

DOOR FOR JUDGE CAMERON

Nihilists Threaten to Use Violence if Police Magistrate Does Not Deal Leniently With John Lewandoski, Accused of Crime.

Vengeance, swift and sure, is to be meted out to Judge Cameron by the local branch of the great Nihilist organization in the event that he decides adversely to John Lewandoski, the alleged Russian bomb thrower, who was given a hearing yesterday on a charge of unlawful habitation. In the mail today Cameron received the following threatening communication:

"Judge Cameron, City.
"Tomorrow is Lewandoski's case. Look out! Free him; otherwise we'll be after you.
"He is our brother, and you know what it means.
"MEMBERS OF THE RED FLAG.
"Immediately after receiving the letter Judge Cameron notified both the police and the United States secret service agents.

The letter is written on ordinary ruled writing paper and was enclosed in a white envelope. The handwriting is crude and evidently disguised. The communication was mailed Monday afternoon and bears the stamp of Station B. From this postmark it is evident that the epistle was deposited in an east side box in the police substation B located on Russell street, near Vancouver avenue. The headquarters of the Polish secret societies are in this district and during the investigation made by the police and government agents several months ago inflammatory anarchist literature was found in the meeting places on Russell street.

Judge Cameron is not perturbed over the matter and is inclined to treat the matter leniently. He is inclined to treat the matter leniently. He is inclined to treat the matter leniently.

The threatening note is looked upon as a corroboration of Deputy District Attorney Haney's startling statement in court yesterday that Lewandoski's case is scheduled to be heard again on Friday and it is not thought that any attempt will be made to molest Judge Cameron before he gives a decision in the case.

There has been trouble brewing among various Polish and Russian secret organizations in this city for several months and, although Secret Service Operative Foster did not give out the result of his investigation, it is thought that he found abundant evidence to show that there was a branch of Russian Nihilists in Portland.

SOFTBALL BY NATIONALS

White Sox Go Down to Defeat in Freezing Game at Chicago.

National 7. American 1.
(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, Oct. 10.—White was in the box for the Chicago Americans today, with Sullivan behind the bat, while Rubach and Kling filled similar positions in the line up of the Chicago Nationals, in the second game of the series for the world's championship. Probably a game of baseball was never played under such frightful conditions as that of today, for although the morning was bright, crisp and promising, the temperature dropped rapidly as the hour of play approached and the wind rose to half a gale.

After the defeat of the Cubs yesterday by the White Sox in the first game of the championship series, the Americans jumped into the place of favorites in the betting, although the odds were against them yesterday before the contest was pulled off.

The crowd of fans present at the game today exceeded in numbers the crowd of yesterday, and the White Sox outbatted those of their opponents fully three to one.

Cubs Got Revenge.
The fireworks commenced in the second inning, the first having resulted in a goose egg for each team, when the Cubs bent upon the Sox with a failure of yesterday, pounced upon the Sox for three runs and succeeded in shutting the other team out without a tally.

Chance went to the bat for the Cubs and fanned. He was followed by Steinfield, who hammered one into left field. Tinker beat out a bunt and Evers followed with the same tactic. When Evers bunted Isbell at second gathered some of the crowd, but made a wild throw past Tannhill and three men were safe on the bag.

Steinfeld scored, White intentionally passed Kling for a double play. Rubach sacrificed, and put out Isbell threw to Donohue and Tinker scored. Hoffman was next up and beat out a bunt. Evers scoring. Donohue threw home and got Kling.

In the second half the White Sox were unable to mark a run in their credit.

Score Again in Third.
In the first half of the third the Cubs made another run. Schickler failed between White and Donohue. Schulte walked. Chance forced him and Tannhill threw to Isbell. Chance stole a base, ran to third on a wild throw of Sullivan and scored. Steinfield's single to left. Steinfield was put out while stealing second, Sully throwing to Isbell.

