WELLET CORPS ANNUAL MEET

W. R. C. Welcomed to Minneapolis With Salutes and Flag Drills.

SPIRITED CONTEST ON FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Over Five Thousand Spent Among Refugees in San Francisco, Making a Total of Three Million Spent Since Organization.

(Journal Special Service.) Minneapolis, Aug. 18.—The annual convention of the Woman's Relief Corps met at 10 o'clock this morning in Wesley M. E. church, Mrs. President Adams of Nebraska presiding.

The total membership at the present time according to the reports is 124,144. The total number of corps is 2,341. The amount of cash expended in relief during the year was $55,575.

Regarding the progress of patriotic instruction, the president, in her annual address, said:

"All through the year from every department have come good tidings of the patriotic work. The demand for patriotic literature and flags far surpasses our limit of expenditures and in the south I find great opportunities, and, despite certain unpleasant circumstances, I am greatly encouraged by the friendly spirit of loyalty found in many sections. That the heart of the 'New South' is throbbing with right impulses is shown by the desire to keep step with the progress of the times in educational matters. In connection with this I wish to speak of the lack of schools in the mountainous regions where the children of those peculiar people should be taught those branches which would enable them to be intelligent, respected citizens, and where they might also learn to reverence 'Old Glory' and to know what it represents. During the year I have been able to visit the friends of our 'boys in blue,' and today their children are calling to us to release them from the bondage of ignorance. Shall we turn a deaf ear to their pitiful appeals?"

A spirited contest is on for the presidency of the Woman's Relief Corps. The leading candidates are Mrs. Mary L. Gillman of Massachusetts, Mrs. Clara B. Sparklin of Minnesota, and Mrs. Kate E. Jones of New York.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. met in the First Baptist church this morning, with the president, Mrs. Ruth E. Poole of Denver, in the chair. The opening session was also devoted to hearing annual reports, which showed increased membership and good conditions generally.

The Daughters of Veterans met in convention in Knights of Pythias hall. Tonight the Daughters have arranged to give a large reception in honor of Commander-in-Chief Tanner of the G. A. R.

BEGIN RESTORATION OF WESTMINSTER ABBEY

(Journal Special Service.) London, Aug. 18.—An extensive work of restoration has been commenced at Westminster Abbey, the authorities having decided to spend no less than $100,000 in repairing the north transept of the historic structure. The need for overhauling some of the stonework has long been apparent, but the matter was not until recently considered urgent. It has been suggested that the vibration caused by motor traffic has had serious effects on the Abbey fabric, but this is denied on the authority of Canon Duckworth. It is the London atmosphere, deadly to buildings, public and private, sacred and secular, that is to blame, and it has gradually deteriorated the northern quarter of the Abbey walls to such a degree that the work of restoration had to be undertaken without delay.

CONTRACTS FOR ASYLUM IMPROVEMENTS AWARDED

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Salem, Or., Aug. 18.—Contracts for improvements and additions to the main building of the state insane asylum and for painting the roofs were awarded to Charles A. Gray of Salem for $27,046. The contract for building improvements and repairs was let for $16,998, and for painting and cement painting for $10,098. The latter includes the painting of the physicians' cottages. Bamstetter & Co. of Portland received the contract for furnishing the mixed paint at $1.05 per gallon. The board discovered that the amount of the lowest bids exceeded the appropriations, and it was necessary to cut out one proposed masonry and the completion of the quarantine station.

To Oppose Congressman Slomp.

(Journal Special Service.) Bristol, Va., Aug. 18.—The Democrats of the ninth district are holding a convention here today to decide upon a candidate to oppose Representative Campbell Slomp, the only Republican member of the Virginia delegation in congress. From present indications the honor will go to Judge Duncan of Lee county.

Famous Band Coming.

(Journal Special Service.) London, Aug. 18.—The band of the Second Life Guards sails for Quebec today on the steamship Canada. The organization of musicians, which is one of the most famous military bands in the kingdom, has been engaged to appear at the forthcoming exhibition in Toronto.

Yukon Anniversary.

