

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING FUND PASSES EIGHTY THOUSAND

Solicitors Bring in More Than Seven Thousand Dollars Today.

HAND ON BIG DIAL CONTINUES TO MOVE

Men and Women Workers Are Busy and Enthusiastic as Honey Bees and Everybody is Determined to Compel an Early Victory.

Amount reported today	7,385
Previously reported	71,155
Total to date	$78,540
Amount to be collected	$150,000

The hand on the big dial at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters was sent forward another notch today. As a result of the efforts of the committees, $7,385 was reported at the noon meeting. One subscription was for $5,000 and was made by Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilcox. Another large donation was made by J. C. Alameda for $1,000. The remainder of the money was brought in by members, and ranged in amounts from $5 to $500. The business women's committee reported $100. The young men's committee $150.

To one who has watched the progress of the campaign thus far there seems to be no doubt that the venture will succeed and that a new home will be secured for the associations. The organization is forming so gradually that to the casual observer it seems that little has been done, but as the days go by, each member grows more and more into the work and the fruits of his effort become more apparent. The committees have only begun to settle down to the work, but the manner in which they are going about it assures ultimate success.

Woman Play Important Part.
The part the women are playing in the campaign is proving to be one of the greater moves in the crusade. They have proven invaluable to the central organization and the manner in which they go about their work has been a source of inspiration to many of the men. Timidity has been a great drawback with the latter, and when this trait has been removed many of the members now doing practically nothing will come to the fore. Between the women and the men, the campaign is being carried on with a vigor and enthusiasm that is inspiring to all.

Predict an Easy Victory.
All the committees and women feel gratified at the work done thus far and predict an easy victory in the campaign for a new dual association home.

FINED FOR SELLING BEER TO BAD GIRLS

"Mysterious" Billy Smith, proprietor of the Atlantic cafe on Third street, was fined $15 in the municipal court this morning on a charge of selling liquor to minors. Christina Baxter and Anna Blackman, two 15-year-old girls, were arrested as they were coming from the cafe and informed the officers that they had been given liquor there on several occasions. Smith was attending the fair at Salem during the time the offenses were committed and one of his bartenders, named Fred E. Wilson, was charged with furnishing the liquor to the girls. Smith, after colluding with the Salem police and having his "pocket picked" at the fair, returned to this city to be arrested on the charges on which he was fined this morning. The Baxter girls signed a stipulation this morning before Judge Cameron to the effect that if she is caught in a saloon again or arrested on any charge, the punishment is to be 60 days in the city jail.

OFFERED BAD CHECK FOR WEDDING FEE

Fred E. Wilson, alias Walter McDermott, was arrested by Detectives Mears and Jones at 557 Hood street this morning charged with obtaining money by false pretenses. It is alleged that Wilson passed a spurious check for $100 drawn on the Security Savings & Trust company of this city and purporting to have been signed by J. R. Downes, on Otto Nelson, a Hood street saloonman.

Wilson has been learned that Wilson was arrested in Vancouver, Washington, for passing a bogus check, and was tried on a charge of forgery, but the jury disagreed in connection with this case and the features have come to Helena. Wilson shortly before his arrest in the Washington city decided to take a wife. After securing the license he sought out the justice of the peace and was duly united in matrimony to the woman of his choice.

After the ceremony it is alleged that he tendered the worthless check in payment of the fee, but the magistrate was wary and refused to accept anything but coin of the realm. It is said that Wilson afterward passed the check on an unsuspecting Vancouver saloonkeeper and was subsequently arrested.

GRAND OFFICERS NAMED BY MONTANA MASONS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Helena, Mont., Sept. 29.—The Grand lodge of Masons in annual session here today elected the following officers: A. C. McDonald, Kallispell, grand master; C. H. Nolan of Helena, senior grand warden; E. Carroll of Butte, junior grand warden; Constantine Hedges of Helena, secretary, and H. M. Padden of Helena, treasurer. The grand lodge will probably meet next year in Butte.