The Sox were shut out again in the third and when they took the field at the beginning of the fourth game was placed in the box.

The score in the fourth was nothing to nothing.

Cubs Score One in Fifth.
In the fifth inning the Cubs scored nothing and the Sox scored one run. Donohue walked, being forced by Steinfield. Steinfield flew out to right. Sullivan fouled to Kling. Tinker fumbled Tannhill's grounder. Daugherty scoring. Owen, flew out to Schickler.

In the sixth inning the Cubs carried off another run. Steinfield hitting safely to left and Tinker forcing him to second. Owen knocked a fly, which was gathered in by Tannhill, and Evers scored. Tinker then pulled off a double. Sullivan threw badly and Tinker scored. Kling struck out and Rubach went out from Robe to Donohue.

The Sox trotted to the bat but, unable to repeat their performance of the fifth, went down in one, two, three order.

BETURBANED SIKHS REACH THE CITY AND SEARCH FOR WORK

Have Power to Force Board of Education to Safeguard Lives of Children.

That the public-safety officials of the city have the authority to compel the board of education to make alterations in the schoolhouses if it is considered necessary for the protection of the pupils, is the belief of the building inspector and fire chief.

Further investigations of the fire risks in schools are now under way, says Building Inspector Spenser. "As to the extinguishers and stand pipes, those were only recommendations. We didn't ask that the fire drills be the same in all the schools, but we did recommend that the signals be the same in all the schools and that the children be taught to drop everything and get out without stopping to get their books and wraps. Suppose the children stampeded in a staircase and dropped their books. Why, 50 children would drop enough books to block the stairs."

As Herman Wittenberg is out of the city, the directors will take no action on the report until his return. He and I. M. Fiescher, committee on the building committee, to which the matter was referred. The executive board has allowed the directors 60 days in which to make alterations in school buildings as demanded. Among these are cutting a doorway through to the fire escape on the Shaver school and cleaning out the basements from around the furnaces of nearly all the schools.

Sohawa Singh and His Cousin, Natah Singh.

"On the road to Mandalay, Where the flying fishes play, And the dawn comes up like thunder, 'Outer China' comes the bay."

During a lull in business at police headquarters this morning Captain John Moore abstractly hummed Kipling's "Jingie" of the east as he beat an accompaniment on the desk with a penholder. He was aroused from his deep reverie by the question addressed to him in original English by the "road to Mandalay" man.

"Sahib, I am looking for work. Will you most kindly examine these papers?"

Upon looking up Moore rubbed his eyes to make sure that it was not the result of a disordered imagination, for standing at attention, with the hands raised in military salute were two bewhiskered and beturbaned Sikhs, who looked as if they had just stepped from a page of Kipling's ballads.

The taller of the two, who gave his name as Sohawa Singh, was over six feet tall and his height was accentuated by a large white and gold turban. His companion, whom he introduced as Natah Singh, his cousin, also wore the head-gear emblematic of the land from which they came.

An examination of the contents of an official-looking packet of documents handed to Captain Moore by Sohawa Singh brought to light several highly interesting papers. Bearing the signatures of President Roosevelt and the late John Hay, secretary of state, and stamped with the great seal of the United States, was a recommendation from the national government to the effect that Sohawa Singh had occupied the position of marshal of the consular court at Hankow, China, for a period of three years. Accompanying this was a letter signed by Consul-General William Martin certifying to Sohawa's ability, integrity and honesty. A letter from the American consul at Vancouver, British Columbia, at which point the two men had landed a few days ago from an Asiatic steamer, was also found in the envelope.

A discharge paper signed by Major Hattick of the Thirty-third regiment of Sepoy infantry shows that Sohawa served in that organization at Boma, India, for five years. Natah Singh also has a military record, having been a private in the Twenty-ninth regiment of Sepoy, stationed in the same district for four years.