(General Special Service.) Seattle, Aug. 18.—This date is a notable one in the history of Alaska and its recent development and doubtless is being fittingly observed today in the northern territory. It was on this day 10 years ago that Skookum Jim washed out his famous pan on Rabbit creek, whose result was the bringing of thousands of people to the Yukon country and enriching the world by $150,000,000 in gold.

VETERANS DESIRE TO HOLD REUNION CANTEENS IN LOG CABIN

Department Commanders Indorse the Utterances of Corporal Tanner.

ABOLISHMENT IS BLOW AT REAL TEMPERANCE

Declare That Soldiers' Homes Should Sell Liquor to Inmates Rather Than Force Them to Purchase It Outside.

(Washington Bureau of the Journal.) Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—Staff officers and department commanders of the G. A. R. by a large majority indorse the utterances of "Corporal" Tanner, commander-in-chief, that the passage by congress of an act abolishing canteens from national soldiers' homes after next March was unwise and a blow at real temperance, besides a restriction of the personal liberties of veterans of the civil war that ought to be resisted.

A number of prominent officials of the organization intend to bring the matter before the national encampment, now in session at Minneapolis. The resolutions censuring congress and demanding the abolition of the canteen and five are noncommittal.

Western department commanders are practically unanimous for the restoration of the canteen, both in the regular army and soldiers' homes, as their comrades in the east. Hanser Stultiffe, department commander of Portland, Oregon, writes: "I am very much in favor of the canteen. Living within six miles of a large army post, I know the difference between their being a canteen and no canteen, and sincerely hope that congress will listen to the reports of regular army officers on that subject, and not to impracticable persons with a dogma."

West Wants Canteens. James H. Creighton, department commander of Arizona, says that he is a temperance man, and regards the use of liquor as vicious, "but as I know the habits of unemployed soldiers, I know they will have liquor, and I am thoroughly convinced that it is better for them to get it at a place under the control of their officers and within their own camps than elsewhere. I therefore believe in the army canteen."

William C. Allberger, department commander of California, takes this view: "I am strongly in favor of the canteen, having had considerable opportunity to see its benefits in service, and at our veterans' homes in this state. I indorse every word that our commander-in-chief has said."

Tanner Sustained. After the interview with Commander-in-Chief Tanner appeared in the newspapers, letters were sent to each staff officer and department commander asking his views on the question. Of about 30 answers that have been received 26 are strong in their approval of the attitude of the commander-in-chief. Five favor the abolition of the canteen and five are noncommittal.

Pioneers Erect Building at Tillamook in Which to Entertain Their Associates.

WILL BE FURNISHED IN STYLE OF EARLY DAYS

Not a Nail Will Be Used and Every Article in House Will Have Been Made in or Brought Into the State Prior to 'Fifty.

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Tillamook, Or., Aug. 18.—William H. Vaughn, Captain William D. Stillwell, H. F. Holden, George Randall and William Johnson are building a log cabin in which to entertain their old associates during the street fair and carnival which is planned in this city for August 23, 24 and 25.

Their immediate descendants, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, number 62. The proudest thing they have to say is there is not nor has ever been a "black sheep" in the lot. All who have come of age are respected and useful citizens in this and other states.

William H. Vaughn, born in New York in 1823; emigrated to Oregon in 1849.

H. F. Holden, born in Massachusetts in 1837; emigrated in 1853; came to Oregon in 1844.

George Randall, 52 years old, born in Pennsylvania; came to Oregon in 1852. Captain Stillwell, born in Ohio, came to Oregon in 1844.

The building will be 18 by 20, constructed without a nail in it, and will be furnished entirely with articles brought to or made in the state prior to 1850. There will be the first rocking-chair ever made in Oregon, one of four clocks brought by the Hudson Bay company, a loom and spinning wheel made about A. D. 1846, old Kentucky rifles that have their own death records behind them, skillets, bake ovens and primitive hand-forged tools.

The fireplace is being built of sticks and mud, a crane 50 years old will be hung on and it a pot which the old pioneers intend shall be as full of beans, bacon and clams and as free as it was in their earlier days.

The latch string will be hanging out, and they have written to all of their few companions to join them. It made but a scant muster roll, however, when they cast about for the living ones.