Work on Celilo Canal.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) The Dalles, Ore., Sept. 29.—Work on the Dalles-Celilo canal was resumed yesterday. This was delayed on account of the high stage of water, but will be pushed now with vigor. The contractors, Smith Jones and company, have until January 1, 1907, to complete their portion of the work.

The section of the canal they undertook to construct is about one half mile in length and will involve an outlay of $284,000.

UNSATISFACTORY SHEDS MAY BE ERECTED

Building Law Will Probably Be Changed to Prevent Future Construction.

The council will soon be asked to change the building ordinance under which it is permissible to erect such a structure as the "shed" that is going up on the Kamm property at Fifth and Madison streets, directly opposite the city hall.

A large billboard surrounds the corner. Back of this is being built a so-called shed. The law permits the erection within the fire limits of a frame building if the billboard remains where it is. This shed will have three sides, yet Building Inspector Spencer could do nothing but issue a permit for its erection.

It is in part due to the wording of this ordinance that the trouble between the building inspector and Freedman Brock over the building at Twelfth and Everett streets has arisen. Here, however, the inspector has been able to force the arrest of the owners. With the Fifth and Madison streets structure the owners are safe as long as the law remains unchanged.

MONEY NEEDED TO BUY RIGHT OF WAY

W. C. King of Tillamook is trying to raise a bonus subscription here to raise the people of Tillamook county to buy a right of way for the Pacific Railway Navigation company railroad that is being built under the direction of E. E. Lytle from the Southern Pacific at Hillsboro to Tillamook bay, via the Nehalem river. It is said there are nearly 50 miles to run through timber, and the timber owners are unwilling to give rights of way. Mr. King said:

"The timber owners, while admitting that the proposed railroad would benefit their holdings, are unwilling to give rights of way. They are unwilling to give the timber on the 100-foot strip that would have to be cleared. The railroad company requires that the rights of way shall be given to it free of charge. The amount of money necessary is greater than the Tillamook people can raise unaided."

POLICE THINK THESE ARE VERY BAD MEN

By the arrest last night of Ralph Thompson and Ralph Ellis by Detective John E. Price, the police believe that two clever sneak thieves who have been operating throughout the city are at last in the law's toils. Price has had the two men under surveillance for some time and last night found them acting in a suspicious manner in the halls of a downtown lodging-house. He took the young men into custody and on the way to the station Thompson tried to escape, but was prevented by the vigilance of the detective.

The police assert that a full set of burglar tools were found on Thompson, and Captain Bruin has ordered the men held pending a further investigation.

COAL CASE PRODUCES STARTLING TESTIMONY

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 29.—At the resumption of the hearing before Commissioner Drouy today regarding the coal operations in the Pacific railroad, D. O. Clark, general manager of the Union Pacific coal company, testified that Cornish, vice-president of the Union Pacific, directed that government lands should be secured.

He said that no independent company could get trackage to the Union Pacific line through Horsethief canyon, as the allied company owned the connecting line. Clark also testified that the lands were acquired in violation of the homestead laws.

Investigations are being made as to the cause and remedy. The possibility of making a new canal, which would carry water that flows down the foothills into the Spokane river is being considered. It is thought that it may be feasible to tap that vein and pump all the water for city use from it.

GRAND DUKE GEORGE FORTY YEARS ON THRONE

Berlin, Sept. 29.—Grand Duke George II of Saxe-Meiningen, who observed his eightieth birthday today, today celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his accession to the throne of Saxe-Meiningen. The old duke is one of the most popular among German sovereigns. He is celebrated, as a patriot, a statesman and a soldier. He broke with his father, the then reigning duke, in 1866, when Prussia went to war with Austria, his father abdicating the throne in order to side with Austria. George II then became reigning duke and was made a lieutenant-general in the German army.

