

BAKER BACK FROM EASTERN TRIP

Secures Players and Plays for Coming Season at Baker Theatre.

FAMOUS SUCCESSES WILL BE PRESENTED

Richard Thornton Secured for Leading Man—Company Will Open September 2 in Winston Churchill's "The Crisis"—Other Plays Listed.

Manager George E. Baker of the Baker theatre and the Bakerettes, has returned from his eastern trip, on which he was accompanied by John Sainpolis. According to his announcement made this morning, the coming season at the Baker, which opens Sunday, September 2, will be worthy of attention.

The new leading man selected for the company is Richard Thornton, a well-known eastern theatre player, who has won laurels in abundance. Miss Francis Sloan is the new ingenue. Miss C. Gleason will do grand dames. She is well known to local theatre-goers, being one of the "old guard" of other Baker stock days. Her husband, William Gleason, is also in the company, to play characters, and their son, James Gleason, will be assistant stage director and play minor parts. Francis Arno has been secured to play second woman parts, and John Stepling will do the character comedian work. The stage will be under the direction of Sainpolis, who will also do the villain act.

Added to these are the old favorites and those lifted out of the summer company—Lillian Lawrence, Donald Bowles, William Harris and Howard Russell.

The opening bill will be Winston Churchill's "The Crisis." It will be followed by the Frohman success "Because She Loved Him So." And "Piney Ridge" will probably be the bill for the third week. Rehearsals will begin Saturday morning. Miss Lawrence, who has been playing three weeks at the Globe theatre in Boston and making a record hit, left that city last night for Portland, and will arrive here in time for the first gathering of the company Saturday morning.

To play during the season, Manager Baker has secured a large number of eastern successes. In addition to those mentioned he has secured rights to "The Wilderness," "The Admirable Crichton," "Brother Officers," "Collette," "Lady Huntworth's Experiment," "Liberty Hall," "Pharos," "The Unforeseen," "The Altar of Friendship," "The Henrietta," "Tess," "Mary Magdalene," "The Prodigal Son," "In the Bishop's Carriage," "The Sorceress" and Sara Kendall's hit "The Vinegar Buyer."

In addition to these rights have been secured to produce four Hoyt plays—"The Milk White Flag," "The Black Sheep," "The Contested Woman" and "The Veil of a Sister."

The Baker is now being repaired and painted and everything made ready for the opening of the season.

THIS NO PARTISAN CAMPAIGN

So Says Mr. Roosevelt, Who Urges Voters to Stand by G. O. P.

WOULD BE A SHAME TO BEAT REPUBLICANS

President Begs the People to Throw Partisan Politics to the Wind and Cast Their Ballots for Stand-patism.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Aug. 29.—The president in a letter made public today to Congressman Watson of Indiana, who is about to enter the campaign as speaker for the congressional committee, says he would not take part if only party issues were at stake, but says he feels that all good citizens should appreciate what was done by congress and the necessity for keeping the present body in power.

Mr. Roosevelt says that to change the leadership of congress at the present time will be to bring disaster to the efforts of those who are working out social, industrial and economic problems of vital interest.

The measures passed and the measures proposed, says Mr. Roosevelt, are not of mere party interest, but conserve the interests of the whole people, and that this is not a partisan campaign.

(Journal Special Service.) Gibraltar, Aug. 29.—William J. Bryan and his party left at 2:30 today on the home stretch of a globe-trotting tour that has lasted almost a year, and in the course of which they have visited about 20 different lands and journeyed below the equator and above the arctic circle. Several staterooms on the North German Lloyd liner Princess Irene, sailing for New York today, have been engaged for the party. The steamer is due in New York on the evening of the 29th of the morning of the 29th. Prior to going aboard the distinguished Nebraska received many cable messages from America, all wishing him and his party bon voyage.

LITTLE LAD MAKES TORCH OF HIMSELF

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) St. Louis, Aug. 16.—Trying to imitate the "fire spitting" trick of the circus fakery this afternoon, Johnnie Cottle, 8 years old, while his mother was away, filled his mouth with coal oil, and set it on fire with a match. In a moment he was covered with flames. Mrs. Sarah Peterson, who lives on the ground floor of the same house, wrapped her skirt about him and smothered the blaze. The boy was sent to the hospital. His injuries consist of severe burns about the chest, face and hands, from which pieces of flesh were burned.

INDICTMENTS DRAWN IN REBATE CASES

(Journal Special Service.) Chicago, Aug. 29.—The government attorneys are drawing up indictments which will be returned against the corporations involved in the Standard-railroad cases as soon as they are ready. It is understood the evidence is insufficient to indict the individuals. Immunity, it is said, is promised the railroad officials for testifying.