Captain Moore turned the two men and their papers over to Chief Grismashers. They informed the head of the police department that they had arrived in Portland last night from Vancouver and were desirous of securing employment. The chief informed them that he did not know of any position for them. Natah Singh imparted the information that he was on the police force in Hankow, China, and the suggestion has been made that he be detailed with Kay and Burke on the "merry squad."

In posing for pictures at The Journal office both men were extremely nervous and suspiciously eyed the camera while the photographer was adjusting his mechanism. They are natives of Jelapur and belong to the race of Sikhs. According to the tenets of their religious belief smoking and the eating of beef are prohibited. There is no ban, however, on the use of the flesh of the sheep. They have taken up quarters at the Quimby hotel until they can secure employment. Whether this country will satisfy them, as well as the territory contiguous to the "road to Mandalay" remains to be seen. Perhaps they will prefer:

"Some place east of Ruga, Where the best is like the worst, And where there's no no commitments, And a man can have a thirst."

NO MORE LAND FRAUD TRIALS IN PORTLAND UNTIL NEXT YEAR

There will be no more land fraud trials in Portland this year. This is the opinion of United States District Attorney W. C. Bristol, who returned this morning from a trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles, where he argued the Williamson, Gesser, Biggs, and the Henry Meldrum cases on appeal at San Francisco. He also investigated the Wisconsin cases in Los Angeles and the Illinois case in Chicago.

The illness of Judge Morrow of the United States circuit court of appeals at San Francisco is directly responsible for the postponement of the Oregon cases. Judge Morrow was ordered to rest for an indefinite time by his physicians. He has therefore retired temporarily from the federal bench at San Francisco, and Judge Hunt, who was to have tried the cases, has been ordered to assume the duties of Judge Morrow on the bench of the court of appeals.

Judge Wolverton will also go to San Francisco, taking charge of the insurance cases which are to be heard in the district court.

Judge Hunt will reach San Francisco on October 20, and will begin his duties on the bench there on October 23. He will not finish until December 6 at the earliest, and in the opinion of Mr. Bristol it may be January 1 before he is able to return to Portland, and again take the cases which are to be heard in the district court.

Mr. Heney has been selected as one of the three members of the board of arbitration which is to arbitrate the land troubles between the United Railways and its employees and this work will be of long duration. It is Mr. Heney's expectation to be through with this task by the first of December, but again Bristol is doubtful, thinking that it will be nearer the first of the year before the work is done. The conditions there are very complicated and will be difficult of settlement, requiring time.

In the meantime the land fraud cases will be at a standstill and nothing will be done until after the return of Judge Hunt and Mr. Heney. The cases will be set ahead in the order in which they stand until the court can begin their consideration once more.

It is possible that Mr. Bristol will convene the federal grand jury between this time and the first of January, if the arrangements for the trial will permit. Mr. Bristol sails today that it was his desire to begin the investigation of further violations of the timber laws, and of various postoffice matters, and that he would secure an order calling a grand jury from Judge Wolverton, before the latter left for San Francisco, if it were possible to handle the jury in the absence of the judge. Owing to the fact that Portland will have a federal judge for so long, it is doubtful if the jury will be called at this time.

of the interim while the land cases are not before the court. He has a large accumulation of office work which he will now have an opportunity to clear away. He will also take action in re-Isbell threw to Donohue and Tinker scored. Hoffman was next up and beat out a bunt. Evers scoring. Donohue threw home and got Kling.

LARGE CROWDS GREET BRYAN IN MISSOURI

Kansas City, Oct. 10.—William J. Bryan spoke today at Nevada, Benton, Sedalia and Columbia. Large crowds greeted him at each place.

AT THE THEATRES.

"The Deserter."
In "The Deserter" the Lyric stock company has a great military drama comedy. Frank Fanning and Herbert Ashton are ideal soldiers, while Mac Howard has some of those emotional roles which she excels. Miss Branscomb and "The Deserter" is a play every one with a love of country should see. It is filled with patriotism and fires one's enthusiasm for Old Glory.