Duke George has been married three times, his third wife being the actress, Helene Lange, who, after her marriage to the duke, received the title of Baroness Heldburg. His son by his first marriage, the hereditary Prince Bernard of Saxe-Meiningen, is married to Princess Charlotte of Prussia, a sister of Emperor William.

EUGENE ENTERTAINS MANY INSTRUCTORS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Ore., Sept. 29.—The annual Lane County Teachers' institute is being held today, the sessions having commenced yesterday and will end Friday night. There is a large attendance, over 200 teachers enrolling the first day.

Professor W. G. Hartrant of San Francisco is the principal speaker, and other guests are: Dr. H. D. Sheldon of the University of Oregon; Professor W. W. Dixon, Professor M. H. Arnold, superintendent of Eugene's public schools, and Professor H. C. Hanson of the Washington Agricultural college. Congressman-elect W. C. Hawley of Salem will deliver an address Friday afternoon and one in the evening at the Baptist church.

FIVE BUILDINGS BURNED IN FIRE AT ABERDEEN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Aberdeen, Wash., Sept. 29.—Fire started at 3 a. m. today in the rear of the Peoples store, the buildings having come the frame buildings are close together. The fire gained great headway before being discovered. Three buildings were destroyed and two others badly damaged before the flames were controlled. No one was hurt. The loss is about $10,000, with small insurance.

HENEY AS ARBITER OF CARMEN'S TROUBLES

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Sept. 29.—The United Railroads today announced the selection of Francis J. Heney, government prosecutor in the land fraud trials, as the representative of the company on the arbitration board of three which is to adjust the dispute between the company and its employees on wages and hours.

Rev. Father York will represent the carmen. These two will select a third arbitrator.

Building Permits.
The following permits have been issued: J. H. Green, one-story dwelling, Kirby near Nebraska, cost $1,000; Giuseppe Chirromoni, East Sixteenth between Zaggart and Ellsworth, cost $150.

DEATH RELEASES SAFE GARFARRE AND GEORGE WOOD MARRIAGE LICENSE BY MAIL

Because Multnomah county never issued a marriage license by mail before last Tuesday our authorities are behind the times and ought to wake up, says A. C. Buck, the enterprising Hood River notary public, who secured a marriage license by mail from the county clerk the other day.

Accorded to the people of this county should be appreciated of the advantage of applying for wedding permits by mail. Though Portland has boasted of her enterprising in this respect, it has never occurred to any citizen that a marriage license could be obtained except by going to the court house after it, and it has been left to

HOOD RIVER TO TELL US ANOTHER WAY OF SAVING TIME AND CAR FARE.

"There is nothing unusual in getting a marriage license by mail," says Buck. "I am very much surprised to learn through The Journal that my application for one by that means was the first ever received at Portland. I have frequently obtained licenses in this way from other cities. The authorities at Hood River ought to wake up for I think they are behind the times."

But County Clerk Frank Fields brazenly admits that never before was a marriage license sent out from his office by mail, even though the practice may be general in other places.

ONE OF PORTLAND'S RICHEST CHINESE DIES AT THE OPEN AIR SANITARIUM.

Lee Jung is dead. With the beating of tom-toms, the burning of incense and the weird incantations of fantastically garbed priests, the last rites for one of the wealthiest and most respected Chinese residents of this city were performed this afternoon. Jung died at the Open-Air sanitarium Monday after a lengthy illness, which the physicians pronounced tuberculosis. His body was placed in the Chinese cemetery until such time as it will be shipped to a Chinese of his class attending the obsequies, and the funeral cortege was in front of Lee's late residence, on the near north side of Jung and locally constructed canopy. A crowd was attracted by the unusual spectacle, and Patrolmen Hart and Riley were detailed to preserve order. A large number of Chinese of all classes attended the obsequies, and the funeral cortege was one of the longest seen here in years. Brown's military band played weird music, and six horses with waving plumes drew the hearse.

