

OVERLAND TRAIN STOPS THAW'S ARMS MOTHER TO SELL PITTSBURG HOME

Northbound Passenger Held Up at Dunsmuir by a Great Earth Slip.

ALL TRAINS WILL BE DELAYED SIXTY HOURS

Slide Occurs Near Cantara in Canyon - C. E. Loss on the Delayed Train - Company Officials Working to Clear Track.

Southern Pacific overland train No. 16, due in Portland at 7:35 o'clock this morning, is delayed at Dunsmuir, northern California, by one of the most serious landslides in the history of the road. It is said all trains will be held at least 60 hours. The slide occurred some time yesterday at Cantara, a small station north of Dunsmuir.

It is said the cause is traced to springs that flow from the side of the mountain, softening the earth and letting it slide down over the smooth rock formation underneath. The company's operating department has been caused no end of trouble from the same source, and it seems impossible for the maintenance department to remedy it, as the flow of the springs cannot be stopped.

C. E. Loss of the United Railways company, who has the contract for construction of the Drain-Coos bay extension of the Southern Pacific, was en route to Portland and is on the delayed train. On a previous trip to Portland a few weeks ago he was held two days by the burning of tunnel No. 6, 60 miles south of Weed junction.

The scene of the trouble is about 75 miles south of Weed, the junction of the proposed new line of the Southern Pacific via Klamath Falls. It is said the construction of this line will not be held up for several months. The Weed and Sacramento canyon, where the present trouble occurred, this canyon is credited with being the most extensive maintenance division on the Portland-San Francisco route.

MANY AMERICANS STRANDED IN PARIS

London, Aug. 28.—A Russian dispatch to the Express says an unprecedented number of Americans are stranded in Paris because of the Russian revolution and Americans generally are overwhelmed with requests for help. Many are even begging in the streets. None of them speak anything but English, which makes matters worse. The relief society is sending as many as possible to London, including a Texan, his wife and child, who made their living by still walking in England, but were deprived of their stiffs by the French police.

MAYOR RETURNS AND SACKS HIS VILLAGE

Havana, Aug. 28.—The former mayor of Cruces has returned to the village at the head of 100 men, sacked the stores and occupied the town. Marquetier is reported to have entered Cruces with a large band of insurgents. The rebels removed the rails of the Cuban Central railway in the southern part of Santa Clara. The ruffians brought in 17 captives.

ANOTHER UPRISING IN BALTIC PROVINCES

Berlin, Aug. 28.—Another uprising in the Baltic provinces of Russia is predicted and the German residents are fleeing in great numbers, declaring it will be much worse than that of last year. They say the storm is likely to break any day. Preparations for an armed uprising are completed and bloodshed worse than any in the empire is certain. Very few Germans are left in western Russia.

Shipping Points Must All Be Furnished With Schedules Which Cost Money to Print.

(Special Special Service.) Pittsburgh, Aug. 28.—William Thaw, the rapidly aging and devoted father of Harry Thaw, has decided to cut loose from all connection with Pittsburgh, where the Thaw millions were made, and with this purpose in view, Lindhurst, her famous $400,000 residence here, has been offered for sale. The rest of the property owned by Mrs. Thaw will also be sold, the understanding among her friends being that she will only retain her Pennsylvania railroad bonds as souvenirs of Pittsburgh.

NEBRASKAN WELCOMED

(Continued From Page One.) To prevent his going aboard the private yacht of Edward K. Goltra, Thaw was a busy place early for meeting Bryan, said Dahlman, "other than the old-fashioned Nebraska handshake. Let him understand that we're glad to see him back. We'll handle him in a strictly friendly, gentlemanly way for a couple of hours, and then if some yacht wants to take him aboard to rest and talk business, why they can go as far as they like. Nebraska will welcome him first. That's what we came 2,000 miles to do."

Hundreds came to old New York from all sections to attend the reception. Hotels are assuming a lively appearance. Every visitor is bubbling with enthusiasm and admiration for Bryan who got one of the heartiest greetings his followers have ever given him.

The Victoria hotel, the headquarters of the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust League, was a busy place early today. Political managers of the distinguished Nebraska realize that the present is a most critical moment in his career. Billings, Democrat, gold and silver, Socialist, Democrat and all the other kinds are here to "look him over." Tomorrow's reception in honor of "the peerless leader" is sure to develop to some degree the respective attitudes toward him of the several Democratic factions.

It is assumed that after these factions, through their representatives whom they have sent to New York, have seen him and heard his speech in response to the welcome here, they will make up their minds as to whether he shall have their support for another nomination for the presidency. If the Democratic national convention were to be held today Bryan would be named by acclamation. Whether this sentiment possesses a sufficiently strong foundation to stand the strain of the next two years only time can tell.

