AUTOHIGHWAYMEN RARE CURIO THEFT ARE ARRAIGNED HID BY FIRE

Bernard and Hall Announce to Court That They Are Not Ready to Enter Plea.

FORMER ASKS FOR ATTORNEY'S SERVICES

Judge Will Appoint Man to Defend Him—Authorities Believe Hall Will Confess Crime and Throw Himself on the Mercy of the Court.

Tim Bernard and Jess Hall, accused of holding up Charles Robertson and R. L. Outley in an automobile on the Linnton road Friday night, were arraigned before Judge Sears in the circuit court this morning.

Neither of the alleged robbers was ready to plead this morning. Bernard said he had no means to employ a lawyer.

Jess Hall, One of the Automobile Bandits.

per to defend him, but wanted counsel and asked the court to appoint one. Hall said he did not know whether he wanted an attorney or not. He wanted to make an explanation, but Judge Sears said he had not time then to listen to him.

Judge Sears will appoint an attorney for Bernard this afternoon, and also one for Hall should he decide that he wants one. The accused hold-up men are reported to have made a full confession of the robbery to the police and it is thought that Hall will plead guilty and endeavor to explain to the judge the circumstances that led up to the robbery and throw himself on the mercy of the court.

Two informations were filed against each of the men by Deputy District Attorney H. B. Adams. The first information charges them with assaulting and robbing Charles Robertson and the second charges the same crime on R. L. Outley. Robertson and Outley were in the automobile together with two women when they were held up.

It is believed that both men have original records, the police having found photographs from the rogues' gallery that they believe Bernard and Hall are the originals of. Neither of the men admit having been in prison before. They are being held in the county jail.

MOLYBDENITE LEDGE FOUND AT GRANTS PASS

First Discovery of Rare and Valuable Ore Accidentally Made Almost in City's Limits.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., Sept. 17.—A discovery of considerable worth and remarkable interest has just been made on a mine prospect almost within the city limits of Grants Pass. The discovery consists of the bringing to light of an eight-foot ledge of molybdenite, the ore from which the rare metal, molybdenum, is secured. Samples of quartz from the prospect were shown here yesterday and comparisons were made between this ore and samples of the same character from the celebrated mines of Argentine Republic and England that are on display here. The character and general composition of the two are identical.

The big ledge will be developed, and should it prove permanent, will become of immense importance to the mining industry of this locality. Molybdenum is very rare and so far as known this is the first discovery of the metal ever made in Oregon. The metal is a silver-white in color, has juster much like silver, but it is far harder than silver with difficulty and possesses a specific gravity of 5.5.

Because of the close resemblance of molybdenite, the ore of molybdenum, to graphite, the two are often confused, and it was believed for a time that the present discovery was graphite, but its identity has been positively established. The metal is used and much sought as a hardener for steel used in manufacturing the best steel blades, instruments and tools.

ENGINEERS FIND ROGUE RIVER NOT NAVIGABLE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., Sept. 17.—It has been determined by competent engineers, who were employed by the Grants Pass Commercial club, that Rogue river, between Grants Pass and the point of its confluence with the Willamette, is not navigable, even with flatboats or barges. The investigation was made in the hope that some means might be used to employ the river in transporting heavy machinery from here to the mines of the lower Rogue district, thus obviating the expensive and tedious method of carrying the ponderous equipment over the mountains from West Fork by pack pony.

WHILE SEARCHING TRAMPS OFFICER WAS ATTACKED

After Being Shot Chief Flannery Used His Revolver and Killed His Assault—Two of the Gang Terrorizing Women Captured.

(Journal Special Service.)
Helena, Mont., Sept. 17.—T. P. Purdue, a painter, en route from his home in Kansas City, Missouri, to California, is dead, and Chief of Police Jack Flannery of this city, the well-known ex-baseball player, is suffering from a bullet wound in the right leg as the result of a duel in the Great Northern yards of this city.

The police were notified that tramps were terrorizing women in the west side residence district and an officer was sent to investigate. He did not return and Flannery decided to make a personal investigation. He came upon five men in the railroad yards and started to search them, when Purdue opened fire. Chief Flannery returned the fire, and both emptied their revolvers.

Four of Flannery's bullets were effective, and Purdue died immediately. Two of his associates were captured but the others escaped.

MORMONS AND DOWNETTES IN STREET RIOT

Bloody Battle on Streets of Zion City in Which Two Are Severely Injured.

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, Ill., Sept. 17.—A bloody riot occurred yesterday afternoon on the streets of Zion City between Mormons and Downettes. Mormon missionaries, who have been in Zion City for some time, attempted to conduct meetings on the streets of the city when they were attacked by the residents of the city.

They resented the attack and in a few minutes a riot was in progress, in which fists and any missile at hand were used. The battle continued for quite a while, when a corps of Zion City guards appeared on the scene and suppressed the disturbance. Elders Christianson and Elliott of the Mormons were severely injured.

SPOKANE PLANS FOR NIGHT HIGH SCHOOL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Spokane, Wash., Sept. 17.—It is now planned to organize a night school in connection with the high school. Principal David E. Cloyd has worked out the features of the new institution and will ask the board of education to sanction the formation of the school. The first of this kind in the city is to hold classes from 7 to 9 o'clock five nights in the week, the work being under the supervision of the board of education and the superintendent. The course of study will be the same as in the high school. Students will be able to make up studies or to complete the course and graduate from the night high school the same as from the day school.

BRILLIANT COLORS.

The pastel shades are passe and the brilliant colors will be worn at home, on the street and for evening. Only the brightest shades are called for and emerald green is the favorite with purples and reds next. Not only will the gown be striking in color but the shoes and gloves must match the gown or else be in brilliant contrast. Flame-colored party gowns will be much favored and only the highest colored jewelry will be worn. Deep red corals, pigeon-blood rubies, garnets and emeralds are being sold. Low shoes to match the gowns will have bows of satin of the same shade.

School Dresses.

This is the first day of school and mothers are again confronted with the subject of school frocks. The ideal frock is one that combines daintiness with durability. The clothes children wear, especially little girls, affect their disposition and happiness. Do not buy dark dismal-looking school clothes; they are the foe of light and cheerfulness in the schoolroom. By bright clothes I do not necessarily mean expensive and perishable ones—nothing would be so out of place—but buy bright colors, or at least bright trimmings, and let little girls wear the white em-

A New Use for Bracelets.

The box will be fastened with a bracelet, is an edict of fashion. Women are searching their jewel cases, or more probably the jeweler's case, for bracelets suitable for fastening the box. Of course the bracelet used must be light enough to be held in place by the material of the box.
