direction of the juvenile court. These boys will stay 19 days, when another lot of about 30 boys will be sent down to replace them. About 100 children will go altogether.

The boys who were chosen this morning will meet Wednesday morning at 8:45 o'clock at the juvenile courtroom to be taken to the court house to the union depot, where they will board an A. C. R. train. Each boy will carry a miniature knapsack containing a bathing suit and nothing else.

Chief Probation Officer Martin R. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, who will have charge of the boys while in camp, will leave Monday morning to get everything in readiness for the boys. An experienced woman cook has been hired and the boys will probably have more good wholesome food during their 19 days at the camp than they have had in years.

The generosity with which the business men of Portland have responded to requests for aid in making the boys' outing a success is shown by the action of a merchant who was called on this morning. One of the juvenile court officers asked him for cornmeal for the boys.

"I haven't any cornmeal," was the answer. "Is there anything I have that you need?"

"No, we are pretty well supplied with other things."

"Well, here is an order on the mill for 50 pounds of meal. If you need it you shall have it."

The boys who will start for the camp Wednesday morning are: Vance Evans, Johnnie Fox, Elmer Stone, Harry Knapp, Raymond Thomas, John Swartz, Damon Penny, John Campbell, Robert Fisher, Dean Hinner, Herman and Ernest Gumbert, Wilson and Ernest McLaughlin, Herman and Gus Smith, Earl Scott, Frank and Lee Wong, Stanley Cobb, Ralph Kless, Tommy Lee, Tom and Paul Matkinson, Charles Herman, Harvey, Albert Nelson, Roy Busard, Fred Lee, Morris and Daniel O'Connell.

They will be transported free of cost by the Astoria & Columbia River railroad.

JACK ROGERS TAKES CONDON WATER BONDS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Condon, Or., July 27.—The city water bonds of $17,000 voted some time ago have been taken by J. E. Rogers of Salem. Mr. Rogers paid a premium of $1,252.69 for the bonds, which indicates that the credit of this city is gilt-edge.

E. A. Kean of Chicago was also a bidder. The money will be available in a few days and work will commence at once on the new addition to the present system. There is an abundance of water for present uses, as the new city reservoir is continually full and holds 500,000 gallons. This amount of water is secured from the new city well that was finished some time ago. This well is a genuine surprise to all, as it seems to be a big spring 78 feet in the ground, and the big pump running night and day does not lower the water at all.

PLAYMATES FAIL TO SEE CLARKSTON BOY DROWN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Clarkston, Wash., July 27.—Frank Cope, the 10-year-old son of W. C. Cope, a well-known citizen, was drowned in the Snake river last evening. While wading on a sand beach with several companions, the boy suddenly stepped from shallow water into a hole 14 feet deep. A peculiar fact was that his playmates with him had their backs turned at the moment and did not notice the drowning, nor did the boy utter any sound when he stepped off. The river is being dragged today in search of the body.

GETS THREE YEARS FOR THEFT OF THREE DOLLARS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

The Dalles, Or., July 27.—Charles Brown pleaded guilty to larceny this morning and was sentenced by the circuit judge to one year in the penitentiary. Brown was arrested July 14 for stealing three dollars from a drunken man in a saloon and held on $500 bail to answer to the charge in the circuit court.

FENCED FIVE THOUSAND ACRES OF PUBLIC LAND

(Journal Special Service.)

Fargo, N. D., July 27.—Huldeke Brothers, owners of the Little Missouri Horse company, and W. C. Wagoner, the company's manager, pleaded guilty this morning to illegally fencing 5,000 acres of government land. The case has been fought in the courts for five years.

CASH AND BONDS TO PAY PHILIPPINE DEBT

(Journal Special Service.)

Washington, D. C., July 27.—It is announced that $1,500,000 in Philippine certificates of indebtedness, maturing September 1, will be retired by the issuance of $1,000,000 in four per cent bonds and the payment of the remainder in cash.

The Market Basket

Cows are going dry and the price of butter is getting somewhat excited. During the week there was an advance of 5 cents a roll in the price of city creamery butter and the market is now fully as firm as it was dull and weak a short time ago. Alaska is getting to be one of the best butter buyers and during the past week some heavy sales were made by city creameries here.

