COMMENCING TO-MORROW
The SEVENTH WEEK
of OPPORTUNE BARGAINS

From day to day and from week to week throughout this unprecedented sales event, we have faithfully adhered to our original policy—that of offering the extreme limit in sale values, and in keeping the sale stock replete with articles of every description, our intention being to reduce our present stock as much as possible before removal to our handsome new store on Morrison and Seventh streets. The convincing reductions which have characterized this as the "greatest and most opportune of all sales" will be no less evident throughout the eighth week, for we have gathered from our stock and included in our offerings for this week furniture pieces of every description and marked same at "removal sale" prices. Following are a few items from the sale stock:

BLUE MOUNTAIN CASE NEXT

Franklin Pierce Mays, Willard N. Jones and George Sorenson Will Go on Trial in Federal Court Before Judge Hunt

Next on the list of land fraud prosecutions comes the Blue Mountain reserve case, which is to go to trial tomorrow morning before Judge Hunt and a jury in the federal court. Originally there were five defendants, but Congressman Elmer Hornum was granted a severance and the government decided to postpone proceedings against Congressman J. N. Williamson. The three left in the hot seat that is about to boil are State Senator Franklin Pierce Mays, Willard N. Jones and George Sorenson.

Jones has one conviction recorded against him and has appealed from a judgment of a year on McNeil's island and a fine of $2,000. This was imposed for his offending in connection with the Alletts reservation swindle. Sorenson was tried last year for offering a bribe to United States Attorney John H. Hall, since removed, but the jury failed to agree. Now both Jones and Sorenson are to go into court with Franklin Pierce Mays to fight an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the government out of 200,000 acres of land in the Blue Mountain reserve.

The case that Special Assistant Attorney-General Henry and United States Attorney Bristol are about to prosecute is of far more importance than any that has yet been tried at the present term of court. Michael Hoeg, Barnard and Zachary were small fish, Hendricks was a fair catch, but Mays is looked upon as a big game. The case will be bitterly fought and can hardly be finished in less than two weeks. Among the attorneys engaged for the defense are ex-Judge W. D. Fenton, W. Lair Hill, ex-Judge M. L. Pipes and S. B. Huston. Fenton and Hill will look after the interests of Mays. Argument on the plea in abatement interposed in behalf of Mays took place yesterday, and a decision will be rendered tomorrow morning. This plea questioned the citizenship of George Giustina, a well-known fish dealer, and George was in court yesterday to refute the charge. He had been a member of the jury that indicted Mays and the contention that he had never renounced his allegiance to the emperor of Austria was part of the attack on the indictment.

George took the witness stand, told where he was born and declared that he had come to America more than 30 years ago. "I landed at San Francisco," he said. "My name was Georgio Giustinanovich. The county clerk say then it is too long for this country, and that the best way is to cut it in half. I thought that all right. That is why I am George Giustina. Few people have a name like mine. Giustinanovich! That is a fine name. It comes from a royal family, and is the longest name in the United States."

Nobody disputed George, so perhaps he is still unaware that a man in Milwaukee lays claim to a name long enough to make Giustinanovich look like an abbreviation. The morning session of the federal court yesterday was devoted to unfortunate citizens of Wheeler county who had been convicted of crime in connection with land frauds. As told in last evening's Journal, the passing of judgment on Charles A. Watson was indefinitely postponed and he was released on his own recognizance.

Coe D. Barnard, who with Clarence B. Zachary vouched for Watson's honest proof, was sentenced to spend two years on McNeil's island and pay a fine of $1,000. His bond on appeal was fixed at $5,000, and he retained his liberty. At the request of Prosecutor Henry the sentencing of Hamilton H. Hendricks for subornation of perjury and Clarence B. Zachary for perjury was postponed until after the trial of the illegal fencing case in which they are defendants. This will give them a chance to testify in their own behalf. The fencing case is to follow the Mays case.

CHINESE LEPER IS TAKEN TO COUNTY POOR FARM

Will Live in Little Cottage Half Mile Away From the Main Building.

City Health Officer C. H. Wheeler got rid of poor old Wong Sue, the leprosy Chinaman, yesterday. Despite the fact that Dr. Wheeler insists that Wong Sue is not suffering with leprosy, he was mighty glad to get him off his hands. Dr. Wheeler and Deputy William Beutelspacher drove out to the gulch on Eighteenth street, Dr. Wheeler in his buggy and Beutelspacher in a wagon. Dr. Wheeler directed the proceedings, while it fell to Beutelspacher to peel his coat and handle the old Chinaman's bag and baggage. The deputy had carefully encased his hands in rubber gloves, washed three times in a strong solution of carbolic acid. Nevertheless, he handled the dilapidated trunk gingerly, and kept as far away as possible from the person of the sick man.

Wong Sue was hauled to the county almshouse, but the wagon did not stop there. As it approached, the inmates scattered. The wagon passed on, and the Chinese was given a home in a tiny whitewashed shack a half mile away from the main buildings. Here he will see out his miserable existence in lonely solitude. The county authorities will have to look after him. How he will be fed is not known, but it is presumed that his meals will be cooked at the main almshouse, loaded into a cartion three times a day and fired at the little whitewashed house in the distance.

We are not properly looking out for you, unless you watch The Journal Watch Ad.

POLICE STEP IN AND END BITTER FAMILY ROW

Alfred Bennett and Son-in-Law Go to Jail as Result of Hostile Mix-Up.

As the result of an alleged attempt to kill his father-in-law, Alfred Bennett, with a revolver last night, Henry Gosa was arrested by Patrolmen Gittings and Riley and booked at the city prison on a charge of an assault with intent to kill. Bennett was also locked up on the complaint of Gosa for assault and battery.

The arrests were the result of a domestic row which occurred at 745 East Stark street. From the story told by the two men it appears that several days ago they became engaged in an altercation over Gosa's alleged abuse of his wife. At that time it is said the young man attacked his wife's father with a rolling-pin and was severely thrashed by that individual.

After the difficulty Bennett ordered his son-in-law from the house with instructions not to return. Gosa obeyed the admonition until last night, when he again put in an appearance at the Stark street house. As soon as they met it is alleged that Gosa drew a gun and snapped the trigger, but the cartridge failed to explode. In the struggle which ensued for possession of the weapon Gosa's hands were severely cut. A groceryman below, hearing the disturbance, telephoned for the police and the arrests followed. Bennett was released on deposit of $20 cash bail, but Gosa languishes in jail. Further details of the difficulty will be heard by Judge Cameron on Monday.