Lee Jung was 58 years old, and a widow and nine children survive him. Coming to this country 30 years ago, he began life in his adopted country as a laborer and in time he had accumulated a considerable fortune. Over 15 years ago he leased the property at Pine and Fourth streets from Captain R. B. Thompson and settled it to a number of Japanese and his own countrymen. It is estimated that the lease netted him nearly $500 a month. The buildings were destroyed by fire several years ago, and Lee and his children, who occupied the old Thompson homestead adjoining, were compelled to flee from the flames.

WASHERS EXCHANGED FOR LAWFUL MONEY

By working an old confidence game two bunco steers obtained $1,470 from Greek Giuseppe, an old Italian, who had saved the money from the earnings of a vegetable garden. Learning that Giuseppe had the money on deposit with the Title Guarantees & Trust company, the two bunco men assumed the guise of Italian market gardeners and made the acquaintance of Giuseppe at his garden near Milwaukie.

By making him believe the bank "there" he had his money was in an unsafe condition they persuaded Giuseppe to withdraw it. After the money was secured Giuseppe was taken to the Chamber of Commerce building by his supposed friends for the alleged purpose of placing the money in a fire-proof safe deposit vault.

One of the men engaged Giuseppe in conversation at the door while the other took the box containing the money inside to put it in the vault. Securing a vault in the name of Antonio Brod, he put in it a bag full of iron washers and placed the old gardener's money in his pocket.

They returned to the street and gave the key to Giuseppe, who did not return to look at his money until yesterday. Instead of the savings of a lifetime he found the bag full of iron washers. Immediately through the Chamber of Commerce he reported the loss and the police were notified.

IMPURE WATER CAUSES TYPHOID AT SPOKANE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Sept. 29.—Billed water will soon be the favorite beverage of Spokane citizens if the advice of Health Officer Genoway is heeded. There is an alarming increase in typhoid cases in the city, present and he declares the fever is due to impure water. Sixty-four cases were reported to the health office last week. Out of these 50 cases were traced from outside the city for treatment here.

The season of low water invariably brings an increased number of typhoid cases, but the number this year is great, and before for a number of years. Physicians declare that the sewage from Couer d'Alene and intermediate points is the cause of the present outbreak.

Investigations are being made as to the cause and remedy. The possibility of making a new canal, which would carry water that flows down the foothills into the Spokane river is being considered. It is thought that it may be feasible to tap that vein and pump all the water for city use from it.

TOURIST TRAVEL HEAVY FROM EASTERN POINTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Ore., Sept. 29.—All trains from the east are crowded with tourists and home-seekers taking advantage of the reduced rates to the west. Some of the trains passing through here are so crowded that people are compelled to stand in the aisles. There are many through passengers going direct to the coast and Puget sound, but many of them stop in eastern Oregon and Washington points.

REBELS SEIZE VESSEL AND RIFLE THE MAIL

(Journal Special Service.) Havana, Sept. 29.—Rebels held up the steamer Relek seized the official correspondence, all the registered mail, and searched the vessel.

Guerra with 3,000 men, stopped the steamer at Canadaria, where he will await the results of the peace talk.

TEN THOUSAND TROOPS READY FOR CUBA

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, Sept. 29.—The government has prepared to throw 10,000 troops into Cuba upon short notice. General Funston cannot catch a steamer from Tampa until Sunday and will remain here until Saturday.

MRS. BRYAN WELCOMED BY GEORGIA WOMEN

(Journal Special Service.) Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 29.—Mrs. William Jennings Bryan arrived here today. She was given a reception at the hotel this afternoon by the ladies of Atlanta. Several hundred persons were present.

ARENAL GETS ORDERS TO RUSH AMMUNITION

(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—The arsenal here has received rush orders for great quantities of heavy ammunition. The order also includes 300 saddle packs for mules in carrying mountain guns.