While the quality of eggs is getting poorer the price is higher. Today 50 cents and the price for strictly fresh ranch stock. You can buy for less, but no grocer will guarantee them under that price. It's an account of a higher price at wholesale.

It seems but natural that the price of cheese should advance along with the upward movement of price of butter and eggs. This week there was an upward tendency all through the cheese market, due entirely to greater demand and inability of manufacturers to supply it.

It's getting to be all the rage in the east and whenever there is thorough inspection of the products of the market, for butter to be packed in better shape than merely by putting it into a wrapper. The latest thing noted to keep out all foreign matter from butter is a paraffin-covered box. The butter is firmly wrapped in the ordinary wax paper and then immediately placed in the box and closed. This prevents any possibility of dirt or small from entering the butter. One local manufacturer has already adopted the idea and others are said to be ready to follow. Not only does the butter remain free of dirt and smells while in this paraffin package, but there is better keeping quality.

Crawford peaches are now coming quite freely from California points and there is a slight lowering of prices noted. Early peaches from local points are in great variety and it will not be long before the Crawford will be ready for canning.

It's too late to buy loganberries now, for the supplies are scant and the price is getting ready to fly. Raspberries are also in short supply and demand is so much heavier that supplies are not great enough. Cultivated blackberries are in heavy supply and the price at this time is as cheap as it is likely to be for the present season. Wild ones are very slow in arriving. Apricots continue very high-priced on account of the great demand. Looks as if they will go no lower this season.

Most of us have a taste for coconuts, but few realize where they come from or how they grow. Most of them come from Colon, where they are gathered by Indians of the San Blas tribe. These Indians occupy a strip of coast territory extending on the Caribbean sea from Point San Blas to Cape Tiburou, a distance of 125 miles. Most of these coconuts from San Blas are traded by the Indians to masters of small schooners in exchange for manufactured articles, such as prints, knives, shotguns, hats, shoes and clothing. Most of these coconuts are shipped to the United States direct. Some coconuts are also raised on plantations. The only large plantation in near Colon and is owned by an American. He has about 20,000 trees. It costs him $4 to ship 1,000 coconuts to this country. The market value in Colon fluctuates from $15 to $25 per thousand nuts.

WOMAN'S CLUB DAY IN COURT

Mrs. A. H. Breyman Appears Before Judge Cameron to Give Testimony.

EVIDENCE TAKEN IN CASE OF MRS. LLOYD

Mrs. Breyman Declares Paper Used by Woman Is Not One She Signed—Ink Used in Writing Document Will Be Examined.

It was Portland Woman's club day in the municipal court this morning. Mrs. A. H. Breyman, former president of that organization and prominent society woman, appeared to give her testimony in the case of Mrs. Almee Lloyd, the statuette bronzette charged with having victimized a number of merchants by securing advertisements for a booklet of information purporting to have been issued by the Woman's club. Mrs. Breyman was accompanied by her husband, A. H. Breyman, and quite a number of well-known members of the club.

Upon taking the stand Mrs. Breyman testified that the letter of authorization in possession of Mrs. Lloyd and her husband was entirely different from the document signed by her and she would not swear as to the authenticity of the signature, although she admitted that it resembled her writing.

She told of Lloyd's visit to her house and his request for permission to insert a roster of the club and the names of the officers in the book he was to issue. Mrs. Breyman emphatically declared that she did not give him authority to use the name of the organization in securing advertisements. According to her statement she read the letter submitted by him for her signature several times before signing and it made no reference to any advertising feature. The erasures and substitutions noted in the letter in question, the clubwoman maintained, were not on the paper she signed.

Upon the direction of Judge Cameron, Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald and Attorney Frank Freeman, for the defense, will witness the Breyman residence this afternoon to secure a sample of the ink used, for the purpose of comparison. Mrs. Lloyd objected strenuously to her attorney against this procedure.

Decision in the vagrancy charge against Lloyd and the felony accusation preferred against his wife will be rendered tomorrow morning. It has been learned that Mrs. Lloyd and her husband engaged in a wordy war at the corner of West Park and Morrison streets last night. Both of the parties were talking in loud and excited tones.
