

IS TO PROCEED HILL'S ROAD

Harriman Will Do It With the New Oregon and Washington Line.

MANY LEGAL BATTLES
WILL BE THE RESULT

Suits Will Perhaps Be Introduced in Every Washington County From Seattle to Portland to Settle Right-of-Way Disputes.

The Oregon & Washington railroad, which is backed by the Harriman interests, proposes to build the Northern Pacific railway to Seattle. At present the right is to be waged in Clatsop county, but it is understood that before the line can get a right of way through it will be necessary to institute suits in every county in Washington between Portland and Seattle.

When the projected survey for the Oregon & Washington road was made it was found that its line and that of the Northern Pacific came close together between Kelso and Rocky Point. In fact at Rocky Point, the only place where the line could get through, it would be alongside the tracks of the Northern Pacific railway. This line had a right of way around Rocky Point and it is claimed that in an effort to shut out the Harriman line the Northern Pacific purchased quite a large section of land at Rocky Point and it is over this section that the fight is now to be waged, the Harriman people endeavoring to make the Northern Pacific disgorge enough of its purchase to allow the Oregon & Washington road to get around the point.

This fight over Rocky Point promises to be bitter and has aroused much feeling along the proposed line. A great many of the property owners have willingly granted the Oregon & Washington road a right of way, welcoming it as a competitor to the Hill road, and the action of the Northern Pacific in seeking by purchase the strategic position at Rocky Point has aroused much bitter feeling against it.

May Belong to Hill System.
To complicate matters and make the fight more widespread, the Grays Harbor & Columbia River railroad is projected and it is claimed to be a part of the Hill system. It has run its surveys and at several points crosses the proposed Harriman Oregon & Washington railroad. The Grays Harbor line, it is said, is purchasing a right of way where the two lines cross, in the hope of establishing grades that will make the building of the Oregon & Washington line almost prohibitory.

The battle of the two great railroad systems has aroused all of southwestern Washington. Already the suits against the Northern Pacific railway for a right of way around Rocky Point have been filed and today suits were filed by Kelama against a number of property owners with whom agreements could not be reached by the Oregon & Washington railroad regarding the value of land the company desires for a right of way.

APPENDICITIS CAUSES DEATH OF A. A. COOK

Well Known Traveling Man Succumbs to Disease at St. Vincent's Hospital.

As the result of a sudden attack of appendicitis, Archie A. Cook, a well-known traveling man of this city, died at St. Vincent's hospital late yesterday afternoon. He was president of the Travelers' Protective association for Oregon and Washington.

While at St. Martin's Springs a week ago, Mr. Cook became suddenly ill and was taken to St. Vincent's immediately on his arrival here Thursday. Diagnosis showed that he was suffering from appendicitis, and an operation was performed soon after he was taken to the hospital. It was thought that the operation would result successfully, but Tuesday night he began to decline and sank rapidly until the end.

He had been a resident of Portland for seven years, living with his wife and three children at 774 Wasco street. He came to this city from Astoria. He was 38 years of age, and was a native of Canada. For several years he had been traveling in the interest of the Union Meat company and F. Zimmerman & Co.

Mr. Cook was a member of the Order of Elks. Funeral arrangements have not been announced, though it is said to be likely that the services will be held under the auspices of that order and the Travelers' Protective association.

"THE DIFFERENT STORE"
IT'S THE American idea that it's the man behind the gun who wins the battle. And just as true is it that it's the merchandise back of the sale which wins success for its conductors. Not talk. No "line of talk" based on a foundation of "bluff and guf" will win out; such sales crumble as would a building built on sand. Such sales—and they number legion in Portland—the great (though not the "silent") majority—are chiefly valuable as illustrating the fable of the frog and the ox. Sales here are not a hodge-podge, but carefully prepared, symmetrical proportions collections of dependable merchandise needed by folk of refined taste and critical judgment. We push into the arena tomorrow fully armed and equipped to win the victor's share of Friday's business from Portland's shoppers. Here's solid columns of fighting material—and the store back of every line.

sands of people. It was one of the greatest parades ever seen in this city, and the decorations along the line of march were most elaborate.

The politics of the national meeting center about the selection of the next meeting place. Various cities are putting forward for recognition, but the eastern delegations seem to favor some place in New England, and it is probable that one of the cities east of New York will be chosen.

The women who are attending the convention are taking an active part in the politics of the meeting. They are not only working for various cities which desire the next convention, but today the Kentucky women organized a committee and started in on a campaign to secure the election of Hooroor for grand trustee