WOODRUFF NAMED IN NUTMEG STATE

(Journal Special Service.) New Haven, Conn., Sept. 29.—The Republicans today nominated Rollin Woodruff for governor and adopted a platform which indorsed President Roosevelt.

Pennsylvania Women.
(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—The following have been nominated for congress: First district, General R. H. Bingham; Second district, John E. Hayburn; Third district, J. Hampton Moore; Fourth district, Reuben O. Meach; Fifth district, W. W. Fouquier; Sixth district, George D. McCrath, all Republicans.

SAFE GARFARRE AND GEORGE WOOD MARRIAGE LICENSE BY MAIL

Because Multnomah county never issued a marriage license by mail before last Tuesday our authorities are behind the times and ought to wake up, says A. C. Buck, the enterprising Hood River notary public, who secured a marriage license by mail from the county clerk the other day.

Accorded to the people of this county should be appreciated of the advantage of applying for wedding permits by mail. Though Portland has boasted of her enterprising in this respect, it has never occurred to any citizen that a marriage license could be obtained except by going to the court house after it, and it has been left to

HOOD RIVER TO TELL US ANOTHER WAY OF SAVING TIME AND CAR FARE.

"There is nothing unusual in getting a marriage license by mail," says Buck. "I am very much surprised to learn through The Journal that my application for one by that means was the first ever received at Portland. I have frequently obtained licenses in this way from other cities. The authorities at Hood River ought to wake up for I think they are behind the times."

But County Clerk Frank Fields brazenly admits that never before was a marriage license sent out from his office by mail, even though the practice may be general in other places.

ONE OF PORTLAND'S RICHEST CHINESE DIES AT THE OPEN AIR SANITARIUM.

Lee Jung is dead. With the beating of tom-toms, the burning of incense and the weird incantations of fantastically garbed priests, the last rites for one of the wealthiest and most respected Chinese residents of this city were performed this afternoon. Jung died at the Open-Air sanitarium Monday after a lengthy illness, which the physicians pronounced tuberculosis. His body was placed in the Chinese cemetery until such time as it will be shipped to a Chinese of his class attending the obsequies, and the funeral cortege was in front of Lee's late residence, on the near north side of Jung and locally constructed canopy. A crowd was attracted by the unusual spectacle, and Patrolmen Hart and Riley were detailed to preserve order. A large number of Chinese of all classes attended the obsequies, and the funeral cortege was one of the longest seen here in years. Brown's military band played weird music, and six horses with waving plumes drew the hearse.

Lee Jung was 58 years old, and a widow and nine children survive him. Coming to this country 30 years ago, he began life in his adopted country as a laborer and in time he had accumulated a considerable fortune. Over 15 years ago he leased the property at Pine and Fourth streets from Captain R. B. Thompson and settled it to a number of Japanese and his own countrymen. It is estimated that the lease netted him nearly $500 a month. The buildings were destroyed by fire several years ago, and Lee and his children, who occupied the old Thompson homestead adjoining, were compelled to flee from the flames.

WASHERS EXCHANGED FOR LAWFUL MONEY

By working an old confidence game two bunco steers obtained $1,470 from Greek Giuseppe, an old Italian, who had saved the money from the earnings of a vegetable garden. Learning that Giuseppe had the money on deposit with the Title Guarantees & Trust company, the two bunco men assumed the guise of Italian market gardeners and made the acquaintance of Giuseppe at his garden near Milwaukie.

By making him believe the bank "there" he had his money was in an unsafe condition they persuaded Giuseppe to withdraw it. After the money was secured Giuseppe was taken to the Chamber of Commerce building by his supposed friends for the alleged purpose of placing the money in a fire-proof safe deposit vault.

One of the men engaged Giuseppe in conversation at the door while the other took the box containing the money inside to put it in the vault. Securing a vault in the name of Antonio Brod, he put in it a bag full of iron washers and placed the old gardener's money in his pocket.