Democratic delegations who are to participate in the home-coming continued to pour into New York today. The number of visitors already meets the most sanguine expectations of those in charge of the demonstration. The largest delegations appear to have come from Illinois and New Jersey. Other delegations are Maryland, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas. Baltimore will be represented by a party of several hundred, and other southern cities are sending good-sized delegations from Oregon and Washington, smaller delegations are on hand. About the hotels and other public places strangers are to be seen wearing badges indicating that they hail from Kansas, Oklahoma, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa, West Virginia, the Dakotas, Wisconsin, Michigan and almost every other state in the union.

The Democratic club, which last year opened its handsome new home, is acting as host of the occasion. The club is spending $1,000 a day for the entertainment of the visitors. The club members declare they will do the thing up right and proper, no matter what the cost. Open houses in the rule, and the badge of the delegate is all that is necessary to obtain a welcome. There is music and day and night buffet luncheons constantly replenished. Members are always on hand ready to take the stranger in tow and pilot him about the metropolis.

Want Visits From Chief. Among the visitors are numerous committees who are charged with the duty of making arrangements for Mr. Bryan to visit their localities in the near future in order to help out the present campaign. It is likely that nearly all of these will meet with disappointment. Mr. Bryan has promised to visit several points in this vicinity the latter part of this week before starting for his home in Lincoln, where another great demonstration awaits him. Later he will deliver one or more speeches in Missouri, where the Republicans are making a heroic effort to capture the state this fall. When this program has been carried out, Mr. Bryan will seek quiet and rest somewhere away from the crowds. It is but natural that he should desire rest after the globe-trotting tour which came to an end with his arrival in New York today. His journey was begun on September 21 of last year. Since that time he has visited about 30 different lands, in which he has come in personal contact with persons who control the destinies of the world. Among those with whom he has had interviews may be mentioned the emperor of Japan, the emperor of Korea, Admiral Togo, the czar of Russia, Emperor William of Germany, King Edward and numerous others. All the important countries of Asia and Europe were visited, the tour extending both below the equator and above the Arctic circle.

SICKNESS EPIDEMIC STRIKES CENTERVILLE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Centerville, Wash., Aug. 28.—An epidemic of sickness seems to have struck the neighborhood, and two or three deaths have occurred in the last two days. Three residences where diphtheria patients are confined have been quarantined by County Health Officer Bonebrake. The young son of William Wildman died of diphtheria last Saturday, and the eldest of Curtis Smith's boys died yesterday of spinal meningitis.

EFFORTS TO SAVE LIFE PROVED TO BE IN VAIN

Mrs. Edna Scott Was Seated in Tonnesu When Sister in Front Seat Saw Her Take Carboic Acid—Cause Is Unknown.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Edna Scott, while riding in an automobile late yesterday afternoon, committed suicide by drinking carboic acid. She had given no intimation of her intended course. At 3 o'clock she hired an automobile, and taking her sister, Miss Eula Cox, started for Camp Tacoma, riding across the prairie 10 miles south of town.

Miss Cox was riding on the front seat, and as she looked back at her sister was horrified to see her drinking from a bottle labeled "Poison."

Miss Cox instantly dashed the bottle to the ground. Mrs. Scott was driven rapidly to South Tacoma, and medical efforts to save her life failed for a few days. Scott's whereabouts is unknown.

A TRAINING SCHOOL

(Continued From Page One.) Mrs. E. S. Muckley will speak at one of the winter meetings on the subject of "Training Boys and Girls to Intelligent Home-Making and Parenthood," and so has studied the subject with some interest. She presented the thought that such special training might prevent many early marriages.

"If I knew of such a place here I should want to put my two future daughters-in-law into it at once," was the dictum of Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin, superintendent of the Travelers Aid work, a woman who has probably come in close connection with untrained and ignorant girlhood than any other woman in town. "The time has come when the American home is imperial, and I would rather marry my son to a well-trained girl from the kitchen than to a stenographer. A poorly kept home is the source of so much trouble and sorrow and I have surely seen enough of it to know. I feel that nothing but making of home a profession will save the standard. Special training for housework will raise it above the standard of servants' work, and the home is the most important thing in the world. In college, girls are given courses in life, but who ever heard of their taking a course in baby life, yet that is more important to them. And if they were given how to manage and treat their own servants and a great part of the domestic problem would be solved. A woman who has to do her own housework for a few months is usually kinder to her maids and will give them the time of their desire and remember that the adjustment of the estate and they do not know whether a will was left by the mine owner or not. They say that he is supposed to have died without knowledge of his relatives in other parts of the world and consequently think that it will be some time before a distribution of the estate can be made.

While both women are happy over the contemplation of falling heir to so much property, they said today that they were not spending it in advance. Mrs. Borquist is the wife of C. B. Borquist of Borquist Bros., manufacturers of loggers' and wood cutters' tools, 303 Flanders street.

The Swedish Steel company at Lancaster was the next to close, but, like the sugar refinery here, it was never operated, for some unknown reason. In his last deal Segal is said to have lost money. He purchased the former Washington street plant for about two years ago, and converted it into the Majestic hotel, a palatial apartment house, but it failed to pay. The cost of improving and enlarging the Elkins home so as to answer the purpose of the promoter is said to have been fully $1,000,000.

