which may, however, be explained by the fact that Fergus county, the state's leading producer, showed a great slump, due to trouble with water. This has been remedied and henceforth that county will send forth its stream of yellow metal.

Because of this breakdown in Fergus ounty, at the Kendall and Barnes-King mines, Lewis and Clark county was the leading producer in July, with $48,970.99. a gain of more than $5,000 as compared with June, and is due in large part to the great activity in the Marysville, Gloster, Red Mountain and other districts contiguous to Helena.

The report of Assayer Tatem shows that California was a contributor during July, the first time in years that California has sent any gold to Montana's assay office. The receipts during July were from the following sources: Montana, $155,245; Idaho, $5,028; Nevada, $8,426; Washington, $494; California, $216; British Columbia, $5,805; old lewelry, $509.

The mill at the Beld Butte mine near here is to be started up soon, and will treat the clean-up ore of the mine and that of the dump as well. Larsen & Constant have completed their cyanide plant at this property, at which a new process will be used, that of Mr. Constant's. The outcome is awaited with much interest, it being asserted that the oras of this noted property will prove susceptible. If this proves the case it will be cheering news in various sections of the country, as the Bald Butte stock is scattered from Boston and New York in the east to Helena and the Pacific coast.

The $1,000 bonds carry a likeness of the late Senator Mark Hanns.

The registered bonds are plain, as compared with the coupons. They do not have the engraved Liberty and land-scape. Their only ornamentation, outside of the elaborate scroll work which frames the United States promise to pay, are the portraits of Balboa, Hamilton and Hanns. BIG GAME SEASON OPENS IN SOUTHERN OREGON

Hunters Are Out Already in Grayback Mountain and Bear Camp Districts.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., Aug. 8.—The big game season is opening in southern Oregon. Hunters are already out after bear, on Grayback mountain and Bear Camp districts, Josephine county, and preparations are being made to begin the hunt for deer, when the buck season opens on the 15th. Hunting parties from California are entering Oregon, and will spend the season in Jgsephine county mountains. The remote districts of Grayback and Bear Camp are the best big game hunting grounds on the coast. Black, cinnamon and brown bear are all plentiful in these districts, and are always found in prime condition as to fur, pelt and meat. The abundance of mast, or sweet acorns affords ample food for bear in these sections, and the animals are often encountered in droves on the feeding grounds. One party that recently returned from the Bear Camp district reported having seen 75 bear while on the trip, and killed all they desired of black and cinnamon. The black bear are larger and the meat better, but the brown bear are usually preferred in the matter of fur.

MANY ANXIOUS TO GO

(Journal Special Service.)
Brussels, Aug. 8.—An enormous sensation has been created in the province of Luxemburg by an announcement appearing in a daily paper of Arion, to the following effect:

A well-known wealthy Belgian count, who died some time ago, left a widow and two sons. One of the latter soon followed his father to the grave, and in followed his father to the grave, and in her grief the widowed countess, a devout lady, expressed the intention of sending 11 earnest young men on a pious pilgrimage to the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem, there to pray for the repose of the souls of her beloved husband and son. Each pilgrim was to receive a complete outfit, $800 for traveling expenses, it being expressly stipulated that the whole of the journey should be made on foot, and in addition the sum of $5,000 on his return. Six eligible young men had already been accepted, and a deputy of the district had been requested by the countess to select the other five.

On the day the announcement appeared, several score of able-bodied candidates made clamorous application to be chosen for the delightful free trip to the Holy Land, but great was their disappointment when they learned that the whole story was a pure canard. As a matter of fact, the newspaper in question had been made the victim of an ingenious hoax.

The Wife's Allowance.

The wife's allowance is a matter of small moment before marriage, when you are apt to think that your special Tom, Dick or Harry is just as little wee bit better than other men and you are confident that he would never deny you anything within reason—he is so ridiculous shout wanting you to have everything you wish. Oh, no, you have no fears on that score. But after the honeymoon this same girl will wish with all her heart that she had come to an understanding on this important question before marriage, for what seemed so small and immaterial a thing when seen in the distance now looms big and formidable. Perhaps her hushand makes the sentimental plea that it shows a lack of confidence in him for her to wish an allowance; he is sure that he is always generous and willing to give her what she asks for. The whole question is, should a wife be dependent on her husband's generosity? If she has justice will she need generosity?

It is degrading for a woman to have

It is degrading for a woman to have

It is degrading for a woman to have to ask for every penny and the men would soon be brought to see it in this light if one of the "lords of creation" was obliged to work hard every day for the pleasure of having his bills paid, and that after much grumbling.

The women of today are entirely capable of running their part of the household finances. The day of the "Dora Copperfield" type is past and instead we have the strong self-reliant woman, one who studies and practices household economy; but of what avail is it if she is to receive no adequate compensation? If a man was a clerk, in a business house, wouldn't he expect more than the offer of a choice cigar if he had labored and schemed to save money for the house? And yet this same man will protest indignantly that he regards his wife's position as higher than that of a clerk. It is my opinion that many wives would be satisfied to be regarded as clerks. Some division of the income is imperative and if men cannot be brought to reason on this subject, perhaps some enterprising women will present a bill to that effect to the legislature.

To keep the color, instead of using bluing in the last water get a piece of clean red calleo, enough to color the water. Wash it out until the water is tinted; pass your pink dress through it and the color will be as bright as when new. Lavender material is benefited by using bluing with the red stained water until the violet tint appears.

The Rain Bath Next.

The Rain Bath Next.

The bath for health and the bath for beauty have long occupied an important place in the world's regard. There have been medicated and perfumed baths of all descriptions, the salt, Turkish and vapor baths, and the famous beauties of former times were fond of a dip in asses' milk to preserve their skin. Then we had sun baths and baths of mud; but the bath par excellence, according to Physical Culture, is the humble rain bath. Thank goodness it won't come high for the residents of Portland. The new bath is taken by exposing the body to the mercy of a steady downpour of rain for 10 or 15 minutes. The followers of the new fad claim that it is a panacea for almost all the ills that flesh is heir to, but that it is especially flesh is heir to, but that it is especially good in treating colds, tuberculosis and the worst cases of rheumatism.