They returned to the street and gave the key to Giuseppe, who did not return to look at his money until yesterday. Instead of the savings of a lifetime he found the bag full of iron washers. Immediately through the Chamber of Commerce he reported the loss and the police were notified.

IMPURE WATER CAUSES TYPHOID AT SPOKANE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Sept. 29.—Billed water will soon be the favorite beverage of Spokane citizens if the advice of Health Officer Genoway is heeded. There is an alarming increase in typhoid cases in the city, present and he declares the fever is due to impure water. Sixty-four cases were reported to the health office last week. Out of these 50 cases were traced from outside the city for treatment here.

The season of low water invariably brings an increased number of typhoid cases, but the number this year is great, and before for a number of years. Physicians declare that the sewage from Couer d'Alene and intermediate points is the cause of the present outbreak.

Investigations are being made as to the cause and remedy. The possibility of making a new canal, which would carry water that flows down the foothills into the Spokane river is being considered. It is thought that it may be feasible to tap that vein and pump all the water for city use from it.

TOURIST TRAVEL HEAVY FROM EASTERN POINTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Ore., Sept. 29.—All trains from the east are crowded with tourists and home-seekers taking advantage of the reduced rates to the west. Some of the trains passing through here are so crowded that people are compelled to stand in the aisles. There are many through passengers going direct to the coast and Puget sound, but many of them stop in eastern Oregon and Washington points.

REBELS SEIZE VESSEL AND RIFLE THE MAIL

(Journal Special Service.) Havana, Sept. 29.—Rebels held up the steamer Relek seized the official correspondence, all the registered mail, and searched the vessel.

Guerra with 3,000 men, stopped the steamer at Canadaria, where he will await the results of the peace talk.

TEN THOUSAND TROOPS READY FOR CUBA

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, Sept. 29.—The government has prepared to throw 10,000 troops into Cuba upon short notice. General Funston cannot catch a steamer from Tampa until Sunday and will remain here until Saturday.

MRS. BRYAN WELCOMED BY GEORGIA WOMEN

(Journal Special Service.) Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 29.—Mrs. William Jennings Bryan arrived here today. She was given a reception at the hotel this afternoon by the ladies of Atlanta. Several hundred persons were present.

ARENAL GETS ORDERS TO RUSH AMMUNITION

(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—The arsenal here has received rush orders for great quantities of heavy ammunition. The order also includes 300 saddle packs for mules in carrying mountain guns.

WOODRUFF NAMED IN NUTMEG STATE

(Journal Special Service.) New Haven, Conn., Sept. 29.—The Republicans today nominated Rollin Woodruff for governor and adopted a platform which indorsed President Roosevelt.

Pennsylvania Women.
(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—The following have been nominated for congress: First district, General R. H. Bingham; Second district, John E. Hayburn; Third district, J. Hampton Moore; Fourth district, Reuben O. Meach; Fifth district, W. W. Fouquier; Sixth district, George D. McCrath, all Republicans.

SAFE GARFARRE AND GEORGE WOOD MARRIAGE LICENSE BY MAIL

Because Multnomah county never issued a marriage license by mail before last Tuesday our authorities are behind the times and ought to wake up, says A. C. Buck, the enterprising Hood River notary public, who secured a marriage license by mail from the county clerk the other day.

Accorded to the people of this county should be appreciated of the advantage of applying for wedding permits by mail. Though Portland has boasted of her enterprising in this respect, it has never occurred to any citizen that a marriage license could be obtained except by going to the court house after it, and it has been left to

HOOD RIVER TO TELL US ANOTHER WAY OF SAVING TIME AND CAR FARE.

"There is nothing unusual in getting a marriage license by mail," says Buck. "I am very much surprised to learn through The Journal that my application for one by that means was the first ever received at Portland. I have frequently obtained licenses in this way from other cities. The authorities at Hood River ought to wake up for I think they are behind the times."

But County Clerk Frank Fields brazenly admits that never before was a marriage license sent out from his office by mail, even though the practice may be general in other places.