At the Grand.
Laughter reigns supreme this week at the Grand. There is a big supply of comedy and melody on the program, more than usual. The bill is replete with capital acts, any one of which would be a headliner under ordinary conditions. "Mademoiselle Manhattan" is a condensed musical comedy with travesty interpolations. Gus Leonard is a musical magician and O'Brien and West sing and dance to the delight of all.

At the Star.
Of the many plays offered at the Star since the Allen stock company came to this house none other has made such a favorable impression as this week's bill, "The Girl From Texas." The play is originally written for the famous "Hot Bette, Katie Putnam, and this part is well suited to Miss Vera Felton, the clever little actress who heads the Allen company.

MAYOR LANE SAYS THINGS ABOUT ATTORNEY LOGAN

Declares Lawyer Is Apparently Ignorant of Alaska and of Oregon Law.

"If Mr. Logan doesn't know anything more about the Oregon laws than he knows about Alaska, I feel sorry for his client."

That is the reply of Mayor Lane to the announcement that John F. Logan, attorney, had discovered the mayor is illegally holding office because he resided in Alaska for some time.

Logan pointed out that the charter provides the mayor must be a citizen of Portland for two years preceding his election. Mayor Lane did not return from Alaska until within less than one year before he was elected.

"He ought to know that by living in Alaska you cannot gain or lose residence," said the mayor this morning. "This is one of the laws concerning the territory. The people of Alaska have fought against it for a long time, declaring it an injustice to the territory."

LATINS BOYCOTT AMERICAN GOODS

(Journal Special Service.)
New Orleans, Oct. 10.—Circulars mailed from San Jose, Costa Rica, declare that President Roosevelt said in a recent address that the Latin-American countries are bound to disappear because they are Latin in character and also because they are so small. The circular adds that 117 boycott stations have been established in South American countries and every effort will be made to prevent the sale of American-made goods.

YACHT FROLIC WITH CHINAMEN SEIZED

(Journal Special Service.)
Providence, R. I., Oct. 10.—After eluding the immigration officials for over a fortnight with a cargo of Chinese immigrants the yacht Frolic was seized in the Providence river today and consigned in the name of the federal government. Seventeen Chinamen and three white crew members were arrested. The commander and other members of the crew were not present. The Frolic came up the harbor, undetected. A white man in a coal yard stumbled over two Chinamen and started to arrest them when a voice from the Frolic told him to let them alone. The watchman reported the occurrence and the seizure followed.

DALLEY IS TO HAVE IMPROVED STREETS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., Oct. 10.—The new street commissioner is enforcing the ordinance which requires the widening of streets. He has arrested three men during the past two days for placing obstructions on streets and each was fined $5 and costs. He is also establishing his reputation for improving streets, and in a little while The Dalles will have as good streets as any city in Oregon.

The rock crusher is kept busy all the time any roadwork which is done. Formerly well known for holes and mud, are regular city boulevards.

PERRY CHARGED WITH AIDING JAIL BREAK

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., Oct. 10.—A man named Perry was brought to this city from Walla Walla yesterday by Sheriff Taylor, charged with being implicated in furnishing saws to the prisoners who made their escape from the jail at Pendleton. Perry was formerly a partner of Guy Young and before the jailbreak he called at the jail several different times and talked with some of the prisoners. Thus far no indictment has been returned against Perry by the district attorney. The evidence against him is very direct, and it is more than likely that he will be confronted with a serious charge of aiding prisoners to escape.

SALE OF BIG MINE STOPPED BY COURT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., Oct. 10.—The Great Northern Development company is to have formally turned over the Great Northern mine and milling plant, in the Blue River district, to the Blue River Mines company at a meeting in this city yesterday afternoon. By an injunction order by Judge Harris, restraining the sale of the property, has held the sale up for a while.

The sale was all but consummated, the purchase price to have been $250,000, but yesterday forenoon the court, one of the stockholders in the Great Northern Development company, instituted injunction proceedings.

