

SCHOOL TEACHER IN WINTER;
RAILROAD AGENT IN SUMMER

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Swink.

A school teacher in winter and a railroad station agent in summer, R. W. Swink is practicing the precepts of Russell Sage, who said that summer vacations are folly. Swink holds down both jobs the year round, his wife playing the part of station agent while he presides at the daily educational feast during the school term.

where the railroad job is located. The head of the family was recently elected principal of the Springbrook public school. Swink was born in Kentucky, but soon took the road to Oregon. According to his own statement he was left at an early age "without visible means of support." Now he has saved shakels quite a few and is plodding along the road behind the Rockefeller van.

ENGINES TO PUSH TRAINS
INSTEAD OF PULL THEM

New Method of Operating Will Result in Material Reduction in Cost.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, Aug. 2.—An engineer of St. Paul has proposed a new method of operating passenger trains, which he claims will result in a material reduction of the cost in operation. He proposes to place the engines in the rear of the trains and have them push them instead of pulling them along. A combination observation car is proposed for the head of the train, with a vestibule in the front end for a pilot. This will be equipped with signals connected with the engine crew, so that the pilot or lookout man can communicate with them and instantly inform them of danger on the line.

One great benefit urged by the inventor of this method of propulsion would be the total abolition of the annoyance caused to passengers by smoke and cinders and dust from locomotives. Much less damage, the inventor claims, would be done in the case of head-on collisions. The engineer could devote his entire time to his engine and the change would be a benefit in every way.

Bank Stock Increased.
Aberdeen, Aug. 2.—The capital stock of Hayes & Hayes bank was increased from $50,000 to $100,000, fully paid up, at a recent meeting of the stockholders, and the following officers were elected: Frank B. Patterson, president; Robert F. Hayes, vice-president; W. J. Patterson, cashier, and R. H. Falconer, assistant cashier.

American Girl's Fan.

The American girl has appropriated all arts. She has become as athletic as the English maid; she has as much chic as the born Parisienne, and now she will take the senorita's fan and mantilla for her own adorable uses. Her life has been so strenuous that she is only beginning to realize the value of these charming accessories, although in Spain the coquettish use of this same small fan and delicate lace mantilla have long been the favorite mode of winning hearts. The American girl will become as proficient as the Spanish senorita, but over all acquired art she will throw her own special charm—the individuality that makes her the finest type in the world today.

For the Bathroom.

If you are intending to build, by all means have the new brass accessories for the bathroom. These will replace the old-fashioned nickel, for use in the best houses and are extremely good for bungalows. A bathroom entirely in white paint and enamel and then, instead of the usual nickel, have everything in brass and you will be delighted with the effect.

For the Hostess.

Always see that the sheets in the guestroom have not been allowed to become musty smelling.

Remember to have the necessary toilet articles on the dresser and writing materials in a convenient place.

Flowers in the room are always a dainty finishing touch, but be sure that they are not flowers with a strong perfume.

Give your guests some time to themselves. Many hostesses make plans for every hour of the visit and consequently they keep their company under a nervous strain. It is good to feel that you may enjoy yourself in your own way part of the time.

To Soften Blankets.

After blankets have been washed and hung on the line and are thoroughly dry, beat with a carpet-beater. They will become soft and light and the wool like new.

Dress Notes.

Darned net is easily done and very effectively both in the plain and colors. Long yellow gloves for wash dresses are the proper thing.

Gold monogram clasps for the long glove garters.

Entire veils of Valenciennes, with dotted borders are a pretty novelty.

Small black velvet buttons for use on light summer frocks.

A huge bow of ribbon, plain or one of the Dresden patterns, tied on the long handle of your parasol. Very dainty was one of hand-painted apple blossoms with the bow of apple-green satin ribbon.

Has Won Honor.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Paton Fleming, who has been so successful as a curator of astronomical photographs for Harvard university, has been elected a member of the Royal Astronomical society of London. She is a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, and has been connected with the Harvard observatory 27 years. She discovered her first star in 1887.

Raspberry Ice.

This calls for two quarts of "black-caps," one pint of sugar and two lemons. To every one and a half pints of fruit juice add one and a half pints of water. Mash the berries, strain the juice. Add the water and sugar, which should have been boiled together for 20 minutes. Finally, add the juice of the lemons and freeze the mixture.

NO WESTERN TRIP PLANNED FOR TEDDY THIS FALL

President Notifies Chicago That He Cannot Attend Laying of Cornerstone.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, Aug. 2.—President Roosevelt cannot officiate at the laying of the cornerstone of the new county building in September. President Brundage of the county board has received a letter from Senator Cullom, to whom the president wrote, expressing his regret that he could not come to Chicago. The president also stated that he will not make any western trip this fall. The letter was in response to an invitation sent by Cullom.

The president wrote: "My dear Sir: I have your letter of the 17th, inviting me to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the Cook County courthouse in September. I wish it were in my power to accept, but it simply is not. I cannot make another engagement now. If I could it would be a particular pleasure to go to Chicago, but it is simply impossible at the present time. There is nothing in the report that I am to make a western trip this fall."

SURPRISE IS SPRUNG BY NEW POLICE CHIEF

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 2.—A bombshell was dropped into the camp of Walla Walla saloonmen and open town adherents yesterday when Chief of Police Brown filed with the city council the names of four saloons that were open Sunday and asked that the council take some action.

Chief Brown names the U and I saloon, the Progressive, the Opera and the Fountain as disobeying his explicit orders to remain closed Sunday. The council will take the matter up next Tuesday night, and conjecture is rife whether or not the new council will go on record as favoring a closed town.

Saloonmen, it is said, were led to believe that the Sunday closing law was to become a dead letter during the Kellogg administration, and yesterday's action of Chief Brown was a surprise to the saloon element.
