Both Teams Contributed More Than Jockey Fountain No Longer Allowed to Ride for Any One but Father-Several Records Are Sent Smashing by Unlooked for Candidates.

Stewards Get Busy.

Tuesday the stewards got quite energetic and suspended Jockey Fountain from riding for anyone but his father on account of a very poor ride he put up on Tarora, beaten a head by Ambitious. The officials also ruled off Jockey A. Brown, his offense being a poor ride on Betsy in the Ambitious race, among other matters. Tarora was cut off on the last turn in a small field, and at the finish was going two for one. Bucolic beat A. B. Cook, The Mist and other fleet ones, it being Cook's first start in a long time and getting off badly. Flo Manola, offered for a song at the Emeryville track last spring, won the second time within a week for her new owner, W. W. Finn, the mile being run in 1:41 flat easily over a track rendered slow by recent rains, and Ed Sheridan finally won a race for Tom Davies, and a good one at that—mile and fifty yards in 1:43 flat.

Wednesday was John Ellerd's day.

Hood River, Or., Aug. 20.—'Pussy' Creerney Geyer and Willie Chandler, two local lads, swam the Columbis river yesterday in company with John L. Henderson, who is to take part in the swimming match from Oregon City to the Oaks at Portland next Saturday. This is the first attempt for the boys but they seemed fresh after their long awim and both say they will try to make the round trip without resting in the near future.

The distance across the river is about a mile and a half, counting the distance they drifted with the current.

tunate win, as Ocyrohe, off tenth, was catching her fast at the finish. Tarora showed conclusively that she is a better racer than Ambitious, for the latter, with a flying start, could not stall off Tarora's rush in the last furiong, the filly eventually winning easily. Laura F. M. equaled Misty Pride's record at aix and a half furiongs (1:18%) and carried one pound more than the Oregon speed marvel. The first half Laura dashed off in 0:66% and the six furiongs in 1:12 flat. Yeaman won the last cleverly, Dewey being the favorite and benten a head for place by Kenora. Saturday there were 10,000 enthusiasts at the course, and they saw the 3-year-old bay colt F. W. Barr of the Stanfield stable lead all the way in the Club Members' handicap and win easily by three and a half lengths in the track record time of 1:52 for a mile and an eighth, the weight carried being 102 pounds, and the field of old horses he defeated the best at The Meadows track, including Gorgalette, Ed Sheridan, Stilicho and Dusty Miller. Barr was bred by Charles Kerr at Antrim Farm, Bakersfield, California, and is a slashing big bay colt, a half-brother to James F. and Rose of Hilo. Stanfield refused $5,000 for Barr as a 2-year-old, and has in him undoubtedly the best horse in training on this coast of any age. Mr. Stanfield is credited with betting $1,000 on his colt, which opened in the betting at 4 to 1 and closed at 11 to 5, equal favorite with Gorgalette, who finished second. Keogh distinguished himself by riding the first four mounts he had to victory. Harbor beat Jackfull a head and Peligroso was beaten a neck by Lady's Beauty. Birdie P., played for "a killing," delivered the goods with case, and May Holladay, $ to 1, led most of the way and won, as did Hersain, $ to 1, both ridden by Keogh, as was Lady's Beauty and Barr. Supreme Court was an easy winner in the last, wherein The Huguenot broke a leg in the homestretch when looking to have a chance to win. He was a noble horse, and it was sad to see him have such an ending. R. Davis put up two very poor

Portland Takes a Ten-inning Astorians Will Make This Year's Game-Second Match Results in a Tie.

Portland fans received a treat yesterday in the umpiring line. President Bert woke up long enough to order Lou Mahaffey, a Portland citizen, here from Seattle, and, though the strain was a hard one, Mahaffey acquitted himself in creditable fashion.

day in the umpiring line. President Bert woke up long enough to order Lou Mathaffey, a Portland citizen, here from Seattle, and, though the strain was a hard one, Mahaffey acquitted himself in creditable fashion.

His decisions were prompt and as nearly correct as it is possible for a human being to order them. He didn't have any mass meetings on the diamond, neither did he allow any back talk from any player. The universal opinion was the local field in many months.

There were a number of features to the local field in many months.

There were a number of features to the games, the principal one being Van Haltren's clever bit of work in the seventh inning of the second game, that resulted in a double play at a time when Portland appeared dangerous. One man was down and Donohue and Lister singled, the former stopping at second. Calliff knocked a fly to Van Haltren and the baserunners feeling certain that Van would catch the easy ball, hugged their bases closely. Van made a fine bluff at catching it, but let it drop purposely, and recovering it quickly, whipped it to second and completed a double. The locals were nonplussed for a few minutes, but gradually awakened to the fact that the veteran had fooled them. The crowd gave Van the glad hand for his trick.

Portland Is Stronger.

In both games, though the locals didn't win or lose the second, the Giants displayed a superiority over the Oakland team. It was the same superiority that caused Portland to win five out of six games during the series, and from the hard work put up by the Giants yesterday, it is a safe bet that even San Francisco will not be able to beat out the Oregon lads.

After an interval of eight minutes the teams got busy again, Essick and Graham doing the speeding act. In the third inning McLean suffered a split finger and went to the clubhouse. In the seventh Bill Essick got a kink in his arm and quit the struggle, Califf going into the box and Donohue taking Larry's place. In the first inning Oakland scored one and Portland two. In the third the visitors added two more. In the sixth three hits netted the Giants two and a lead of one. The Commuters came back in the eighth with the run that tied up proceedings. As there was nothing doing in the minth, Mahaffey tossed up the sponge and the crowd started home for a cold dinner. The scores:

Thirty-nine hundred fans turned out yesterday to attend the bargain sale at Recreation park—19 innings for a single admission—and every mother's son and daughter received the full value of their purchase.

It was a great crowd, not a record-breaker by any means, such as attended on a bygone Bunday, when the attraction was Sam Morris, the Indian, but it was a jolly gathering, impartial in its appreciation for a good play and in its time-honored mood towards the umpire. And such is baseball life in the Ross City.

Portland fans received a treat yesterday in the umpiring line. President Bert wooks up long enough to order Lou Mathematics.

Automobile Bureau of The Journal, Aug. 20.—The bench show and the baby show especially is certain to prove a winner, as the judges are to be chosen from the ranks of the most confirmed old bachelors in the city. A well-known jurist, well along in years, is being groomed by his friends for one of these positions. The bench show, it is thought, will also prove a popular attraction, and siready there a number of entries. The show will be in charge of Ed Lewellyn, a local dog fancier, and a prominent judge from Portland will place the awards. The bench show will take place on the last day and the baby show on the second, and both will be limited to Pacific and Clatsop county entries.

The water attractions themselves will be very interesting this year. On the first day there will be a number of rowing events, under the auspices of the Portland Rowing club. There will be contests for single shells and for four oars. There will be a contest for single shells on the second day for the champlouship of the northwest, in which Gloss and other experts will take part. The yacht races will be the leading attraction, and a number of boats will be down from Portland to take part in the events. Water Brents.

Aside from the leading attractions. there will be a number of minor contests, both on the street and the water, to fill in the time. There will be a polo game on the water and a log rolling contest, while on the streets the usual small races will take place. There will also be the usual number of small shows, and a dance in the evening on one of the days. Brown's band of Portland will provide the music for the whole three days.