ONE OF PORTLAND'S RICHEST CHINESE DIES AT THE OPEN AIR SANITARIUM.

Lee Jung is dead. With the beating of tom-toms, the burning of incense and the weird incantations of fantastically garbed priests, the last rites for one of the wealthiest and most respected Chinese residents of this city were performed this afternoon. Jung died at the Open-Air sanitarium Monday after a lengthy illness, which the physicians pronounced tuberculosis. His body was placed in the Chinese cemetery until such time as it will be shipped to a Chinese of his class attending the obsequies, and the funeral cortege was in front of Lee's late residence, on the near north side of Jung and locally constructed canopy. A crowd was attracted by the unusual spectacle, and Patrolmen Hart and Riley were detailed to preserve order. A large number of Chinese of all classes attended the obsequies, and the funeral cortege was one of the longest seen here in years. Brown's military band played weird music, and six horses with waving plumes drew the hearse.

Lee Jung was 58 years old, and a widow and nine children survive him. Coming to this country 30 years ago, he began life in his adopted country as a laborer and in time he had accumulated a considerable fortune. Over 15 years ago he leased the property at Pine and Fourth streets from Captain R. B. Thompson and settled it to a number of Japanese and his own countrymen. It is estimated that the lease netted him nearly $500 a month. The buildings were destroyed by fire several years ago, and Lee and his children, who occupied the old Thompson homestead adjoining, were compelled to flee from the flames.

WASHERS EXCHANGED FOR LAWFUL MONEY

By working an old confidence game two bunco steers obtained $1,470 from Greek Giuseppe, an old Italian, who had saved the money from the earnings of a vegetable garden. Learning that Giuseppe had the money on deposit with the Title Guarantees & Trust company, the two bunco men assumed the guise of Italian market gardeners and made the acquaintance of Giuseppe at his garden near Milwaukie.

By making him believe the bank "there" he had his money was in an unsafe condition they persuaded Giuseppe to withdraw it. After the money was secured Giuseppe was taken to the Chamber of Commerce building by his supposed friends for the alleged purpose of placing the money in a fire-proof safe deposit vault.

One of the men engaged Giuseppe in conversation at the door while the other took the box containing the money inside to put it in the vault. Securing a vault in the name of Antonio Brod, he put in it a bag full of iron washers and placed the old gardener's money in his pocket.

They returned to the street and gave the key to Giuseppe, who did not return to look at his money until yesterday. Instead of the savings of a lifetime he found the bag full of iron washers. Immediately through the Chamber of Commerce he reported the loss and the police were notified.

IMPURE WATER CAUSES TYPHOID AT SPOKANE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Sept. 29.—Billed water will soon be the favorite beverage of Spokane citizens if the advice of Health Officer Genoway is heeded. There is an alarming increase in typhoid cases in the city, present and he declares the fever is due to impure water. Sixty-four cases were reported to the health office last week. Out of these 50 cases were traced from outside the city for treatment here.

The season of low water invariably brings an increased number of typhoid cases, but the number this year is great, and before for a number of years. Physicians declare that the sewage from Couer d'Alene and intermediate points is the cause of the present outbreak.

Investigations are being made as to the cause and remedy. The possibility of making a new canal, which would carry water that flows down the foothills into the Spokane river is being considered. It is thought that it may be feasible to tap that vein and pump all the water for city use from it.

TOURIST TRAVEL HEAVY FROM EASTERN POINTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Ore., Sept. 29.—All trains from the east are crowded with tourists and home-seekers taking advantage of the reduced rates to the west. Some of the trains passing through here are so crowded that people are compelled to stand in the aisles. There are many through passengers going direct to the coast and Puget sound, but many of them stop in eastern Oregon and Washington points.

REBELS SEIZE VESSEL AND RIFLE THE MAIL

(Journal Special Service.) Havana, Sept. 29.—Rebels held up the steamer Relek seized the official correspondence, all the registered mail, and searched the vessel.

