

EXHIBIT SPACE IS IN DEMAND

State Fair Buildings Are Already Crowded Although Greatly Enlarged This Year.

LIVESTOCK BREEDERS TAKING GREAT INTEREST

Opportunity to Buy From Best Herds Will Create Activity Among the Purchasers of Fine Stock and Many Deals Are Expected.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Sept. 1.—Even with the additional buildings that the management of the Oregon state board of agriculture have provided to accommodate the increased entry list in the livestock departments it is now beginning to look as if there would be insufficient stall space for the exhibit of such stock at the coming fair.

There has never been as much interest manifested by the breeders of livestock at any previous fair. Exhibitors are very anxious to display their breeds, as comparison is the only means of learning their value.

There will be an opportunity to buy from the best herds and flocks of the entire Pacific coast. This being the proper season for the purchase of breeding animals, there will no doubt be much activity among purchasers.

The poultry department has outgrown the building which was erected for it a few years ago and the superintendent, Frank Lee, of Portland, has a serious problem at hand in providing space necessary to accommodate the patrons of this department.

In the machinery section space is at a premium and among the exhibitors this year will be found new firms, also a fine display of modern appliances for agricultural interests.

Notwithstanding the increase of space by the additions to the main pavilion, this section of the fair has already been taken and there is a demand for space which the board cannot satisfy.

The various departments of the pavilion will be filled to overflowing by entries made to be exhibited therein.

The floral section has been increased and a fountain erected therein and the space will be lighted and will be a place of beauty.

Amusement and evening entertainment will be well supplied and many new and novel features will be found there.

Race-loving people will find the greatest number as well as the fleetest of horses ever assembled at one point on the Pacific coast, and records will be made and previous records broken.

The Oregon state fair opens September 10, continuing six days.

GIRL HELPED HER FATHER TO CIRCULATE COUNTERFEIT COIN

Miss Laura Aumack.

(Herald News Service.) New York, Sept. 1.—Confessions made by Charles Aumack and his alleged wife, arrested as counterfeiters at Greenville, New Jersey, have unfolded an amazing story of the operations of a family of coiners.

The paraphernalia which had been used by the Aumack family for making hundreds of bogus half dollars and quarters was found buried in the underbrush near Linden avenue, 100 yards from the Aumack domicile, No. 1112 Boulevard.

The police and secret service men were led to the clump of bushes by 3-year-old Arthur Aumack, son of the prisoner, who had watched his father hide the articles late on Saturday night.

As a result, the chief of the band was arrested at his home, while the woman who calls herself Mrs. Aumack was captured in Brooklyn and locked up in the Ralph avenue police station.

The 14-year-old daughter of Aumack, Laura, was not arrested, although she had often passed bad money, but is being kept under surveillance. She will be an important witness against her parents.

Developments in the case revealed two domestic tragedies. The police say that just about the time Aumack performed his counterfeiting scheme two happy homes were wrecked and that Aumack and his present alleged wife were responsible. The termination in one instance was divorce, and in the other suicide.

Because of the affection that had sprung up between Aumack and his present alleged wife, Aumack, in a fit of jealousy, drank carbolic acid and died.

For the same reason, a respectable resident of Jersey City, secured a divorce. Aumack, according to his own admissions, learned the trick of counterfeiting from William Brockway, the notorious counterfeiter who was liberated from the New Jersey state prison at Trenton two years ago after having served a 10-year sentence.

FACTS IN NATURE

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid bowels, a course with bitter tonic in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will cause Nature to begin to put on their feet and put the body into its proper condition.

It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered a new candidate for extraction and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvellously efficient in curing cases of blood disorders and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic or lingering ailments.

This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood, thereby curing the stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, the point to derange is your stomach, liver and kidneys which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent.

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. Remember you are not buying a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Second Madame Humbert Arrested in Naples. Represented That She Had Large Inheritance and Secured Much Money.

(Journal Special Service.) Trieste, Sept. 1.—A second Madame Humbert has been arrested at Naples with a companion who is a Dominican friar. Last June two stylish women arrived here, giving their names as Countess Antonella and Marchesa Venus Rampolla. The latter asserted that she was a niece of Cardinal Rampolla.

The marchesa on the strength of her statement that the late marquis had left her sole heir, but relatives were disputing the will and had brought a lawsuit against her, obtained large sums of money from leading men and women in Rome, Florence and other social centers in order to fight the lawsuit.

Countess Antonella is a bona fide member of Roman aristocracy, and it was not suspected that the marchesa was another Humbert in disguise until the cardinal's alleged niece was arrested.

Iron Chest Guarded by Four Skeletons. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Victoria, B. C., Sept. 1.—The government steamer Quadra has returned from the west coast of Vancouver island and brings additional news relative to the skeletons and four skeletons of victims of the Valencia disaster in a cave.

The cave in which the bodies were supposed to be is about 200 yards from the Valencia wreck.

Daykin, who got the story from the Indians, was unable to enter it but entered several other caves of a similar character which had large quantities of wreckage, including a life raft. The Indians say that the cave where the skeletons are is dark and that in addition to the skeletons and the boat is a large iron chest. Steps will have to be taken to fully investigate the matter.

Daykin reports that all kinds of wreckage is in the caves he visited.

MOODY WOULD CARRY ON WAR AGAINST THE TRUSTS

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, Sept. 1.—From time to time there has been a suspicion in the minds of some of the shrewdest politicians here that before the presidential game was played to a finish the president's cabinet would furnish a new candidate for the nomination in 1904.

The man looked upon as likely to enter was Hon. William H. Moody, attorney-general and trust-buster-in-chief to the administration. It was generally expected that Moody would be brilliantly successful in his prosecution of Standard Oil and other monopolies he would stand high enough with the people to have a large following in the Republican party.

Moody has been looked upon as the nearest to a reproduction of his militant chief. Indeed, in build and general style in the squareness of his jaws and the aggressiveness of his bearing he might well be called a great-grandson of the red-headed brother.

Moody would retire. But it appears that one thing will be in the way of that project, and that is Mr. Moody himself. With that stubborn perversity for which he has some reputation he has decided to retire from public life.
