The destruction by fire at Lenis yes-seventh residence hurned in that lo-callty in the past two or three months. A large portion of this destruction had been supplied with the ordinary vil-lage fire-fighting apparatus. The Mount Scott News has consistently urged the organisation of a fire bri-gade and the purchasing of a chemical ingine. Some advances have been made in this direction, but up to date nothing of a definite or permanent nature has been done. If is said that the water pressure there is not sufficient to acbeen done. It is said that the water pressure there is not sufficient to ac-complish much with a bees line, while a fire engine is too expensive to be considered now. The suburban districts cannot affford to be without some or-ganized means of fighting fire. This last fire at Lents is said to have aroused the people there to the immediate neces-sity of a better fire-fighting organiza-tion.

J. H. Reid's eight-acre vineyard, near hifwankie, will probably not yield over 3.060 baskets of grapes this year, while hast year Mr. Reid gathered over 7.000 bakets. The large vineyard of Philip Streib in the same neighborhood shows a similar shortage. The vines are in good condition, but the last cold rains of June seriously interfeted with their proper fruitage. The grapes are ripen-ing and in a week or ten days will be gathered and marketed. The vineyards in the Milwaukis country are considered the finest in the state.

At a special meeting of the Milwaukle council, held Tuesday evening, the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company, a branch of the Home Tele-phone company, applied for a 25-year franchise. The company is ready to go to work setting poles and stringing wires as soon as the franchise question is settled. It is likely that the fran-chise will be granted at the next ses-

We're determined to make our 177th "Economy Sale" the best of a series of splendid successes —an occasion that shall surpass any trade festival Portland has ever known; following, as it does, in the wake of the "Harvest Sale" of Thursday—a stupendous success—we realize the "stunt" we've set ourselves. This but adds fuel to the flame of our determination, however, to outdo even today's great achievement. We've reduced prices on seasonable goods to a point never reached before. Positively profit does not figure in our plans for this event. We urge all of our friends and thousands of new friends to test the limitless resources of this great store tomorrow and share merchandise of unequaled quality at unprecedentedly low prices. The whole store's aglow with bright new merchandise. No chance for monotony here. Every hour shows something NEW. But never was the word "ECONOMY" so definitely defined as in these Friday "Economy Sale" specials. Every paragraph of today's message from the store tells of unexampled savings on most desirable goods. Whatever is offered elsewhere tomor-row, be sure a greater value awaits you here.

The old Miller farm on the Base Line road, 16 miles east of the city, will be all set in apple trees by its new owner. J. Olsen of Aberdeen, Washington. Mr. Miller will at once begin the erection of a handsome dwelling and other neces-sary improvements, with the idea of converting the place into a model farm.

The last of the hard-pavement con-tracts that have been let on the east side, that of Burnside street, between East Tenth and Union avenue, will be completed this week. It is announced that the contract for laying a bitulithic pavement on Hawthorns avenue, be-tween East Third and East Forlieth streets, will be let in a short time.

The frame-work of the $4,000 Pres-byterian Church at Anabel, on the Mount Scott car line, is up and ready to be inclosed. When completed, this will be the handsomest and best-appointed church in the Mount Scott dis-trict, where a number of church build-ings are now in course of construction.

A simple reference to the long-prom-ised bridge across Bullivan's suich is sufficient to provoke an incredulous smile on the visage of the average sust smile on the visage of the average sust sider. The announcement that work would soon begin on the bridge has been repeatedly made. Twice within the past few months bids have been sided for to construct the bridge, but such time a blunder somewhere invali-dated the proceedings, and it all had to be gons over again. Now, say the residents over there, the whole matter is field up in a controversy as to whether residents over there, the whole matter is field up in a controversy as to whether concrete or steel shall be the material of which it is to be constructed. Fully two years ago the agitation for this improvement began. There was spir-ited and determined opposition to it from the start, but after awhile that was overcome. And now, when every-body seems to want some kind of an elevated roadway over the guich, it is almost an impossibility, they say, to get one started.