ISLAND SINKS

(Continued from Page One.) Private messages tend to show that Valparaiso didn't suffer as much as was at first supposed. The heaviest damage is in the eastern section of the city. Shipping is not damaged. The wife of Admiral Monte is badly injured but alive, although she was reported killed. The known dead in Santiago number 20. It is expected that street railway service and street lighting will be restored today. Communication between Santiago and Buenos Ayres has been established.

Eleven Thousand Dead.

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, Aug. 29.—Refugees who fled from Valparaiso give the information that the destruction of the city was complete. They say that at least 11,000 people are dead, and that the first shock was so sudden and heavy that there was no chance to escape from buildings. It is positively stated that the Hotel Italia, one of the best-known in Valparaiso, collapsed, burying all the occupants in the ruins.

ELOPING GIRL IS FORGIVEN BY FOLKS

Mrs. Edward Sehring, formerly Grace Ball, who eloped with and married her father's chauffeur and has now been forgiven by her wealthy parents.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Aug. 18.—Cupid has once more won a victory of parents' ire—and incidentally started one of his favored devotees in the automobile business.

It became known yesterday that Mrs. Edward Sehring, formerly the beautiful Grace Ball, heiress to millions, who eloped with and married her father's chauffeur, has received parental forgiveness. The servant woman Thomas R. Ball, worth $5,000,000, discharged, and who then became a member of the family by marrying the only daughter, has been received with open arms at Water Mill, Long Island, near the Hamptons, where the Ball summer home is situated.

It was at Water Mill that Sehring conducted his wooing. He combined attentions to the autos with attentions to the daughter of the auto's owner, and got himself in rather bad odor with the family. When it was discovered that Miss Ball and the chauffeur had been secretly married one night there was a stir, and the parents of the girl were so incensed that they disowned her. They had tried hard to make her repent and return to them before they took this step.

Then, to alleviate their sorrow, they sought the charms of California. Europe was their goal this summer and fall, but the parental nature conquered, and the daughter was invited to her old home, with her husband.

Mr. Ball, whose town house is at No. 48 West Seventy-second street, learned that his daughter and Sehring were having a hard time getting along, living in a little west side apartment. Now he has made all arrangements for setting up his recognized son-in-law in the automobile business.

JOHN D. IS HIT BY HARRIMAN

Rockefeller is Said to Have Lost on Recent Coup of Big Railroad Magnate.

ALL LOOSE MONEY IS GOING INTO STOCKS

Unless Present Tendency to Speculate Is Checked, Prominent Bankers Predict Shortage of Coin With a Panic in Sight in Financial World.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Aug. 29.—The general public is in the market on a large scale and is committed to the bull side. The Harriman deal causes the prediction that all loose capital will soon be in the stock market, and if the tendency to speculate is not stopped there will be a panic. There was comparatively little trading in Union Pacific and Southern Pacific today. Harriman's coup got them all. It is said that John D. Rockefeller was hit hard by Harriman and doubtless Harriman will yet hear from John. Bankers express the opinion that former stockholders who were induced to sell by Harriman will try to recover in the courts the difference between the price received and the present market price of Southern Pacific.

FAIRBANKS REVIEWS TROOPS AT HARRISON

Seven regiments of infantry, four troops of cavalry, four batteries of artillery and signal and hospital corps participated in the review.

SURPRISE IN PORTLAND.

Railroad Men Hear With Astonishment of Gould's Plans. In Portland the reported taking over of the Corvallis & Eastern and the Astoria & Columbia River railroads by the Western Pacific occasions considerable surprise and not a little incredulity. While no written option of the Corvallis & Eastern is in force, the effect of such an option has existed for some time with a syndicate headed by J. Frank Watson of this city, and it is said A. B. Hammond would not break faith with these people without giving due notice, which has not been given. On the contrary, it is known that Mr. Hammond, who is in Montana, has withdrawn in the last week been notified that the Portland syndicate is ready to take over the road under an agreement on which the matter has rested for some weeks. It is also known that within the last 30 days President Jeffries of the Western Pacific privately made a positive statement that his company would not at the present time take up any proposition involving an Oregon extension, and that he said the Corvallis & Eastern could not be considered by him for at least two years, if at all.

Mr. Hammond's reported statement to the effect that an extension of the Corvallis & Eastern through central Oregon was made in extremely indefinite terms and afterward was virtually denied by him. He did say, however, that the Astoria & Columbia River railroad would be extended from Seaside to Tillamook, and since then has sent a surveying crew into the field to locate a feasible route.
