The time is growing short for the gathering of votes in the educational contest. The boys and girls down near the foot of the class would better hurry up to make records.

There are a great many young people who want scholarships in the good schools in The Journal's list of prizes. They will not stand by and see the valuable scholarship prizes go for small blocks of votes.

The Albany Racer.

Rhoda L. Stalnacker of Albany gathered subscriptions that gave her a credit of 5,415 votes the first day that she decided to go into the contest. During the next 11 days she ran her score up to 15,945 votes and took sixth place in the contest. From July 26 to August 1, a period of eight working days, she polled 8,395 votes. And she has kept up these high averages and now stands for a cash prize as well as for a scholarship.

"The Sagebrush Lassie."

Dorcas Van Schoonhoven, "the Sagebrush lassie of eastern Oregon," bounded into the contest arena and went up the score ladder to a creditable position like an antelope going over the divide. Her first score was 2,765 votes and she now has to her credit 10,405 votes. If the contest should end with this issue—but it does not—she probably would get her choice of scholarships. It is entirely probable that the rich Grand Ronde valley will put her up among the six cash prizes as well as to give her a scholarship.

Volunteer the Subscription.

Miss Van Schoonhoven has made this headway and now occupies seventeenth place, although since entering the contest she has lost an entire week on account of sickness.

She will be able to make up for the delay for a lot of people at La Grande Union, Island City, Elgin, Summerville and Cove are saving subscriptions for her. They want her to call for these subscriptions.

How much these good friends might help her if they would remit the money direct to The Journal, asking that the money be credited, at the same time notifying her by letter or postal, or send the subscription money direct to her! That would enable "the Sagebrush girl" to spend her time soliciting for subscriptions which do not come so easy.

Friends of other candidates may act upon this suggestion in helping their own candidates.

The Buxton Girl.

Maisie O'Donnell of Buxton, Washington county, did not enter the educational contest until August 3, and she already has 4,780 votes toward a scholarship, with thousands more in prospect. She has passed by 16 contestants who had been in the contest for three or four weeks before she entered.

If the contest were to end today she would win a scholarship. But she has not yet gone high enough to win the one she wants. But she has demonstrated her ability to go to the front and her admirers have confidence in her finish.

It is something of an honor to enter the contest late and to win a prize. It shows superior ability and popularity. Where there's a will there's a way.

Grants Pass Candidate.

Glenn Patillo, a bright lad of 14 years at Grants Pass, is an illustration of the courageous contestant.

He entered the educational contest on August 13 and will run to the finish.

His first report was 2,500 votes. Judge W. C. Hale of Grants Pass noticed the merits of the contest and took an interest in young Patillo. He started him out with 1,500 votes, his own yearly subscription to The Journal, and helped him to get several subscriptions from others. Dr. Flannagan joined in the good cause and in a short while Glenn Patillo's candidacy was fairly launched and with excellent prospects.

Known as News Agent.

Young Patillo became known to the business community of Grants Pass as a news agent. He sells an illustrated weekly and by hustling constantly has built up a considerable list of patrons. His sincerity and manliness have made him popular. Now that he has launched into the subscription business in order to earn a scholarship in a good school the old friends and the new will patronize him more liberally than ever.

Glenn Patillo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patillo. He has an older sister who will help him as much as she can to make calls. After canvassing Grants Pass he may go to Medford, Ashland and Jacksonville, representing southern Oregon in the contest.

Opportunity for Others.

As the contest stands today nearly as many scholarships are being offered as there are contestants. All but the lowest five would be awarded scholarships if the contest were to close on this date. Not all would be able to select the schools they want as the choice of scholarships is to be made in the order the contestants stand in the score line.

But there is now abundant opportunity for new contestants to enter the race and win scholarships. Inquiries in this line will be promptly answered by the Contest Editor of The Journal, Portland, Oregon.

White Temple Endorsement.

Horace A. Wilson, the indomitable leader of the contest, is fortunate in having an excellent letter to aid him in his canvassing. The letter is as follows:

"The Journal Publishing Company, Portland, Oregon—Gentlemen: We are very happy to see the good work done by Horace A. Wilson in your educational contest. He is a member of our church and also of the Alert Bible club in our Bible school and we wish him continued success in the struggle for prize No. 1 or 2. He is a splendid young man and worthy the highest support given him.

"With the highest approval of his candidacy, and of the admirable enterprise of The Journal, we remain,

"Yours very truly,
"J. WHITCOMB BROUGHER, Pastor.
"ELNATHAN SWEET, Assistant Pastor."

Men's Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods, Direct From New York and the Manufacturers, the Smartest Productions of the Maker's Skill, Will Be Liberally Displayed.

