

THE JOURNAL AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER. PUBLISHED EVERY EVENING (except Sunday) and every Sunday morning. Telephone Main 220 Business Office Main 200.

that not only were those figures exact, but that the city's gain since 1900 has averaged less than 6,000 a year. A noticeable feature of the Oregonian's defense was that it did not deny that its inspiration was desire to retain a monopoly of the Associated Press telegraphic service.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS ON TIMELY TOPICS

SMALL CHANGE. The old Oregonian's knocking can't keep Portland back. The procession of the equinox has no regard for horypards. Mr. Bryan can't be afraid that Mississippi will go Republican.

DEWEEL SERMON ON DR. HILL which he has lived. As the pastor of one of the largest and most influential of our sister churches once said, "Dr. Hill is easily the leader in every work which aims for the highest interest of our city."

THE PEOPLE'S CHAMPION

Christ Human, but With Infinite Depth of Soul, Says Rev. Hiram Vrooman. In the Swedenborgian church yesterday, in Knights of Pythias hall, Alder and Eleventh streets, Rev. Hiram Vrooman preached on "Who is Jesus Christ?"

AMMUNITION FOR THE ENEMY.

SEATTLE has lost no time in making use of the ammunition furnished it by the Oregonian. The Times of that city gave prominent place yesterday morning to a telegraphic story containing liberal extracts from the Oregonian's editorial belittling Portland.

MUST PULL TOGETHER.

UNDOUBTEDLY, as Senator Fulton says, the thing to do is for the members of congress from the Pacific coast to organize and work together for Pacific coast interests.

OREGON SIDELIGHTS.

Forest Grove is in urgent need of a brickyard. Several new buildings are being erected in Mitchell. Summerville will have electric lights; Cove may have a bank.

PASTOR OF FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TAKES LEAVE OF CONGREGATION OF ELEVEN YEARS.

Dr. E. P. Hill preached his farewell sermon yesterday morning to his congregation of 11 years. The church was crowded to the doors, and many of the listeners gave way to their emotion when Dr. Hill spoke the farewell words of his sermon.

TO LEAVE TOMORROW TO WORK IN CHICAGO

Powerful Sermon Upon Religious Topic Instead of Reviewing Work of Church During His Term. Dr. E. P. Hill preached his farewell sermon yesterday morning to his congregation of 11 years.

HUMAN GLORY

Human and Divine Glory was the subject of the sermon. Dr. House took Absalom's hair as an example of human glory, showing that the glory of his hair was the cause of that young man's downfall.

ON THE FARM

Dr. Brougher Shows How Country Life Was Uplifting Influence. At the White Temple last night Dr. J. W. Brougher talked on farm life to a large audience.

THE PLAY

Henry V. Edmond's play, "The Wilderness," was seen for the first time in Portland yesterday afternoon, when the Baker stock company essayed it. The theme from which the drama is built up is an excellent one.

LETTERS

Where the Blame Belongs. Portland, Sept. 21.—To the Editor of The Journal—In your issue of September 17 was a report of a sermon delivered by Dr. Brougher, which would lead one to think that woman was not man's equal in will power.

WHY MEN HESITATE

Are Not Willing to Accept God's Message Entire, Says Rev. A. A. Morrison. "We do not wonder that there is some hesitancy to accept the whole gospel of Christ," said Rev. A. A. Morrison, D. D., at the Trinity Episcopal church yesterday morning.

HIS OWN FAULT

Man Cannot Shift the Blame to Woman in the Case, Says Elder Snyder. "When a man sows to the wind and reaps the whirlwind he can generally count on finding those who will apologize for him, and try to shift the responsibility upon some woman in the case," says Elder Snyder.

GOOD IN EVERYTHING

Is There and Men Should Look for It, Says Dr. E. S. Muckley. "Adjustment to life" was the subject of a sermon preached by Dr. E. S. Muckley at the First Christian church last night.

POWER OF EARTHQUAKES

The engineering skill which puts steel and iron bridges in almost impossible places, which lays railroad tracks along the most perilous routes; the architects' dazzling heights; the steel ships of commerce and of war, surpassing the wildest dreams of the past generation; the marvelously swift railroad trains; the development of industry and commerce to a volume that almost exceeds belief.

THE PEOPLE'S CHAMPION

The Portland Journal's outrageous attack on the Harriman Lines in Oregon. We are glad that The Journal is in its fighting harness on this line, the people have long needed a champion of this kind.

THE PLAY (continued)

Henry V. Edmond's play, "The Wilderness," was seen for the first time in Portland yesterday afternoon, when the Baker stock company essayed it. The theme from which the drama is built up is an excellent one.

LETTERS (continued)

Where the Blame Belongs. Portland, Sept. 21.—To the Editor of The Journal—In your issue of September 17 was a report of a sermon delivered by Dr. Brougher, which would lead one to think that woman was not man's equal in will power.

WHY MEN HESITATE (continued)

Are Not Willing to Accept God's Message Entire, Says Rev. A. A. Morrison. "We do not wonder that there is some hesitancy to accept the whole gospel of Christ," said Rev. A. A. Morrison, D. D., at the Trinity Episcopal church yesterday morning.

HIS OWN FAULT (continued)

Man Cannot Shift the Blame to Woman in the Case, Says Elder Snyder. "When a man sows to the wind and reaps the whirlwind he can generally count on finding those who will apologize for him, and try to shift the responsibility upon some woman in the case," says Elder Snyder.

GOOD IN EVERYTHING (continued)

Is There and Men Should Look for It, Says Dr. E. S. Muckley. "Adjustment to life" was the subject of a sermon preached by Dr. E. S. Muckley at the First Christian church last night.

POWER OF EARTHQUAKES (continued)

The engineering skill which puts steel and iron bridges in almost impossible places, which lays railroad tracks along the most perilous routes; the architects' dazzling heights; the steel ships of commerce and of war, surpassing the wildest dreams of the past generation; the marvelously swift railroad trains; the development of industry and commerce to a volume that almost exceeds belief.

THE PEOPLE'S CHAMPION (continued)

The Portland Journal's outrageous attack on the Harriman Lines in Oregon. We are glad that The Journal is in its fighting harness on this line, the people have long needed a champion of this kind.