Guerra with 3,000 men, stopped the steamer at Canadaria, where he will await the results of the peace talk.

TEN THOUSAND TROOPS READY FOR CUBA

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, Sept. 29.—The government has prepared to throw 10,000 troops into Cuba upon short notice. General Funston cannot catch a steamer from Tampa until Sunday and will remain here until Saturday.

MRS. BRYAN WELCOMED BY GEORGIA WOMEN

(Journal Special Service.) Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 29.—Mrs. William Jennings Bryan arrived here today. She was given a reception at the hotel this afternoon by the ladies of Atlanta. Several hundred persons were present.

ARENAL GETS ORDERS TO RUSH AMMUNITION

(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—The arsenal here has received rush orders for great quantities of heavy ammunition. The order also includes 300 saddle packs for mules in carrying mountain guns.

WOODRUFF NAMED IN NUTMEG STATE

(Journal Special Service.) New Haven, Conn., Sept. 29.—The Republicans today nominated Rollin Woodruff for governor and adopted a platform which indorsed President Roosevelt.

Pennsylvania Women.
(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—The following have been nominated for congress: First district, General R. H. Bingham; Second district, John E. Hayburn; Third district, J. Hampton Moore; Fourth district, Reuben O. Meach; Fifth district, W. W. Fouquier; Sixth district, George D. McCrath, all Republicans.

SAFE GARFARRE AND GEORGE WOOD MARRIAGE LICENSE BY MAIL

Because Multnomah county never issued a marriage license by mail before last Tuesday our authorities are behind the times and ought to wake up, says A. C. Buck, the enterprising Hood River notary public, who secured a marriage license by mail from the county clerk the other day.

Accorded to the people of this county should be appreciated of the advantage of applying for wedding permits by mail. Though Portland has boasted of her enterprising in this respect, it has never occurred to any citizen that a marriage license could be obtained except by going to the court house after it, and it has been left to

HOOD RIVER TO TELL US ANOTHER WAY OF SAVING TIME AND CAR FARE.

"There is nothing unusual in getting a marriage license by mail," says Buck. "I am very much surprised to learn through The Journal that my application for one by that means was the first ever received at Portland. I have frequently obtained licenses in this way from other cities. The authorities at Hood River ought to wake up for I think they are behind the times."

But County Clerk Frank Fields brazenly admits that never before was a marriage license sent out from his office by mail, even though the practice may be general in other places.

ONE OF PORTLAND'S RICHEST CHINESE DIES AT THE OPEN AIR SANITARIUM.

Lee Jung is dead. With the beating of tom-toms, the burning of incense and the weird incantations of fantastically garbed priests, the last rites for one of the wealthiest and most respected Chinese residents of this city were performed this afternoon. Jung died at the Open-Air sanitarium Monday after a lengthy illness, which the physicians pronounced tuberculosis. His body was placed in the Chinese cemetery until such time as it will be shipped to a Chinese of his class attending the obsequies, and the funeral cortege was in front of Lee's late residence, on the near north side of Jung and locally constructed canopy. A crowd was attracted by the unusual spectacle, and Patrolmen Hart and Riley were detailed to preserve order. A large number of Chinese of all classes attended the obsequies, and the funeral cortege was one of the longest seen here in years. Brown's military band played weird music, and six horses with waving plumes drew the hearse.

Lee Jung was 58 years old, and a widow and nine children survive him. Coming to this country 30 years ago, he began life in his adopted country as a laborer and in time he had accumulated a considerable fortune. Over 15 years ago he leased the property at Pine and Fourth streets from Captain R. B. Thompson and settled it to a number of Japanese and his own countrymen. It is estimated that the lease netted him nearly $500 a month. The buildings were destroyed by fire several years ago, and Lee and his children, who occupied the old Thompson homestead adjoining, were compelled to flee from the flames.