The new clothing store of S. Bromberger & Co., 342 Washington street, first door west of Seventh, will open its doors tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. Upon its shelves and counters will be displayed the latest creations of the skilfull manufacturers of the east, and all that is fashionable in men's apparel will be there for inspection. The stock is entirely new, every garment up-to-date, and, of course, representative of all that is timely in both material and cut. Indeed, visitors will find it a clean-cut establishment, new, trim and sparkling and everything marked in figures so that the customer may know at a glance the cost of anything that may meet his fancy. Purchased very close for cash, prices will bear favorable comparison with any concern of its kind on the coast, and it is certain that those becoming its patrons will be pleased with their purchases.

S. BROMBERGER.

Mr. Bromberger, head of the house, was for 16 years in the clothing business in this city, but sold out more than a year ago. He could not remain in idleness, however, and hence secured a long lease on his present premises and is again actively before the public. Those who dealt with him before will be glad to know that they may renew their business friendships.

QUARTETTE OF YOUTHS ADMIT SLAYING MAN

(Journal Special Service.)

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—Fred Peterson, William Mearns, Walter Westwood and Frank McAuliffe, four youths still in their teens, last night confessed that they committed the series of hold-ups which culminated in the killing of Fred Mullineaux on the Ocean boulevard last Sunday night.

Peterson, aged 17, admitted that he fired the shot which killed Mullineaux when the latter resisted robbery.

McAuliffe, aged 18, broke down and gave the name of the other three.

Peterson told in detail of the robbery of four persons in one hour before the murder of Mullineaux, and a hold-up on the boulevard the night previous.

Westwood, the leader of the gang, is about 16 years of age. He admitted that he was the gunholder in the other robberies and that it was Peterson's turn when Mullineaux was held up. Means is 18

LUMBER EMBARGO IS NOT RAISED AT 'FRISCO

Southern Pacific Will Not Receive Supplies for Shipment to the Bay City.

The lumber embargo against San Francisco and Oakland has not been raised. The Southern Pacific company has issued orders that lumber shipments from Oregon can be accepted for all California points outside of San Francisco and Oakland, conditioned on unloading of the lumber at destination, and not subject to diversion.

There are still thousands of carloads of freight in the San Francisco and Oakland terminals and other thousands of carloads sidetracked at points between there and Portland, awaiting movement into the San Francisco terminals. The larger part of this tonnage is lumber. As fast as cars are unloaded in San Francisco the empties are moved out and more loads are moved in.

The clearing up of the blockade is slow work and has not yet reached a stage where more lumber can be accepted from Oregon mills for shipment to San Francisco. It is probable that weeks will elapse before a normal movement of lumber and other unperishable freight into San Francisco will be resumed. Meantime the lumber mills may ship their products to any other point in California as usual.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Summer Is Best Season to Cure Catarrh. Hyomei Sold Under Guarantee.

Summer is the best time in the whole year for the treatment of catarrhal troubles, and Woodard, Clarke & Co. urge every reader of The Journal to use Hyomei now and be permanently cured.

Unlike the ordinary treatment for catarrh, there is no stomach dosing when using Hyomei. The remedy is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes in every outfit, and its balsamic healing air penetrates to the most remote parts of the nose, throat and lungs, searches out and kills the catarrh germs in all parts of the respiratory organs and soothes and heals any irritation there may be in the mucous membrane.

Hyomei is not alone the only natural treatment for catarrh, but it is the only one sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money unless it gives satisfaction. It kills all disease germs and restores the mucous membrane of the throat, nose and lungs to perfectly healthy condition.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles 50c. Woodard, Clarke & Co. sell Hyomei under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. You run no risk at all in buying this guaranteed remedy.

waiting to remove his clothing he plunged into the water, and, diving, succeeded in finding the body of the smaller boy, which was at the bottom of the river. He brought him ashore, where the lad was finally resuscitated.

Lingos' feat was witnessed by a number of others, who applauded him heartily. He didn't see anything very remarkable about it, and so expressed himself. He was asked to tell how he did it, and replied that there was nothing to tell. He was also asked for his photograph.

"Ain't never had none taken," he replied, "'cept a family group. You kin have that if you want it. There's nine or ten in the family, I believe; but I ain't quite sure."

Admirers of the lad's heroism who witnessed his bravery are preparing to send his name and the details of his deed to the committee in charge of the Carnegie hero fund. Lingos lives with his parents at 549 Grand avenue.

GARFIELD PARK BANK ANNOUNCES FAILURE

(Journal Special Service.)

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The Garfield Park bank, an institution on West Madison street, was placed in the hands of a receiver late yesterday afternoon by Judge Beathe in the United States district court. Three creditors filed the petition and also asked that Ellis E. Drake, president of the bank, be declared insolvent.

The collapse of the Milwaukee Avenue state bank is said to have caused the closing of the smaller institution. No statement of assets or liabilities was presented in court.