SEARCH FOR BODY OF TUPPER IS RENEWED

(Journal Special Service.)
Wawona, Cal., Oct. 10.—Search for the body of H. W. Tupper, who fell off a 3,000-foot cliff in Yosemite, was again begun this morning. Several hundred feet of rope was taken to the place where the accident is supposed to have happened. It will be used in lowering a man over the cliff in an attempt to find the body.

WALLOWA COUNTY TO HOLD ANNUAL FAIR

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Lostine, Or., Oct. 10.—The Wallowa county fair will be held at Lostine, October 17, 18 and 19, 1906, and promises to be one of the best fairs ever held in this county. The premium list shows liberal awards for exhibits, and a good race program is being arranged.

RUSSIAN SOCIALISTS DECLARE BIG STRIKE

(Journal Special Service.)
Belleville, Ill., Oct. 10.—Thomas Watkins, the negro president of a Democratic club of negroes of St. Louis, was today sentenced to 99 years imprisonment for murder. He killed a white man who was driving a party of negroes to a picnic.

PERSONALS

Harry Dyer, assistant to Thomas B. Neuhusen, special inspector of the industrial relations department, has returned from an outing in southern Oregon.

CONVENTION WILL BE SUCCESSFUL

Rev. E. L. House Says Christian Endeavors Are Planning to Have Great Meeting.

Rev. E. L. House, who has been connected with the work of the Christian Endeavor for 18 years, feels confident that the state convention of Endeavorers, which is to open at the First Congregational church Friday, will be one of the largest Endeavor meetings ever held in Oregon.

"We are going to have a very successful meeting if good speakers and hard work will make it so," he said this morning, "and I think that a great many

Rev. E. L. House.

Christian Endeavor members will be present at the convention for a number of days, the general public enjoy the meetings almost as much as the members. J. A. Rockwood, the world's vice president, and a number of other prominent workers in the National society will be present and make addresses on subjects of interest to all Endeavor workers, and the local ministers will talk of the work done in this state besides making addresses on other subjects.

The First Congregational Church Christian Endeavor society is the largest in the state and has done some noteworthy work in the last few years. The church, on Lincoln street, is supported by the Endeavor and a missionary kept in Foo Chow, China, through its work. The different committees of the Christian Endeavor look after the social affairs of the church and have charge of the Sunday evening prayer meetings. The society has a membership of 180 active workers.

International Convention.
Every other year the Christian Endeavor society holds an international convention and between 30,000 and 50,000 delegates are usually present at these conventions. The last international convention was held in London and next year it is to be held in Seattle. In 1908, the convention will meet in Jerusalem. Dr. Francis B. Clark, the founder and president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, is generally present at the international conventions.

The Endeavor society was started about 25 years ago and since that time has grown to wonderful proportions. The constitution has been translated into every language and there is a steady net gain of more than 2,000 societies and 100,000 members every year. London, which is the largest Christian Endeavor city in the world, has 180 societies. Oregon has a membership of about 3,000.

LONG FRANCHISE IS GRANTED BY ROSEBURG

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., Oct. 10.—A city council Monday night granted a franchise to the Willamette Valley Traction company for the installation of a water and light system in this city. The franchise was granted for a term of five years.

By the terms of the franchise the systems must be commenced within 30 days and completed within one year. The granting of the franchise to the new company is the result of the poor work done by the old company for the past two or three years.

NEW MACHINERY FOR NORTH POWDER MINE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
North Powder, Or., Oct. 10.—A carload of mining machinery has just arrived in North Powder for the Cooperative Copper & Gold Mining company.

The copper mine is only about two miles from North Powder and Mr. Down, the mining engineer, who is manager for them, states that development work will be pushed vigorously as soon as the plant is installed, and that they will, without doubt, in a very short time open one of the largest bodies of copper ore in eastern Oregon.