RECEIVER EARLE GAVE BOND OF $1,000,000 THIS AFTERNOON AS RECEIVER OF THE REAL ESTATE TRUST COMPANY, AND THE COURT APPROVED IT.

The Real Estate Trust company of Philadelphia has been unimpaired by the state bank examiners for about two years. Thirteen examiners look after 1,650 institutions, and evidently thought they were too busy to give attention to the concern that failed yesterday.

Receiver Earle gave bond of $1,000,000 this afternoon as receiver of the Real Estate Trust company, and the court approved it. The bankers deny the rumor that the bank was a dummy. Converse says the Presbyterian securities are intact, except $4,000 carried as an active account.

MANUFACTURERS' OUTLET Novel Method Adopted by Some Leading Eastern Manufacturers to Dispose of the Surplus Output of Their Factories.

A new enterprise has been started in Portland by a company whose business it will be to dispose of at retail the surplus stock accumulated by a number of eastern manufacturers of men's and women's wearing apparel. During the four months of the year when goods are slow moving it is usually very quiet on account of holidays and vacation time and various other reasons, many factories are closed down and the workers are left to shift for themselves until the opening of the next season. When the factories open up again with the revival of business, many employers find that some of the best help they had have found other fields of labor or other employers, with the result that the surplus stock is piled up in their methods of manufacture and ways of doing business.

To avoid this trouble and annoyance 13 of the largest manufacturers of wearing apparel for men, women and children have combined their interests and formed a company with the intention to keep their men at work all the year round and dispose of the surplus stock which accumulates at the bare cost of the goods. For example, one of their prestige among the trade supplied by them in the east they have devised the plan to forward all these goods to Portland and dispose of them as advantageously as possible. A competent staff of salespeople has been engaged to dispose of the various lines of merchandise shipped in from the different factories.

The Manufacturers' Outlet in Portland is to dispose of the goods. No matter what prices retailers usually get for their goods, they will be sold upon the judgment of the person buying the goods. For example, one of the best-known and largest manufacturers of men's suits has an overplus of stock to the extent of $30,000, representing a complete line of men's ready tailored suits. This manufacturer makes suits to retail at $25 only. The materials and findings cost exactly $24, and the suits have been marked to sell at this price. All the suits are in good condition, but this loss is more than offset by the advantage he derives from keeping his force of tailors intact and turning into money stock that he might be obliged to carry over for another season. The fact that this accumulation amounts to $43,000, in round figures, and it is hoped that this can be disposed of within 10 days.

If prices and quality of material and fine workmanship are factors in the buying of this line of goods, they certainly will not last long. The Outlet company will throw the doors open on this select lot of wearing apparel at 9 o'clock Friday morning, August 31, and will continue to sell until every article is disposed of. A celebrated New York clothing manufacturer, we cannot mention the name, but you will find some of the labels on the clothes, has sent to the Outlet company 2,500 suits. One of Troy's largest shirt manufacturers has sent in about 800 dozen men's shirts, golf, negligee, black sateen and working shirts. One of Chicago's greatest necktie houses has forwarded goods for disposal in the amount of $100,000 worth of every description. Philadelphia's most noted underwear and hosiery manufacturer has sent to the Outlet company 950 dozen men's undershirt, 3,000 dozen men's hose, 500 dozen men's sweaters, a celebrated Philadelphia pants maker has sent for disposal 500 dozen men's trousers from the cheapest to the highest grades. Several women's tailoring establishments have forwarded goods for disposal but have not yet found time to open them up. See Thursday's daily papers for complete list of merchandise which will be on sale Friday morning, August 31, at Grand avenue and East Washington street. The goods will be transferred to the door. No goods sold before 9 a. m. Friday morning.

Mrs. Wetland and Mrs. Borquist are sisters and are co-wives of Dahlstrom, the latter's father being a brother of the mother of the Portland heiress. Neither woman knows much about the adjustment of the estate and they do not know whether a will was left by the mine owner or not. They say that he is supposed to have died without knowledge of his relatives in other parts of the world and consequently think that it will be some time before a distribution of the estate can be made.

YOUTHFUL PARICIDE

(Continued From Page One.) Lloyd, aged 15 years, now that she is the sole guardian. On arriving at her house, her first act was to request to be taken to her room. Being told she could not, and that the room was sealed up in advance, why it should be sealed, when the body had been found already. She asked why Sydney was not there. She was told that he was being held as a witness. Finally she was told that Sydney was suspected of the murder by circumstantial evidence. All newspapers were refused her. She will be told that Sydney has confessed to the crime today.

The authorities first suspected the boy's guilt when he was taken to view the remains of his father and knelt at his feet, covered his face and seemed to be sobbing. When addressed by the officer, he quickly raised his head. His eyes were dry. The officer wondered what he had to conceal by feigning sadness. At the station he denied for a time and finally told of the deed in detail.
